The Hospital.—During the year there have been about 200 in-patients, but as two to four relatives and friends usually come to help care for each patient, many more than 200 were reached by the influence of the hospital. The evangelistic side of the work is constantly in the mind of both physicians and of the hospital assistants, and in various ways they endeavor to preach the Word to them. Many personal talks, the daily service, the printed page, the stereopticon, loving ministry to those in pain—all have their influence. Paw Leeung Keo, the native house physician and head nurse, has developed into a most earnest and effective evangelist. His high Christian example can but bear fruit.

The majority of the cases in the hospital are surgical, the cases of vesical calculus alone numbering fifty-five. There were several other major cases, including two laparotomies, "another laparotomy done by a buffalo and repaired by the physician," two amputations, the removal of the lower jaw, and several severe stabbing cases. In one of these cases the knife went clear through the liver and certainly entered the intestines, yet he (the man) lives. Several Christians from distant places, very poor and hopelessly ill, have come to the hospital. It has been a privilege to minister to such in their last days

The vaccinators were this year licensed by the Government, the license giving them authority to vaccinate in any village. Four thousand were successfully vaccinated. Our laboratory also furnished virus to the Government and to the other Mission dispensaries. During the cool season, the vaccinators were called in each month for three or four days' instruction in their work, in the use of common medicines and the treatment of common diseases. Definite Biblical training was also given to them by the members of the Station each day. We aim to train these men as evangelists, no less than as doctors.

This year marks the beginning of more definite work for the lepers of this land. Half of a large island four miles below the city has been granted by the Government to the medical department, for a leper refuge. The accomplishment of Dr. McKean's long-cherished plans seems therefore in sight. He does not ask the Mission to assume any responsibility for the work, but it cordially approves his plans. As in previous years, clothing given by the Christians, both native and foreign, and by merchants in Chieng Mai was distributed, and 376 men, women and children from leper families received each a gift and a good meal.

BUILDINGS.—Reference has already been made to the completion of Butler Hall at the college, and the beginning of a dormitory for thirty boys. This work, and the correspondence to secure funds in America for it, which the Board approved, have occupied much of the time and strength of Mr. Harris. We all realize that he has been carrying a very heavy burden and rejoice that it has been in a measure lifted. Repairs upon the Chieng Mai Church and work upon the Phraner Memorial Building have taken part of Mr. Campbell's time. The Primary School will soon have a home of its own. During the last four months of the year, some of Dr. McKean's time has been given to embodying in brick and mortar the plans for a second physician's residence, long needed and promised.

It was with pleasure and gratitude to God that we once more welcomed Dr. and Mrs. McGilvary back to Laos. Last year for a time it seemed doubtful whether their children in Laos would be permitted again to see their faces. We rejoice, therefore, the more in their return.

LAKAWN STATION.

Two facts mark the year in Lakawn: The attendance upon the Boys' School was much the largest in its history, emphasizing the need for a new building. Coincident with this increased enrollment came most timely gifts from America that made it possible to begin work on the building. Second, although we record no striking conversions, and although a considerable part of the accessions were from among those given to God in baptism in infancy, the whole number received was larger than in any year since 1895.

THE CHURCH.—The church reports a year of steady progress. "There have been serious lapses from the narrow way; but others, whose faults had been equally serious, have come back deeply repentant and been restored to fellowship." Accessions from both schools and from the "outsiders" as well gave fresh courage to all. Thirty were received on confession, thirteen coming from Christian homes, seventeen receiving adult baptism. Sixteen infants were baptized, six adults were restored to confession, and there were four new cases for discipline.

Thirteen years ago Me Tow Moon with her children and grandchildren, twenty-five in all, were baptized in Chehome District. The Christians there have never had a chapel. In her will, made this year on her death-bed, Me Tow Moon left thirty rupees toward the first Christian chapel in that district. Hers is the first will of which we have record in the province. Loong Pun Keo, longer a Christian than Me Tow Moon, had been all these years without Christian associates. His death leaves that district without even the glimmer of his feeble ray. On the other hand, the work of the year has given us entrance to two new villages, the homes of newly baptized Christians. There are plans for two new chapels at out-stations; but famine and attendant poverty have hindered. This year's abundant harvest will probably make possible the completion of both.

In spite of famine prices, the contributions of the church kept up remarkably well for evangelistic work, schools, church expenses, missions and lepers—in all amounting to Rs. 845 ($280 gold).

For the first time in the history of the Station, a regular training class for native helpers was held in September, with an attendance of nine. Good interest was shown. The native helpers are growing in efficiency. One of the newer men especially seems filled with zeal. Both in the city and in out-stations the regular services have been well maintained, save at Lampang Kang. Dr. Wilson continued to conduct many of the city services, setting Dr. Taylor free for other work, until he went for furlough. Total membership, 288.

EVANGELISTIC WORK.—The oversight of out-stations and general evangelistic work in the province has been the special duty of Mr. Gillies. Besides preaching in the old centres, he has reached out to many new places.

Circumstances limited the amount of time he could give to this work, but he spent two months in the northern part of the province, working mainly among non-Christians. About twenty different villages were reached and one to seven nights were spent in each. Bible study with the native helpers and carriers, daily open-air services, house-to-house visitation, conversation with any and all who were willing to listen—these filled the days and evenings of the tour. Two carriers who accompanied him made confession of their faith and were baptized. Mr. Gillies spent June in Pre, and during the rainy season he made many visits to the nearer out-stations south and west of the city.

Dr. and Mrs. Taylor, their two daughters and Miss Van Vranken made a short visit to Muang Nyao, a vigorous out-station twenty-five miles west of the city.

A Light in a Dark Place.—

Six or seven years ago, a patient in the hospital heard and believed the Gospel. Returning to his home in a distant village, he had not in all these years seen the face of a missionary, a native evangelist or a fellow-Christian. The only Christian in a large district, unable to read, with but the most meagre knowledge of the truth, he nevertheless let his light shine. The missionary found that he was known by all his neighbors as Christ's man. The secret is that he is a man of prayer. It was a privilege to baptize such an one. We trust that through him the Lord will call many others.

MEDICAL WORK.—The Christian influence that goes out from the hospital and dispensary are well illustrated in the incident just told. The wide veranda of the Talcot Camp Van Santvoord ward for women and children forms the chapel of the hospital. Daily prayers and constant personal effort on the part of all the assistants have led a considerable number of patients to accept Christ and confess Him before men.

Shan, Burmese, Chinese and Hindoo, as well as Laos, Siamese, Kahmook and European, all are among the patients that fill the hospital and keep both doctor and assistants busy. Dr. Hansen writes:

Thousands of medical and surgical cases have been relieved of untold suffering, and our faithful assistants daily endeavor to guide the patients that fill the wards and sometimes overflow on to the broad verandas to a higher life.

EDUCATIONAL.—The Boys' School.—It is with grateful hearts that we announce that work has been begun on the new "Kenneth MacKenzie Memorial Building" for the Boys' School. We feel confident that in the near future we shall see a commodious and convenient building completed and dedicated to the cause of Christian education for the boys of this part of Siam. No one who saw the crowded condition during the Spring term—classes reciting on the verandas and under the missionary's house—could doubt the pressing need of a new building.

The enrollment was the largest on record, seventy-eight in the Spring term, including twenty-five boarders, thirty-eight in the Fall without boarders. Miss Van Vranken has assisted Dr. Taylor by teaching music and English, but this has not prevented her from making good progress in her language study. Eleven Buddhist priests came to us for English and arithmetic. At first they took back seats at prayers, but before long they joined in the Bible reading and in the singing. The head priest asked for easy portions of Scripture which they might read by themselves. During the year eight boys united with the church, two of them coming from non-Christian homes. We need not only a completed building, but also increased means to carry on the school. With these assured, the future of the school is most promising.

The Girls' School.—The school was in session seven months. The enrollment during the Spring term was eighty-six, twelve of whom were boarders; during the Fall term, the increasing pressure of hard times and famine, and the insufficient appropriation for the school, diminished the enrollment to forty-three, of whom eight were boarders. Miss Wilson aided Miss Carothers in the school until she left for America in June.

A Siamese teacher has been employed, and it is hoped the girls will be able to pass the Government examination. English has also been taught in all grades. Instruction in the Bible and in singing are made a prominent part of the work. Four girls have united with the church; five others would do so if it were not for opposition in their homes.

At the bazaar in May, nearly Rs. 100 was realized from the sale of articles made by the girls. Many who have not money to pay tuition contribute in this way to the support of the school. The better crops now ready to harvest will make possible a still larger enrollment than last year. We have ample room in our building for a larger school; the city and surrounding villages have a multitude of girls in heathen as well as in Christian homes who can best be reached by the school and influences that go out from it; yet it has been doubtful whether with the means at hand any boarders can be received the coming term.

Health reasons making the return of Mrs. Hansen to America urgent, Dr. Hansen accompanied her and the children as far as Bangkok in August. During his absence of two months, Dr. and Mrs. Mason, of Chiang Mai, supplied his place in the hospital and dispensary work.

MUANG PRE STATION.

As last year, Pre has been without a resident missionary. When Mr. Irwin left for America two years since, it was his hope, shared in a measure by the Mission, that definite progress could be made there by the efforts of the church itself, with such help and counsel as could be given through occasional visits from Lakawn. The first year showed very definitely that progress under these conditions would not be made.

It is not necessary to enter into details; suffice it to say that it is the firm conviction of those who have visited Pre that only the prompt reopening of the Station can save the work there from most serious loss. The church there has never been harmonious; only the guiding hand of a missionary can keep these differences in abeyance. The pressure of surrounding heathenism, everywhere a serious and constant menace, is in Pre peculiarly strong. The Mission will do what it can to "strengthen the things that remain" in Pre the coming year; to reopen the Station with our present forces, weakened by three unfilled vacancies in our ranks, is entirely out of the question, we fear. The Mission makes this reopening of Pre its first request to the Board.

NAN STATION.

Before the year really began, the Mission called Dr. Peoples to act upon the Keng-tung Commission. Without its physician and senior missionary, the work of the Station was hampered full half the year. Still, his absence and that of the evangelists who were with him threw on the younger missionaries, and especially on the younger men of the church, a responsibility that developed in some of them qualities of leadership that promise much for the future.

During his absence also Elder Nan Panya, the evangelist, who remained in Nan, was arrested and imprisoned for six months. His act may not have been a crime, but it was unwise and presuming. On the whole he was fortunate to receive no heavier penalty, but the man's character and conduct under arrest were so exemplary and dignified that he drew the attention and respect of a large circle of officials and people. He was given the liberty of the prison and permitted to go to his home unattended. His medical skill won the gratitude of the jailer and his wife, and with medicines furnished by Dr. Peoples he cared for the prisoners, saving the doctor many a tiresome trip.

He was freely permitted to teach the prisoners, and every night he gathered them together to pray and sing praises to God, and thirty of them expressed the desire to become Christians. When the elder's time of release came, the jailer and keepers gave him a farewell feast and many words of praise and appreciation. Nan Panya might well say, "The things which happened to me have fallen out rather to the furtherance of the Gospel."

NAN CHURCH.—A marked feature of the year has been the emigration of Christian families from the city to take up rice farms that have been abandoned from fear of spirits that are believed to have taken possession of them. These Christians ask an elder or a missionary to hold service in their new home, and then do not fear these spirits, but their neighbors watch in astonishment to see what the results will be. They see the godly and happy lives of the Christians; they listen to their worship and they see that no evil befalls them. Sometimes they have been so impressed that they have sent an urgent invitation to the missionary to come and teach them the same Gospel of deliverance from the power of evil spirits. This migration has been hard for the congregation in the city, but is proving a powerful means for the spread of the Gospel in the province.

Despite this emigration, attendance at regular Sabbath and mid-week services has continued about as before, from sixty to eighty. The Sabbath-school has been well sustained, and its offerings are used to send out one of its own members as an evangelist. The work in out-stations will be spoken of under touring, but the statistics of all together are as follows: Received on confession, 22; adults baptized, 20; infants baptized, 16; cases for discipline, 7; restored to communion, 3; death, 1; Sabbath-school membership, 175; church membership, 167; catechumens, 15; an incomplete report of contributions for the year (not including the gifts of the missionaries) gives Rs. 147.

In March, as for two years past, a conference of Christian workers was held for four days. The mornings were given to Bible study and prayer, the afternoons to evangelistic work. A special effort was made to have the Christians from the out-stations present at this gathering.

The Hyde Park Memorial Chapel is now about completed, and it is hoped that it can be dedicated at the time of the conference the coming March. When completed it will be by far the handsomest chapel in Laos, and admirably adapted to our needs.

Touring Work in Nan.—

Long distances and poor roads make touring in Nan difficult. It is practically impossible for the missionaries to get out even a short distance from the city during the months from June to November However, during the dry season they aim to visit each of our nine groups (out-stations) several times and to advance work in new places.

The longest tour of the year within the limits of the Station was that of Mr. and Mrs. Park on their way to and from annual meeting at Chieng Rai. They visited the most distant and largest out-station, Chieng Khum.

Elder Khum Ai has been in charge there from the beginning, and his faithful and consistent Christian life as well as his knowledge of medicine are telling for Christ. Mr. Park found it necessary to admonish and discipline some of the Christians there, but he also received eight new members. At Muang Le they spent but two days, as they were summoned home by a false report of another Shan raid. The two families there seem faithful, and the neighbors are friendly, even attending services, but they are not yet ready to take a stand for Christ.

Later in the year, Mr. and Mrs. Barrett made a visit to this and other out-stations north of the city. He says:

We were very warmly received, and the people visited us until we could not rest. Our helpers did good work, talking with the head people of the villages until late each night. Just before the rains Mr. Barrett made another tour, in which he visited each out-station in that direction (north) except the distant one at Chieng Khum. At one of them two new families asked for Christian instruction, and were left in the special care of the leaders.

Immediately after rice harvest (January), Mr. and Mrs. Barrett spent eight busy, happy days with a group of Christians west of the city, teaching and encouraging those who have gone there to work rice fields believed to be haunted. Two other men openly decided for Christ, and were placed under instruction for baptism. Both the magistrate and the head priest were most friendly, and begged Mr. Barrett to start a school in their district. He hopes to do so the coming season. Mr. Barrett afterwards made a second visit at this point. He has also spent several Sabbaths with them during the year.

The Nyows.—The Nyows are a people of Chinese origin living up among the hills and northward to the Chinese border. They are said to number many thousands. They are an intelligent and industrious race and the work among them has already developed into importance. They still speak and read the Chinese language, although many of the men and some of the women understand Laos. They gladly received and studied the Chinese Gospels which Mrs. Peoples gave them several years ago, and this year about twenty of them with their head man spent many days in Nan and listened attentively to Christian teaching. At their request, an evangelist went back with them and spent several weeks among them. He reports present encouragement and promise for the future.

SCHOOL WORK.—Mr. Park writes:

For years we have been looking forward to the time when we could have a good school in Nan. When we reached Chieng Khum on our way to annual meeting, we saw that Elder Khum Ai's son was at an age when his education should be neglected no longer, and he was only one of several promising boys there for whose Christian training we were responsible. On our return, we persuaded him and others there and in Muang Le and Chieng Kan to go with us to Nan. Four days after reaching Nan, on January 29, we started school on our front porch with five boarders and nine other pupils. We immediately began to repair the old schoolhouse which has since been occupied, and in all the school has been in session seven and a half months. The enrollment was small, only seven boarders and eight day-pupils, but they represented many parts of the province. Industrial work as an aid to self-support in the boarding department has been tried during the year. We hope the coming year to increase the scope and usefulness of this department.

Throughout the year the new Siamese Commissioner has shown very marked interest in the school. Educated himself in England, he can see clearly the advantages of education under competent supervision.

He has made to the Station a most generous offer, which, if it can be accepted, will do much to solve the problem of Christian education in Nan. On condition that the Mission school shall teach the Government curriculum, and that tuition be free, he offers to pay the salary not only of necessary native teachers, but of the missionary in charge as well. He would then discontinue the present public schools and send their pupils to the Mission school. He would leave the school and its teaching wholly in the hands of the Mission, not objecting that it be distinctively Christian. This offer is now under consideration. It seems to open to the Mission a great opportunity.

MEDICAL WORK.—Nan was without a physician during the long ten months from Dr. Denman's departure until the return of Dr. Peoples from Keng-tung, save for a few days in November, at the time of Dr. Hansen's visit.

Elder Noi Chai, who has been assistant to Dr. Peoples ever since the Station was opened in 1895, did not undertake the Government work or severe surgical cases, but his skill and knowledge proved so valuable to foreigners as well as natives that he deserves the high reputation he has gained.

Under the added pressure due to the accumulation of chronic cases, Dr. Peoples resumed Government and hospital work immediately on his return. Under his direction the hospital and dispensary are exerting an influence throughout the province hard to estimate. The whole atmosphere is distinctly and powerfully Christian. It not only overcomes superstition and prejudice, but exerts a direct evangelistic influence as well upon all classes and races.

The high appreciation of Dr. Peoples' services by Siamese authorities was shown when the Commissioner voluntarily and largely increased the allowance of the Government for that work. The increased income has made it possible to press forward rapidly the new dispensary building, which "is going up with a rapidity that gainsays the idea that you cannot hustle the East." It will have three large airy rooms besides clinic, storerooms and veranda, and be admirably adapted to the needs of the Station.

The year has thus seen much improvement in the material plant of the Station, the new chapel and the new dispensary both being nearly completed. A third permanent residence is sorely needed. We hope it can be begun the coming year.

CHIENG RAI STATION.

The year has been one of steady, prosperous work in Chieng Rai Station. Increased accessions to the churches and larger enrollment in the schools tell of God's blessing, and personal reports speak of the "best and happiest year spent in Laos."

Dr. and Mrs. Briggs have been on furlough all the year. No serious illness or other untoward events have kept the rest from their regular work. The meeting of the Mission in Chieng Rai in December, 1906, had a decided effect on our heathen neighbors, nerved and stimulated our native church, and was a source of comfort and joy to ourselves.

EVANGELISTIC WORK.—Chieng Rai is essentially an itinerating Station. Medical, school and literary work and building have occupied no small part of the time of each member of the Station, but, as the report well puts it, "The Station's very life depends upon evangelism." To it every member has given his first care and thought and no small share of his time. Extracts from the personal reports, though necessarily abbreviated, best tell the story of this hand-to-hand work.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent's Calendar.—

November, 1906—Spent in house building during the week and "week-end visits" to the nearer villages.

December, 1906—House building and annual meeting occupied the month.

January, 1907—Mr. Vincent made a tour to the north, going as far as Chieng Sen.

February, 1907, was spent by Mr. and Mrs. Vincent and the children in a tour by land. They used graphophone and stereopticon to good advantage at night. By day they held school for the children and meetings for adults. In this way they visited five out-stations during the month.

March, 1907, was spent in a similar tour by boat. Three centres were visited. April was spent on the mountain to avoid the intense heat. May to September the roads were impassable; the time was spent in house building, in literary work and in evangelistic work near at hand. October was spent in renewed efforts at house building (interrupted by the floods) and "week-end" visits to the nearer villages.

Touring to the South.—South of Chieng Rai City is Mr. White's field, as the north is Mr. Vincent's. Starting out about the same time as the Vincents, the Whites made their first stop of a week at Mekawn. Mrs. White taught the women and children; Mr. White held services with the men; both visited in the Christian homes and in many others, both there and in adjacent villages. At Muang Pan, their next stop, the church broke down, the well went dry and fleas in the head man's yard drove them to the public "sala" (rest-house); but the work went on.

They spent two weeks at Wiung Pa Pao with most promising results.

One Sunday we examined and received as a catechumen a young woman whose parents had been bitterly opposed to any affiliation with Christians. We were warned that they would be there to oppose. Slowly and distinctly we went over the requirements for church membership. We read the King's proclamation of freedom of conscience. Her relatives, present in a body, not only did not interrupt, but invited us to bring the organ and visit them in the afternoon, which we did.

Ban Pa Bong, the oldest Christian community in that region, and in some respects the best informed and most progressive, was their last stopping place on this six weeks' tour. This village is on the main highway from Chieng Mai to Chieng Rai. Missionaries and Christian carriers, as well as many others of all classes and nationalities, stop there for the night. Each night the children and Christian young people meet and sing the hymns they have learned. And so in the home of the elder, Noi La, scores of travelers hear the Gospel sung and spoken for the first time. Mr. and Mrs. White held two services a day in this village, received constant visitors, instructed, helped and led the people as opportunity offered. After their return to Chieng Rai, Mr. White made numerous shorter trips, while Mrs. White took charge of the day-school.

Dr. Crooks' Touring.—During February and March, Dr. and Mrs. Crooks, as well as the rest, were engaged in out-village work. He says:

The eighteen villages reached had never been visited by a missionary before, so the work was entirely new. Yet we were well received and the people listened gladly. We camped in four of the largest villages, and from these went out to the smaller ones. We have made a beginning, the field is open; the people are willing to listen and in many places are talking of our religion.

Dr. and Mrs. Crooks have also worked in villages near the city. Many seem interested and come to see them in their home, but as yet have not definitely left the old way. They have also visited the Musu Christian village on Doi Me Sat, and found entrance and welcome in other villages of the mountain people, who are not yet Christian. They were out in all forty-six days.

THE CHIENG RAI CHURCHES.—Wiung Papao Church.—This, the largest church in the Station, now reports a membership of 244, and in addition reports fourteen Christian families that have moved into the neighborhood, but have not yet brought their letters. Under Mr. White's care, it has been richly blessed of God; seven backsliders have been restored, nineteen have been received on confession and twenty-two by letter. The catechumens number fifteen, and eighteen children and six adults have been baptized during the year. Three schools have been maintained, and material for a better chapel at Muang Pan has been collected.

Nang Leh Church.—The growth of this church has been greater, in proportion to its numbers, than that of any other in the Mission. Mr. Vincent reports twenty-one received on confession of their faith, six backsliders returned, and a present membership of 108. Twenty catechumens are also enrolled. The people in most of the thirteen villages are active in evangelism, and they are asking for school teachers. These they must have, if the catechumens and their children are to be properly instructed.

Chieng Sen Church.—The confusion and disorganization involved in the removal of a part of its membership from French to British soil, two years ago, still continues. The church has suffered this year from within as well as from without. Yet there is still life and we hope that this, the oldest church in the Station, may yet triumph in the cause of Christ. One has been received on confession.

Chieng Rai City Church.—Mr. White had the care of the church in the city until he resigned it to Mr. Vincent in August. Interest in the study of God's Word and attendance upon Sabbath services have steadily improved through the year. Five have been received on confession and eight have been received as catechumens. The membership is now eighty-two.

This includes only those who attend services at the city, all in out-villages having now been set off to form other churches. The Sabbath-school has been under the care of Dr. and Mrs. Crooks, and has had an average attendance of fifty-four. Systematic study of the lesson beforehand has been pressed upon all, and the singing has improved under Mrs. Crooks' training. Duang Chune has done most efficient work as superintendent. The women of the church have met each week for prayer and Bible study with Mrs. Vincent. Their growing intelligence and their power to explain Christianity is a constant marvel to their neighbors and a power for good.

EDUCATIONAL.—The Day-school.—The day-school maintained by the church has been in session eight months, with an attendance of thirty-four. Nai La, who has been with them so long, has had a good assistant this year. Mrs. White has continued to oversee the work and aid in the teaching. The parents have co-operated loyally. The work has grown upon the hands of the Station. Tuition does not meet the wages of the teacher, to say nothing of books, slates, chalk and all the appliances a growing school needs. The building is tottering. The school has hitherto had no appropriation; for this, no less than for the longer established schools, we need larger means.

THE MEDICAL WORK.—

The medical work so enters into the work of all departments, church, school, evangelistic, the home, that it is difficult to make an adequate report. Like the atmosphere around us, it is essential to the very existence of our missionary work.

We delight to know that generous donors in America have now made possible the erection of an adequate hospital and dispensary. The lack of such facilities has hitherto hampered the physician and made the best work impossible. The importance of adequate accommodations is emphasized by these words of Dr. Crooks:

Our location on the main artery of trade between southwestern China and the sea makes this a strategic point; standing near where three realms meet, we have a most cosmopolitan patronage, and opportunity for the widest influence.

The variety of diseases is even greater than the babel of races and languages. In some cases the doctor is successful beyond his own expectations; in others he can do little for the body, but seeks opportunity through books and pictures, by kindly ministry, by personal talk, by the daily street chapel services, to bring the Gospel to all who come to the hospitals. In this work he is warmly seconded by his faithful Christian helpers. One feature of the work in Chieng Rai is its twenty-two branch dispensaries in as many Christian villages. These aim to render it unnecessary for our Christian people in any part of the province to resort to the "spirit-doctors." The result, at least in Wiung Pa Pao, is that the health of the Christians is the standing marvel of their heathen neighbors.

BUILDING WORK.—Work on Mr. Vincent's house has gone on during the year, but there are no brick or lumber yards. Timber must be cut and allowed to season in the forest, then sawed by hand; brick-makers must be carefully trained and the work of mixing, moulding and burning must be carefully watched. All the material must be transported, with very inadequate means, over very bad roads. The work of building itself presents equal difficulties. Still, it is hoped to complete the work on both Mr. Vincent's and Mr. White's house the coming dry season.

KENG-TUNG STATION.

Nearly all the time of the members of the Station for half the year was taken up in assisting the Joint Commission appointed by our Board and the Baptist Union to investigate the conditions in this field affecting the question of its continued occupancy by both Boards.

Some advantage at least resulted from their work. We have a knowledge of the field, its geography, its rulers and races, its languages and dialects, its religious and social conditions, that would probably have been obtained in no other way. Our missionaries have visited fifty-five out of the eighty-six "circles" of the State, and all but three of its good-sized towns. We gratefully acknowledge the uniform courtesy and valuable assistance of all officials, both British and native. This work all served to show the strong hold our Mission has upon all classes of the people everywhere.

CHURCH AND EVANGELISTIC WORK.—Although the regular, organized work of the Station was much interrupted, it was neither fruitless nor discouraging. Three tours participated in by the missionaries, and three in which the native helpers went without them, are the record of the year. Rev. Nan Soo Lin and Chao Noi Prom have been the main native assistants in this touring work. Several others have worked faithfully with them and with the missionaries. They reported in all sixteen families as having accepted the Christian religion. We have Christians now in four centres in the Muang Yawng plain. During this last visit three adults were baptized; the rest are not yet sufficiently instructed.

Bazaar Preaching.—Our street chapel was injured in the fire of last year and has not yet been put in good repair.

We moved to new quarters during repairs, and these moves back and forth interfered with the continuity of the work. Mr. Callender has had charge of this work, but all our evangelists and our members of the Commission while here participated in it. The church plans the coming year to raise sufficient money to put it in good repair.

THE CHURCH.—

The withdrawal of Dr. Gibbons, of the Baptist Mission, from Keng-tung left the Station without a missionary physician, and without any European or American physician nearer than the Cantonment twenty miles away. The Government surgeon located there felt unable to attend cases in the city. In illness, therefore, the missionaries have had to go to the Cantonment. This broke in upon the continuity of the church work. Two services have been held each Sunday at the Station and part of the time also at the Cantonment. The number of young men who can and do lead in public prayer has noticeably increased, as also the number of those, both older and younger, whom we feel we can trust to do evangelistic work. The roll has grown during the year from twenty-four to thirty-four. About a dozen more will probably soon be received to membership, not counting in this number any whose faithfulness has yet to be proved.

SCHOOL WORK.—For three months and a half Mrs. Dodd kept up a day-school with an attendance of sixteen pupils. Both English and Laos were taught, the higher fees for English making the school nearly self-supporting. The ill-health of Mrs. Dodd, an epidemic among the pupils, and misconduct on the part of the teacher led her to close the school; but with proper equipment and slight financial aid Dr. Dodd was confident that not only a parish school might be maintained at the city and another at Muang Yawng, but also a large English school patronized by both children and adults.

To the deep regret of the entire Mission, the ill-health of Mrs. Callender forced Mr. Callender to resign and return to America. Since the report for the year was received the Board, after much deliberation and prayer, has decided to withdraw from Keng-tung as a Station and to work the field hereafter as an out-station of Chieng Rai. There are various reasons for this, among which are the reduction of the Station force by resignations to one family, the failure to receive many of the gifts on the basis of which the Station was opened, and the presence on the field of a sister evangelical Board, the Baptist, and the large work we have to do elsewhere in the Laos field.

THE PRESS AND LITERARY WORK THROUGHOUT THE MISSION.

The Mission publishes a monthly Christian paper, the Siri Kiti Sap, edited by Mrs. McKean.

The first half of each issue is given to general news and articles aiming to instruct and interest outsiders as well as Christians; the second half is given to exposition of the Sabbath-school lessons prepared by Mr. Freeman. In the first part items and articles from many members of the Mission, as well as from many native contributors, have appeared. The members of Chieng Rai Station have been especially helpful in preparing and securing material for the paper.

Mr. Gillies is the editor of the Laos News, which is issued quarterly and aims to give to friends and supporters in America a fuller picture of our work than any home periodical issued can give. It has a paid circulation of more than 1,000 and goes to every part of the United States, as well as to several other countries.

No new Scriptures have been printed during the year, but fresh editions of John and of some of the Epistles have been issued. Exodus was ready for the press, but the work did not actually begin till after the date at which this report closes. Dr. McKean, Dr. Dodd, Mr. Campbell and Mr. Vincent are all at work on books of the Bible not yet rendered into Laos. The report of the Press shows that 116 copies of so much of the Bible as has been rendered into Laos were issued this past year, as against 74 copies last year, and 8,292 copies of single books (or groups of books bound together), as against 2,115 last year. This gain of more than 6,000 copies of portions of God's Word, an almost fourfold increase over the preceding year, certainly indicates an increasing interest in Bible study, the more so that the main increase has been in the issue of those books used in the current Sabbath-school lessons—Mark, the Epistles, Ruth, Jonah and Isaiah. This interest is further shown by the call for a third edition of Mr. Campbell's "Bible Stories."

The "Life of Christ for Schools," prepared by Mr. Freeman, is in press. A small hymnal for use in touring has been issued, and a new edition of Mr. Collins' English-Laos Dictionary. The total number of pages printed for the Mission is less than last year, partly because of delay in the printing of Exodus. The amount of outside work is also less because a rival press, started during the year, and using methods we do not care to imitate, has had its share of Government work.

A condensed statement of the number of copies of books issued is as follows:

Bibles.....	116	74
Mission publications	24,626	22,834
Scripture portions	8,292	2,115
All other publications	13,136	14,215
Totals	46,170	39,238
Pages printed for Bible Society and Mission.....	1,076,000	1,422,000
Pages printed for outside parties	1,134,000	1,930,000
Totals this year.....	2,210,000	3,352,000

The receipts of the Press for year ending October 31, 1907, were about Rs. 19,000.

PRE STATION.

This Station has been without any resident missionary for the past two years, owing to the failure in health of several in the Mission and the shortage of workers elsewhere. The past year has been a very hard one for the Christians in Pre. Famine and sickness have worked havoc in the Church, and the temptations being too great for the weaker members, some of them have fallen into sin. The members of Lakawn Station found it possible to visit Pre only twice during the year, and these visits had to be short. Dr. Taylor writes:

The prayers of the Christians in Pre are continual and insistent for a shepherd to lead the flock of God in that province. We of Lakawn Station, who have come closest in contact with Pre and feel its needs, would add our prayer to the Church in America for the necessary additions to the Mission's working force, so that it will be possible to reopen Pre this coming year.

NOTE.—Not nearly all the native helpers enumerated are paid out of Mission funds. If we included all who for at least a part of the year work under the direction of the missionaries a considerably larger number could be enumerated. The school enrollment for the year is probably under rather than overstated. Contributions do not include the incomes of any of the dispensaries or of the Press, all of which are entirely self-supporting. A considerable portion of the amounts raised for church expenses do not come through a missionary's hands and are not accurately reported to us. If these statistics be compared with those of last year, it will be seen that there has been a satisfactory growth in almost all lines.

MISSIONS IN BRAZIL.

An experienced observer on the field sends us these comments on the present situation in Brazil:

We are face to face with "New Brazil"—the Brazil which is awakening from the sleep of centuries and shaking off the incubus of Portuguese exclusiveness. The rest of the world is also awakening to the fact that there is here a great unexplored country. Our Brazilian representative at The Hague opened the eyes of his colleagues and called the attention of the world to the place of his country among the nations of the earth and to the rights of all South America. The Pan-American Congress and the visit of Mr. Root attracted the attention of the rest of South America, to which Brazil was as little known as to most of the people of the United States. The capitalist and politician are now looking towards Brazil as a new field for their activities. It is the country of "to-morrow." It is far too large to be embraced in any one general description, and must be considered in its parts. The vast valley of the Amazon, which is almost as near New York as it is to S. Paulo, is a region by itself with its physical, commercial, political and social characteristics. Middle Brazil, along the coast, is another region to be considered by itself, with its remains of a Portuguese civilization and, as a rule, few elements of progress, having a diminishing population. Rio Minas and São Paulo, standing apart in population, climate, agriculture and manufactures, are in the full swing of modern advancement, with a large influx of foreign men and money, and must be considered in totally different terms from northern or upper middle Brazil. The southern States, outside of the Tropics and with a large non-Latin population, presenting conditions adapted to the emigrant from middle and northern Europe, is another Brazil, while the great interior of Matto-Grosso, Goyaz and the whole western and a part of the southern frontier is practically a terra incognita, with numerous tribes of wild Indians.

The year has been characterized by great activity in all lines of improvement. In nearly all the States of the Union extensive port works have been begun with foreign capital; great lines of railway construction opened, coast and over-sea navigation greatly increased; new mining, river-dredging and manufacturing enterprises organized. An American-Canadian Company is at work on lines of railways intended to unite Rio by rail with the La Plata countries, an enterprise unparalleled in South American railroading, cutting extensive lines through hitherto unexplored regions, peopled in many places by savage tribes, with a cross line touching the coast at San Francisco, in the State of Santa Catharina.

Manufacturing interests are rapidly developing in the State of São Paulo, and it is estimated that this State has more manufacturing establishments than all the rest of the Republic. The Government scheme of holding up the price of coffee by purchasing and holding 8,000,000 bags of coffee, against all notions of sound economics, while it may prove a financial disaster to the Government, has had the immediate effect of bringing into the State and putting into circulation cash representing the total value of the enormous crop of coffee of 1906-7. This has benefited the planter very slightly, barely enabling him to pay something on his old debts, but it has stimulated all lines of business and given an impulse to all new enterprises. This, then, has been a year of material advance.

In social, moral and political matters this State is in advance of other parts of the country. It has always been. Its large foreign element, with its important American, English and Italian enterprises, has created a cleaner social atmosphere, while in politics it approaches nearer to a true Republic. The coast cities of the country still preserve much of the old Portuguese civilization. In the great interior life is still largely what it was in colonial times. The admixture of Indian and African elements—there is no color line, no educational restraint—has produced a state of moral and social anarchy of which the foreigner can have no idea.

Politically considered, the situation has changed but little. The President is an honest man, with large experience in public life. Educated by the Jesuits, in the same school and class as his predecessor, he naturally shows a decided tendency to conservative politics and a leaning towards Rome. In the country at large there is still a governing class of professional politicians who have continued from the Empire, and the people are not considered or consulted, with a few rare exceptions. In the State of São Paulo elections are open and free, without governmental oppression—in local politics—but there is still only one candidate for the position of Governor, so that the election will still be a farce.

In religious and educational matters Rome is still in the saddle, and there is no sign of the reaction against her dominating influence. The great religious orders are still being reinforced from Spain, Italy, Belgium, Holland and a small number from England and the United States. The diocesan seminary of this State, São Paulo, has been turned over to one of the great orders, and schools are being opened by monks, nuns and friars of the different orders throughout the country. There is also much activity among the different bodies of Protestants.

This is the atmosphere in which our work has been carried on during the past year, an atmosphere of feverish activity in all departments of life.

The work of the two Missions is set forth in the following reports of the Missions.

The last triennial statistics of the Synod of Brazil were issued in 1906. At that time there were six Presbyteries, with seventy-seven organized churches, containing a membership of 7,489. The number of new members received during the three years preceding was 1,779. The total contributions of the Church for the period were about $96,950 gold.

The year 1907 has emphasized the transitional stage entered upon in 1906. The extensive itineration begun some years ago and attended with results exceeding all expectations has brought about an advance along the whole line. This forward movement has been made possible by the introduction into the field in the old Stations of native pastors, and the formation of an independent Presbytery of the parishes of Bahia, Cachoeira, Cannavieiras and Aracajú. The results have been productive of problems in the disposition of the missionary force, the adjustment of educational work to the changed conditions, and the definition of relations between the native Presbytery and the Mission.

The Mission registers with sincere regret the resignation of Mr. Finley, who by eighteen years of service in Brazil, his perfect command of the language, his untiring industry, his thorough understanding of and sympathetic relations with the people, had endeared himself to all. The Rev. William G. Johnson was added to the Mission in October, 1907. On January 6, 1908, Miss Cory resigned and came home.

SCHOOLS.—It has been a natural result of the transfer of evangelistic activity from the coast to the interior that some modifications of school plans should follow. The preparation of teachers at Bahia or Cachoeira for the work in the interior has become more and more difficult, however satisfactory they have proved in the preparation of those for the coast towns.

Cachoeira.—This school was transferred to the Cachoeira side of the river from S. Felix at the beginning of the year. This move, with certain economies introduced in the management, has proved very beneficial, and under Miss Cory the school has had a successful year. After this year the school passes completely to the hands of the native church.

Bahia.—There are many reasons for wishing to re-establish a strong school in the capital. It is the natural educational centre of a Brazilian State, and from it radiates the influence that her educated men in law, medicine and science carry to every part. It was hoped that an American school might reach certain classes hitherto somewhat inaccessible. The school organized this year, however much hampered by ill-adapted quarters, has proved the possibility of touching the better classes. After the first two months the school has had all the pupils that could be accommodated, and these from families influential in municipal, State and federal political affairs, as well as children of professors of the colleges of law and medicine.

Ponte Nova.—The attempt made last year to meet the needs of the interior by training teachers there has been continued successfully by Dr. and Mrs. Waddell. The co-operative plan of work in the household, this year increased by the aid of several boys preparing for the ministry, has enabled the institution to run at very small expense, about $7.50 per month for each pupil. When the title to the property is secured expenses may be reduced considerably by farm products.

In general the school situation is very good. A new parochial school was opened at Cannavieiras with no expense to the Mission. It has thirty pupils. Two new contract schools in the interior at Canna Brava and Formoso have over thirty pupils. We now have sixteen schools, employing twenty-seven teachers, which cost the patrons 21,185 milreis annually and which cost the Mission about 4,165 milreis.

THE PRESBYTERY AND THE MISSION.—The formation of the Presbytery of Bahia-Sergipe brought up the necessity of a definition of the relations of the two ecclesiastical bodies. This was met by the modus operandi submitted by the Mission and adopted by the Presbytery, the salient features of which are: (1) The recognition by the Presbytery of the priority of origin of the Mission, and the rights of the Mission over territory and believers not specifically ceded to the Presbytery. (2) The non-employment by the Mission of Brazilians in ecclesiastical connection with the Presbytery, leaving the government of such individuals and the care of their work entirely under Presbyterian control. This includes the Presbyterian management of all theological instruction. (3) Recognition of the missionaries' right to organize congregations and exercise all functions of control without appeal in territory under their care. (4) The extension of aid from Mission to churches through the Presbytery on a plan providing for automatic cessation and impersonality of relation. (5) The recognition of the right of the Mission to carry on any kind of educational work in any place and through any agents it sees fit to employ.

Parishes of the Presbytery.—Aracajú.—This parish has been without a pastor the entire year. The independent movement made some inroads on the little group, but the church has been held together by the work in Sunday-school and by the day-school of the Mission teacher. The field was twice visited by Mr. McCall and once by Mr. Bixler.

Bahia.—The Bahia Church has made fair progress during the year. The loss of the most influential member through death left vacant the offices of presbyter and superintendent of the Sabbath-school. Excellent progress has been made in freeing the church from debt. The outlook for the new year is bright.

Cachoeira.—This church has been burdened with the task of reconstructing their church edifice, and so earnest have been the efforts that seven months after the church building fell services were held in the new structure, built with money raised in Brazil, and with practically no increase of outstanding obligations.

Cannavieiras.—This church has had a wonderfully bright year. Through the earnest efforts of the pastor many new fields have been visited, and new members have been received in many places. One member of the main church, becoming a subject for discipline, joined the independent movement and tried to disrupt the church. His designs met with no success.

Stations of the Mission.—S. Gonçalvo dos Campos.—This is really a part of the field of the Cachoeira Church, and was occupied by Mr. McCall as a working centre during the half year prior to furlough. A splendid interest in the Gospel has been aroused in this district, which is situated about ten miles from Cachoeira. Regular meetings were held by Mr. McCall and after his departure by the Cachoeira pastor. The conversion of a man of intemperate life and the reform wrought by God's grace has been the means of arousing interest in the meetings.

Villa Nova da Rainha.—This field, as all the others, has felt the severe drought which is general throughout the whole interior of Brazil. No rains since the beginning of the year, and one planting after another fails. Should this condition continue famine and immense hardship will accompany it. These droughts are periodic, having occurred in 1868, 1878, 1888 and 1898, and in the last the mortality from famine causes reached ten per cent. of the population.

Rev. Mattathias Gomes dos Santos visited this field or the part of it along the railroad, holding a series of conferences which were productive of much interest.

The Villa Nova congregation has bought a lot in the centre of the city, on which they hope to build a church. In the uncertainty of what the dread famine year may bring, it is very difficult for them to raise money for the purpose. However, they are working hard toward this end.

The field in general has had a good year. A special course of Bible study has been followed in Villa Nova; the Canna Brava section has organized a school for the children; a colporteur, with a devotion to the cause that is remarkable, has traveled afoot with a mule-load of Bibles. He has been doing a good work. Mr. Chamberlain writes:

The trip to Mission meeting last year was marked by heavy rains and swollen streams. It took us about twelve hours to cross the Jacuhy, for it was necessary to hunt up wood light enough to float, of which there were about three varieties within miles of the stream, and make a raft on which to pass the saddles and baggage, while we and the mules swam. The work was doubled, because after crossing the main stream of about thirty-five yards, we had to cross a back-water channel by use of the same means. On returning, the same stream was still swollen, but we had learned of a footbridge at a village two leagues distant. . . .

Having crossed the river, we visited a family of believers who had lost a son since last we had met, and the parents explained his death by saying that he had taken a cup of hot coffee with milk, washed the cup in cold water, eaten a banana and combed his hair. Eating a banana, which they say is a cold fruit, after a cup of hot coffee, and disturbing the system so soon after eating by combing the hair, this was quite sufficient to cause a fit of apoplexy. . . .

An illustration of the superstitious ignorance of the people occurred when, after service on a rather isolated farm, I was requested to take off my shoes and socks to convince the audience that I did not have a webbed foot, a sure sign of his majesty the devil. The greater part of those who gathered about my naked foot were convulsed with laughter, but two or three scrutinized it with most serious concern and seemed surprised not to see the web.

I have traveled 3,170 miles, 1,700 on muleback, on 400 of which I was accompanied by Mrs. Chamberlain and Annesley. Two hundred and fourteen meetings were addressed in thirty-four different places. We celebrated the Lord's Supper eight times, received on profession seventeen, baptized thirteen children and performed two marriage ceremonies. There were about fifty inquirers.

Estancia.—Mr. Bixler returned from furlough in August, his field having been unoccupied except for occasional visits by Mr. McCall, who made two rapid trips through the field adjacent to Estancia. Ten persons were received by Mr. McCall on these occasions.

[Mr. Bixler reports the field to be in good condition, except in Riachão, where the independent pastor, Rev. Manuel Machado, had succeeded in disturbing the harmony of the church.

From Mr. Bixler's personal report we note:

We have been at work three and one-half months, of which the first month and a half were spent in Estancia. Since the early part of October I have been journeying most of the time. I made three short evangelistic tours, aggregating about 470 miles, and occupying about six weeks. My journeys have been confined largely to districts ranging not more than seventy-five miles inland, because of the severe drought which has almost depopulated certain sections. Many have to carry water as much as ten miles.

I have received six persons on profession of their faith.

The school in Riachão has been satisfactorily maintained and the patrons wish to continue it another year.

The Sao Francisco Field.—This immense territory, which includes parts of Bahia, Goyaz and Minas Geraes, has an area of over 200,000 square miles and over 1,000,000 inhabitants. A part of the field was visited by Mr. Finley prior to April, but owing to the great inundations he was unable to reach some of the groups, although seven persons were waiting to profess their faith.

Mr. Chamberlain, by vote of the Mission, becomes responsible for this territory as well as the Villa Nova region.

The Lavras Field.—A rich harvest has been gathered in this region through Dr. Waddell's efforts. Seventy-eight persons have professed their faith. The evangelistic work has been in the churches of Orobó, Cachoeirinha, Palmeiras and Canal. Mrs. Waddell has conducted the Ponte Nova school. Miss McPherson is located at S. João do Paraguassú, where the work begun by Miss Williamson has brought to the church members of the best families in the city. She spent three months at Ponte Nova, while Dr. and Mrs. Waddell were at Lençoes.

Mr. McCall reports a trip to S. João do Paraguassú in June:

I started out again on the 4th of June for S. João do Paraguassú where Mr. Waddell asked me to hold some special meetings. The ground had been well prepared by our school work, and both Miss Williamson and Miss McPherson have done excellent evangelistic work. The meetings were held at 9 P.M. to suit the shop-keepers. Night after night the interest and numbers increased, and the last Sabbath there was no room for the crowd that came; the greater part had to stand in the corridor or round the windows. The service lasted for about two hours, as we celebrated the Lord's Supper, and two young ladies, daughters of one of the wealthiest merchants in town, were baptized; yet those standing seemed loath to leave even after the last hymn was sung. I preached thirteen times in eleven days, and it was most refreshing to see the interest manifested by all. It promises much for the future.

The Orobó Church does not make good progress because of the one-sided efforts of the missionary (independent) who resides there.

Several members have been received in the vicinity of Mundo Nova, an extension of the Cachoeirinha Church.

Of the Palmeiras district Dr. Waddell writes:

The feature of the year was our enforced three months' residence in Lençoes, with the profession of faith of three persons and the consequent formation of a group in that city—the chief place of the Lavras.

The Palmeiras Church has united with the Canal congregation in asking for a native pastor. It is ready to pay one-fourth of the salary, and unless some great calamity occurs can increase this fraction by ten per cent. annually.

In the Rio de Contas district of this church there is much interest. Four new towns were visited during the year and all were found open and ready to receive the Word.

The Canal Church, transferred to me by Mr. Chamberlain in order that it might unite with Palmeiras in calling a pastor, has had a wonderful growth, which under the Holy Spirit's care must be ascribed to my predecessor's careful seed sowing.

A great effort was made by the monks to turn back the wave of Protestantism in this field, but after a most vigorous and exciting campaign on their side I have just received thirty-three members on a single trip.

In general the evangelistic field is in fine condition, but needs right away a Brazilian pastor to take charge of the Palmeiras-Canal field and an evangelist to go on with the work. The latter we have in Mr. McCall, but if no pastor be found his hands will be tied by the congregations already gathered. Success is proving our greatest obstacle.

The educational movement in this field is excellent. There are contract schools of primary grade at S. João do Paraguassú, Orobó and Canal, and affiliated schools at Pirajá, Carahybas, Lago and Tijuco. A contract school in the State of Piarhy, 350 miles beyond, was opened this year. The eight schools have 167 pupils.

The work at Ponte Nova School has been remarkably successful. Twelve girls and five boys are now in attendance. Three girls are teaching; two were dropped and one is on sick leave. The present pupils and the applicants for next year are fine material. We are greatly in fear of a secca (drought) and famine.

SOUTHERN BRAZIL MISSION.

RIO DE JANEIRO: capital of the Republic; largest city in South America, on Bay of the same name; occupied as a Mission station in 1860.

EAST RIO STATION, NOVO FRIBURGO: 60 miles east of Rio; occupied as a Mission station in 1891. Missionaries—Rev. J. M. Kyle, D.D., and Mrs. Kyle, Rev. T. J. Porter, Ph.D., and Mrs. Porter.

CASTRO: about 480 miles a little south of west from Rio; opened as a Mission station in 1895. Missionaries—Rev. G. L. Bickerstaph and Mrs. Bickerstaph.

SÃO PAULO: 250 miles west-southwest of Rio; capital of the State of the same name; occupied as a Mission station in 1863. Missionary—H. M. Lane, M.D., Rev. M. P. B. Carvalhosa.

CURITYBA: about 445 miles southwest of Rio. Missionaries—Rev. G. A. Landes and Mrs. Landes, Miss Ella Kuhl, Miss Mary P. Dascomb, Miss E. R. Lenington and Rev. Lino da Costa.

FLORIANAPOLIS: Missionaries—Rev. R. F. Lenington and Mrs. Lenington, Rev. J. B. Kolb and Mrs. Kolb.

IN THIS COUNTRY: Rev. J. M. Kyle, D.D., and Mrs. Kyle, Mrs. J. B. Kolb.

Dr. and Mrs. Kyle were obliged by ill health to leave the field. The Rev. Thomas J. Porter, Ph.D., and Mrs. Porter, after twelve years' absence from Brazil, were reappointed and landed in Rio August 12. Miss Kuhl took back with her, on returning from her furlough, her niece, Miss Angie Kuhl, and Miss Gertrude Lukens, graduates of Wellesley and Smith Colleges, to render temporary assistance in the Curityba School.

The year has been a year of great encouragement, all the brighter because of the difficulties. The salient features of the work in its present condition are set forth by the Mission in its report, as follows:

The vast encouragement and limitless outlook: The Gospel is gaining ground in Brazil as never before, and the interest is widespread. In the States of S. Catharina and Rio de Janeiro the missionaries and the Brazilian evangelists cannot possibly respond to all the invitations to preach in places where no minister has as yet spoken, and our churches are stirred with the spirit of praise, joy, consecration and personal persuasion of the unconverted. The only exceptions are, curiously enough, to be found in the four towns that have been the centres of our work, and where in each case there exists a special local obstacle. (1) In Friburgo, the removal of believers to other places, because this mountain has recently had fewer visitors from Rio and because the Jesuit influence takes away the income, pupils and chairs of the Protestant school-teachers. (2) In Castro, because of the sins of two elders and the blow to business through the defalcation of railroad builders. (3) In Curityba, because of the Independent Movement, bringing about a division in the church. (4) In Florianapolis, because of certain latent personal estrangements which grew up during Mr. Lenington's absence in the United States.

On the exodus, more or less compulsory, of the Jesuit order from Europe and their new campaign for the recovery of Brazil, Florianapolis and Nova Friburgo have become Jesuit centres and now the friars are invading Ponta-Grossa. The Anchieta College in Friburgo (constantly enlarging) has now the most imposing college building in Brazil, and its influence reaches everything in the town, even the Sunday bull fights. In S. Catharina the State has deliberately placed higher education in the hands of the Jesuits for political reasons. In Curityba the Jesuits have not the same predominance, but work side by side with the many new schools of monks and nuns who have come to warp the mind and soul of this virile young republic. A long campaign is before us, whose hard battles will make the past conflicts seem mere training. The Church at home must cease to neglect Brazil; no heathen can hinder the Gospel like Jesuits.

Our schools must be maintained and improved; how else can we combat this astute and intelligent enemy? Faith fights with truth for a weapon.

In Parana the Seventh-Day Adventists continue to work among our people, winning some and confusing others as to the importance of the Gospel.

The Independent Church has no followers in the Friburgo field and but few in S. Catharina, being confined to the town of S. Francisco.

With the Brazilians of the Synod we work in entire Christian harmony, and since the separation our Presbyteries have become peaceful working bodies, such as they had not been for years.

Mr. Bickerstaph's headquarters have continued to be at Castro, from which he has made tours in the State of Parana. He reports:

In Imbituva we organized a church of thirty-seven members, which was increased to forty on my return in June. In Chapecó we organized a church of fifty-seven members, fourteen of whom united with the church on profession.

Immediately after the last Mission meeting, Mr. Lenington and I made a trip to Serrado, a point eight miles beyond Jaguarihyva, where we organized a church of twenty-one members, one of these making her profession at that time and the others being former members of the Castro Church. A few months later a minister of the Independents came along and induced all but two to join his church.

There is no one in Castro willing and capable of leading the worship in the absence of the missionary, but at four out-stations the meetings are kept up by laymen, and five members were taken into the church this year as a result of this work. Our school at Socavão has had an attendance of but eight or ten this past year, and for this reason we resolved to move it to Espiãgo Alto, where from twenty to twenty-five pupils would be assured.

I wish to call attention to the spiritual needs of Ponta-Grossa, the most prosperous town in the interior of Parana, and the largest, if we except the capital of the State. It has already a population of from 8,000 to 10,000 and is growing rapidly. It has two lines of railroad, offering transportation in three directions, one of which already connects with the seaboard at Paranaguá. Ponta-Grossa is the principal point for distribution of goods in the interior and for the collection of maté and other exports. Within two years it will connect directly with the city of São Paulo by rail, and also with the port of São Francisco in the State of Santa Catharina.

An American company has bought the new railroad and plan to link up the systems of São Paulo and Central Brazil with those of the extreme South and the Argentine; it will also form a part of the Pan-American system. We can partially estimate the importance of Ponta-Grossa when we remember that it is the headquarters of the new company and the point from which the road will be operated. About forty English and Americans have come out for the new company; more are on the way, and many of them will make their home in Ponta-Grossa and largely influence its future both as to commerce and morals. The German Lutherans have a school conducted by a good hard-working man with whom we have fraternal relations; but as he preaches and teaches only in German he does not touch the Brazilian population, which constitutes the mass of the people. It is important, therefore, for all of these reasons that our Church take up work there as quickly as possible, in order that we may get started and grow up with the town. But there is another and a deeper reason for prompt action. The influence of the English and Americans is, and will continue to be, out of all proportion to their mere numbers. They are looked upon as the promoters of prosperity and as leaders in more senses than one. Shall we try to get hold of these men now, while they are comparatively easy of access, and more than willing to hail the missionary as a friend in a strange land?

Mr. Lenington's headquarters have been, as before, at Florianapolis, whence he has worked through the State of Santa Catharina. He reports, in part:

The year of 1907 has been the happiest year of my ministry in Brazil so far. I say this for health and strength have enabled me to do more work than ever before. It has been my privilege to travel more and visit more places than ever before, preaching in many places where the Gospel has never been preached before. I also want to testify to the wonderfully increased interest in the study of all things religious. But it weighs heavily on one's heart to see the interest and then not be able to answer all the calls. I know of fifteen places only in the State of Santa Catharina in which there is great interest, but where it was impossible to preach in 1907.

In the month of January I made a trip to Lages, in the far interior. The seed sown in days gone by finally came to its fruitage, and it was my privilege to receive and baptize ten persons, who in that lonely outpost shall uphold the banner of the cross.

In March I went on to Parana, and spent April and May in a long trip with Mr. Bickerstaph in visiting some of the far-flung outposts of that great field. It was my privilege to assist in the organization of two new churches, one with thirty-seven and the other with fifty-seven members, and also in the inauguration of the church building at Guarapuava, my old field, now under the loving care of Mr. Kolb.

The month of September was spent in visiting the field of the Jordao region and in opening a new field at Camboriu, which was calling in a most vigorous way. Mr. Kolb had already visited a part of that field, but had not been able to hold any services there. One man, converted by the reading of a little Gospel paper published in São Francisco, in this State, has been the leading worker there. He gathers the people in his home on the Sabbath, and reads to them the Word of God and tries to explain it to them. I held four services in his home, all of them well attended, and also held a service in another part of the same field. I left a class of some eight families studying the Catechism and preparing themselves for profession on my next visit. I believe that God will make that a great work.

December was put in at vigorous work in the Jordao field, and on the 22d of December we had the joy of organizing the church there with seventy adult members and forty-four baptized children. Four new persons were received at that time, three of whom are already the nucleus of a new congregation at Caieira, where there are already those who are preparing to join the church. The church at the Jordao starts on its work with a very good equipment. They have their own church building, seating 250 people, already too small for many of the services; their own land with cemetery, quite an important item in this land of holy ground; and its own day-school, having last year an average attendance of twenty-two, taught by a young man who was elected one of the elders of the new organization. He has been growing very fast himself, both intellectually and spiritually, and I trust that he will be able to do valiant service in all that region. The Christmas service was a most encouraging time. Over 600 people gathered from twelve districts about and listened to the Christmas story. Tracts were asked for by many who were formerly our most bitter enemies, but who now, convinced by the change in the entire community produced by the Gospel, are also seeking the way of truth.

Mr. Kolb removed during the year from Florianapolis to Guarapuava, arriving in March. During the year eleven persons were received on profession of faith. The activities of the priests and sisters, Mr. Kolb reports, were never so great as at present.

Mr. Landes has had charge of the Curityba field in Parana. The church has continued to suffer from the schism of the Independents. In the Eschola-Americana Miss Dascomb and Miss Lenington report 222 pupils enrolled, and the work much broken up by an epidemic of measles.

On his arrival on the field, Dr. Porter took charge at once of the work of Dr. Kyle, with headquarters at Nova Friburgo. He writes:

Nova Friburgo, sixty-nine miles northeast from Rio and 2,900 feet above sea level, is a town of 2,000 inhabitants, besides the Summer and week-end visitors from the capital, who come to enjoy the cool air of our mountains. Here was settled a Protestant colony of Swiss and Germans brought to Brazil in 1829. Here the Leopoldina Railroad branches to the northeast and northwest. Here was a great centre of abolitionist sentiment, for the Count of Friburgo and the Baron of S. Clemente freed their slaves before the Federal Emancipation Act of 1888. Here the Catholic Church has fixed its school centre with its "College of Our Lady of the Pains," being a school for girls conducted by the Dorothy Sisters, and its great Anchieta College, property of the Jesuits. The commencement in December was the occasion of special trains from Rio, pouring money into the pockets of grocers, hotel-keepers, and livery men, of the presence of the Apostolic Nuncio for Brazil, and of a general glorification of Jesuitism.

As compared with other Brazilian towns of the same size, Friburgo seems to have more intelligent people, more beggars on the streets, more attendants at Mass, far more children going to church at 4 P.M. to recite the Catechism, and larger numbers of the best citizens attending the two bull fights every Sunday afternoon. The only paper of any influence is avowedly against us and regularly lampoons us and our work. The leading priest, Monsenhor Miranda, scarcely lets a Sunday pass without warning his people against us.

The Presbyterian Church of Friburgo has never been large, but it has been fruitful. The present number is twenty-three. In December I baptized two. The decline in the price of coffee, which is the staple product in that whole region, the sanitary improvements of Rio, with the consequent reduction in the number of health-seekers coming to Friburgo, and the Jesuit influence taking away the patronage of Protestant school-teachers, has compelled many of our people to remove to other parts, where they have sown the seeds of the Gospel, and with the care of the missionary, who followed them, have founded the other churches of the field.

The Friburgo Church has given very liberally to the Theological Seminary and as part of its offering paid the seminary expenses of one of its sons, Rev. Henrique Louro de Carvalho. For six years he has wrought wisely and lovingly, and now has 350 members in the two churches of S. Jose and Barra Alegre. He is a zealous minister and a delightful man. After careful examination he baptized eighty-one adults in 1907. The Church of Barra Alegre erected a building three years ago, and now has another ten miles distant almost finished. In his whole field Snr. Louro has twelve preaching places.

In the city of Campos, with a population of 40,000, the largest city between Rio and Bahia, where we abandoned the work years ago for lack of men and money (in spite of the protests of the people), I have twice visited some Presbyterians, Scotch, English and Brazilians.

As soon as Friburgo and Sumidouro region is supplied with a pastor (Brazilian) Campos should be made the centre of missionary activity, because of the importance of the city itself, the five lines of railroad meeting there, the completion within a few months of the line to Victoria (capital of the State of Espirito Santo) and the existence of groups of believers to the north in Miracema, Manhuassu, S. José do Calçado, and other places.

The city of S. José do Calçado is a day's journey by rail and half a day on horseback from Niteroy. As soon as he could leave the Niteroy Church in charge of the assistant pastor (Rev. Carvalho Braga), Snr. Omegna moved with his family to the back woods, and by his tact and sympathy, as well as by his carefully prepared sermons, and in spite of indifference and opposition, is sowing the Gospel far and wide. May the Lord bless this, his servant once a Jesuit, now an able minister of the New Testament.

MISSIONS IN CENTRAL AND SOUTH AMERICA.

CHILI MISSION.

GENERAL STATEMENT.

(Compiled from reports and letters from the field.)

Since 1874 the Presbyterian Church, North has striven, through its representatives, to implant the principles of evangelical Christianity in the hearts of Chili's masses. They have done this in spite of the inveterate hostility of an established hierarchy and in the face of peculiar difficulties that emerge in Chilian character. Political and social intrigue have resulted in widespread corruption. Chili is a republic under martial law. From his Spanish ancestors the Chilian inherits the fatalism of the Moor. He is patient, courteous, recklessly brave and faithful to his chosen friends.

The following statement reflects the moral condition and need of the republic:

Although to the casual observer there exists the semblance of twentieth century civilization, the real condition belies this fact. It is estimated that 70 per cent. of all births are illegitimate; 70 per cent. of the population are illiterate, and intemperance reaches its highest pitch in Chili, for the average per capita consumption of alcoholic liquors is seven times as great as that of the United States. As all industry is managed on a patriarchal basis, the homes of a dependent majority are little more than hovels, and life and property are woefully insecure.

It is surely a sight to inspire one to service to read the record of what a small force of earnest men and women, with their forces against this stone wall of superstition and their one aim the determination to obey Christ, have been able to do. To-day there is a native church with a membership of 800, the net gain in 1907-08 being 100 members.

This represents a much wider influence, because the converts are widely scattered. Last year the miners of the nitrate and copper regions in the north purchased evangelical literature amounting in value to 1,200 American dollars. This whole north country is ringing with invitation to the missionary, and while the nomadic character of the miners makes the establishment of large churches impossible it also offers a wonderful chance for the dissemination of the Gospel. During this same period there were seventy-nine children baptized. The number of adherents is 3,000. There are twenty-six Sunday-schools with a membership of 2,028. Students in the two day- and boarding-schools number 600, one of these, the Instituto Ingles, being self-supporting, and the amount of native contributions was 42,357 pesos (peso = 30 cents). In one district, where last year our workers were stoned every night, we can now hold orderly meetings and have recently organized a Sunday-school.

The autocratic classes and the submerged multitude have not yet been greatly influenced by the Gospel. The work has chiefly been among the sturdy, sensible artisan class and the response has been good.

IN THIS COUNTRY: Rev. W. B. Boomer and Mrs. Boomer.

SANTIAGO STATION.

The towns occupied have been the same as in the previous year, viz., Santiago, Rancagua, San Fernando, Curico and Nancagua, but the work in Curico was returned to the Talca Station, and the work in San Fernando was suspended for some months. All the places of meeting in the city of Santiago were also changed, except one. And yet with all these and other changes there has been continuity and growth in the work.

SANTIAGO.—Services have been conducted in the two churches and some six or seven other places, not counting the English Institute.

The Church of the Most Holy Trinity, after having been housed in two good buildings on the same site, on the corner of Nataniel and Instituto, removed in April to the new property on Brazil Avenue. A part of the house was temporarily, though very neatly, arranged for its services; and, though it has a seating capacity of about 150 only, has been quite large enough for the congregations, except when the place was first opened or on special occasions. The location is one of the finest in the city for evangelistic work; but there is a lack of evangelistic spirit and wise leadership in this department of the work of this church, and it must frankly be confessed that it is not making the most of its opportunities. The treasurership has been in the hands of an enthusiastic worker, who has been partly responsible for the fine increase in volunteer offerings this year.

The work of the Church of the Redeemer has been carried on much as during the year before, and with about the same per cent. of net gain in its membership. Mrs. I. Muñoz brought her letter to this church, and while she has visited in connection with both churches and the chapels, her principal efforts have found their expression in connection with this congregation. She was elected deaconess, and has conducted a small meeting among the women, which is held in their homes in different parts of the city.

Mr. Boomer held for a number of months a general Bible class on a week night, in which he followed the plan of studying by books. No small interest was awakened in this work, and after studying one of Paul's shorter Epistles one of the elders remarked that it was the most interesting book in the Bible. A part of the time practical suggestions for personal work formed part second of the evening's program.

In connection with the work of this church special emphasis has been laid on systematic and continued Bible study. As many as five and six different courses of such study have been carried on simultaneously, e.g., "Prayer," "The Life of Christ," Blakeslee lessons, Bible Catechism, International Sunday-school lessons in Jotabeche Sunday-school, simple course in fundamental Christian truth, catechumen's course, Pastor's Bible class on I and II Thessalonians, besides the teachers' meeting, and at one time a series of talks on the work of the Holy Spirit, given in the Wednesday night church prayer meeting. The fruit of this kind of work is seen in increased interest in the Bible, spiritual appreciation of its truths, steady interest in the meetings and the evangelistic spirit nourished.

The Sunday-school fell off somewhat the first part of the year, due to the exodus to Viña and other cities, where the rebuilding offered better remuneration for work in that line, but gained what it lost and has had about 160 members, besides thirty in the Jotabeche School.

The catechumen class has never been so largely attended, and many weeks do not pass without new probationers presenting themselves. Some thirty have been received in the church on confession of faith.

The net growth of the church will not be far from 35 per cent., the same as last year, and there are a good number who are still on probation. Notwithstanding this gain there have been some sad defections, one of them a former elder, and the number of Christians of experience is comparatively small.

In the matter of systematic giving a distinct advance has been made. Some fifty have contributed by the monthly or weekly envelopes, others by the weekly loose offerings. The envelopes were numbered and distributed monthly; when collected the receipt was noted opposite the corresponding number on a card that was neatly framed and kept under lock and key by the treasurer. The recorded amount need only be known by the depositor, and served at once as a receipt and a reminder. The treasurer has had a good deal of work in keeping the system running, but the work has been well done, and has proved to be an efficient plan.

Chapels and Other Meetings.—Co-operation between the two churches in Santiago and the missionary in charge practically came to an end through the gradual withdrawal of the pastor and other workers from Trinity Church. When they occupied their new building they wished to make a special effort in their own neighborhood. After some time the interest apparently fell off and the weekly evangelistic meetings there were discontinued; but an opportunity was presented of carrying on a meeting on Rio Janeiro Street in a private house, and these meetings are well attended.

In this same neighborhood a room was rented in April, but as the land on which the house stood, we soon discovered, belonged to the Roman Catholic Seminary, we were not allowed to remain more than a month. A large though rather hostile crowd gathered at most of the eight meetings held. But, though repeated search was made, no place in this neighborhood could be found for rent, and finally Trinity Church seized the opportunity presented as mentioned above, and at last it seems as though after years of effort the Presbyterian Church was to be permitted to do some consecutive evangelistic work on the north side of the Mapocho River.

RANCAGUA.—Messrs. Krauss and Leiton have had the main charge of visiting this place. Several of the converts were received into Church fellowship this year, and though the meetings are still small, there is now with five church members the nucleus of an evangelical church. There has been a change of tenant in the house, but the same rate, $50 a month, is paid as before.

SAN FERNANDO.—Owing to the difficulty of getting some one to take charge permanently and of providing a building the work at this Station has been temporarily suspended.

EDUCATIONAL.—Instituto Ingles.—The Instituto Ingles still takes highest rank among preparatory schools, attracting the sons of prosperous and progressive families, not alone of Chili, but of Bolivia and Peru as well. Its graduates now occupy positions of honor and responsibility in commercial circles. Although the fees are in excess of those charged by Government and clerical schools, there is a waiting list for those desiring to attend. It is a great tribute to the school to have maintained a high moral and intellectual standard amid tendencies so strongly hostile.

The school year of 1907 began on March 6 and closed on December 19. The total matriculation for the year was 320, a loss of thirty as compared with 1906. This loss in attendance is to be attributed to two causes: first, the financial crisis at the end of the year, which prevented the sending of several boys for whom places had been engaged, and no doubt of others; and, in the second place, the matriculation of 1906 was larger than usual because of the unusual increase at the end of the term, due to the earthquake, which sent many families to Santiago from Valparaiso, in particular, and other cities.

The falling behind this year was at the end of the term, when we generally have a considerable increase in the matriculation list. At the first of the year we ran ahead of the figures for 1906.

Financially, we can report that the year closes without deficit. It was hoped that the school might have contributed to the erection of a chapel in Santiago, permission having been granted by the Board, or toward the canceling of the deficit on the books of the Mission since 1903-04. But this has not been possible.

We have received just enough to pay the bills of the year, and consider this a fortunate ending, all things considered. The financial crisis has affected the school in many ways, and it was feared that we might not have enough money to pay the bills at the end of the year.

There is no other school of any importance in Santiago (for boys) which pays its own expenses. All the private schools that follow the schedule of studies and examinations of the University get a subsidy from the Government, while the schools of the different congregations have all the wealth of the Roman Catholic Church back of them. Our only rival in English education is backed by the Jesuits, and any cheque they may draw is honored.

The class-room work has been as thorough as in former years, and in the judgment of some of the men even better. It is hoped the coming year to send out another specially qualified teacher to act as Vice-Principal and co-worker with Dr. Browning. This will greatly strengthen his hands.

VALPARAISO STATION.

According to the official census just taken, Valparaiso has a population of 188,632. This includes the population of Viña del Mar, which is given as 26,122. Our working force for the year includes: In evangelistic work, Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Spining, Miss F. E. Smith, missionaries; Rev. Federico Figueroa, ordained pastor, and Ramon Olivares, local evangelist. In educational work, Miss Annette Beatty, Principal of the Escuela Popular, who is assisted by Miss Alice Blaney, Miss Eliza MacNab, Miss Eduvijijs Peters, Miss Rosa Mútis, Mrs. Rosa A. Duran and Mrs. Elisa P. Olivares. Miss Virginia Borquez, office assistant; Manuel Muñoz, janitor.

Beginning with the work of Valparaiso Church, the new building was completed in September, although it has been used for all the services during the entire year. A congregation averaging 190 have attended the church services. Twenty-five members have been received into the church, seventeen on profession of faith and eight by letter. The church is harmonious and united and has been very generous in its offerings. All financial obligations have been promptly met, and a good balance was left on hand for the new fiscal year.

EVANGELISTIC WORK.—The Evangelistic Committee, composed of the Training Class, met Monday evenings in Mr. Spining's study. During the first part of the year they studied the Parables and Miracles of Christ, and during the latter part of the year Stalker's "Life of Paul" was used as a text-book, and almost completed. The difficulty in securing the desired attendance at this class has been that the members best fitted to take part in its work live at great distances. They find that when services take them out four nights in the week, a fifth meeting is too great a strain on time and strength. Some live at so great a distance, and in districts where they would incur danger in going home alone late at night. One of the best members, an old elder, scarcely dares attend an evening meeting, because he has been waylaid twice, and on one occasion was stabbed in several places by his assailants. Nevertheless, the class has been maintained with an attendance of from six to ten, and its members have rendered most useful service in the various preaching places. On Molino Hill a meeting was started on Sunday afternoons. At first it was very promising, but soon it became known that the property belonged to the nuns, who were greatly scandalized that it should be used for the preaching of the Gospel, and demanded that we should vacate at once.

In Las Habas the work, which had been fruitful the past year, was partly broken up by the priests, who went from house to house, and by threats and bribes induced nearly all the children who had become interested to stop attending. It was further hindered by the un-Christian conduct of some who, though not members, were closely related to members, and who were constant attendants, so that the effect of their conduct was prejudicial to those outside. We closed the work there at the end of November, but it has not been without its results. Several new members have been brought in and others reclaimed as a result of the efforts there.

Cerro Monjas.—Miss Smith held a little service in the house of a woman who was interested every Tuesday afternoon. She and her son were both received into the church, and a month ago the meeting was changed to Tuesday evening, and placed in charge of an elder. Several new inquirers have already been brought to the church, and the work promises greater results.

Cerro Carretas.—The great difficulty since the earthquake has been to find rooms in which to preach the Gospel. Rents are exceedingly high, and suitable places few. Mr. Marks, an old American who was cared for at Mission headquarters during his last illness, left a piece of land to Mr. Spining. Miss Smith had received $100 gold from home, and other special contributions amounting in all to 670 pesos had been received. Other funds were advanced and a neat little chapel was built. Work had been begun here several months previous in a rented room on Sunday afternoons. Since the completion of the chapel a Thursday evening meeting was started, with an attendance of about seventy-five. This is a new district of the city which has been built up almost entirely since the earthquake. It is not yet provided either with churches or schools, and hence is an open field for us.

The Sunday-schools.—The Sunday-school of the Valparaiso Church has about 300 children enrolled. Its attendance for the fifty-two Sundays of the year, including several rainy days in winter, was 175, twenty more than the previous year.

Las Habas.—The Las Habas Sunday-school had an attendance of from twenty to thirty from January to November, when the school was discontinued, the workers transferring their activities to the school in Cerro Carretas.

Escuela Popular Sunday-school.—This Sunday-school was maintained through the school months. Guillermo Cerda was the superintendent. The attendance has averaged from forty to fifty. It may be said that that number of the children of the Escuela Popular are being effectively influenced in a religious way; that is to say that, as these children are not connected with the church, their attendance at this Sunday-school shows that their daily instruction has made them favorable to the Gospel.

A school has also been maintained at Cerro Carretas.

All these schools together have a total enrollment of 450. The total offerings for the year was $1,142.79, or almost $100 per month. Five hundred dollars were contributed from the treasury to place two large colored glass windows in the church and to finish the galleries.

CHURCH FINANCES.—One of the great advances of the year has been in the matter of self-support. The following from an article by Rev. C. M. Spining is of interest:

The past year broke the record in the history of the Chili Mission as regards self-support. The Valparaiso Church has become self-supporting. That means that the salary of the native workers and all current expenses were provided by the church itself. After the earthquake, eighteen months ago, the wages of all workmen were almost doubled. That partly explains the increase, but not altogether—a wave of liberality seemed to sweep over the churches. Take last Sunday, March 8, as an example: the attendance was a little smaller than usual, but the Sunday-school collection amounted to 28.10 pesos. The treasurer remarked in counting it, "We used to think anything over five pesos a good collection."

In the evening 14.60 pesos were received. Three or four pesos would have been the usual thing a year ago. Besides the loose collections, over 50 pesos were received in envelopes for the pastor's salary, making a total for the day of over 90 pesos. The total offerings of the Church the past year amounted to 4,500 pesos, and 6,000 more were raised on the field for the new building. A peso is 30 cents.

The Viña del Mar Church, which also belongs to this Station, in proportion to its strength, shows even a better record. The earthquake August 16, 1907, destroyed their chapel. They collected 360 pesos and with materials taken from the ruins built a shed, in which they held their services. It was a poor excuse for a church, but better than nothing. Last September a fire destroyed the block in which it stood and a second time the little church was without a home. What was to be done? The Board had already been asked for funds for a chapel, but could not respond. The 1,200 pesos sent to repair earthquake damages, and already spent in building the pastor's house and a part of the foundation of the church, was all that could be hoped for from that source. But the work must go on in some way. The first thing was to take the burned sheets of iron and straighten them out. Then a most remarkable looking tabernacle was erected at the back of the yard. It was partly enclosed in iron, partly roofed with branches of trees, pieces of carpet, flags, blankets, and boards. Anything that would help keep out the sun and wind was utilized to close in the building.

The next thing was to collect the 1,600 pesos of insurance and pass a subscription list. The results were truly surprising. Although all poor people of the artisan class, they contributed over 2,500 pesos. A like sum was collected among the business houses of Valparaiso, and the new building, costing 8,000 pesos, was built and paid for without an extra appropriation from the Board. One great need still remains: to fill it with seats for 300 people, which would cost about $200 United States money. At present the congregation must use a few nondescript benches; many sit on boards which rest on empty nail-kegs, and a few bring chairs from their homes.

The Viña del Mar Church has a Sunday-school membership of 170 and an average attendance of 120. It has sixty-one members in full communion, of whom twenty-two were received during the past year. The worker in charge, Ramon Olivares, and his wife are not only zealous, but show unusual tact and good judgment in dealing with the people and in adopting methods of work. Mrs. Olivares is especially successful in visiting among the congregation. Aside from the regular services in the church, they have conducted an evangelistic meeting on Thursday evenings in a rented room during the first part of the year, and latterly in the hall of the local Temperance Society.

Escuela Popular.—Miss Beatty has proved herself very efficient, and is an active worker also in the church, Sunday-school and Christian Endeavor. Her work in the Sunday-school has had the remarkable effect of taming a class of twenty young men, some of whom were a constant source of annoyance to the doorkeepers and to the preacher. The school has had an excellent year. The children are of a better class, pay more and are being educated in a more satisfactory manner than ever before. Two hundred and eighty were enrolled during the year, and the income was 4,316 pesos.

Sheltering Home.—This institution has continued under the efficient management of Mrs. Coldrey. Twenty-five children have been cared for during the year. The great increase in the price of living has made an increase in the outlay. This has been met for the current year by the monthly payment of $300 (pesos) from the Relief Committee which had the distribution of the earthquake funds. It may be a little difficult the coming year to supply the needs of the institution, but we believe that the God of the fatherless, who has provided for it in the past, will continue to do so in the future. All the children from the home attend our Sunday-school, and the older ones the church service. Kind friends provided for the children very bountifully on Christmas Day, and the crowd as it files into church on Sundays gives one the impression that they are properly dressed and well fed. Mr. Spining and Miss Smith have been the representatives of the Mission on the Board of Directors for the past year, Mr. Spining being President, and Miss Smith Treasurer.

TALCA STATION.

During this year the work of the Talca Station has practically been the same in its scope as during former years. Although Mr. McLean has been situated in Concepción, it was not possible for him to take up the visiting of any part of the south field outside of that city. For the coming year the work must be carried on from Concepción as the main Station.

Beginning with the southernmost point of the work of the Talca Station, which is also the southernmost of the work of our Mission, attention is first called to the work in the city of Traiguen. In the month of March the changes in the workers in the south and centre fields was effected, and Señor Miguel Martí, who had been for two years stationed in Talca, went from that place and took up the work in Traiguen. Soon after the arrival on the field of Señor Martí there was a visit made to the field by the missionary in charge and several members were received into communion in the church, thus beginning the work of the new man very auspiciously.

From Traiguen there has been for the past four years a weekly visit made to the town of Los Sauces, distant two hours by train. A little more than a year ago the congregation petitioned that there be formed in their town a church, and it was done, being made up of fourteen members. These visits have been continued with all regularity and there has been very good spirit among them all the time. During the past year, all through the south of Chili there was a widespread epidemic of the smallpox, and Traiguen and Los Sauces did not escape. In Traiguen the deaths reached as high as between 300 and 400, though the exact number was never allowed to be known. Also in Los Sauces there were many deaths. In all this terrible time of suffering there was not one death among the members or adherents of the little churches, and but one of the members in Los Sauces was sick, all in Traiguen escaping. For this and all the other things that God has given them there was great rejoicing among them.

Church of Chillan.—For some time toward the close of last year this church was without a worker, but in the month of March it was possible to have Don Alberto Moran move to that place to take up the work. Of course, when there was no one in the town who looked after the interests of the work, it did not progress as rapidly as it would have otherwise done. So when Moran arrived he found that the attendance was very small, and that there was but little interest in all the town. Not long after his arrival a visit was made, and it was with great pleasure that the increase in attendance was noted. From a handful, as at the time of his arrival, the attendance had increased to such an extent that at times the room in which the meetings were held was full even to standing room. The people were very well pleased with his arrival, and all seemed to be determined that the work in the town should progress. Not long ago at the Lord's Supper there were seven new ones admitted to membership. Soon after the advent of Señor Moran the church, which had been unable to do anything in the financial line for years, began to pay the entire rent of the building in which the meetings were held, and not long after that a room was rented in another part of the town where meetings were begun and continued weekly. The elders help in the preaching in that part, so that the work is not too hard on Moran, as his health has not been the best for the past year.

EVANGELISTIC.—From Chillan work has been carried on at Parral with good success, and from there a visit was made to the neighboring town of Cauquenes. This town of about 8,000 inhabitants never had but a passing visit from some colporteur, and no one knew if there had ever been a preaching service in the place. In the month of November the visit was planned and Señor Moran, with Zuniga and Mr. Smith, spent one day there, visiting among those who were interested in the work.

The owner of the hotel where they were staying was kind enough to fix up a room on the street, and they had at 8 o'clock about eighty people ready to listen to what they had to say, most of them drawn by the strains of music from the baby-organ and the singing of some hymns. The very best order prevailed, more than likely on account of the presence of ten or a dozen officers from the regiment stationed in the town. One of their number had been very much interested in the coming of the visitors and had given out many invitations among his fellow-officers. It was at once determined that a weekly meeting be established, and Señor Moran should visit them at that time and preach to them. Thus the visitors left the town very much encouraged with the beginning that had been made. The week following, when Moran returned for the second visit, he found that there had not remained the same silence during the intervening days. There had been a protest from the parochial priest in the weekly paper that he put out, and a terrible curse on the people of the town for having allowed a visit from those "devil men." Anyone who allowed a service to be held in his house was threatened, and all were adjured not to rent a room under any circumstances to us. With all that Moran could do there was no place where a meeting could be held that week, and he had to be satisfied with what he could do in private conversations. He secured, however, the promise from a gentleman of the Radical party to rent him a room some time early in the new year. So the sleeping dogs of Rome, who were sleeping in their snug quarters, little thinking that they would be troubled with a visit from the "heretics," were aroused and did the best they could to stop the ears of the people of the town to the message of the Gospel that was brought to them.

Visits were also made to the town of Linares.

In Talca itself the membership has not increased, largely on account of the placing on the retired list of many names of those who have been outside of the town for so long a time that their residence is unknown, and their conduct for at least two years is a blank. The people have manifested interest in the meetings and many new ones have come, among whom we are sure that there are many in whom the seed sowing will not be lost. The members have sustained a weekly meeting, which is held in the homes of the members, being held where it is asked, thus showing those who are anxious to influence their neighbors. Mrs. Smith has filled the office of Treasurer for the past two years and has been able this year, by much work and trouble, to almost double the amount of the contributions of the members. The actual income for the year has been something over $1,200, $600 of which was toward the salary of the pastor, and the balance, with the exception of $175, was spent during the year in furthering the work. This latter sum was voted to various objects, one of which was the starting of a small library. A sum was voted for the work in Curicó that the room there might be put in better order, as it was not at all adequate. The meetings have been very well attended for the most part, and all have done the best they could to take the part that was adapted to them.

The great need of this field is more workers to take up the local work and let the missionary get out and do more visiting. With the reduced force as at present it has not been possible for much visiting to be done. Also the funds for itinerating have not permitted more travel to be undertaken without seriously overdrawing.

COPIAPO STATION.

Rev. J. F. Garvin and Mrs. Garvin remained at Copiapo until October, when it was found necessary to transfer them to Santiago. At the Mission meeting Rev. J. S. Smith and Mrs. Smith were sent to Copiapo for the New Year.

The evangelistic work of the year has been carried on as in previous years, the out-stations being manned by native preachers and occasionally visited by the missionary.

Tocopilla.—The field includes the port of Tocopilla, of some 6,000 to 8,000 inhabitants, and eight saltpetre establishments fifty to eighty miles in the interior; these have from 300 to 2,000 inhabitants each, varying according to the working season of each oficina.

The church served by Rev. E. F. Krauss, one of the most trustworthy and capable of our Chilean workers, has had an accession of nine members on examination, two by letter and two restored. The net gain is given as seven.

The receipts have been over 2,000 pesos, of which seventy pesos per month have been contributed to the pastor's salary. The congregation decided in May to set aside 60 per cent. of the income for a manse fund.

Taltal.—This port, with a present population of upwards of 8,000 to 9,000 inhabitants, has greatly increased in prosperity during the past year and a half. The church is supplied by Señor Manuel Herrera, licentiate, and one of our most successful workers. Mr. Garvin has visited this field twice during the year, and on his last visit in May and June he was able to reconstruct the church building with funds raised entirely on the field. About 2,000 pesos were contributed by the foreign residents of Taltal and the oficinas, for the most part English. The Chilians contributed upwards of 2,000 pesos. The present edifice, while plain, and in some aspects unfinished, is commodious enough for present wants. This is one of the most important points in the north, and the increasing number of saltpetre establishments, some of them of large proportions, makes the field altogether too large to be properly attended by one man. For this reason a colporteur was sent provisionally to work in the pampas under direction of Señor Herrera during the months of August, September and October. The expense of the venture was borne by the proceeds of Mrs. Garvin's teaching in the Liceo de Niñas in Copiapo, so that she was virtually doing colporteur work by proxy. The results, although not as satisfactory as hoped, were yet sufficient to justify the experiment.

The statistics of the church show five members received on confession and one by letter, with a present net membership of thirty-eight, and 100 in the Sunday-school. The total income has been 6,150 pesos. The congregation contributed sixty pesos per month for May and June to their pastor's salary, eighty pesos for July and August, and 100 pesos per month since that time. At present the Mission is contributing also 100 pesos per month to his salary.

It is possible that they may make a still further advance toward self-support, a measure which has been urged upon them.

Chañaral.—This is at once the smallest and weakest of our centres of work in the north. The fall in the price of copper has been most severely felt there. Only a few of the strongest mines have been able to continue work, and these have greatly reduced operations, so that no advance has been made in the line of self-support, and even the small amount of thirty pesos per month has not always been forthcoming, and the worker has suffered to that extent.

The congregation has not yet been organized as a church, as the way has not seemed clear for such a step. There have been disturbing elements in the congregation, and it will require the bringing in of new material before it would be wise to organize a church there. We have the use of the church built for the Anglican Church people years ago. We have the free use of the building, in the repairs of which, however, we have expended over 500 pesos during the year. This money was mostly given by one man, a Chilian, whose wife is a member of the church, but he is only an attendant and sympathizer. He also gave 500 pesos of the fund for the church in Taltal.

Copiapó.—When not absent from the city Mr. Garvin has always held an English service at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoons. This has been attended by from twenty-five to thirty of the English residents, from about half a dozen families. An English Sunday-school has been maintained all the year, whether Mr. Garvin was in town or not, with an attendance of twenty to thirty. The new Presbyterian Book of Common Worship was used in the English service with considerable acceptance. The English people have contributed thirty pesos per month to the work, which sum has been used to meet current expenses of light, care and considerable repairs to the rooms back of the church. Some of these rooms have been rented and this money has also gone to defray the cost of repairs, which at the present time has a debtor balance of some 300 pesos. It will probably be taken care of during the year 1908 by the income from the two aforementioned sources.

In Spanish the usual services have been maintained of Sunday-school and one preaching service on Sunday evening, Christian Endeavor on Monday nights, and a midweek meeting. Mrs. Garvin has been a teacher in the Sunday-school, President of the Christian Endeavor for six months, and has conducted a Mission Band of the English children.

Regular monthly visits have been made to the mine "Tran-sito," eight miles south of Tierra Amarilla, the nearest rail communication, and nearly twenty miles south of Copiapó. The total number of workmen at this mine has varied from 200 to 75, which represents a population of perhaps double that number. Our work here has been favored by the administrator of the mine, Mr. Thomas Peddar, who frankly declares that his men are benefited by our efforts. Hundreds of pesos worth of books have been sold in this mine, and through the efforts of David Rey, who started the services there while he himself was engaged in charge of a winding engine, a library and reading room have been established. A Sunday-school is now maintained, and some other meetings, even when not visited from Copiapó.

Just a mile or so south of Tierra Amarilla, on the railway, is the station of Punta del Cobra, where lives a thoroughly live Christian family. The father is a miner, working on his own account, and the mother a little woman, both of them having a good deal of Indian blood in their veins; but more sincere and enthusiastic workers for Christ it would be hard to find. The weekly visits to this place, which were begun in September, have developed an attendance as high as seventy.

This rapid review has purposely omitted many details, and is confessedly imperfect in its presentation of the feeble attempts which are being made to win for the Master a few of the great multitudes of men, women and children, the most of whom are wholly indifferent to us, even if they know that we exist. They are not wholly irreligious, but neither are the great mass of the people fanatical. They follow the old religion very indifferently, principally because it is the custom, and it is easy to drift with the current. Crowds will go to hear an ex-friar declaim against the Church, but when he declares against God they leave the place almost en masse. The field is ripe for the harvest, but where are the reapers? We should have a worker for the Carrizal Valley, another additional worker for Copiapó Valley, to give part of this time to Caldera, and help in the visitation of the interior points.

Taltal and Tocopilla each urgently need an additional worker, and it is probable that another year would call for a further increase of at least an equal number. Gatico, a port south of Tocopilla, is a point that would repay visitation, but this cannot be done with present forces.

COLOMBIA MISSION.

BOGOTA: on the San Francisco River, the capital of the country; situated on a plateau about 8,800 feet above the sea level and four degrees north of the equator; climate cool; occupied as a Mission Station in 1856. Missionaries—Rev. T. H. Candor and Mrs. Candor, Miss Mary L. Freeman and Rev. C. S. Williams and Mrs. Williams.

BARRANQUILLA (Bar-ran-keel-ya): capital of the Department Del Atlantico, on the Magdalena River; 17 miles by rail from the sea, 500 miles north of Bogota; about twelve degrees north latitude; climate hot as the thermal equator passes through; occupied as a Mission Station in 1888. Missionaries—Rev. W. S. Lee and Mrs. Lee, Miss Jessie Scott and Miss L. W. Quinby.

CARACAS, VENEZUELA: capital of the country; situated at an elevation of 3,500 feet above the sea level; about 10 degrees north latitude; 23 miles by rail from the sea; climate like late Spring; population 75,000; occupied tentatively 1897. Missionaries—Rev. T. S. Pond and Mrs. Pond.

BOGOTA STATION.

The year opened with three members of the Station on the field, Mr. and Mrs. Candor and Miss Freeman. In October Mr. and Mrs. Williams, new missionaries, arrived.

THE WORK OF THE CHURCH.—The church has 125 members. Some of these, however, do not live in the city, and others live so far from the building that they find it difficult to attend many of the public services.

There is no Colombian worker who is prepared to take charge of the church as a supply or local evangelist, so that most of the work has fallen on the missionaries; yet two and sometimes three preaching services on the Sabbath, a Sunday-school and the midweek service were continued during the year. Some of the men of the church have been very helpful in these services, and have continued them at times when the regular minister was ill or absent from the city.

Owing to the press of other work, it was not possible to hold many special services, but there was some special interest and thirteen new members were added to the list.

The financial situation of the church, and in fact of the whole country, has been very trying during the whole year. The people, however, raised the equivalent of $250 gold.

EDUCATIONAL.—Training Class for Men.—This class is new work of a very gratifying kind. It was organized to train men for active Christian work. It met in the evening three times a week for nine months of the year, and once a week during the other months. It was taught by Mr. Candor, and devoted one evening a week to the study of the Bible for practical purposes; one evening was given to the study of doctrinal subjects according to the needs of the pupils; and another evening to the study of rhetoric, the composition and delivery of discourses and methods of practical work.

There were twelve regular members of these classes, and several others who attended one or more of the classes. But as all the classes were open to all who cared to attend, some came out of curiosity and the attendance raised from ten or twelve to thirty or forty. The interest grew from month to month and the men expressed their desire to continue the work during next year, and even to plan for developing it into a regular Theological Training School, if possible, with all that is necessary to prepare young men for the work of the ministry.

The Boys' School.—This school was continued during the year under the supervision of Mr. Candor. The building was constructed in part for this purpose and is valued at $15,000.

The school was divided into two departments, primary and secondary, and the intention was to do about the work that corresponds to these grades in the United States. The superior department was taught in all branches using Spanish or French by Senor M. Echeverria, and in other branches by Mr. Candor. Miss Freeman taught some special classes in calisthenics.

The primary department had at different times three teachers.

The total enrollment of the school was fifty, but the average attendance was less than thirty.

The expense to the Mission was about $500 for the year, but this does not include anything for the missionary who gave only a part of his time to the school, being also engaged in evangelistic work and the training class work. There was an income from tuitions of about $30 per month, and the boarding pupils paid $9 per month each for table-board. This income, with that from the Mission, was the support of the school.

Every effort was made to make the school a mission work, and there was hearty co-operation in this on the part of the employees as well as of the greater part of the pupils. They, however, were too young to enter the training class, but we hope that some of them may do this in the near future.

This school during the year of 1908 is to be under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Williams, and it is to be expected that, with the personal influence they can exert by living in the building, and with the personal work they can give to the school, it will be able to do better work.

The Girls' School.—This was under the care of Mrs. Candor and Miss Freeman, both of whom resided in the building.

The building, which is the property of the Mission, is well located in the central part of the city. It is an old building, but comfortable, and valued at perhaps $30,000, partly on account of the location. Mrs. Candor writes:

The year was not free from trials, but there were also triumphs and precious opportunities which more than compensated for the difficulties encountered. Eighty pupils were enrolled, ranging from A, B, C grade to the graduating class of three dignified Seniors. Our native teachers gave valuable assistance and our Seniors taught several classes, which they were to examine publicly to show their ability as teachers.

An important feature of the school was our Monday afternoon prayer meeting, where we felt the presence of God in a special manner, giving our pupils strength to testify for Him in a few simple sentences or by short earnest prayers.

Heart-to-heart talks with those who wished to understand the religion of Jesus we treasure as a precious experience. Both Miss Freeman and I enjoyed our Bible classes, and we could see real interest on the part of our pupils. Our Presbyterian Catechisms were faithfully taught and must have been studied with great zeal, at least by one little girl who bought four copies of the Shorter Catechism during the year! The children who resided in the Mission building attended the church services and Sunday-school, and several of the day-pupils were often seen there also.

The last few weeks of school, teachers and scholars devoted extra time to sewing for a bazar to be given for a charity fund and to help improve the Presbyterian Church cemetery. This yielded $150 gold. We were indebted to foreigners and our church members for valuable assistance.

Mrs. Candor writes as follows of a very interesting event:

1907 marks an epoch in the history of our "Colegio Americano," for we were actually to have a graduating class. Miss Freeman and I were somewhat nervous over the matter, for fear that our girls would not have the courage to do their parts well, but we had cause to be thankful over the results. After sustaining a very creditable examination before their parents and friends, they delivered their graduating addresses to a large and appreciative audience. The subjects of their essays were: "College Influence," "The Effect of Christianity on Woman," and "An Ideal College." Our three girls looked every inch "The Sweet Girl Graduate" in their simple white dresses, planned by Miss Freeman, and made almost entirely by their own hands.

A parting song, prepared especially for the occasion by Dr. L. F. Torres, was much appreciated by the audience. They listened with much interest to an address by the same gentleman and to another by Dr. J. T. Galvis, who rose to the occasion in excellent style. Later two of the city papers complimented the school on its work and particularly the young graduates.

Our prayers and good wishes go with these girls as they begin life in earnest. It is good to feel that they all profess to love and trust the Saviour.

BARRANQUILLA STATION.

MISSIONARY FORCE.—The missionary force during the first half of the year consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Graham, Miss Scott and Miss Hastings. Mr. and Mrs. Lee returned from their furlough June 26. Miss Hastings resigned on account of her approaching marriage and left July 13. Her successor, Miss Lelia Wiatt Quimby, arrived October 3.

EVANGELISTIC WORK (Mr. Graham in charge).—The year was a prosperous one, and there was steady growth along almost every line. The church membership received the largest increase in the history of the church, thirty-two having been added on profession. The growth during the year was an increase of forty-three per cent. over the number reported a year ago. The gain in total attendance at the church services was nearly 500, and the contributions for congregational expenses showed an advance of 57 per cent. over the large gains of last year.

The organization of a Christian Endeavor Society brought out the latent talent of some of the church members. Owing to the illiteracy of many of the members participation in the public meetings was limited, but a number who had never before taken any active part offered prayer.

Special services were held on the birthday of the Emperor of Germany, at which a large representation of the German colony was present; on Palm Sunday, Good Friday, Easter, Christmas and New Year's. Thirty-three cottage meetings were held in different parts of the city, with a total attendance of 2,000 people. They gave an admirable opportunity to take the Gospel directly to the unchurched masses.

During the year Elder Coll has given part of his time to evangelistic work in the neighboring cities and towns. He has addressed attentive audiences that gave earnest heed to the Word of life, and has prepared the way for a more systematic visitation of these needy places.

The funds for the erection of a church building increased from $55 to $125. One gift of $10 came from the pastor and people of the Spanish-speaking Methodist church of Panama, an excellent example of Christian comity.

WOMAN'S WORK.—Miss Hastings continued until her departure to hold meetings for women on Sunday and week-day afternoons. She also conducted a Sunday afternoon Bible class for Jamaicans.

This class was originally organized for Jamaican women, but was quite as largely attended by the Jamaican men. Miss Hastings supplied them regularly with religious reading matter, periodicals, etc., and furnished to them almost the only religious atmosphere which they felt here.

Miss Scott also visited to some extent among the women, giving Bible readings and praying with them. Miss Scott and Miss Hastings distributed much Spanish literature, tracts, etc., including in their distribution the little fishing villages of Salgar and La Playa, and always reading and explaining and singing hymns wherever possible. This was done generally during the vacations spent in Salgar, when Miss Scott took her baby organ along, so that song services might be held in the cottage.

EDUCATIONAL.—The Girls' Boarding School.—Regarding this school, Miss Scott who remained in sole charge, reports:

The school for girls cannot present a very favorable report of the year 1907. Only fifty-one pupils were matriculated. The pressure of hard times was so heavy that a large number withdrew during the year because of inability to pay the small tuition asked, and others remained only because of the offer to continue them free of tuition. Even of those who believed they could pay to the end of the year, not a few failed to do so. In several families sickness and death added to the distress. The general spirit of the school was very satisfactory. The children did fairly good work, and the spiritual tone was encouraging, although there were no conversions. The two native teachers, Señoritas Olga Ackermann and Ester Garcia, did faithful work—the latter often ill herself, but always in her place for the day's work.

We sincerely tried to urge upon the children the importance of a decision to live for Christ in this world, and all our work was with that end in view. We can but leave the result in His hands.

The Boys' Boarding School.—This school opened with Mr. Graham in charge on February 4. Mr. Graham and his family lived in the home building of the school, but did not receive any boarding or breakfast pupils, as Mrs. Graham did not feel able to assume the additional responsibility of the matron's duties. The school was small throughout the year, the first term closing with a registration of thirty pupils, but with only eighteen in actual attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee returned from their furlough on June 26 and again took charge of the school. Though only eleven new pupils were received during the latter half of the year, the school again became entirely self-supporting by dismissing one of the native teachers.

School closed November 25 with a program consisting of hymns, the recitation of Psalms, religious and secular poetry, declamations, orations, dialogues and a few model classes. A large part of the program is always especially selected to teach Gospel truths to parents and patrons of the school, who might not be reached on any other occasion.

CARACAS STATION.

Mr. and Mrs. Pond have continued their faithful labors as the only missionaries at this Station. The excellent record of good health at Caracas has been broken, but the missionary was out of the pulpit on that account only three Sundays.

The work has also been characterized by somewhat new features. The central position of our chapel has borne fruit in attracting more casual hearers than usual. Our congregations also are made up of more regular attendants, and we have gained the interest of more families—a distinct promise of permanent value. Mr. Pond writes:

We have had the privilege, too, of affording aid and comfort to a young priest, who took refuge with us on his arrival from Colombia, where he had just broken with Rome. Mr. Mitjans is of a good family of Barcelona, Spain; is twenty-nine years of age, was given a somewhat superior education and developed more than ordinary oratorical ability. Shocked by the abuses of the South American clergy, he determined to have no further part nor lot with them. He fled to Caracas, the nearest port accessible, and came to us for light and guidance. He remained with us three months, disclosing the most estimable qualities. But through the influence of the clergy of Caracas, he was denounced as a renegade priest from Colombia, who had entered the country contrary to the law which excludes all foreign ecclesiastics. This Government promptly decreed his expulsion. He was loth to return to Spain, and was sent to Porto Rico, where he has found a congenial field of work with Rev. M. Ferrando, a fellow-countryman, whose experience on leaving Rome took place in the same district of Colombia. Mr. Mitjans is now doing good work in one of the most remarkable missions in Porto Rico.

Since the departure of Sr. Mitjans, we have engaged in training a young Venezuelan who gives promise of becoming a reliable helper, Benjamin Roldan. Benjamin is not wholly a novice; he aided the acting elder of the church in sustaining the services during our absence of ten months in the United States. He has ever, of choice, been an earnest student of the Word, and for the last three months he could do this almost unhindered, so that he has taken charge of the whole public services during the three weeks' illness of the missionary. Considering his humble origin and few educational advantages, he has done remarkably good service, and we hope for greater things from him in the future.

A Christmas celebration was largely attended. The school children acquitted themselves finely in their hymns and recitations. The live fir tree from the United States, the gift of Blohm & Co., German merchants here, added greatly to the interest.

The meetings for prayer are well attended, from eight to twelve persons taking part with faith and fervor. A number of the unconverted members of the families have made public profession of their faith. The few—among them the father of a large family—who remain unconverted are objects of ever-increasing solicitude, and the same spirit extends to their neighbors.

There is the same old indifference of the masses to contend with. But one family after another is entered, the Gospel is read, and the faith in Christ is presented to the needs of the different souls.

The contributions of the church, after paying for lights, etc., have amounted to $50, with which the people have replaced the old chairs with new and enlarged the seating capacity, and this in the midst of persistent and pinching poverty, and without one hint of urging or solicitation.

The C. E. Society has made progress in the study of the Scriptures and in outside efforts for the indifferent.

The work at Caracas is prosecuted among many difficulties, not least of which is the smallness of the Station force—one solitary family. But there are encouragements. The missionaries are respected by the people and the work is becoming more firmly established.

MISSIONS IN SYRIA.

INTRODUCTORY.

Through the kindness of Dr. F. E. Hoskins, the following summary of the year's work in the Syrian Missions has been prepared:

BRIEF REVIEW OF 1907.—The year 1907 was one of quiet, faithful service, with a steady advance in every department of work. The schools were full to overflowing, the church congregations were larger than ever, the Sunday-school work better organized, and the advance in self-government and self-support satisfactory. Financially it was perhaps the best year in the history of Syria Mission. The income of the various schools and the contributions of the churches perhaps exceeded all records, but this does not mean any marked changes in administration and extension, because it has been largely used up by the greatly increased cost of living and the greater expense of carrying on the same amount of work. But it remains more than true that each dollar of American money attracts to itself a half a dollar from Syrian sources, and at the same time stimulates other native agencies to spend more money along similar lines.

The schools draw their pupils from an increasingly wider circle of homes and villages. The teaching force is being continually augmented, the requirements for entrance and graduation are being slowly advanced, there is a new growth of athletic and literary societies which testify to the living spirit within these schools. We take increasingly greater pleasure in the schools under Syrian ownership and direction, the Hums brethren having surpassed them all in the development of their own Boarding School, at an outlay last year of more than 90,000 piasters ($3,200). They have also paid about $1,500 for land, and have more than £1,400 ($7,000) in hand for building a permanent home for their work.

Three native Presbyteries with thirty-four churches are working along evangelical lines with the Bible, pulpit and schools, and their influence upon the life and progress of this ancient division of Christendom is exceedingly great, but the total effects of their leavening process will be known only in eternity. Every sect and religion in Syria is better to-day than they could ever have been without this spur and inspiration.

A glimpse at the past of fifty years ago gives us a better idea of what this all means.

In 1857 there were, all told, only seventy-five native church members in four churches, and the admissions were only eleven. In 1907 there were thirty-four organized churches with 2,819 members, of whom 151 were admitted during the year. None of the Presbyteries existed twenty years ago, but now they are the real centre of evangelical church life.

In 1857 there were nine Stations with sixteen preaching places within the bounds of Syria Mission. In 1907 there were ninety-four preaching places. The congregations that gather every Sabbath to hear the Gospel present fully as great a contrast.

The thirty schools of 1857 with 1,030 pupils have grown in 1907 into 105 schools with 5,115 pupils, and these take no account of the College with its 850 students that grew naturally out of the Mission work.

In 1852 contributions of all kinds from native sources were practically nothing. In 1882 they amounted to only $2,044 for all church and school purposes. In 1907 churches and schools within the Mission contributed $41,632, and the College added another $55,000 for income of pupils. This represents only the direct contribution to evangelical enterprises, but takes no account of the indirect payments to a score of native enterprises.

In 1857 the American Bible Society through our Mission Press printed only 2,569,000 pages. In 1907 the issues were 14,415,000, and this was an off year compared with the record issue of 1905, which was 47,275,000 pages.

This means progress and blessing.

One new church building was erected during the year at Hadeth, near Beirut, and at no expense to the Board. Two brothers, Tanius and Mitry Saad, gave the ground; a Swiss lady, Miss Appia, doing mission work at Kefr Shima, added a large gift, and many small contributions from Syria and America completed the building.

Syrian friends in Sidon, honoring the memory of Rev. W. K. Eddy, collected over $1,250, with which they built a Memorial Reading Room, carrying the enterprise through from start to finish in a manner that reflects the highest credit upon them all.

Among the greatest visible fruits of the Mission work are the 200 Syrian workers who, resisting the fascinating calls to other lands where life offers greater prizes, are trying to do for Syria what the pioneers of early American life did for our native land, and what the reformers of older countries did for other peoples. More than one honored name was added to the roll of their illustrious dead, whose presence we miss in church and school. One loved native pastor, Rev. Saliba Jerawan, after more than fifty years' Gospel service, is watching the sun go down from his humble home on Lebanon. Mr. Jirgius Shemaoun, who for more than fifty years has set up Bible types, is still at his case. His fellow-workmen marked his fifty years' service by an address, a beautiful rug and an afternoon surprise party. Others there are who follow close upon these two veterans of more than half a century.

Our forty American missionaries added one, Mrs. H. H. Jessup, to their roll of honored dead. They too have their veterans whom the younger generations salute with honor. Mrs. C. V. A. Van Dyck heads all Mission lists by over sixty-five consecutive years of service in Syria. Mrs. William Bird follows with fifty-five years. Dr. H. H. Jessup has over fifty-two years behind him; Dr. S. Jessup forty-five, and five others with over thirty-two years each to their records.

These 240 native and foreign workers, gathering up the experiences and teachings of over two-thirds of a century, are praying still, praying and working, with the inextinguishable faith of the coming kingdom. These represent the gifts of the great Presbyterian Church in the United States to the land where Jesus lived. No imposing churches have been built, no jeweled shrines reared at supposed holy places, but into thousands of darkened hearts the light has shined, and peace and good will increased among all sorts and conditions of men.

MISSIONS IN SYRIA.

HISTORY.—The Mission was first started in Palestine about 1820, by missionaries of the American Board. Owing to the state of the land, and interruptions from wars, pestilence and massacres, growth was slow at first, and the main work was confined to Syria. In 1870 the Mission was transferred to the care of the Presbyterian Board. During these eighty-five years less than 150 Americans, male and female, have been employed, the present number being respectively fifteen and twenty-four.

SYRIAN PROTESTANT COLLEGE.—The Syrian Protestant College, situated at Beirut, is not connected with any Missionary Society or helped by its funds, but it is a direct outgrowth of the Mission in Syria, and is closely affiliated with the Mission and related to its work. It has a magnificent location, and in its Preparatory, Collegiate, Commercial, Pharmaceutical and Medical Departments it has 827 students. A Training School for Nurses was established in 1905 in connection with the College Hospitals. Catalogues may be had by applying to the President, Rev. Howard S. Bliss, D.D.

The corps of instruction and administration numbers 71; of these 59 devote all or some of their time to teaching, and 11 are engaged in the conduct of the business affairs of the institution. Thirty-three are from America; 25 are Syrians; 1 is Greek; 6 British; 2 are Italians; 1 is Swiss; 2 are Armenians; 1 is Austrian.

The College was opened in Beirut in the Autumn of 1866. The first class was graduated in 1870. The Medical Department was organized and opened in 1867, the Preparatory Department in 1871, and the School of Commerce in October, 1900.

MEDICAL WORK.—Johanniter Hospital.—The Medical Professors of the Syrian Protestant College have been for thirty-six years the sole medical attendants of this institution. The hospital is situated on the bluff overlooking the Bay of St. George, in a terraced park of about four acres. The main building is a stately edifice with a central block, two pavilion wings and a rear pavilion connected by a covered glazed corridor. The central block contains the administration department, the operating room, the pathological laboratory, the kitchen and various apartments, and on its best ventilated faces a number of wards, most of them looking out on the sea and Mt. Lebanon. The lower story of the rear pavilion is the chapel erected by American friends of the noble Johanniter Order and of the Deaconesses of Kaiserswerth. The upper story is the surgical ward for men, and is a model of its kind, having windows on all four sides and the most perfect system of lighting and ventilation. Another building furnishes accommodations for a large polyclinic, another is isolated for contagious diseases, and still others for laundry, dead-house, gate-house, etc.

The institution is owned and supported by the Johanniter Order, composed of the flower of the Protestant nobility of Germany, with the son of the Emperor at its head. The nursing and administrative staff is furnished by the Deaconesses of Kaiserswerth. The edifying spectacle of the co-operation of two such institutions as the Johanniter Hospital and the Syrian Protestant College is a striking testimony to Ecumenical Christianity, resting upon the unity of the Spirit and the bond of peace.

BEIRUT STATION.

Beirut Station includes that city and the environs north and south along the coast for a distance of ten miles. Beirut City has a population of 150,000.

Rev. F. E. Hoskins, D.D., and family left for America on furlough July 28, 1906, and set out on their return in October, 1907. After laboring in England on behalf of the "Bible Lands' Missions Aid Society," he reached Paris on his way to Syria, when he was prostrated by a severe illness. After a detention of several weeks he and Mrs. Hoskins and son reached Beirut December 3 in good health.

Miss R. E. Tolles, who went home on furlough on January 27, 1907, is still in America.

During the Summer Dr. Mary P. Eddy went to Europe by medical advice, and returned October 1 greatly improved in health.

The problem of emigration has become a very serious one for the Syria Mission as the people are leaving by scores. The writer of the narrative says:

It requires thorough consecration and a spirit of self-denial for an educated youth to-day to turn a deaf ear to calls for immediate employment and high pay under the Egyptian Government, or the promise of speedy wealth in America or Brazil, and listen to the call of the feeble churches of his own native Syria for preachers of the Gospel. All honor to the Syrian pastors and teachers who have kept at their self-denying work, when brothers and cousins, uncles, sisters and aunts write them from America, Brazil and Australia, entreating them to come where thousands of dollars can be accumulated in a few short years.

The Mission voted in May to have no Theological class the coming year, owing to a want of suitable candidates. Several of the experienced Syrian teachers and preachers have resigned and emigrated during the year, on the ground that in the present increased cost of living they could not support their families.

This fashion for emigration is depleting the land of its able-bodied men and boys. They are still going by thousands—farmers, carpenters, masons, day laborers, students and teachers.

We hear of them in the very remotest corners of the earth, from the Philippines to the Transvaal, Argentine and Alaska, and almost every city and manufacturing town in America.

Many send back large sums of money. A larger number are struggling to get their daily bread in a land of strangers. At first only Maronites, Greeks and Protestants went. Now Druzes, Moslem villagers and Bedouin Arabs go, changing their names and dress and joining in the rush for the El Dorado of the West.

Some of our best preachers find work among the Syrian colonies in the United States. There is a Providential meaning and plan in it all. Let us pray that it may result in a great blessing to Syria in the future.

Native Evangelical Church.—The pastor of this church, Rev. Assad Abdullah, is entirely supported by his people and the congregations have been large. The preaching is evangelical and faithful. The income of the church for the year was 16,078 piasters. The number of resident members is 157 and about an equal number have emigrated. Twelve infants have been baptized.

On the 1st of February, the Church and the cause of Christian education were sadly afflicted in the death of Mr. Selim Kessab, a native of Damascus, who had been for forty-six years a teacher in the British Syrian Mission Schools. He was the first President of the Beirut Young Men's Christian Association, or "Shems el Bir" Society, was a fine Arabic scholar and author of many excellent Arabic hymns. He died suddenly while offering the opening morning prayer in the British Syrian Institution.

The Helping Hand Society and the Christian Temperance Reading Room, both of which are monuments to the loss of the late Mrs. H. H. Jessup, have continued their beneficent work, and the latter has furnished a quiet and safe refuge for 30,000 men during the year.

EDUCATIONAL.—The Educational Method has always been popular in Syria and each year the call for advance in this direction has increased. As showing the impress this work is making the following account of the Syrian Protestant College and the effects of its success is eloquent.

Syrian Protestant College.—The Syrian Protestant College reached its high-water mark the past year, having about 865 students. Surely this great institution has fully justified more than the highest hopes of its founders. There is a spirit of serious earnestness on the part of the Faculty and instructors with regard to the spiritual welfare of the students which is full of hope and cheer for the future. During the latter weeks of the year the whole community was full of anxiety and loving solicitude with regard to the health of our venerable colleague and fellow-laborer, Dr. Daniel Bliss, President Emeritus of the Syrian Protestant College. Through the crowning goodness of God, earnest prayers have been answered, and he has been mercifully spared. There is a note of triumph in the following, written by Dr. Jessup from the notes of his great sermon:

"The Spirit of God is working in the Syrian Protestant College as never before. For ten days evening meetings have been held, conducted by the professors and tutors with constantly increasing interest. The attendance was voluntary, but it increased so rapidly that a larger room was needed and they removed to the large library. Then the number reached 400. Each night the students were asked to express their decision on the great question of personal faith in Christ, and on Thursday night, January 9, 1908, one hundred arose and declared that they had accepted Christ. It was a solemn and affecting scene, and they remained afterwards for special prayer and conversation. . . . This has all come as an answer to earnest prayer, which began at one house in Raleih in accordance with the suggestion of Prof. Hall, of the college, last September, and has continued until now. We all feel grateful and encouraged. In the Sidon schools also the meetings have been solemn and interesting. This awakening in the college will gladden the hearts of all friends of the college and the Syria Mission. I know of no place in Syria where there is a better opportunity than in the college for direct hand-to-hand spiritual work with the young, and the godly, faithful men in the Faculty, who have been praying and laboring for this present blessed spiritual awakening, are full of gratitude and courage, and the meetings are still going on."

The revival of Mohammedan zeal and enterprise has led the Government to open schools and hospitals in all the cities and large towns of the Empire. The Vali of Beirut has erected a colossal pile of buildings on the sand dunes southwest of the city for an industrial school. The funds were raised by a tax of two dollars a head on all persons landing or embarking at the port of Beirut.

The writer can remember when it was truly said that no new mosques were being erected in the Empire and the old ones were going to ruin, but within twenty-five years not less than fifteen new mosques have been built in Beirut. The boys of all their schools, not less than 1,500 in number, are regularly marched to the mosques and taught the prayers, prostrations and genuflexions. Their girls' schools are crowded and the children learn the Koran with great avidity. Everything indicates a closing up of the ranks of Islam against the onset of Christian light and education. Yet there are many who are dissatisfied with the dry ethics, traditions and ritual of Islam, and send their children to the Christian schools to get a broad and thorough modern education.

The Roman Catholic leaders are also showing intense activity. Hundreds of monks and nuns expelled from France are opening schools in all parts of Syria and Palestine, partly to save their co-religionists from Protestant light, and partly in the hopes of gradually absorbing the Orthodox Greek sect.

The Orthodox Greek clergy, or at least the few educated men among them, backed by Russian zeal and money, are trying to hold their own against both the Protestants and the Romanists. The Bishop of Beirut is erecting an edifice of vast proportions in the eastern quarter of the city as an offset to the Jesuit educational crusade and the powerful influence of Protestant schools.

It is gratifying to know that notwithstanding the enormous increase of Moslem, Papal and Greek schools, the other Protestant schools in the city, English, Scotch and German, are prospering. Beirut is probably better supplied with schools than any other city in the Empire.

Through the co-operation of the Department of State, the Embassy at Constantinople and the Consul-General in Beirut, the long-desired recognition of our institutions in the Empire has been secured and custom house immunities obtained.

The thanks of the Mission were sent to President Roosevelt, Ambassador Leishmann and Consul-General Ravndal, who have acknowledged the same in official letters to the American Mission.

THE PRESS.—The Manager of the Press reports that during the year 22,240,843 pages have been printed, of which 14,263,000 were Scriptures, making the total number of pages printed from the beginning to be 878,604,184. There were printed 32,000 volumes of Scriptures and 42,000 volumes of other books, making 74,000 in all. Total sales for the year amounted to $15,000.

Work on the printing of the Commentary on the Pentateuch has reached the sixteenth chapter of Numbers.

The Mission and all Christian workers owe a debt of gratitude to the American Tract Society for its efficient aid continued from year to year. It has assured the publication of the Old Testament Commentary, of which the first volume (Genesis and Exodus) is now completed.

The Manager of the Press notes with high appreciation the faithful services of some of the men who have worked in the Press from twenty-five to forty years, and especially of Mr. Giurgius Shamaon, who just fifty years ago entered the Press as a compositor of Arabic type. He has been a devoted and reliable man and deserves the thanks of the Press and the Mission.

The Neshera Journal.—Rev. F. W. March has conducted the Nesherah during Dr. Hoskins' absence, and, though reduced in size, it has continued its good work of disseminating Evangelical truth.

Beirut American School for Girls.—In January Miss Rachel E. Tolles was obliged to antedate her furlough by a few months owing to the critical state of her father's health, and is still absent in America. The school has enjoyed the efficient services of Miss Mackie and Miss Ghoreyeb, and Mrs. March has conducted a daily Bible class.

The number of pupils enrolled was 129—eighty-five day-scholars and forty-four boarders. Of these there were:

Orthodox Greeks	54
Protestants	55
Jews	22
Greek Catholics	12
Maronites	10
Mohammedans	5
Armenian	1

	129

The total receipts for boarders were	55,677.02	piasters.

Receipts from foreigners	4,064.20	"

	73,873.02	"

Nineteen of the pupils are now paying fifteen French pounds and the teacher's class numbers nineteen. Last year the Girls' Foreign Missionary Society sent $15 to the China Famine Fund and $9 to the Board.

The Ras Beirut Girls' Day-school has continued under the care of Muallimeh Yasmin, and has fifty-six pupils.

At the request of Consul-General Ravndal, specimens of embroidery and needlework of the girls were sent to a fair in Wisconsin. The school has been favored during the year with visits from Miss Hodge, of the Philadelphia Board, and her sister, and the Hon. and Mrs. Darwin R. James, Dr. Henry Van Dyke and Miss Helen Gould.

The following extract from the letter of a critical Syrian gentleman gives gratifying testimony to the work of the past year. He writes: "As regards my daughters, I have at last decided to let them continue their course of education at your school, and you are kindly requested to keep the necessary accommodation for them. I should, however, like to take this opportunity to express to you our complete satisfaction at the remarkable progress they have both made in every respect at your school, for which we most heartily thank you."

MEDICAL.—Work at Junieh (Maaleltain).

Although Dr. Mary Eddy was absent from the country from June till the close of September, the place was not closed during the Summer, the helpers taking their vacation at different periods.

The total number of workers is seven—an assistant physician in the Winter months, a colporteur, a Bible woman, two keepers for the reading-room and dispensary, and a school-teacher. Sabbath services are held regularly and the Bible woman visits in the homes.

The reading-room has a large supply of Bibles and religious literature in Arabic, English, French, Italian and German and is well patronized.

The day-school is increasing in numbers and usefulness and has moved into larger quarters. There are constant requests for schools in neighboring and distant villages, and deputations arrive with most pressing reasons why they need the teaching which the American missionary can supply.

Medical clinics were held in the dispensary and patients seen both at the Junieh and Beirut homes. The rival Jesuit dispensary was closed a year ago.

The patients are of all sects, including the pastoral Bedouin. All the incidents of this work are interesting, but we can select only the closing one, given by the writer of the report about Christmas time:

"Just before leaving Junieh appeared one morning a Bedouin woman who had been a patient for over two months last year. It was indeed difficult to recognize her, she had been so marvelously transformed by restored health and renewed vitality. The cares and responsibilities of each day had filled my mind to the exclusion of all thoughts of the approach of the holiday season, but this poor Bedouin woman had been patiently gathering during the Summer months for a contribution to the Christmas tree. Simple offerings indeed they were, not purchased with money, but gathered in many places where the nomadic customs of her tribe had carried her. Is it not a beautiful and touching thought that she who had but so lately learned of the Christ-child of Bethlehem from us should be sent to remind us anew of His birth?"

TRIPOLI STATION.

Tripoli Station includes work in that city, in Hums and Hamath, in part of the Nusaireyeh district, and northern Lebanon as far as Nahr Ibrahim (Adonis River). Of the 300,000 estimated population not more than 160,000 are in places where work is regularly conducted. During the year

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson were absent for some time in Egypt, the work here being carried on by Mr. and Mrs. Erdman and Mr. and Mrs. Nicol. Towards the close of the year Mr. and Mrs. Erdman were transferred to Zahleh, and the Station force was supplemented by the arrival of Mr. James B. Brown, and also by the temporary addition of Mr. Ernest March. The coming of Miss Beekman, a trained nurse, to help in the medical work, will also be a great strengthening.

The meeting of Presbytery was held August 6-10 at Minyara and the prevailing spirit was admirable, the work being dispatched in an orderly and systematic manner. Harmony prevailed and the desire of all was for means to advance the work of the kingdom in every direction. One important step in advance was taken in deciding to ordain Mr. Abdullah Massuh, the preacher resident in Hamath. This was accomplished on November 17, and it is earnestly desired that this ordination may be followed speedily by several others, as the wide Tripoli field calls for two or three ordained Syrians. The churches reported fifty-eight members received on profession of their faith. The workers rejoice in the numerical growth of the churches, but emigration continues a constant cause of depletion. Although each year marks the return of some emigrants, it is sure to record the departure of a far larger number. Our churches are more and more composed of women and children, whose husbands and fathers are in America, scattered all the way from Alaska to Argentine, seeking gold and silver. The Mahardeh Church was the last to be affected by emigration, but now more than 60 per cent. of her men are in Argentine and more will follow.

The year has not been without experiences of hostility. In Bir Sheen, the preacher was visited unexpectedly by a party of horsemen. They demanded his books, and, after examining what he had, they selected several supposedly dangerous volumes. He asked for a receipted list of these books, but was told it would be unnecessary, as he was to go along with them. He was taken to the house of the village sheikh, and after rough usage was shut up in a cold, damp, filthy cellar. He was unwell at the time and found it doubly hard to endure this treatment. He was finally given more comfortable quarters and later sent to the local magistrate. This latter, without formulating any case against the man, ordered him to leave the district. He then went to Hums, Hamath and Tripoli, and returned armed with letters of instruction and warning, which led the magistrate to think it wise to ignore the matter. It might be mentioned, in passing, that the Bishop of Hamath was in the village when the arrest occurred, and had gone home before our preacher returned from Tripoli. So by his original severity he curried favor with the bishop, and by his later silence he showed deference to the foreigners and their Consuls.

When the missionaries were at Bir Sheen last Summer, the priest's brother called on a matter of business just as we were about to have prayers. When he saw what was coming he wanted to escape, but Oriental etiquette forbade his refusal of the urgent invitation to remain. He did so, and at the close admitted it was not so bad after all.

The Home Mission Committee of Presbytery made a good report of a prosperous year. They had maintained four outstations at an expense of some 12,000 piasters. This sum is collected from the churches and from Syrians absent in America. The administration is wholly in the hands of a Syrian committee, though the help and advice of the missionaries is sought in selection of teachers and arrangement of details.

The Committee on Bible Distribution also reported the collection of nearly 1,000 piasters from the churches and the distribution of Bibles to about two-thirds of this amount. In this matter, also, the Syrian members of Presbytery are showing a growing interest and a deepening appreciation. One of the members of Presbytery told a story illustrating the benefit of religious literature. He was deacon in the old Jacobite Church and was seeking for light and relief for his sin-burdened conscience. He tried all the ecclesiastical facts and ritual, but found no relief. At last he heard of a woman who wrote out a list of her sins on paper and laid this on the tomb of St. Ephraim. In a short time she found the paper with all her sins erased. Now our friend thought if St. Ephraim could do so much on his tomb, surely the sacred body of Christ Himself upon the altar will do more. So he took a piece of paper and wrote down his own list of sins. He admitted that in some instances he purposely made his writing so poor as to be illegible to any human eye. When completed he placed his list carefully under the altar cloths, beneath the sacred wafer he believed to be the very body of Christ. The next day he found his list as clear as ever. Again and again he looked, but the ink was not faded at all. He was disappointed and discouraged. But just at this time he found the tract, "Looking to Jesus," and learned a way of deliverance from sin not revealed by his old church fathers.

Tripoli Church Benevolent Society.—This was organized, several years ago, to extend and direct the benevolent work of the Church in the city. During the past year they maintained the customary work of the Church, and in addition assumed the support of a boys' school in the Mina. A good teacher, graduated from Sidon, was employed and an excellent day-school was maintained. Fees were charged and the financial outlay was not large, but the work done was good, and the benefit of the experience in conducting such an enterprise was worth much more. By these practical undertakings our Syrian brethren are learning to appreciate the missionaries' difficulties and to sympathize with them far more than before. The Society decided also to make an investment in the training of future teachers. We agreed to accept suitable candidates at half rates if the Society chose to pay for them. Two promising Protestant lads were selected, whose parents could not afford to educate them, and given places in the Tripoli Boys' School, where they are being trained under a double sense of obligation to the school and to the Syrian Society.

Work for Women.—This work, conducted by the American ladies, went on in the usual channels, in connection with the weekly women's meetings led by Mrs. Nelson, the service for women in the dispensary under direction of Mrs. Harris and the Syrian Bible woman, and the neighborhood and visitation work done by Miss LaGrange and Miss Hunting. Mrs. Nelson's work was cared for during her absence by Mrs. Erdman and Syrian ladies. Miss Hunting's work was interrupted by throat trouble in the Spring, but still the seed sowing went on, and no human eye can watch the silent growth of the scattered seed. In the Summer the four families of the Station went to Hadeth, and Miss LaGrange and Miss Hunting spent their vacation in Besherreh. In both places opportunities were found for personal work, and faith sees large results.

A simple-minded old lady, who was a member of the church, was left quite alone in her village, as her son and his family went to America, and there were no other Protestants in their town. Circumstances made it impossible to visit this solitary believer and fears were entertained of her stability in such adverse conditions. When visited, she said that all her friends had urged her return to the old church and the priests had pressed the sacrament upon her. She said she felt so lonely and deserted that at last she took a bit of bread and a little wine and placed them on her table. Then she reviewed the story of the Last Supper, and offering prayer partook of the simple elements. Who shall say it was any less worthy memorial of our Lord's dying love than that accompanied by all the pomp of ecclesiastical vestments and elaborate ceremonial?

The Hums brethren have never given up their plan for a boarding school of their own. And at last the hopes have been fulfilled through the bequest of a member of the church who died in Egypt and the consecrated sacrifice of the people themselves. Through the bequest some $200 sterling were placed at the disposal of the Hums Protestant Church. This encouraged Mr. Rafool Naser to go ahead with the financial backing of the boarding school enterprise. The preacher in the Hums Church, Mr. Hanna Khubbaz, was full of enthusiasm and ready to assume the burden of administration. The Mission could do nothing more than to show good will, assist with advice and give free use of the premises in Hums. In the Summer of 1906 two large rooms were erected on top of the old premises. Beds and other equipment were secured, and at the opening of the school term in October the new school began its work with thirty-five boarders and a large day attendance from the city. This result was secured notwithstanding the vigorous opposition of the Greek bishop, who tried in every way to keep his people from patronizing the Protestant school. The balance sheet of the school for its first year was most creditable. The income from pupils was nearly 43,000 piasters or about $1,500, while the current expense account for household and teaching was 48,000 piasters, showing a deficit on current account of 5,000 piasters or less than $200.

The instruction was good, and on the whole the administration was to be highly commended. Considering the cramped quarters and the many adverse conditions, the success of the school was far more than we had dared to hope. The demand for places for the new year was scarcely less than in our longer established schools, and notwithstanding the renting of additional premises nearby, and in spite of an increase in the price of tuition, it was quite impracticable to accept all who sought admission.

The most bitter opponent of our work in Feiruzeh has been the priest Suleiman. When the new preacher went to Feiruzeh, he received calls from all but this one man. When returning the visits he decided not to omit this house, though warned to expect insult. He received a formal welcome. In conversation he urged upon the priest the duty of educating his sons, and finally arranged to have the older one received in the Hums school. The younger one came to the evangelical school with almost all the children of the village. The people remonstrated with their priest for sending his children to heretical schools. He said of the younger one, "Oh, he is a stupid creature! I tell him to go to the teacher, and he follows the crowd to the Protestant school, but I'll beat that out of him." The next morning he called the lad and said privately to him, "Now, no matter though I beat you and scold you and tell you to go to our church school do not mind me, but just keep on doing as you are doing now."

The Tripoli Girls' School.—The school began with much anxiety because the corps of teachers was unusually lacking in experience. While this threw additional work and care on the ladies in charge, the year proved a happy and prosperous one, though the total enrollment was less than in some former years. There is an increasing demand for places for Maronites. Two Moslem girls were in attendance as day-pupils all the year, paying in full and studying the same lessons as all the other pupils.

Two public exhibitions brought the school favorably before the people during the year, and many expressions were heard showing appreciation by friends of the work done by the school. In the Spring a class of four girls was graduated, and never has there been a more satisfactory class to receive the school diploma, either in respect to scholastic attainments or spiritual life. All four have become teachers in their school and give promise of great usefulness.

The new year has opened very brightly, with a better teaching force and larger attendance than ever before, both in the boarding and day departments.

The Boys' Boarding School.—A slight addition in the number of boarders was possible and seventy-five were in attendance. Besides the corps of Syrian teachers, Messrs. Erdman and Nicol and Mrs. Nelson gave regular instruction through the year. The religious life of the school took form in the organization of a branch of the College Y. M. C. A. in Beirut. This new society conducted useful services each Sabbath morning, and while only one student made a public profession of faith in Christ, there was an evident growth in moral character which was very pleasing to those who came into most intimate relation with the boys.

The balance sheet for the year was most satisfactory. The income from boarders was over £650 and from day-pupils over sixty more. The school funds were sufficient to cover every item of expenditure except the cost of missionaries' services. Given premises to accommodate 100 boarders, free of rent, the school will be independent of mission funds, and also educate a goodly number of candidates for positions in Christian work without expense to the Mission. Such a plant, to cost not less than $25,000, is a necessary and most important investment, if we are to fulfill our clear duty.

MEDICAL WORK.—The medical work of the year covered an unusually large number of exceptionally serious surgical and medical cases. There is a large increase of stomach and bowel complaints, especially among women and children, due largely to poor diet, arising from increased cost of the necessities of life and increased adulteration in foodstuffs. The coming year will doubtless call for much special medical aid in a country where the cost of living has increased 25 per cent. to 100 per cent.

The operating room in the Tripoli Hospital has been enlarged, though at great delay, because of unreliability of those who undertook the work. It will greatly facilitate the work in the future and emphasizes the need of similar provision for the work in Hamath and Hums. The annual visit of the medical missionary to these two large cities is an exceedingly important part of the work, and it cannot be properly done unless suitable quarters can be provided, wholly under the control of the medical missionary.

The future of the medical work is greatly indebted to Miss Helen M. Gould, whose generous assistance has secured the appointment of a trained nurse for the hospital. The former assistants have continued in the hospital, except that at the close of the year Miss Zamurrad Faris resigned, but her place has been fully supplied by Miss Khushfeh El Yazji, who takes up the service of ministry to the women sufferers. The record for the year shows 5,833 new cases, with a total number of treatments of 14,952. There were 548 operations, of which 178 were in Hums and Hamath. During eight months in Tripoli there were 100 in-patients and in other places 24, or a total of 124 in-patients under treatment during the year.

Self-Support.—The measure of self-support attained in the work of the Tripoli field is most encouraging. In the year under review Syrians in the Tripoli field raised and spent in the territory of our field for evangelistic, educational and medical work fully $1,500 more than the entire sum expended by the American Mission for all purposes in the same territory. Let us analyze this a little. The reports of the churches to Presbytery show that they raised and expended on their own work about 10 per cent. more than the Mission granted them for the same purposes, so that, according to the Mission rule, they are entitled not to one ordained man for the whole Presbytery, but to an ordained man for every one of the eleven churches.

For the establishment of the Hums school Syrians raised about £1,000 sterling. About one-third of this amount was properly reckoned in the current account, as that portion was paid for tuition, the remaining two-thirds being in the nature of permanent investment in land, buildings and equipment. For village schools outside of Presbytery some 5,000 piasters were paid, and for medical services 11,000 piasters were collected by the missionary physician. For tuition in the Tripoli Girls' School nearly 50,000 piasters were paid and in the Boys' School 96,000. This makes a sum total of 354,877 piasters raised and expended by Syrians within the bounds of Tripoli field for evangelistic purposes and self-support and the education of their children in evangelical schools, while the entire outlay by the American Mission for all purposes in Tripoli Station was only 314,907 piasters. But let us go a step farther. Pupils from Tripoli Station paid to Suk el Gharb and Gerard Institute 43,000 piasters and to the college 106,000, making a total expended by Tripoli field pupils for evangelical education, outside of our territory, of 149,000 piasters. If this be added to what Syrians spent inside the field, we see the ratio of Syrian to American investment in maintenance of our work is almost 5 to 3. Now we noticed that some of the record of last year was for permanent investment, and so should be omitted if we are looking at current account, but after making every allowance, we find the sum raised and expended for current account by Syrians is fully 50 per cent. more than all the outlay of the American Mission in the same field. Syrians are carrying by far the heavier end of the financial load in supporting the work directed by the American Mission in all its departments.

In this connection there is another matter that deserves notice, though not peculiar to Tripoli Station. We are faced by a critical situation in all our work. We rejoice in the progress of self-support, but we have reached a point where we must reduce the amount of our out-station work, if we are to do justice to the workers who remain or to keep the services of competent men.

LEBANON STATION.

Lebanon Station occupies the whole of Central Lebanon and all Coele-Syria. This new Station was formed in 1900 by the consolidation of the Abeih and Zahleh fields, together with the Shweir district, where work was formerly conducted by the Free Church of Scotland and Lebanon Schools Committee. The population is estimated at about 380,000, of whom 250,000 are in Lebanon, whose Governor is a Christian appointed by the Sultan, with the approval of the European Powers.

The personnel of the Lebanon Station has undergone some changes this year and sickness has invaded the Station, though fortunately it has not been serious in its results. Dr.

The following statistics as given in the report are most encouraging:

During the year Lebanon Station has cared for thirty-one out-stations, thirty-six schools, two boarding schools, and thirty-nine places where preaching was held and the sacraments administered. The nine churches within the bounds of the Presbytery raised 28,787 piasters, of which 25,808 were spent in self-support. Thirty-eight were added to church membership. On April 30 the Station Treasurer closed the accounts for the year without debt.

The Station has been cheered by a number of welcome visitors, among them Mr. and Mrs. Darwin R. James, Miss Helen M. Gould, Prof. George Robinson, of Chicago, and family, Dr. Harvey and wife and a number of other American missionaries from Egypt. Mr. Waldegrave, oldest son of Lord Radstock, passed a large part of the Summer at Suk el Gharb. He conducted numerous meetings, which were well attended by teachers and others spending the Summer at Suk, and proved helpful in their spiritual uplift.

That the work is not without its obstacles and that it requires the patience and prayer of Christian consecration is evidenced by the following. There is considerable unrest and discontent prevalent in Lebanon, largely due to the malign influence of the priesthood in political affairs and the inelasticity of the organic law under which Lebanon affairs were organized in 1861. The statesmen of that time did not foresee the future growth of Lebanon and failed to make adequate provision for development. There are often grounds of complaint, but these two are the chief and they seem almost irremediable. The late Governor-General was in direct conflict with the Maronite Patriarch and some advance toward freedom seemed to be made, but his successor, son of a former Governor, appears to be inclined to follow in the footsteps of his father and give the priesthood a free hand in political matters. This may mean more strenuous times for Protestantism and everything that makes for liberty of conscience and free development.

EDUCATIONAL WORK.—

Educational work grows in importance each year, and appears to be under Providence* the great force designed for the uplifting of Syria. As long as it is wisely directed and made subservient to true religion it must work mightily to this end. As an indication of this growth we would note the amount paid for education in the Protestant boarding schools within the bounds of this Station. The figures are not exact, but given on a conservative basis. They are given as follows: The income of these schools from pupils alone was not less than £2,540, or 347,445 piasters. Of this over 150,000 piasters was paid in at Suk School. If the amounts paid at the College and in the various common schools were added it would bring the amount spent by the people for education in Protestant schools to the neighborhood of 450,000 piasters.

The problem of efficient teachers for the schools is acute in the Lebanon Station as elsewhere. Protestant young men, finding it far more profitable to engage in other pursuits, are unwilling to remain as preachers or instructors. Either we must raise salaries to a figure that is attractive or put up with a lower class of employés. Incompetent men are always abundant to fill vacancies, but it is a most costly policy to employ them, as in the end it spells failure in the work. Fees for pupils in day-schools were paid more readily than before, and this increase of payment has had a salutary effect upon attendance and as a result opportunity for teaching has improved.

With each advancing year the problems growing out of international relations and the closer proximity through better transportation facilities increase. One would not think of the religious trouble of France and the labor troubles of America affecting Mission work, but the accompanying extract throws light on this point.

On his return from France the Catholic Bishop brought funds for opening twenty-five schools. Some of these are at Zahleh and others in its immediate vicinity. On one of the hills at the opening of the Zahleh Valley a large hospital building is being erected by the Catholics. Also at Deirel Kamar the Jesuits have opened a large new building for a boarding school. These Roman Catholic brotherhoods, subdued in France and other countries of Europe, are devoting their energies to those countries where they still have a free hand.

One of the Syrian pastors residing in America returned temporarily to Zahleh with his wife, who died soon after of consumption. We notice an increasing number of Syrians returning with this dread malady fastened upon them, but this does not in the least abate their desire to emigrate to the United States. They are increasingly inclined to join American churches, Y. M. C. A. and secret societies, Masonic and others, and also labor unions. Moslems are going to America in larger numbers and, we are sorry to say, disguise themselves by assuming Christian names. In some places fresh activity in opening schools has been shown by Moslems. At Baalbec and Jeditha they have tried in every possible way to keep their boys out of our schools. Their official spies have been refused admittance to our premises.

Abeih.—At Abeih church work, the boys' and girls' schools, and the Sewing Society have been carried on as usual. Meetings during week of prayer were well attended and followed by a communion service. Among the events which enlivened the year we would mention the Christmas tree, Easter church social, and a Sunday-school picnic. The last event proved a "Red-letter Day" to the little folks. One little girl objected to being undressed the previous night, "lest she shouldn't be ready in the morning." This outing was made possible by a donation of two pounds sent from America by one of Abeih's scattered daughters.

At the annual examination of the schools the pupils showed good progress and class after class was marked No. 1 by the examiner. Seven girls and two boys received large print reference Bibles for perfect recitation of the Westminster Shorter Catechism. A larger number of these prizes than usual has been given also in other parts of the field.

After many years of service Miss Louisa Proctor, founder of the Shweifaf Boarding Schools, died in January. She had given her property and, what is far more, her life to the work, setting a fine example of self-denial and devotion to the good of others to the many boys and girls who have benefited by her efforts. These schools are now under the care of an English Committee, and under the immediate direction of Mr. Janius S'ad.

Hadeth.—At Hadeth the chapel and school-room was dedicated in May. This building was put up without expense to the Board. The lot, worth 4,000 piasters, was given by the brothers Janius and Mitri S'ad, and nearly half the expense of the building was the gift of friends of Miss Appia, a Swiss lady doing mission work at Kefr Shima. It is a cheerful room, large enough for present needs and growth.

Our old teacher and preacher, Mr. Jurjus Nimr Saleeby, after sixty-seven years of service, fifty of which were spent in school work and preaching at 'Abeih, has resigned on account of advancing years. He has been a sort of landmark at this town. Of this brother it was said some time ago, in going to and from his school he had traveled afoot twice around the world. He is now taking a well-earned rest after successfully completing his third trip.

Suk Church building, erected by Rev. T. S. Pond, now of Caracas, South America, is architecturally one of the most successful buildings in the Mission. It has been renovated and decorated by the congregation at considerable expense, making it quite effective in appearance. Congregations have been good in numbers, and the Summer prayer meetings were full of life and interest. Nine new members were received on confession and one by letter.

Suk el Gharb Boarding School for Boys.—

The attendance was 167 in all. Of these 150 were boarders, eleven lodgers and sixteen day-pupils. This number more than filled the available dormitory space, so a house was hired not very distant from the main school building. The day-school supplies the necessary instruction for those who are preparing to enter the lower classes, and in this way the Boarding School is not overcrowded with day-pupils. This day-school is in itself an interesting experiment in self-support. Where formerly with utmost difficulty only a few hundred piasters could be collected, last year there was received for tuition 4234 $\frac{2}{3}$ piasters. Though it is not self-supporting, it is very encouraging and entirely worthy of continuance.

During the year six united with the church, and others showed marked progress in spiritual growth. Christian Endeavor meetings were well attended, and Sunday evening meetings were frequently full of interest. When a special call was sent out for help to China's starving millions the boys responded with alacrity, voting their Sunday-school collection and making a special effort through the Christian Endeavor and Literary Societies, so that their total contribution was 1,989 piasters ($71). Something over $100 was sent from Suk at this urgent call.

Our closing exercises took place on July 11. A large crowd attended. Our head teacher, Mr. Juifus Nussar, directed the exercises, which consisted of English, Arabic, and French speaking by the graduating class. In less than two hours after the exercises were over Mr. Nussar was stricken with an illness which proved mortal in less than thirty-six hours. He had just finished the year's work successfully and also the twenty-fifth year of his service in this school. Graduating from college in 1878 he had given his life with singular devotion and success to teaching, first at Shweifat and B'a'abdu, and in 1882 began his service in Suk School. His knowledge of the people of Lebanon was full and his long experience invaluable, making his loss seem irreparable. He had a rare gift in the management of boys, seldom losing his temper, and capable of winning their confidence and respect. There is a great lack of men able with success to fill such a position as he occupied, and we have been unable so far to fill his place.

SIDON STATION.

Sidon Station has its headquarters in the old city of Sidon. The work here has been long in operation and fully developed in various lines. This field includes the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, southern Lebanon, and the interior from Hermon nearly to Galilee. The regular work reaches about 54,000 of the 330,000 population.

It will be many years before Sidon Station will recover from the loss of its beloved stalwart missionary, William K. Eddy, so active in work, so wise in counsel and so thoroughly alive in everything pertaining to the kingdom of Christ. However, the work must go on, and the members of the Station are now one more than they were before, by the addition of Mr. and Mrs. Doolittle.

Among others added to the Station force are Miss Mary Nelson, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Eddy; Mr. Edward Ford, grandson of Dr. Ford's honored father, who has become English instructor in the Institute, and Mr. and Mrs. Stockwell, who have taken up their residence at Dares Salaam. Mr. Stockwell is a mechanic and builder and will take charge of the building of Ramapo Hall, the foundations of which were laid last Spring. As he lives in the Orphanage, he and Mrs. Stockwell have somewhat the oversight of the orphans and of the Primary Department of the Institute.

When the Presbytery of Sidon met in July at Dares Salaam it was compelled to face the pressing question of increase of salaries owing to increased cost of living. The account is so eloquent of the consecration of the workers and brings into such strong relief the vital need not only here but in other Missions that it is given herewith.

The vote for increase of all salary was unanimously carried by all the Syrian Presbyters. The most urgent and convincing arguments had been given in support of the vote. But when it was found that such increase could only come either by an increase in the gifts of the churches or by the resignation and retirement of some of the preachers and teachers, the matter was reconsidered and voted down by the elders and the acquiescence of one or two preachers. Salaries, with a slight increase in three or four cases, were left practically as they were before. It was a trying time when pastors and preachers and teachers had to go home and struggle on once more at the old low rates of income and a large increase of outgo.

Sidon City Church.—On the 27th of January the Rev Khalel Simeon Rasi was ordained to the Gospel ministry and installed as pastor of Sidon City Church, making the fourth pastor in the Station. The occasion was one of great interest in the city and community. He is active and efficient in his pastoral work, and the result of his efforts is seen in the increasing interest in the city and larger attendance on church services.

No more eloquent tribute to the life of Dr. W. K. Eddy can be found or more fitting memorial erected than is recorded in the following: By the efforts of a Syrian Committee, headed by the Sidon pastor and the chief teacher in the Institute, the sum of 33,000 piasters ($1,178) has been raised ($1,000 of which was raised from Syrian friends of Mr. Eddy), and as a memorial of Mr. Eddy a beautiful reading-room has been built on top of the Institute tailor-shop, on the property of the Board. It has an entrance on the street, a room for the sale of Scriptures and other books, and is a place that will attract many more visitors, especially of those who would not sit in such a public place as the present room, where every passer-by can see them. The building is an ornament to the street on which it stands and an airy, attractive place for those who wish a quiet hour for reading and meditation. Moslems and nominal Christians come freely again to the present reading-room.

Sidon City Sunday-school.—The Sunday-school has eighteen classes, the teachers being chiefly from the Institute and the Seminary. The attendance is about 250, and the contributions were over $125 for the nine months of its sessions. On the reopening this Autumn the collections averaged about $4 a Sunday.

One of the native pastors has again visited Hauran to administer the sacraments and receive new members into the church. A middle-aged man from Kharraba came to the Institute, where he received special training in a class by himself, and returned in the Summer laden with books and experience and a knowledge of how to study. He will be most useful in the work there. The simplicity and somewhat wild and barbaric life of the people in that region find such a man far more useful than men of superior education and training. The majority of Syrian preachers look upon living in Hauran about like Americans years ago looked upon going to the wildest Pacific Islands. The preacher, Mr. Barakat Bashara, who visits quite regularly in that region, said that recently (this Autumn) a company of robbers overtook him and asked for his cash. He said he had none. They said: "After all this time in all these towns you must have collected a lot. Give it up at once or we will kill you!" And they were preparing to do so, when he pulled out a Bible and offered it to them, saying: "I come to give what is better than gold. This is what I have. Listen!" And he read interesting portions of the Bible. They listened a long time and finally said: "Go along; you are only a religious dervish, and of course have no cash."

Self-support.—Five of the churches in the Station have supported their own schools, except that $16 aid was given to that at Elkhiyam. This has been in addition to contributing to the preacher's salary. At Nashbeiyeh and Judeideh the teachers are graduates from the last class in the Institute. Our aim is to get all the churches eventually to support their schools and also their preachers. The present growth is in that direction, although slower than we wish.

It has been impossible to meet the demand for schools, eleven outlying places being without regular educational provision. Some of the schools have had to be closed and one or two reopened, but there is no limit to what could be done were sufficient money available.

Near Alma are the black tents, the home of the Arab, Ali Berdan. He was a thief and robber. Mr. Eddy discovered him and led him out of his wicked life until he became an upright, conscientious man, and was taught how by hunting he could win more bread and more honor than by stealing. He and his people called Mr. Eddy "Ali's missionary." Ali was a devoted attendant at Mr. Eddy's deathbed, and wept bitter tears over the loss of his friend and guide, after he had received his parting benediction.

Recently Ali was very ill and was visited by Alma brethren. When he learned that he could not live much longer he said to them, "I have tried to live as Mr. Eddy taught me, and now I expect soon to meet him in heaven!"

Gerard Institute.—The Gerard Institute had 227 boarders, half boarders and orphans and twenty-five day-pupils. Of these 175 were in the city of Sidon; the other fifty-two were at Dar es Salaam, in the orphanage twenty-seven and in the primary department twenty-five. It was difficult to arrange study, eating, and sleeping rooms for the whole number. A shed, formerly used as a stable, was fitted up and used as an annex dining-room. A large room, previously used as a library, was refitted and made into a study room, giving seats and desks for fifty boys. A number of desks were placed in the larger recitation rooms to accommodate others for study.

The percentage of hitherto somewhat opposing sects has been increased, e.g., Maronites from 8 per cent. to 17 per cent., and Moslems from $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. to $8\frac{1}{3}$ per cent.

In scholarship the year was most successful. There was a spirit of earnest work in the upper classes which was very inspiring to the teachers, and it was coupled with a certain class spirit which led to mutual helpfulness among the students.

Despite the earnestness in study and the good behavior of the majority, there was not the same spirit of eagerness in religious matters that had marked two previous years. Only six united with the church, as against twenty-five the previous year and sixteen the year before. At the same time there was much deep interest in religion that will have its fruitage another year.

In the Spring we had the privilege of welcoming Hon. and Mrs. Darwin R. James, of Brooklyn. They participated in laying the cornerstone of Ramapo Hall, on which work was pushed until the beginning of Summer. The walls are up about four feet all around and the most of the excavating of the cellar has been done. The earth excavated has been used in grading and has furnished two very broad terraces in front of the building, and will be nearly enough to complete a football field to the east. When the building is finished it is planned to use it for the primary department, now in Beulah Home (orphanage), and also for the first and second classes that will be moved up there from the city.

A glance at the balance sheet shows several interesting items. The Literary Department closed the year with a slight balance in its favor. The tuition fees, including scholarships, amounted to over 160,000 piasters (@ 28 cents = $5,714), an advance of more than 33,000 piasters over the previous year.

The graduating exercises were held in conjunction with the Seminary. Thirteen graduated from the Institute; three from the Normal course and ten from the English course. Of the thirteen, eight are teaching, three have entered college, one has gone to Egypt and one is detained at home.

An interesting event at the close of the services was the giving of a prize to one of the graduates who had succeeded in passing three years with a perfect grade in deportment, in token of which unprecedented record he received a silver watch suitably engraved.

Sidon Seminary for Girls.—Last year there were fifty-four boarders from Sidon and Lebanon fields and three half-boarders and twenty-six day-pupils from the city and sixty-four others in the primary day-school, making a total of 147 pupils.

Eight teachers are employed to carry on the instruction and aid in the domestic department. Four members of the graduating class taught part of the time, thus gaining experience for their own work in future.

One of our teachers taught a mountain village school for boys and girls, who were instructed by her in the Bible and in voweled and plain reading. Some of the rude boys were obstreperous and disobedient to the timid teacher. Her cousin reported the boys to the local Governor, who gave notice that the father of any boy who made the teacher trouble should be lodged in jail. Complete order was suddenly restored in that school.

Our Missionary Society had a prosperous year. A circular letter in Arabic, printed on the school mimeograph, was sent to former members and resulted in donations from Syria, Egypt and America. One graduate sent a dollar from herself and also a gift from her boys' Missionary Society, and the muleteer who brought the money added a contribution of his own. We raised $72 (net). The largest gift was from a girl studying in America, preparing to go to Africa as missionary, earning her support meanwhile by peddling in the Summer.

Three pounds (£3) sterling were given to the China Famine Fund. A part of our money was given to Foreign Missions and a part to the support of a bright girl from Kharaba, across Jordan in Hauran.

The twenty-minute class prayer meetings on Fridays were a source of help to many. The teacher then could draw her class very near to her. Once a teacher asked her little primaries, "What things change?" One answered, "The weather"; another said, "Children, by growing older," and another, the little daughter of the pastor, dear little Philomena, said, "The heart changes."

The number applying for admission to the church was not large, but five girls were received into the Church during the year. Of these three were from Protestant families.

The great opportunity that faces the Church in Syria cannot be grasped in any better way than by reading these words with which the report closes:

The pressure on us from every side for aid in opening schools is almost irresistible. It increases every year. The people jingle all the cash they can raise in our ears; not enough, it is true, to pay all the salary, and they add, "We can get free schools from our religious leaders, but yours are better, and we want them and will pay all we can to get them."

Doors are continually opening. We look in and see the harvest ripening, but have not the money with which to send the reapers.

At Bator, a Druze town, we are urged to take up their school and call it ours, while they pay the teacher's salary. We hope the Jezzini preacher will help in this matter. Their teacher is an applicant for church membership.

It is encouraging to know that everywhere there is a longing among the churches for a higher spiritual life. Our need is as ever a most urgent need, a need of a mighty outpouring of the Holy Spirit, so that we may see a great turning to the Lord all over the field.

A Contrast.—When the writer of this report (Samuel Jessup) first came to Sidon, nearly forty-five years ago, he found Mr. Lyons in failing health, so that he went that Spring to America and never returned to Syria. He also found Rev. J. Edward Ford, the honored father of our Dr. George A. Ford, with the entire responsibility of the Station on his shoulders. George A. Ford and William K. Eddy were lads not yet prepared for college. There was no property in the city owned by the Board. Now the value of the Board's property here runs up into the thousands of dollars. Then there was but a handful of church members in all the Station; in fact, less than 100. Now there are 1,100 members. There was then a very meagre congregation in Sidon, meeting in a small hired room. Now the large assembly room barely holds the union services that include the pupils of the boarding-schools. There were at that time five places in all Sidon field owned by the Board. Now there are twenty-two and a total of forty preaching places. Pupils in all schools then numbered less than 200; now there are 1,300 at Dar es Salaam. There were no Protestants then and no work. Now there is a beautiful and commodious orphanage in which, besides the orphans, is the Primary Department of Gerard Institute, and the foundations of Ramapo Hall are laid, and there is a large and productive farm, altogether worth not far from $100,000. Also there is the nucleus of a church large enough to ask Presbytery to set them off into a regular organization of their own.

Then the one missionary and his wife could more easily attend to the work of the Station than its four men and six women can do now. It was an effort to get the people to accept a school, but now the people vie with one another in trying to get one, paying largely for the privilege of having it.

Then nothing was paid for education. Now the amount paid for day-schools is over 16,411½ piasters; for American boarding-schools, 107,024½; for pupils in college, 64,852; making a total of 188,288 piasters. Add to this the contributions for the pulpit (15,302¼) and congregational and building (18,219⅛) and missionary work (3,308¼), totaling 36,829⅝ piasters, and we have a grand total of 225,117⅝ piasters, or $8,039.90. Then a Presbytery was not thought of. Now Sidon has the first of the three Syrian Presbyteries, and in the Sidon Presbytery are thirteen organized churches, and they are growing. The contrast is great. It is most encouraging, and we hope it is but the harbinger of greater things for the Master in Syria's future.

SAN FRANCISCO CHINESE MISSION.

The biggest event of the year was the rebuilding of the church on the old site at 911 Stockton Street. The work was commenced in June and finished in December. The dedication took place on the 5th of January, 1908, but was so close to 1907 as to justify its place in the report of the latter year. A fine audience, mostly Chinese, filled the attractive auditorium, whose faces were noticeably wreathed with smiles of happiness at having a church of their own in Chinatown once more. For this is the first of the missions to be rebuilt, the first church of our own denomination reared in the burnt district, and, with the exception of the First Congregational Church and Jewish Synagogue, the first of any denomination.

The financial report emphasizes the goodness of God in supplying building funds during a period when the outlook seemed almost hopeless. These funds came from the following sources:

Insurance on the former building, from which we had reason to expect nothing, because of the prior damages wrought by the earthquake	$5,400.00
Balance of a Relief Fund raised and sent by the Board of Foreign Missions.....	477.90
Restoration funds sent directly to Superintendent by churches and individuals	232.70
Grant from the fund raised by Relief Commission of General Assembly	13,000.00
Profits from a transfer of Mission property in Oakland	9,164.40
Special grant by Board for sidewalk	165.00
Total	$28,440.00

PRESBYTERIAN JAPANESE MISSION, LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA.

In addition to these sums the men of the church are furnishing the Association prayer meeting and night school-rooms; the King's Daughters the kitchen; the Koreans will do the same for the room they are expected to use, and the ladies of the Occidental Board will equip the two rooms set apart for their schools. The entire cost of the plant will be not far from $29,000, on which will rest an indebtedness of not a cent. God hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad.

The building, of reinforced concrete, is regarded as earthquake-proof. Its arrangement is exceedingly convenient for the purposes of the Mission. Though most of our families are still in Oakland, enough Chinese are already found in the new Chinatown to start our work with good impetus and larger promise. A day-school of twenty-five children and a night-school of thirty-five young men and boys are well under way.

Many months before the commencement of the church our members had erected in the burnt Chinatown their Young Men's Association Home, at a cost of $9,000. The money was raised as follows:

From insurance on former building	$1,700.00
From contributions of our Christians	1,300.00
From contributions of Presbyterian Chinese in the United States to the Missionary Society of Canton (borrowed)	4,500.00
Borrowed from individuals	1,500.00

On the last two sums they pay interest at the rate of six per cent. The interest on the $4,500 goes for Mission work in South China.

Part of the Home is rented, and the income used to gradually pay off the indebtedness on the building. Not a dollar was asked from an American. And all this in the midst of a restoration struggle, after the destruction of personal possessions by combined earthquake and fire, which was nothing short of gigantic. Here is an illustration of the loads many of these people are carrying: Our one rich man is a member of the firm of Fook Wah & Co. They are re-established on the old site in San Francisco, in a commodious building erected for them by their old landlord, which they have leased for twenty years at $700 a month for the first year, $800 a month for the second year, and $900 a month thereafter until the lease expires. This, too, when the condition of the city streets and the inefficiency of the car-lines almost preclude the coming of tourists and other customers into this locality. Yet there is no suicide nor whining among them. The roll of membership is as follows:

On active list	118
On reserve list	116

Our money contributions went mainly into the treasury of the Oakland Mission with which we worshiped and worked during the entire year.

Dr. I. M. Condit, who is in charge of the two Stations, Oakland and Alameda, reports for them as follows:

Oakland—

Number of communicants	53
Number received during the year	2
Number of infants baptized	1
Average Sunday-school attendance	30
Average night-school attendance	25
Money raised for Mission purposes	$340.00
Money raised for Missions in China	70.00

Alameda—

Number of communicants	14
Number enrolled in night-school	36
Number enrolled in Sunday-school	11
Number united with C. E. Society	5
Money raised for Mission purposes	$220.00
Money raised for Missions in China	19.10

The transfer of the Oakland Mission from Thirteenth to Harrison Street has placed it much nearer the centre of Chinatown, and given it a property very convenient and excellent in other respects. The building consists of three stories: the first used for chapel and school-room, the second at the disposal of the young men of the Mission, and the third rented to outsiders.

In return for their use of the second story the young men defray all expenses of the entire building—water tax, lighting and heating. The rental from the third-story rooms goes to the paying of the teachers of the night-school. The teachers of the day-school are paid by the Occidental Board.

Rev. J. H. Stewart presents the following report for Los Angeles, of which Station he is in charge:

Number of communicants—Active list	35
Reserve list	21
Number received this year—By letter	1
By confession	4
Number enrolled in Sunday-school and Bible class	33
Average attendance	19

Religious services have been regularly kept up on Sunday and Thursday evenings, and the Lord's Supper administered four times during the year. All these services have been well attended.

The "Morrison Mission Band" meets the last Sunday evening of each month, and the whole evening is given up to Mission study and prayer, with a collection for Missions regularly taken up.

Mr. Stewart and his elder, Wong Sam Ying, have determined to do their best to secure for Foreign Missions this year an average gift of five dollars per member, thus putting themselves in line with the "Advance Movement."

San Rafael, since June, has had the undivided service of Rev. Soo Hoo Nam Art, who at that time severed his connection with the San Francisco Mission. Reports from there are encouraging. At one time they received five new members into the church. The Chinese preacher's salary is provided, one-half by Mr. Charles Fish, father of the Korean missionary, Mrs. Alice Fish Moffett, and the remaining half by the young Chinese men of the Mission.

Other Chinese work in California, such as at Santa Rosa, Santa Barbara, and elsewhere, is carried on by the local churches—not under the direction or by support of the Board.

CHINESE MISSION, PORTLAND.

The Night School.—This has continued without interruption throughout the year. The effort to have a vacation always fails. There are young men who miss the school and are desirous of continuing their study, so they are given the privilege. At the same time any who wish to rest are allowed to do so. But the school never stops. The enrollment has been 100 for the year. The number of classes has varied from six to twelve, depending on the time of year.

Sabbath Services.—These are held at night, after the young men finish their work for the families. While we have some men who are in business, we also have some who are cooks, and we must wait until their work is done before we can hold the meetings. The attendance has been good. Especially is this true of those who are professing Christians. They are very faithful. Street preaching is maintained every Sabbath afternoon by the members of different Missions, but the man who leads in it is one of our members. One man plays a horn, another plays a Bilhorn organ and there is singing and preaching. These meetings always attract much attention from the Chinese.

The Young Men's Society is doing well. There is good interest in it and the men are faithful in attendance.

Women's work, except that for our own members, has been confined to house-to-house visits. The work of the Home seems to be finished, and only occasionally women seek for help when they are not well treated. But the traffic in girls has ceased.

Financial.—The students have paid about $840 for the support of the school. Various sums have been contributed for the work in China itself on special appeals which are steadily coming to the United States.

Bible Class.—After the night-school closes its work at 9.30 P.M. the Bible class is conducted in Chinese. The teacher is Dr. King, an educated Chinese, a graduate of an American University and a student of medicine.

SAN FRANCISCO KOREAN MISSION.

It has been in existence not much more than a year. It was begun mainly for the spiritual welfare of the Presbyterian Christians who had come from that land to this, and were as sheep without a shepherd. The Board agreed to pay the salary ($39 a month) of an evangelist, if the Koreans would defray his traveling expenses as he visited among the various groups of them in this part of the country. An earnest and influential Christian was selected for this position, Mr. W. C. Pang. His work thus far has been eminently successful. Most of the Koreans being in Southern California, he makes his headquarters in Los Angeles. His report for the year is as follows:

Four groups of Christians organized into Missions, namely, at Los Angeles, Riverside, Upland, and Rock Spring.

Two unorganized groups, at Redlands and Monrovia.

Total number of Christians	202
Number baptized this year	32
Number connected with American churches	61
Number of leaders in the various groups	14
Money raised for evangelist's traveling expenses	$98.70
Money raised for local Missions	183.75
Money raised for the Missionary Society	25.35

In November Mr. Pang wrote thus from Los Angeles:

We organized a Korean Y. M. C. A. in this city three weeks ago. At first we start with twelve members, but last Sunday we found twenty-four members. It is very interesting meeting to us. Every Sunday we have a special topic for speaking. Three or four young men speak in English and several members in Korean. Some of them are college, high school and grammar school scholars; they learn more Jesus Christ and most spiritual life day by night.

In sending in this admirable report, the Rev. J. H. Laughlin adds:

I omitted what I intended to say about the exceedingly efficient work of the Cumberland teachers, Miss Crowder and Mrs. Phelps, who were brought into our Mission by the union of the two Churches. It would be hard to find two more faithful and diligent workers. Mrs. Phelps, on account of failing health, has been obliged to resign. Miss Crowder is doing great things, both among the children of the day-school and among the young men of the night-school. In this Pacific Coast region the union has vindicated itself.

JAPANESE WORK IN CALIFORNIA.

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Sturge have had charge of the Japanese work in California, and their report for the year 1907 is full of interest. We give it in full, as follows:

The past has not been a very favorable year for work for the Japanese on the Pacific Coast. In the Spring came the order from the Board of Education excluding Japanese from the public schools of San Francisco. This trouble was followed by boycotts and race riots in this city, Vancouver and Ogden. Talk of exclusion and international conflict have been anything but helpful to the cause of Foreign Missions. We can hardly expect foreigners from Asia to eagerly embrace the religion of a people treating them so unfairly. But in spite of many drawbacks the work has been far from discouraging. We have fewer baptisms to report this year than usual, but in each of the six Stations under our care in California there have been evidences of divine favor. In addition to thirty young men and women who united with our Mission churches by certificate from various denominations in Japan, forty-five adults were received on profession of faith and entered upon a life of Christian service. This makes the whole number of accessions for the year seventy-five, all young people with long and useful lives before them. The large number received by letter from Japan is interesting, in that it shows the increasing influence of the Gospel upon the rising generation in that land. Three of our members are students in the San Francisco Theological Seminary, one in each class, but the one in the middle class has been obliged for health reasons to give up his studies for a time. Each Station, with the exception of Wintersburg, has a Mission home, where young men are received and surrounded by helpful Christian influences. In each Mission there are day and evening educational classes, as well as regular Sabbath and midweek religious services. The members at each Station have borne a large portion of the financial burden, as a brief detailed report of the various Missions will show.

THE SAN FRANCISCO MISSION.

The San Francisco Japanese Mission has not as yet fully recovered from the effects of the earthquake and fire, which drove most of our members out of the city, many of them to make their homes elsewhere. The chief city on the Pacific Coast has received a bad name, which causes most of the Japanese to pass it by for other places, where they are likely to receive a warmer welcome. We have great reason to feel proud of the little band of earnest Christians who have weathered the storm and proved themselves in consecration to be the equal of those who have had longer experience in the Christian life. Every fine Sabbath a number of young men have gone from our Haight Street Mission to preach the Gospel on the street in the Japanese quarter. We may never know the results of this wayside seed sowing, but many have in this way had an opportunity to hear the Word of life, and those taking part in the exercises have been benefited by the experience. Sixteen have been added to the San Francisco Japanese Church during the year, twelve on profession and four by certificate from other churches, making the entire number received by this church since its organization twenty-two years ago 467. Two Bible classes, averaging a dozen young men, have been studying the Word of God daily in this Mission during the past year. The San Francisco Mission has raised $100 per month from its members toward the support of the work.

THE LOS ANGELES MISSION.

The Japanese Presbyterian Church connected with the Los Angeles Mission, under the care of Rev. J. K. Inazawa, now has ninety-six members. Of this number thirty-three were received during the past year, seven upon profession of faith and twenty-six by certificate from churches in Japan. The members of this Mission have contributed to the work during the past twelve months $1,117, besides promising $2,400 toward the new Mission building which we hope to have in the near future. This church is growing in numbers and influence, and is greatly in need of more suitable quarters.

The high price of real estate in Los Angeles makes it difficult for the Japanese to provide a Mission Home for themselves, as they have done at most of the other Stations. Thanks are due to Mrs. Stever, an experienced teacher, who has given much valuable time to instruction in this Mission, almost without remuneration.

THE WATSONVILLE MISSION.

The Mission at Watsonville has a better record than that of any other Station for the past twelve months. The members have paid off $743 on the mortgage which rested on the Mission Home, and contributed $340 toward the running expenses, receiving during the same period only $480 from the Board. Eleven men and one woman were baptized during the year. Mr. and Mrs. Miyazaki, who have been in charge of this work for several years, have through their teaching and sweet Christian home exerted a powerful influence for good over the Japanese in that section of California. Mrs. J. A. Patton is worthy of great commendation, because of her devotion to the school connected with that Mission.

THE SALINAS MISSION.

This Station has only twenty-eight baptized members, but many other Japanese in this community are interested in its success and have contributed towards its support. There are many Japanese families in this section, and our Mission has a Japanese Woman's Club of fifteen members connected with it. Three adults were baptized during the year. In a few months Mr. Suzuki, who is in charge of this work, will be ordained and a church will be organized. This Mission is greatly in need of an English teacher to assist in the educational work. The members of this Mission contribute $25 per month toward its support.

THE WINTERSBURG MISSION.

This work in Orange County, California, has been without expense to the Board. One-half of Rev. B. H. Terasawa's support came from the Japanese in that community, while the other half was provided by Westminster Church, with which the baptized members of the Mission are at present connected. Five were added to the church upon profession during the past year, making the whole number of professed Christians at this Station about twenty. The average attendance at religious services has been twenty-seven.

THE HANFORD MISSION.

This work is under the supervision of Mrs. M. A. Harlow, and until 1907 was carried on by the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. Six adults have been baptized during the year.

Connected with this Mission is a Christian Endeavor Society of twenty-five members and a school with forty-eight names on the roll. The Japanese have met all the incidental expenses connected with the work, and assisted in building and furnishing their Mission Home. An ordained native worker has been called to this field, and the prospect for the future is encouraging. Mrs. Harlow reports that not one of the Christians uses tobacco or intoxicants, and that every one who has made a profession of Christianity has proved true and is in good standing to-day.

Mrs. M. A. Harlow, the Superintendent of the Hanford work among the Japanese, writes:

It is with pleasure that I attempt to make this our first report to the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., our work heretofore having been under the Woman's Board of Missions of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. We have prayed for and looked forward to this union, and we welcome the new relationship.

Our pupils in the school are ambitious and most of them are doing good work. We have twelve classes, covering work from the Primer to the Fourth Reader.

One of our young men is attending the Hanford High School, and one attends the Grammar School. Two are studying instrumental music and one vocal. We are trying to train them for useful service.

There are at present three English teachers and one Japanese helper—Miss Moore, Miss Neva Porch, G. T. Hamano (interpreter) and myself.

Our religious work consists of a short Bible lesson each night, prayer meeting on Wednesday night, usually led by one of the Christian young men, and services Sunday evening. The Christians now in the Mission have their membership in the American Presbyterian Church here.

Now that we are to have Japanese ministers, we feel sure we can take up work in Visalia, a city of about the same size as Hanford. Visalia is the county seat of Tulare County, and is about twenty-one miles distant. It can be reached twice a day from Hanford on the S. P. R. R., and in the near future will be connected by an electric line. I have looked the field over carefully and know there is a ripe field, and no one is working there. The rent and all expenses of furnishing and running will be managed through the Japanese and the local Presbyterian church, which I think will help us.

OCCIDENTAL BOARD.

Mrs. L. A. Kelly, President of the Occidental Board, writes as follows:

It is two years since our last report to you. When we think of the vicissitudes through which the work has passed it seems almost two centuries. During the great fire the Mission family of sixty fled to San Anselmo, the Theological Seminary, where it was thoughtfully and tenderly cared for. Later it passed half a year in San Rafael, and then moved to Oakland, where a very pleasant year and a half has just been brought to a close.

Miss Donaldina Cameron is still the intrepid superintendent, and has stood through these trying two years with her hand on the helm, safely guiding the frail craft, so heavily laden with human souls, past Scylla, beyond Charybdis, and March 27, 1908, joyously flying the homeward bound pennant, dropped anchor in the safe harbor of 920 Sacramento Street, San Francisco, the home port.

It has been two nerve-racking years, but the haven has been reached and a calm and quiet sea can be seen ahead, and the anxiety of the past two years is beginning to slip away and be lost in the haze of the shadow islands behind us.

The Occidental Board of Foreign Missions that supports this Station has not been idle nor free from disturbing anxieties during these twenty-four months. It has been able to maintain and direct the work, and both years has passed up to the Assembly's Board a clean sheet with a handsome advance attached to each year's totals, and without having to ask for one dollar's help in aid of the family expenses. That required strenuous effort on the part of the Board, when for weeks our city stood in the bread line, which now seems only a beginning of our troubles, for later followed the strike, the civic trouble, the financial panic, then the plague. None of these helped along the missionary collections, but emphasized the fact that we had no income whatever except free-will offerings.

A beautiful new building, which shelters the Occidental Board, which carries on a large work in foreign fields, also shelters the Rescue Home, gives a home to the Home Mission Board, to the Presbyterian Orphanage, to the Ministers' Union, besides being headquarters for Presbyterianism for this State, has been built on the former site through the generous aid of Eastern friends solicited early in 1906.

These gifts were largely from Women's Foreign Missionary Boards and personal gifts from generously inclined Christian ladies, the Philadelphia Woman's Board giving the magnificent sum of $11,000. That was the largest contribution from any one source.

The Woman's Board of New York also gave a grand total, also the Woman's Board of the Northwest (Chicago). The Christian Herald, with its usual generosity, published several articles which netted a handsome sum. Our next-door neighbor, the North Pacific Board, at Portland, was the first to send $1,000.

The largest individual gifts were from Mr. Louis H. Severance, of Cleveland; Mrs. Tracey McGregor, Detroit; Mrs. John S. Kennedy, Mrs. W. E. Dodge and Miss Grace Dodge, New York; Mrs. Cyrus McCormick, Chicago, and Mr. Lyman Stewart. There were many smaller ones, but these were $1,000 and more. May the dear Lord bless all these and other good friends who have made the success of these past two years stand out by themselves, and accept the most heartfelt thanks from this Board.

But the breaking of the alabaster box of ointment, that will send its sweet perfume down through the ages, was left for the Brooklyn Church of East Oakland, Rev. H. K. Sanborn, pastor. When the Mission family drifted into Oakland, after weary wanderings, the pastor was there to welcome, counsel and console, and his people have been instant in season and out of season, giving the family a warm welcome into the church, the home and social life. Watching tenderly any gap that needed closing, they always stood ready with helpful hands and words of encouragement to befriend and assist in any way possible. A crown of glory surely awaits this pastor and his flock, for the uplift and thoughtful care that has always been accorded this very appreciative family.

EVANGELISTIC WORK.—This branch of the work has never been so widespread nor seemed so necessary as at the present time. Since the great fire there has been two Chinatowns—one in Oakland and one in San Francisco. Mrs. E. Y. Garrette, the efficient head of this work, with her native helper, visits many hundred homes during the year and brings large numbers of heathen children and mothers within touch of the school and church. No arm of the work is more promising than the evangelistic, nor gives better returns.

The Mission Home has never been so well equipped as now, nor the health and discipline so good, owing perhaps to the outdoor life that the wrecking of the home caused by sending the family into the country.

THE SCHOOLS.—The Occidental Board has four schools under its care. There has never been a time in the history of the work when these two cities were so teeming with heathen children as now. For years it has been said that the work among women and children was or would soon be a vanishing work, but, on the contrary, there seems never to have been greater numbers and greater need than to-day. As soon as these appealing cases can be admitted, the new Home bids fair to be all too small. The four schools are overcrowded and the five teachers are taxed to the utmost. One of the Chinese girls has been the teacher in the kindergarten class for the past year. She is doing most acceptable work among her less fortunate brothers and sisters, but she has fallen a victim to the darts of Cupid and has set up a home of her own in the East. She and her husband are both Christians. The new school in Oakland, known as the Condit School, was named for Dr. I. M. Condit, the beloved missionary, who has labored so long among the Chinese. Three of our girls have been admitted to the public schools of Oakland, all leading their classes, with deportment perfect.

SUMMARY.—Personnel in the Home.—Miss Donaldina Cameron, Superintendent; Mrs. A. E. Kindleberger, Matron; Mrs. Alice Clever, Assistant Matron.

Schools.—Miss Crowder, Teacher, Occidental School; Miss Watkins, Assistant. Miss Hatch, Teacher, Condit School, Oakland; Miss Humphrey, Assistant. Miss Pratt, Teacher, Home School.

There are fifty-four inmates in the Home. During the past year there have been eleven weddings. Four girls are out to service. Seven have united with the church.

CHINESE IN NEW YORK.

This report is from the Rev. Huie Kin.

The regular Mission work has been maintained and deepened and pushed with enthusiasm as God gave strength, wisdom and means.

Five services are held each Sabbath day. Our services open at 2.30 with a Sabbath-school which is bilingual. The Bible lesson is explained in Chinese from the desk, and taught in English in the classes. The lesson closes with a recitation of Scripture verses from members of the school. Here many a man takes his first stand for Christ. Here, too, the Word of God is instilled and sown in the hearts and lives of our Chinese brethren. And we have found this very profitable, for the Word of God is quick and powerful and sharper than any two-edged sword.

Next comes a preaching service in Chinese. And this is followed by a dinner in the family dining-room. One Sabbath there were forty-five present, including the missionary's family.

Coming after the dinner is the prayer and devotional meeting of the Chinese Y. M. C. A., lasting an hour. And this in turn is followed by evening Bible classes and a song service. There are men who come to the first service at 2.30 in the afternoon, and stay to all five consecutive services until 9 or 9.30 at night. Truly the love of God is in their hearts.

The total attendance at the Sunday-school has been 2,565, with an average attendance of forty-nine and an enrollment of 136.

During the Spring and Summer all branches of the work were carried on diligently and the Autumn opened full of promise in spiritual things, for our men's prayer meetings, our special evening Bible class and the preaching service in Chinese had been better attended and filled with more earnest seekers after the truth than ever before. At the October communion three earnest men were baptized by Dr. Alexander, and eight more have been hopefully converted and have become members of the Chinese Y. M. C. A.

A new and interesting class of five young boys, lately arrived from China and sons of merchants in Mott Street, joined the Sabbath-school last Sabbath.

Seed sowing has been steadily maintained, as well as the regular routine work of visiting the laundries and sick. Out-going trains with parties for China have been met and packages of tracts given to these men, who have four weeks of travel before reaching home and nothing to read. The last two trains had respectively 150 and 80 leaving for home, and they are exceedingly grateful for any Chinese reading matter. Tracts and Bibles are eagerly sought and read. It is very hard to get sufficient matter. Occasionally the American Tract Society will give us a grant of $3 worth of tracts, and I could with profit use $10 worth a month.

The total contributions of the work have amounted to $638.36. This does not include a sum of $168 promised to the Chinese Building Fund by members of the Mission, but which has not yet been paid in.

The situation to-day is one of deep interest, but of considerable complexity. Twenty years ago it was sufficient to teach the Chinese their A, B, C, as a means of communicating the Gospel to them. China and the conditions in China have changed, and so have the Chinese in New York. We have a student body here from all the provinces in China who need to be reached.

REPORT OF THE TREASURER

OF THE

BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.

More money was contributed this year for Foreign Missions through this Board than during any previous year in its history, the total amount, including legacies, being $1,314,213.51. Of this sum Churches gave $586,923.78, or an increase of $91,147.62 over 1906-07 and $237,738.00 more than they gave five years ago. This gain is exceedingly gratifying, since the Churches must always be considered the main reliance of our work. The keen and intelligent interest in the work of the Board which pastors throughout the country have shown during recent months has borne fruit, and we believe they have been sustained and encouraged by their Sessions and Church Officers and by the great body of church members as never before. The correspondence coming to the Treasurer's office from Church Treasurers, and from societies and individuals, shows very clearly that Missions are taking their rightful place in the minds and hearts of our people. It ought to be kept in mind constantly that the Churches are the base of our supply, and that loyalty to the work there will count most tellingly.

Particularly large advances in contributions have been made in many cases, much of which may be directly attributed to the effect of the Omaha Convention, held in February, 1907, and to the Convention in Philadelphia, held in February, 1908. The value of these meetings can scarcely be overestimated, for they reveal to large numbers of the laymen of the Church the priceless opportunity we now have for the evangelization of the world, and as the laymen become informed they lend more effective aid and give more largely to the work. Information engenders zeal, and zeal is expressed in larger giving.

The expenditure for the entire work of the Board for the present year, 1907-08, amounted to $1,455,017.03, and the total receipts and credits were $1,347,265.20, leaving a deficit of $107,751.83. Of the amount appropriated $40,000.00 was spent in the work taken over from the Cumberland Church, while there has been received from former Cumberland Churches to apply in this work a considerably less amount. This accounts for a part of the deficit. There has been received from the Legacy account, always a more or less uncertain source, about $29,000 less than last year, and this has increased the deficit. But the main reason for appropriations amounting to $107,000 more than the receipts is that approximately $200,000 was received which had to be applied for various special purposes in the foreign field by direction and insistence of its donors. This money ought to have been available for the regular work of the Board, work for which the Board pledged its credit at the beginning of the fiscal year and for which it is bound to provide. By regular work is meant the already established lines of missionary endeavor in all of the mission stations. To put it still more strongly, the Board of Foreign Missions this year actually received more than enough money to pay for its regularly organized and established work, but $200,000 of this was so tied up by conditions affecting its application that it could not be used for regular appropriations. It had to be appropriated, in order to go through the Board's books, and so swelled the appropriation total. These special appropriations often require an outlay in addition to the gift itself, such as maintenance and current expenses for new buildings which have been given, etc. Sometimes a giver insists that his gift shall be used to send out a new missionary, and it often happens that the money he is giving was formerly applied to the work already established, and this amount was counted upon by the Board when at the first of the year it made appropriations for the regular work. More than this, there are the outfit and travel of the missionary to provide for, and language teachers for him on the field and his house rent, items not often paid for by the giver, who wants to send out the new missionary. In these cases the Board is facing the dilemma either of refusing the gift entirely or of increasing the budget beyond what, in its judgment, seems best. The Board has not appropriated a single dollar for new buildings nor for houses for missionaries, much as they are needed, during the past year, except where gifts were specifically designated for them.

It may be asked what a deficit represents to the Board and what effect it will have in the future. In answer it must be positively stated that it is not a debt; the Board does not owe a dollar. All of the loans made between August and January have been paid off and the cash on hand May 1, 1908, amounted to $150,468.65. The deficit does represent, however, an impairment of working capital, so that borrowing will begin probably a month earlier the ensuing year than last year. The cash on hand May 1, 1907, amounted to $279,018.23, and the first loan was made August 29. The interest charge this year amounted to $7,398.10. Moneys received in the Spring should be sufficient to carry the work through the Summer, when very few contributions are received from the Churches.

The main assets of the Board are represented by $300,000 in bonds and stocks and one-half the properties at 156 Fifth Avenue and 5 West 20th Street, New York City, on which there is no mortgage or lien of any kind. This real estate is valued at approximately $2,000,000.

The year 1906-7 closed with a surplus of receipts over expenditures. However, there was carried over from 1904-5 and 1905-6 a deficit amounting to $92,146.65, against which a net credit was applied amounting to $64.85, leaving a net deficit carried over of $92,081.80. Adding this to the deficit of the year just closed, we have a deficit of $199,833.63. In addition to this deficit there were a number of old and doubtful accounts that had been carried on the books in the hope of recovery; these items have now been written off, under authority of the Board, and have increased the deficit by $18,214.20, making the deficit $218,047.83. By the same authority the General Reserve Fund, amounting to $47,316.28, has been eliminated as a liability, since it has already disappeared, having been absorbed in the deficit. By this action the deficit is reduced by the amount of the Fund, the net deficit standing at $170,731.55.

WM. E. STIGER, ESQ., Chairman Finance Committee,
Board of Foreign Missions, New York.

SIR :—

We have examined the accounts and vouchers of the Treasurer of your Board for the year ending April 30, 1908.

The cash and securities have been verified, either by actual count or evidence of deposit, and found in accord with the book records.

We have verified the total receipts for the year, as shown by the books, and have checked the amounts received with the detailed monthly statements published in the Assembly Herald, with the exception of March and April, 1908, which have not yet been published, and have ascertained that all of the moneys shown therein have been properly accounted for. The receipts for the months of March and April will be checked upon the publication of the Assembly Herald for those months.

The statements of disbursements by Field Treasurers for the fiscal year just closed have not been received in New York at this date, consequently the deficit shown by the Balance Sheet is subject to change, according as the expenditures have been more or less than the appropriations for the past year.

We have verified the Balance Sheet herewith with the books and accounts, and, subject to the statement concerning the Field Treasurer's Reports for the fiscal year, the Balance Sheet, in our opinion, presents the correct financial condition of the Board.

Respectfully submitted,

EIGHTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT.

The Board of Education, organized in 1819, respectfully presents herewith its Eighty-ninth Report to the General Assembly.

Last year, compelled to suffer the loss by death of its beloved and devoted Corresponding Secretary, the Board was called upon during the year now closing to record the entering into rest of its honored President, the Rev. James M. Crowell, D.D., who for twenty-eight years was actively associated with the Board's work. He was elected to the Vice-Presidency in 1887, and held the chief executive office of the Board for the past five years, "lending to it his best efforts, supported by a rich scholarship, a clear mind and administrative ability."* The Board takes the opportunity of placing on record its grateful appreciation of his long, efficient and faithful service.

On February 10, 1908, the Board unanimously elected the Rev. Charles Wadsworth, Jr., D.D., Vice-President of the Board, to fill the office of President, and Dr. George W. Bailey to succeed the Rev. Dr. Wadsworth in the Vice-Presidency. The Rev. James M. Hubbert, D.D., was elected to fill the vacancy in the membership caused by the death of Dr. Crowell.

The General Assembly is respectfully requested to confirm these elections. The re-election of the following named members, whose period of service has expired, is also recommended:

REV. WILLIAM P. FINNEY,	CHARLES P. TURNER, M.D.,
REV. F. W. LOETSCHER, PH.D.,	T. M. ROGERS,
REV. J. M. HUBBERT, D.D.,	S. SPENCER CHAPMAN, ESQ.

CANDIDATES.

Enroll-ment. Eight hundred and nine candidates have been accepted by the Board the past year, 83 in academic, 354 in collegiate, and 372 in theological courses. Two hundred and fifty-three are new men and 556 are "renewals," a decrease of 15 among the former and an increase of 36 among the latter. This unusual condition is due probably to the fact that the increased cost of living has constrained a number of candidates, who had believed themselves able to pursue their further training unassisted by the Board, to renew their applications.

Thirteen applications were regretfully declined after painstaking investigation, the majority of these being from men entering upon the Seminary course with defective collegiate preparation. The rules require those under the Board's care in seminary to be either college graduates or to possess a training equivalent to that leading up to the degree of A.B. The Board, in carrying out this injunction of the Assembly, does not wish to create the impression that the Church ignores the notable instances where ministers have nobly overcome the handicap of a limited scholastic training, and risen to high efficiency. Such instances, however, are quite exceptional and do not in any wise invalidate the rule that short cuts to the ministry are not only undesirable but often disastrous both to the cause and to the man. The Presbyterian Church throughout her history has consistently stood for an educated ministry and, in this day of haste to discover some short and royal road to success, must stand still more firmly for the long and arduous training that co-ordinates the zealous heart with the disciplined mind.

The Board of Education, before making a grant to a student, requires a professor's report, which, in addition to moral character, punctuality and economy, must exhibit class standing. It is gratifying to be able to report this year that 487 of the 809 were marked "high" or "medium plus" in scholarship, and aid has been withheld for poor standing in but few instances. Ten have been dropped from the roll for various reasons, such as marriage during the course, leaving school on account of impaired health, turning aside to other callings, and the like, and one has died.

Numbers. Since the year 1825, when measurably reliable statistics were first available, the normal proportion of candidates in the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. has been one to every 800 of its Church members. The supply has fluctuated during these eighty-three years between one candidate to 624 and one candidate to 1,432 members, the latter proportion being experienced in 1903, the lowest in the history of our Church. Since that time this extraordinary decline has been turned, so that to-day we have one candidate to every 1,228 members. This, however, is but two-thirds of our normal supply, and in actual number of candidates we have returned to the figures of the year 1885, when this country had 32,500,000 less population. During the past twelve years, when our country has increased $24\frac{9}{10}$ per cent. in population, 47 per cent. in wealth, 58 per cent. in college students, and the membership of the Protestant Church in the U. S. 33 per cent., the number of ministerial students in thirty leading Protestant Seminaries has declined $19\frac{2}{10}$ per cent.

There are those who view this condition with indifference, in view of the fact that the actual number of ministers seems to keep pace with the number of churches. But the Board is persuaded that this is a superficial view for several reasons: First, because the number of churches is no measure of our responsibility for evangelizing the destitute regions at home and abroad. The missionary call must not be limited to organized congregations. Second, because Presbyteries under stress of need for men often admit to ordination those not trained in our own institutions, or those who have failed to measure up to our educational standards, thus lowering the general tone of efficiency in our ministry. Our Church's custom of filling up the depleted ranks of her ministry by other means than those provided for in our regular educational courses should not be ground for complacency but rather for concern.

A notable dearth in candidates is observed in a number of Presbyteries east of the Alleghenies, seven of the strongest averaging but one candidate to 5,137 church members. In the large centres of wealth and population comparatively few candidates are being raised up to face, with a mastery born of intimate experience, the complex problems of our urban life. The result is that the churches of the East draw heavily upon the ministerial forces of the West, struggling as she is with her vast stretches of unevangelized territory, into which immigration is pouring with ever-widening streams. It is beyond the Mississippi that the majority of our 2,291 vacant churches lie. If the Eastern homes, churches and schools cannot furnish enough ministers for the needs of their own territory, but must drain away some of the best workers from our destitute Home Mission fields, the laws of supply and demand in the Church have become seriously disturbed. The call for men to man the fields in the South, West and Southwest is stronger and louder to-day than ever in our nation's history. Over five hundred men could be used at once on home mission territory if the money and the men were available. There are county seats in the Southwest having no evangelical Church of any denomination.

Quality. So far from being overcrowded, the ministry has never needed more than she needs to-day men of large capacity—mental, moral, administrative, evangelistic—men of vision, passion, insight, intellectual authority, untiring energy, and conspicuous spirituality.

The rapid growth of population, the extension of the territorial bounds of our nation, the enlarging intelligence of all classes, the social questions astir in all life, the grave moral issues uppermost in public and private affairs, the vast economic changes of recent years—all these issue their fresh challenge to the Christian young man of fine spirit and large ability to dedicate his powers to the preaching of the only solvent of human ills, the Gospel of Jesus Christ. It is no reflection upon the ministry of to-day for the Church to insist upon raising the question from time to time as to whether she is getting her fair share of leaders among the hundreds of young men who every year graduate from our schools of higher learning. This Board in 1900 discussed this important question in its report, calling attention to the action of Conferences, Presbyteries and Special Committees with reference to the supply of ministerial candidates.

Again, the Board wishes to emphasize the need on the part of Presbyteries of exercising the most scrupulous care in the examination of candidates. The possession of an A.B. degree in these days does not necessarily imply that a student has those solid literary acquirements, that breadth of culture and that discipline of mind which would fit him to assume the moral and spiritual leadership of the community he expects to serve. The large number of elective courses in college curricula, and the dropping of Latin and Greek, especially the latter, from a majority of the High School courses, makes it more than probable that an increasing number of students fail to secure a sufficiently rigid training in those studies fundamental to a theological course. Presbyteries should not accept the college degree as sufficient evidence of academic worthiness. A large share of the time and money devoted to higher education is being expended upon the development of technical courses even in the denominational colleges, and there is imminent danger that the A.B. degree shall be allowed to stand for less and less in the midst of an age when the reactions of material prosperity are felt so keenly upon our educational system.

It is, therefore, necessary to emphasize most strongly the large responsibility resting upon the faculties of Colleges and Universities where ministerial candidates pursue their studies, and also upon Presbyteries taking such students under their care. By way, therefore, of practical proposal the Board would ask that Presbyteries should attend to the following suggestions:

1. To provide for an annual sermon upon Ministerial Education in each church of the Presbytery.

2. To give ample time for oral and written examinations of candidates for the ministry, with special meetings of Presbytery for this purpose if necessary, and preliminary examinations of candidates in private before the Committee on Education.

3. To strengthen, if necessary, the Committee of Education of the Presbytery by placing upon it the wisest and best men.

4. Closer relations between Presbyteries in the case of transfer of candidates or licentiates, in order that common standards may prevail for the protection of the Church, and the honor and efficiency of the ministry.

5. To see that pastors of candidates maintain close personal relations with them, and that Education Committees exercise extreme care in carrying out the provisions of Section 2 of Constitutional Rule No. 3, relating to the annual examination of candidates in person or by letter as to "their Christian experience, their progress in study and their fidelity to the doctrines of the Church," advising with them also as to the approved institutions of learning and their courses of study in such institutions.

The attention of the Assembly is earnestly directed to the fact that the present growth of elective courses and the omission of the classics from High Schools and Academies is working havoc with the theological preparation of many young men who, late in their course of study, find their minds and hearts turning toward the ministry as a life calling. Many a student taking the popular modern and practical courses finds himself handicapped in considering the ministry by reason of defective preparation. The large development of courses in applied science even in our own colleges further depletes the supply of candidates. In one of our most conservative Presbyterian institutions so great has been the pressure to provide engineering courses that last year only one candidate for the ministry was graduated to forty engineers. Eight years ago this college was graduating 22 per cent. of its students into the theological seminary. To-day only 7 per cent. of its graduates study for the ministry.

Methods of Reaching Candidates. The Board of Education, construing its work to be a broader one than the mere distribution of aid to needy and worthy candidates, has paid particular attention to the presentation of the cause in churches, Presbyteries, Ministerial Conferences, Brotherhood meetings and popular gatherings. Twenty-two Synods were visited by the Secretaries with the valuable assistance of the Rev. H. C. Minton, D.D., who represented the Board at the Synods of Washington, Oregon and California. In addition to this the Secretaries have been privileged to address the student bodies and to hold personal conferences in the following Theological Seminaries: Princeton, Western, Lane, Louisville, McCormick, German Theological School of Dubuque, Newark German Theological School, Lincoln, Omaha and Lebanon.

Student conferences looking towards recruiting the ranks of the ministry have been held at the following colleges: Coe, Emporia, Westminster (Denver), Bellevue, Cumberland University, Bethel College, Castle Heights School, and Colorado Springs. The Corresponding Secretary spent five very profitable days in residence at Lafayette College, speaking at evening meetings and visiting the students in their rooms. Wherever practicable college men have been gathered to listen to the presentation of the principles governing the choice of an occupation. Delightful personal relations have been established in this way with large numbers of students. It is impossible, however, to report any definite results of such work.

Real Sources of Supply. New printed matter in leaflet and pamphlet form has been widely distributed, special attention being paid to the most helpful material obtainable for the use of pastors, parents, professors and Sunday-school teachers, among boys and young men, calling their attention to the claims and attractions of the ministry. The Board is impressed with the conviction that the Church does not sufficiently seek the sources of her ministerial supply at the fountain head. It is to the home and the Sunday-school we must look for the influences leading up to a decision for the ministry and the missionary life. It is a mistake to wait until a boy goes to college before exercising influences that lead him to face his mission. The Southern Presbyterian Church has collated statistics concerning its 360 candidates, showing that 44 were admitted to communion at 10 years of age or under; 208 between the years of 11 and 15; 95 between 16 and 20; 12 between 21 and 25, and only 1 between 26 and 30. Twenty of these felt the call of God to the ministry under the age of 10; 30 between 11 and 15; 203 between 16 and 20; 87 between 21 and 25; 14 between 26 and 30; and 7 between 31 and 40. This exhibit appears to be proof conclusive that the decisive years for or against the ministry are between 16 and 20. We believe, therefore, that this Board's work lies back of the college, and that it must devise ways and means for bringing home to parents and to Sunday-school officers and teachers their responsibility in behalf of the Church's leadership. The Sunday-school offers a field of richest promise. Here is to be found an abundance of choice material at a period in life when the mind and heart may be easily impressed and before other professions and callings pre-empt the field. The Board of Publication and Sabbath-school Work has most courteously extended to this Board the privilege of presenting this matter to our Sunday-schools through the Westminster lesson helps. Plans also are on foot whereby the Young People's Department of this same Board will undertake to secure and turn over to us the names of choice young men in the Young People's Societies who might be likely to respond to the call of God to this form of service.

Foreign-speaking Candidates. The increasing number of foreign-speaking immigrants during the last thirty years creates an insistent and increasing demand for a foreign-speaking ministry.

Our Church has recently amended its form of government, specifically authorizing both Presbyteries and Synods for peoples speaking other than the English language. Recognizing thus the obligation resting upon our Church to secure the spiritual welfare of all such people regardless of language or race, an imperative necessity is upon us to provide an adequate number of trained men to minister to them in their own tongues. These men are not to be secured unless they are trained in schools under the control of our Church. We can never provide such a ministry for these peoples by importing men from abroad. To reach the four or five millions of foreign-born Americans for whom the Presbyterian Church is particularly responsible we had last year but ninety men preparing themselves. This year we have 117 men, 14 of whom are Italians, 7 Bohemians, 24 Spanish, 2 Swiss, 3 Ruthenians, 10 Hungarians and 14 Germans. There are also at San Francisco and at Princeton 4 Japanese under the Board studying for service among their own people in this country. At present the work in many respects is unsatisfactory because of failure to secure a proper teaching force and equipment. Provision is already being made for the establishment of a school for foreign-speaking students, designed to train them not only for the ministry but for work as lay missionaries, Bible readers and colporteurs. Experience has demonstrated the unwisdom of placing such students in English-speaking schools, at least during the early part of their course. They are likely to imbibe unhealthy ideas and degenerate morally, or are infected with ambition to work among more attractive surroundings than those possessed by their fellow-countrymen. Such a movement in our Church is most timely, as independent religious training schools are beginning to attract strongly the young men under the care of our Presbyteries. The Board recommends that the General Assembly look carefully into the problem of training an adequate force of native ministers and lay workers for our foreign-speaking populations.

CHURCH OFFERINGS.

Receipts from churches and various societies this year aggregate $57,244.42, an increase of $9,533.21 over last year, the number of non-contributing churches having been materially reduced and the 20 per cent. increase recommended by the last Assembly met almost to the dollar. The Board is grateful for the Church's evident arousal of sympathy and interest and confidently anticipates a yet larger moral and financial support for its greatly enlarged field of operations. It should not be forgotten, however, that the churches are not as yet contributing that measure of aid which is necessary to care for her candidates even during the present decline, to whom the Board paid $77,881.88 during 1907-08. The difference of $20,637.46 between church offerings and the Board's disbursements was met through individual gifts, income from investments, and another draft upon the emergency fund now nearly exhausted. But, if the churches increase their offerings to the Board in the same proportion next year, we shall be enabled to present a balance sheet of which the Assembly may well be proud.

The Assistant Secretary, the Rev. Dr. W. J. Darby, who has conducted the business of the Board from his office at Evansville, Ind., has rendered notable service in the interest of ministerial education throughout the united Church this year. He has, however, focused the efforts of his office upon securing a recognition of the Board's needs and policies by the Presbyteries and churches in former Cumberland territory. He reports most satisfactory progress, a cordial spirit and an earnest purpose everywhere manifest in the South and Southwest, which means much for an increase of power in the united Church:

Credit for special contributions secured by Dr. Darby in behalf of students at Lebanon Seminary from a number of churches in the South cannot appear in the Treasurer's report, as the amount was received after the books were closed and balanced. These items will appear in due form in the report for 1908-09.

THE CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, COLORED.

The instructions of the last General Assembly regarding educational work in the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, Colored, have been carried out by the Board according to its best judgment. The Assistant Secretary has given considerable attention to this work, and reports a fair measure of progress in meeting the educational needs of about fifty candidates. He has been able to secure assistance, through friends of the colored race, for six of these young men, the Board having conceded a portion of his time to this work, inasmuch as any funds realized for it must come from sources outside the regular channels of benevolence. The arrangement is working happily, and the auspicious beginning indicates that this method of assistance must ultimately tell effectively upon the question of an educated leadership for this needy people. The Board deems it wise to continue the policy thus inaugurated, care being exercised at all times to recognize and co-operate with the educational institutions of their own denomination.

OUR NEW TERRITORY.

Since the union with the Cumberland Church the Presbyteries, pastors and congregations in the South and Southwest have, in most instances, entered responsively into the plans of the Board. The contributions, considering all the circumstances, average very well, particularly when we take into account the disturbed conditions growing out of legal and other controversies incident to the union. The young men preparing for the ministry are showing a determined purpose to make their preparation thorough, and in guiding these young men the Presbyteries are standing loyally by our standards.

Fewer exceptional cases have been presented to the Board than the year before. These have been treated with the discretionary power granted to it by the last Assembly. But it is the intention of the Board to eliminate them eventually, and, having progressed satisfactorily in so doing the past year, it requests that the same authority be granted for the coming year, with the understanding that the number of exceptional cases among former Cumberland students will be reduced to a minimum.

INDIVIDUAL GIFT.

A former beneficiary and devoted life-long friend of the Board, the Rev. Robert Gamble, has made a gift of $5,000, with the understanding that a portion of the interest therefrom be returned to the donor in the form of a life annuity. The same condition applying to a former gift by him of $2,500 has been relinquished.

COMPETITIVE SCHOLARSHIPS.

The Secretary's Scholarship, awarded last year to Mr. George M. Day, of San Francisco Theological Seminary, is still being held by him, and as he graduates from Seminary this spring, he will employ the income of the fund during the succeeding year in post-graduate work.

The Newberry Scholarship was offered through competitive examination to students of McCormick Seminary, and was awarded to Mr. E. C. Hamilton, of the Middle Class, who will enjoy its income for three years.

The Scholarship Committee, holding its examinations at McCormick Seminary, conducted a Mutchmore Scholarship examination at the same time, having offered it to the students of Omaha Theological Seminary. Mr. John Y. Crothers, a Senior, secured the honor and will take a post-graduate course for one year by means of the fund.

The second Mutchmore Scholarship has been successively offered to the students of Auburn, Biddle and Lane, but various circumstances have arisen in each case preventing competition in these Seminaries. The Board has selected the Western Seminary, Allegheny, for this Scholarship, and examinations will be conducted in behalf of its competing candidates in the fall.

STATE UNIVERSITIES.

Policy. As directed by the last General Assembly, the Board has endeavored to prosecute a definite and vigorous work for the supply of the religious needs of students in State educational institutions.

The Board was authorized to receive special funds for this work, but anticipating that, in view of the infancy of this enterprise, few funds thus designated might be expected for a time at least, it was decided that a campaign of education be inaugurated throughout the Church, to the end that, when awakened to the tremendous responsibility in behalf of these thousands of Presbyterian young men and women, she would provide liberally and wisely for the safeguarding of their moral and religious life during their course of study at State institutions.

The latter part of September the Board invited several prominent representatives of Presbyterian work in behalf of State University students to meet in conference at Philadelphia. The Rev. W. S. P. Bryan, D.D., Chairman of the Committee of Education of the Synod of Illinois; Prof. F. W. Kelsey, of Michigan University; the Rev. A. M. Buchanan, D.D., of Morgantown, W. Va., and the Rev. James Beveridge Lee, D.D., College Representative of the Assembly's Evangelistic Committee, presented much valuable information which was reported by the Board to those interested in the work throughout the Synods. At the fall meetings a number of Synods appointed Special Committees on the State University at the Board's request.

The Board, with extreme care, reviewed the scope of its authority to prosecute this work through the use of its regular funds. The terms of the charter were thoroughly investigated by competent counsel, the result being that the following report was unanimously adopted by the Board:

"The Special Committee to whom was referred the question as to the powers of the Board over the funds in its treasury reports that, with the exception of those funds which have been designated to be applied to specific persons or purposes, the Board has, under its charter and constitution, full power to use the funds bequeathed or contributed to it for any purpose germane to the cause of education, including such administrative expenses as are incident thereto."

Inquiry. Statistical blanks were sent out early in the year to the authorities of the Universities and the local pastors, asking for detailed information as to the moral and religious atmosphere and influences of the institution, the effectiveness of the work of the Christian Associations, the relation of the local Presbyterian Church and other churches to the student life, the attitude of the Synods to the work and the activity of other Church bodies in behalf of their students. A large fund of information was gathered and will soon be put into form for distribution among those interested. The Presidents and other State University representatives, through letter and in personal interview, have expressed a lively interest in and large appreciation of the work of Church bodies in behalf of the students belonging to their membership. At the urgent request of several Western Synods, the Board directed the Corresponding Secretary to make a tour of State Universities, and in February and March of this year the following institutions were visited: State College, Pennsylvania; Ohio University (Athens); the Universities of Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Colorado and West Virginia. The Assistant Secretary has also visited the Universities of Indiana at Bloomington and Purdue. Everywhere the representatives of the Board were received with the greatest courtesy and keenest appreciation and every facility placed at their disposal for a comprehensive view of the situation.

Conditions. The following considerations, based upon the Board's inquiry, would justify it in pressing home upon the heart and conscience of the Church the imperative needs of this work:

1. The shifting of the field of higher education.—A score of years ago a majority of students in the higher branches were enrolled in schools controlled by the churches. Since then two new factors have entered into the situation and bid fair to pre-empt the field west of the Alleghenies, namely, the State University and the non-denominational college. A great impulse was given by them to higher education during the eighties when the number of college students began suddenly to rise from seven per thousand of the population until the present time, when the proportion stands sixteen per thousand and increasing year by year. The rapid development of State Universities has been the marvel of the educational world. Enrolling over 50,000 students annually, their income amounts to over $12,000,000 a year, four universities enjoying over $1,000,000 income each for 1907-08, three having over $500,000 each. Their increase in attendance during the past decade has been 112 per cent. The University of Michigan registers over 5,000 students this year; the Universities of Illinois, Minnesota and Wisconsin over 4,000 each; while California, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Ohio State enroll between 2,000 and 3,500 each.

The other factor, the non-denominational college, the result in part of former denominational colleges seeking to render themselves and their professors eligible to endowments and pensions from great educational foundations recently established, does not come within the scope of this inquiry, except in so far as it is the duty of the Board of Education, as a reporter of conditions affecting the ministerial supply, to suggest to the Assembly that this movement toward the freeing of the Christian College from denominational control may not be one to be lightly considered. The representatives of many colleges into which have been put millions of Church funds can no longer come before their ecclesiastical bodies by right, but only by courtesy. The question as to how far the non-denominational college has a right to make its appeals for funds and patronage through Church channels, as formerly, is a question requiring thorough examination.

The second consideration is

2. The sympathetic attitude toward religion on the part of University authorities, and the Christian profession and life of the majority of the members of the faculties.—If the State Universities ever did deserve the epithet “godless,” a candid examination of these institutions as they are at present conducted will fully reveal this to be a false characterization. There are unwholesome influences unquestionably attending the teaching in certain departments of several State Universities, but it cannot be said that this teaching is characteristic of State Universities alone. A thorough inquiry fails to substantiate statements popular in religious assemblies that State Universities are honeycombed with heresy and reeking with skepticism. The presidents of several are ministers of the Gospel and others sons of ministers. The inquiry fails to find a single president a non-church member. President McLean of Iowa, President Thompson of Ohio State, and President-elect Hill of Missouri are active Presbyterians, while Presidents Northrup, Strong, James, Bryan, Purinton, Merrifield and others lend distinguished honor to their respective religious denominations. Seventy-four per cent. of the Faculties are church members or attendants.

While a few Universities have abandoned Chapel exercises, a number hold daily or weekly religious exercises, twelve being voluntary in attendance and seven required. At State College, Pennsylvania, Sunday morning religious worship is compulsory, expenses for the service being paid out of the State funds. Voluntary attendance at Chapel exercises at the Universities of Minnesota and Kansas averages respectively 500 and 800. Standing room is often at a premium at the services of the latter institution. The University of Kansas Bible Institute is a summer session under the auspices of the University, concerning which Chancellor Strong says: “The University has felt that it was proper for it to assist in a non-sectarian way both its students and the public in general interested in Bible study and in the study of important social and religious questions."

President Baker, of the University of Colorado, at the last meeting of the Association of State University Presidents said: "I believe that the churches should not have the exclusive right to discuss religious questions; that the State Universities should have the privilege of teaching the Bible as literature, philosophy, psychology and ethics; of teaching the history of religion and kindred subjects; that on historical and scientific and psychological grounds the question of belief in God and of the efficacy of prayer should be freely discussed before students; that there should be a deepening of the philosophical, ethical and artistic thought and feeling of the country; and that the foundation work along these lines should be laid at the State University."

3. The attitude of the University student toward Christianity is not that of aversion or antagonism.—His attitude is too often that of indifference and neglect due to preoccupation. His studies and his social and athletic diversions pre-empt the field. "The danger," says Prof. Kelsey of Ann Arbor, "is the atrophy of his religious sense," and yet, surprising at it may seem, the University student is, on the whole, a much better church-goer than the average citizen. Fifty-seven per cent. of University students are communicants of Christian Churches. Church members and adherents at the University of Illinois are 62 per cent. of the student body; at Kansas 71 per cent., Missouri 78 per cent., Michigan 81 per cent., Iowa 98 per cent.

A decided influence for good has been the work of the College Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations, whose membership aggregates 28.8 per cent. of the enrollment of these institutions.

4. The increasing activities of denominations in behalf of State University students.—All important religious bodies are deeply interested in this question and several are moving rapidly toward a solution. The movement in general, however, is in the purely experimental stage.

At the University of California the evangelical bodies are endeavoring to reach the students through the regular church activities and are measurably succeeding, while the Roman Catholics have bought property, built a clubhouse and chapel and installed a chaplain.

At the University of Michigan the Congregationalists employ a graduate student, while the Baptists, Disciples, Episcopalians, Presbyterians and Catholics have student pastors. (This term applies to ordained ministers devoting their entire time to the religious interests of students.) The Methodists have purchased a lot upon which they intend to build, and the Disciples have secured an endowment of $30,000 for their Bible Chairs. The Episcopalians have a parish house and $60,000 endowment. The Presbyterians own Tappan Hall and MacMillan House, but have an inadequate endowment. This, the pioneer religious work among University students, is conducted by the Rev. J. Leslie French, Ph.D., whose success in attaching students to the local church and bringing them into the Endeavor Society is a notable one. Dr. French is also an instructor in the University Chair of Semitics. The Methodist and Episcopal Churches have regularly established lecture foundations, but no institutional work. The Unitarian Church considers the University a missionary field and contributes to the support of the local pastor. Seven of the churches united in calling an Interdenominational Conference of Church and Guild Workers in State Universities, which had a successful meeting March 31 to April 2 of this year, with forty delegates attending from nine States.

At the University of Illinois the Methodists and Disciples have erected substantial and attractive buildings, with regular services and lectureships. The Baptists, Episcopalians and Roman Catholics have undertaken to provide for students, and last year the Unitarians began services in one of the University halls, building up a congregation which will soon move into its own quarters. The Presbyterians, through Synod's Committee on Education, have secured the services of the Rev. James M. Duer as student pastor, and are planning for a Guild House and a Woman's Hall of Residence, for which an endowment is greatly needed. The current expenses of the work of Illinois are about $3,000, raised by Synod's Committee. Twenty-nine members of the Faculty are Presbyterians.

At the University of West Virginia the Rev. A. M. Buchanan, D.D., has for years drawn large numbers of students to the local Presbyterian church and is a faithful and loved pastor to the students, while the Baptists and Episcopalians are likewise active. But no institutional work is as yet established.

At the University of Minnesota the Episcopalians employ a student pastor, while the Roman Catholics take excellent care of their students through an effective organization to whom a priest ministers every Sabbath Day. The Congregationalists, Presbyterians, Methodists and Baptists have for years considered the feasibility of uniting to secure one man who shall act in the capacity of religious secretary through the Christian Associations, but nothing has been accomplished in this direction.

At the University of Wisconsin our own student pastor, the Rev. M. G. Allison, took charge last fall and is working through the local church. The Board has appropriated $500 this year to supplement the salary, thus granting the first application of this kind ever received by the Board. The Congregationalists, through the student pastor, prosecute a very successful work, as also the Baptists, Methodists and Lutherans. The Roman Catholics have purchased a clubhouse and are erecting a chapel, with a priest in charge.

At the University of Iowa most of the denominations, including the Presbyterians, employ students as assistants to the various pastors, with indifferent results. The Roman Catholics employ a special priest for their students. The local pastors are officially accounted as University chaplains and co-operate with the University administration.

At the University of Kansas the Christian (Disciples) Church maintains a Bible Chair in an attractive building adjoining the campus at a cost of $20,000. This is one of six such institutions at Universities supported by their Woman's Board of Missions. Westminster House, the home of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Francis A. Wilber, who together look after our Presbyterian students, is a social and religious centre for over 300 Presbyterian students. Bible Classes are conducted in the House and in connection with the Christian Association, fraternities and sororities. The work is supported by private contributions from Kansas Presbyterians.

At the University of Texas the Christian (Disciples) Church conducts a Bible Chair, the Protestant Episcopal Church maintaining a chapel and girls' dormitory near the University. The Methodist Church South and the Presbyterian Church South are building handsome churches near the University. The Roman Catholic Church is soon to build a church house for students and a monastery under the charge of the Paulist Fathers.

At the University of North Carolina each denomination—Episcopalian, Methodist and Baptist—aids in the support of the local pastor.

At the University of North Dakota the Methodist Church has established a college (Wesley) in affiliation with the State University on an adjoining campus. It sends all its students to the University for their secular work, and instructs them through its own Faculty in the Bible, Christian history, life and doctrine. A $30,000 building is just being completed by the Methodists, to be used for a dormitory for young men and for lecture rooms. The Presbyterians are considering the question of building a Guild Hall and providing a student pastor.

The only church ministering to the needs of the students of the University of Missouri in any particular way is the Christian (Disciples) Church, which conducts a Bible College in its own large stone edifice across from the campus, offering free instruction to all students and securing credit from the University in some of its courses toward the degree of A.B. The Southern Presbyterian Church at Columbia, Mo., is deeply interested in securing a student pastor, and both the Northern and Southern Synods of Missouri have appointed committees who are expected to co-operate in working out the problem together.

At the three universities of Ohio, at Nebraska, Colorado, Indiana and the smaller Universities of the South and the far West, what work is being done is carried forward by the local churches.

The Synods of Iowa, Nebraska and West Virginia are awake to the necessity of immediate action, but the inability to finance the movement through Synod's Committees has thus far stood in the way of actual results. It is hoped that the coming year will see this work begun in a definite way at two or three additional centres. The Board is prepared to co-operate with Synods' Committees through the use of her funds and force, but feels that, if the work is to go forward, it must be more definitely and concretely organized than is possible at present under the necessarily loose grasp of a special Committee of Synod. The successful operation of plans is something that will take time, faith and courage to work out. Each University situation must be studied with special reference to its own needs, regardless of methods in vogue in other places or by other denominations.

The door of opportunity is swinging wide open. Heartiest co-operation is promised from State University authorities, not one of whom stands apart from the movement. It is looked upon by them as a long neglected method of co-operation in the task of training the youth of the land to assume not only the political and economic, but also the moral and spiritual leadership of the coming years.

One University student in seven is a Presbyterian. Over 8,000 look to the Presbyterian Church to minister to their spiritual needs. "We are here," they say; "what are you going to do about it?" The closer attention on the part of the Church to the life in the great institutions of our land will react favorably upon coming generations. When the Church stands no longer as the critic and spectator of our State educational system, but as the counselor, supporter and reviewer thereof, we will find a larger proportion of College and University-bred leaders not only in the pulpit but in the pew.

ENLARGEMENT OF THE BOARD.

The last Assembly recommended "that, in view of the enlarged work committed to this Board, it be directed to consider the advisability of enlarging the membership, and report on this matter to the next Assembly."

A Special Committee was appointed by the Board to consider this matter in all its aspects. Its report was unanimously adopted. It reported adversely to the suggestion in view of the following considerations:

1. An enlargement of the Board through the election of local members is not necessary.

2. Justice to representatives of the Cumberland field and the University work, living at a distance, would require their expenses to be paid by the Board, entailing a considerably increased cost of administration.

3. The present efficiency of the Board in the Cumberland field and in University work appears to have been demonstrated during the past year. In the matter of the University work a communication was received by the Board from the Presbyterian representatives at the Interdenominational Conference of Church and Guild Workers, held at Ann Arbor, March 31, 1908, expressing the view that any proposed enlargement of the Board was unnecessary, at least for the present.

DAY OF PRAYER.

In view of the fact that the changes in the scholastic year have placed the midyear examinations in many colleges at the time of, or immediately succeeding the Day of Prayer for Colleges, i.e., the last Thursday of January, the Board recommends that the Thursday immediately preceding the second Sunday in February be designated by the Assembly as our Church's "Day of Prayer for Colleges," for the coming year.

Respectfully submitted, by order of the Board,

JOSEPH WILSON COCHRAN, D.D.,

Corresponding Secretary.

CHARLES WADSWORTH, JR., D.D.,

President.

TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
EDUCATIONAL SOCIETY OF THE CUMBER-LAND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

To the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., Kansas City, Mo.:

The work that has been done heretofore through this Board in behalf of young men preparing for the ministry having been transferred to the Board of Education at Philadelphia, this Board has simply served, in this particular, as a holding corporation, as directed by the last General Assembly. Therefore it has nothing to report on this subject.

In this connection we beg the privilege of expressing our gratification at the eminently satisfactory manner in which the Board at Philadelphia has administered this trust for the young men who are in the Presbyteries that were formerly connected with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

The term of service of R. M. Tinnon, D.D., Rev. W. B. Holmes and Elder M. A. Montgomery expires at this time.

Awaiting the further pleasure of the General Assembly, this report is respectfully submitted.

W. H. HALBERT, President.

M. A. MONTGOMERY, Secretary.

1. That the action of the Board in electing the Rev. Charles Wadsworth, Jr., D.D., to the office of President, and George W. Bailey, M.D., to the office of Vice-President, and the Rev. James M. Hubbert, D.D., to fill the vacancy in membership caused by the death of Dr. Crowell, and in re-electing the following persons to succeed themselves as members of the Board: Rev. William P. Finney, Rev. F. W. Loetscher, Ph.D., Rev. J. M. Hubbert, D.D., Charles P. Turner, M.D., T. M. Rogers, S. Spencer Chapman, Esq., be confirmed.

2. That the suggestions made on pages 7 and 8 of the Board's Report be approved, which suggestions read as follows:

"It is, therefore, necessary to emphasize most strongly the great responsibility resting upon the Faculties of Colleges and Universities where ministerial candidates pursue their studies, and also upon

Presbyteries taking such students under their care. By way, therefore, of practical proposal the Board would ask that Presbyteries should attend to the following suggestions:

“(1) To provide for an annual sermon upon ministerial education in each church of the Presbytery.

“(2) To give ample time for oral and written examinations of candidates for the ministry, with special meetings of Presbytery for this purpose, if necessary, and preliminary examinations of candidates in private before the Committee on Education.

“(3) To strengthen, if necessary, the Committee on Education of the Presbytery, by placing upon it the wisest and best men.

“(4) Closer relations between Presbyteries, in the case of transfer of candidates or licentiates, in order that common standards may prevail for the protection of the Church and the honor and efficiency of the ministry.

“(5) To see that pastors of candidates maintain close personal relations with them, and that Education Committees exercise extreme care in carrying out the provisions of Section 2 of Constitutional Rule No. 3, relating to the annual examination of candidates in person or by letter as to ‘their Christian experience, their progress in study, and their fidelity to the doctrines of the Church’; advising with them also as to the approved institutions of learning and their course of study in such institutions.”

3. That, in view of the importance of the work among our foreign-speaking or exceptional populations, the matter of training ministerial and lay workers for these peoples be referred to the Board, with instructions to survey the whole field and to outline, if possible, some policy, and report to the next General Assembly.

4. That the attention of the churches be drawn to the encouraging assurance found on page 10 of the Board’s Report, namely, “If the churches increase their offerings to the Board in the same proportion next year, we shall be able to present a balance sheet of which the Assembly may well be proud.”

5. That the Board be granted the same discretionary power as that given last year in dealing with such questions as may arise pertaining to the recent Reunion and Union.

6. That the right to use the third and last year of the Newberry Scholarship in study in foreign universities, at the discretion of the Board, be granted.

7. That in dealing with the problem in State universities the Board be directed to continue its work, and that the pro-Assembly Conference be continued, and its proceedings be made available for use, that gifts and endowments, which would be productive of great good in sweetening these fountains of educative influence by the infusion of a more positive Gospel influence in student life, be encouraged; that we co-operate in the activities and agencies of the Evangelical Churches in this field, such as the Interdenominational Conference of Churches and Guild Workers in State Universities that was held at Ann Arbor, Mich., during the last year.

8. That the conclusion reached by the Board, that no enlargement of its membership is necessary, for the present at least, in order to meet the demands of its growing work, although such enlargement had been authorized by the last Assembly, be endorsed.

9. That, in view of the fact that the scholastic year in many of our colleges has been changed, the time of the Day of Prayer for Colleges be changed the coming year from the last Thursday in January to the Thursday preceding the second Sunday in February.

10. That the Educational Society of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church be continued as a holding corporation, and that the election of R. M. Tinnom, D.D., the Rev. W. B. Holmes and Elder M. A. Montgomery, whose terms expire, be approved.

11. That the Treasurer's Report, which has been examined, be approved.

12. That the Minutes of the Board be approved.

13. That Overtures 79 and 80, from the Presbytery of Utica, which were referred to your Committee by the Committee on Bills and Overtures, be referred to the Board of Education for consideration, with direction to report thereon to the next General Assembly.

14. That, having learned with pleasure that one of the ablest and wisest ministers of our Church has proffered his services in connection with the Board of Education without charge to the Church, the Board be requested to accept this offer, and to utilize the services of this generous man of God.

15. That the Board of Education suggest to the Presbyteries the importance of the elders in the various churches, along with the pastors, making personal and urgent appeals to suitable young men to consider the subject and decide to prepare for the Gospel ministry.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK W. SNEED, Chairman.

RULES OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

RELATING TO

CANDIDATES FOR THE MINISTRY.

I.—DEPENDENCE OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION UPON THE PRESBYTERIES OF THE CHURCH.

1. The Board of Education shall receive and aid candidates for the ministry of the Gospel only upon the recommendation of a Presbytery of the Church ; and the Presbytery is responsible for their examination, subsequent care, and the designation of the annual amount of aid to be granted to them, within the limits set by the General Assembly.

2. The Board will in each case look especially to the Education Committee of the Presbytery for filling out and forwarding the form of recommendation required for the reception of a candidate, and also for the pastoral care of the same until his entrance upon his official duties.

3. As a general rule the Board will receive any young man of whose examination and recommendation, in conformity with its requirements, proper notification has been given, but it shall be at liberty to refuse new candidates beyond its ability to support them ; and it will not give aid to students from the foreign missionary field unless they have been recommended by our foreign missionaries abroad, or have come to study in this country by a special invitation given from this Board upon the request of other duly recognized Church authorities, or of missionaries resident on the fields from which they come.

II.—RECEPTION OF CANDIDATES.

1. The encouragement of a young man to enter the Gospel ministry is a matter of serious concern both to himself and to the Church, and it should be given only by those who have proper knowledge of his mental and moral character, accompanied with much counsel and prayer, and directly by a single desire for the glory of God. Every candidate should join that Presbytery to which he would most naturally belong, and he should be introduced to it either by his pastor or by some member of the Education Committee after such acquaintance as will warrant his taking the responsibility of so doing.

2. The Presbytery, in examining students with a view to their recommendation for aid, must embrace such points as are indicated by the following questions, to which definite answers, by the direction of the Assembly, will invariably be required by the Board : Give name of candidate in full. Age? Residence? Date of his coming under care of Presbytery. Has Presbytery examined him on the following points, and were his answers satisfactory : Piety? Motives for seeking the ministry? Talents? Health? Promise of practical efficiency? Is he free from expensive and injurious habits? How long has he been a communicant in a Presbyterian church? Give the name of the church. If in an academy, give name of academy and class. If in college, or ready to enter, give name of college and class. If in seminary, or ready to enter, give name of seminary and class. If in a Theological Seminary, has he pursued a full collegiate course leading up to the degree of A.B.? If so, give the name of the college of which he is a graduate. If not a college graduate, has he had the equivalent of a college course? If so, send a detailed statement of his previous studies and career. Has he been recommended to Presbytery by his Church Session? Has he thoroughly committed the Westminster Assembly Shorter Catechism to memory? Has he read a copy of the rules? Does he accept the requirements contained in them? What is the smallest amount required for his needs, in addition to all other resources at his command, for the Board's fiscal year ending April 1 next? Does he expect aid during the year from any other Educational funds? If so, how much? And from what sources?

3. Every candidate seeking aid from the funds of the Board of Education is required to set forth in a paper over his own signature the extent of his inability to provide for himself the necessary funds for his education. The same paper shall contain his pledge that he will refund to the Board of Education all moneys received by him therefrom in any of the contingencies mentioned in Rule III. 8.

4. No candidate shall be received by the Board who has not been a member of the Presbyterian Church, or some closely related body, for at least one year; who has not been recommended to the Presbytery by the Session of the church of which he is a member, and who is not sufficiently advanced in study to enter college, except in extraordinary cases.

III.—SCHOLARSHIPS.

1. The annual scholarships to candidates shall be the same in amount for theological and collegiate students, and not exceed $150; for those in the preparatory course the amount shall not exceed $100.

2. These scholarships shall be paid to a student only on the reception of particular and satisfactory reports from his professors, embracing the following points: Christian Character? Scholarship? Rhetorical Ability? Punctuality? Economy?

3. The Board may increase or diminish, in a general ratio, the scholarships in case of unusual surplus or deficiency in funds.

4. No payment shall be made in advance. Each payment shall be acknowledged by a receipt signed by the candidate or by the person authorized by him to receive it. And this receipt shall contain a pledge to return the amount given, with interest, in case he, of his own accord, turn aside from his ministerial calling.

5. In order to make the times for payments correspond with the date when reports can most readily be secured from the professors, the first payment shall be made on or about the first of November, and the second on or about the first of March.

6. The Board will in no case be responsible for the debts of students, but it is expected of them that the scholarship shall be first applied to the payment of tuition and boarding.

7. The payments to the candidates shall cease regularly at the close of the collegiate year, or earlier, when the time for which they were recommended by the Presbytery has expired, and also as soon as it is determined that they are suffering from prolonged ill health, which may unfit them for the work of the ministry, or as soon as their private circumstances enable them to dispense with assistance; and if they have been manifestly improvident, or have contracted debts without reasonable prospect of payment, or if they have married since the last payment, or if they have received assistance from any other educational board or society, further payments shall be forfeited.

8. The sums of money appropriated by the Board shall be refunded to it, with interest, in case a student fails to enter on or continue in the work of the ministry (unless it appears that he is providentially prevented), or if he ceases to adhere to the standards of the Presbyterian Church, or if he changes his place of study contrary to the directions of the Presbytery, or continue to prosecute his studies at an institution not approved by it or by the Board, or if he withdraws his connection from the Church of which this Board is the organ without furnishing a satisfactory reason.

9. A scholarship afforded by the Presbyterian Church, through the Board of Education, is to be regarded by the candidate who receives its benefit as the Church's cheerful contribution to facilitate and expedite his preparation for the holy ministry, and may be accepted as a gift with the understanding that he is thereby simply obliged to a warmer interest in her efforts for the advancement of the Redeemer's kingdom, and especially to the use of the means necessary to instruct and stimulate her members in the duty of multiplying and sending forth preachers of the Gospel of salvation to all the world. If, however, any candidate should prefer to receive it as a loan, the Board of Education is given authority to lend the amount without interest, and to give the borrower a credit of $150 for each year of service spent, at the conclusion of his education, upon a mission field at home or abroad.

10. While the Church, in providing scholarships for her candidates, makes no specific conditions as to the particular kind of service in the ministry which they will be expected to render upon the completion of their theological training, nor as to the character or situation of the place where they shall labor, nevertheless her judgment is that they ought to cultivate a missionary spirit, as Christlike, apostolic and timely, and that it would be highly becoming in them, under all ordinary circumstances, to offer their services, at the conclusion of their education, for work in missionary fields, ever remembering the abounding destitution in our own country as well as in foreign lands; the peculiar fitness of young men for such work; the honor, privilege and advantage pertaining to it; the natural expectations of the Church which has trained them in the hope that they would endure hardness as good soldiers; and, above all, the spirit of the last command of our ascended Lord.

IV.—CARE OF CANDIDATES.

1. Candidates are required, except in extraordinary cases, and then only with the explicit permission of their Presbyteries, to pursue a thorough course of study, preparatory to that of theology, in institutions that sympathize with the doctrinal teachings of the Presbyterian Church; and, when prepared, to pursue a three years' course of theological studies in some seminary connected with the same Church, and no work of preaching is allowed to interfere with the diligent and faithful prosecution of their prescribed studies until the close.

2. The Board can rely only upon the Education Committee of each Presbytery for the regular care of its own candidates, which should include the constant exercise of a parental oversight over them in spiritual things, and the bestowment of the counsel they need as to their mode of preparation, their place of study, their trials, and the occupation of their time, while not engaged in study, in employments which will tend to qualify them for effective usefulness as pastors or evangelists.

3. The Board shall assist the Presbytery in its care of candidates by furnishing annually to the Education Committee a summary of information from the professors' reports as to the standing of each student; and the Corresponding Secretary shall exercise a general supervisory care over them, also visit and address them, when practicable, at the institution where they are, in regard to their duties and the claims of the office which they have in view.

4. The recommendation of each candidate must be annually renewed by his Presbytery, if possible at the spring meeting, in connection with one from the Session of the church of which he is a member, and a specification must be made of the amount needed by him; and until the notification of these points has been received a student will not be considered as upon the roll for the year.

5. Recommendations, or renewals of them, made by an Education Committee in the interim of the sessions of a Presbytery, shall be received as sufficient, provided its action is reported to the Presbytery at the next session and not countermanded to the Board.

6. If at any time there be discovered in a student such defect in capacity, diligence, and especially in piety, as would render his introduction into the ministry a doubtful measure, it shall be the sacred duty of the Board to communicate without delay the information received to the Education Committee of his Presbytery, and if, on careful inquiry on the part of the Presbytery, no satisfactory explanation of the defect can be obtained, or if no response be received by the Board from the Presbytery or from its Committee on Education within the current quarter, it shall be the duty of the Board to withdraw its aid altogether.

7. Special care should be exercised by the Presbytery in the examination of students who are about to enter upon the theological course, according to the instructions of the Form of Government (Chap. XIV, Sec. 3); and this examination should be conducted by the Presbytery, and be entirely satisfactory as to the "real piety" of the students "and the motives which have influenced them to desire the sacred office," before they are allowed to take the final step toward assuming its great responsibilities.

8. The annual report, occasional publications of this Board, and a copy of the Confession of Faith shall be sent gratis to all students under its care who request them.

V.—PARTICULAR DUTIES OF CANDIDATES.

1. Inasmuch as the great aim of the Church in the establishment of the Board of Education is the increase of holy and faithful preachers of the Gospel, the young brethren who look to this work are earnestly and affectionately reminded that all intellectual acquisitions are of little value without the cultivation of piety, and that they are expected and required to pay special attention to the practical duties of religion, such as reading the Scriptures, secret prayer and meditation, occasional acts of special consecration of themselves to Christ and to His service, as their Redeemer and as the Lord of all, attendance at regular meetings on the Sabbath and during the week, endeavors to promote the salvation of others, and the exhibition at all times of a pious and consistent example.

2. Inasmuch as the scholarships granted by the Board will necessarily fall short of a full support of the students, it will be expected that they and their friends will make all proper exertions to supply whatever may be wanting.

3. When a student shall find it necessary to relinquish study for a time in order to increase his means for support by teaching or otherwise, he shall first obtain the consent of the Education Committee of the Presbytery or of the Board; and if, when given, he shall not be absent from study more than three months, his scholarship will be continued, but if longer, it will be discontinued, or continued in part, according to circumstances.

4. It shall be the duty of each candidate connected with the Board to report himself, soon after the meeting of the General Assembly, to the Education Committee of his Presbytery as to his progress, wants and prospects; and when any of the requisitions of the Board which affect him may not be carried out by teachers or others, it becomes his duty to see that they are attended to, that delays and losses to himself may be prevented.

5. The reception of a scholarship by a student shall be considered as expressing a promise to comply with all the rules and regulations of the Board.

VI.—EXCEPTIONAL CASES.

1. The Board will not ordinarily take under its care as candidates for the ministry any who have not completed a course preparatory to college. If exceptional cases are recommended by Presbyteries the Board should be certified that there has been a season of thorough trial and approval under competent teachers through two or three years.

2. Such students are not to expect the benefit of scholarships for more than two years before entering college.

NOTE.—In stating the place and stage of study of the candidate, name the class and institution in which he will be under instruction for the year which the recommendation is intended to cover; e.g., if the recommendation is made out in the spring, name the institution and class which the candidate is to enter in the fall.

Professor's Report to the Presbyterian Board of Education, 511 WITHERSPOON BUILDING, PHILADELPHIA.

(Date) (Signed) In behalf of the Faculty.

This form is for the use of teachers or professors of literary or theological institutions, in reporting to the Board the progress and character of students for the ministry under their care, who have been recommended by the Presbyteries for aid from the funds of the Church. The grade or opinion on the points specified may be given in the terms High; Medium Plus; Medium; Medium Minus; and Low; or in such other terms as will best express the views of the Reporter. Under "Scholarship," the class standing may be inserted.

The report should be made carefully and conscientiously; and returned, without inspection by others, by the authorized teacher or professor directly to the Board. Any additional remarks or statements will be gratefully received, and may be very helpful.

Regular appropriations are made at the meetings of the Board within the first half of November and March. All reports should be made at those times.

It is respectfully suggested to instructors that it would be well to privately remind students, before the spring meetings of the Presbyteries, of the necessity of the annual renewal of the Presbyterian recommendation to the Board, in order that aid may be continued.

Do not write in this space	NAMES OF STUDENTS.	STAGE OF STUDY.	CHRISTIAN CHARACTER.	SCHOLARSHIP.	RHETORICAL ABILITY.	PUNCTUALITY.	ECONOMY.

“HINTS” to the Chairmen of Education Committees of Presbyteries as to the Recommendation of Candidates to the Presbyterian Board of Education.

1. The Board desire to emphasize particularly the importance of a full and complete answer to every question pertaining to each particular case under consideration. They cannot act upon an incomplete recommendation, whether it be a “renewal” or a “new case,” and omissions, with the consequent necessity for correspondence, cause delay, often greatly to the inconvenience of the candidate.

2. Make sure, before any other action is taken, that the candidate has been recommended to Presbytery by the Session of his Church, as this is the fundamental requirement.

3. Always use the recommendation blanks provided by the Board.

4. Never put renewals on blanks intended for first recommendation; never put first recommendations on renewal blanks. You will thus prevent serious confusion at the office of the Board.

5. Write the recommendations plainly in ink; never use pencil.

6. Do not write anything on the recommendation blanks other than is required by the answers. Additional notes of explanation which may be necessary should be sent in an accompanying letter.

7. In stating the place and stage of study of the candidate, name the class and institution in which he will be under instruction for the year which the recommendation is intended to cover; e.g., if the recommendation is made out in the spring, name the institution and class which the candidate is to enter in the fall.

8. Use new recommendation blank for all candidates who have never been accepted and enrolled by the Board, no matter how many times recommended in past years. Use renewal blank for all candidates who have been at any time enrolled by the Board even though subsequently dropped.

9. If a candidate, who has at any time previously been under the care of the Board, comes to you from another Presbytery, send to us your recommendation in the form of a renewal; and give us the name of the Presbytery from which you receive him.

10. Recommendations for new candidates should be sent in as early as may be convenient; but renewals should ordinarily be deferred until Presbyteries have had time to consider each case in the light of all information obtainable as to candidate's conduct and work during the year. Such cases are not in the least imperiled by the delay occasioned by this patient consideration.

11. If the candidate does not propose to pursue his studies, preparatory to theology, in an institution which sympathizes with the doctrinal teachings of the Presbyterian Church [as our rules require, except in extraordinary cases], send us the assurance that he has the explicit permission of his Presbytery, and the reason for the permission.

12. If the candidate is from a foreign country, the assurance must be sent to us that he intends to exercise his ministry in connection with the Church in the United States.

13. In corresponding about a candidate, always mention the Presbytery to which he belongs. This will help us greatly in looking up his case.

14. Do not mutilate the recommendation blanks, but mail them, properly folded, in a large envelope. This will aid us in filing and indexing.

15. Take no action without careful study of the printed rules prescribed for our mutual guidance by the General Assembly.

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON PUBLICATION AND SABBATH-SCHOOL WORK.

Kansas City, Mo., May 27th, 1908.

Your Committee on Publication and Sabbath-school
Work submits the following report:

From its earliest existence the Presbyterian Church manifested an interest in the subject of good literature. As early as 1772 the General Synod made an appeal to the Church for money with which to purchase useful books for distribution in localities "unable to support the gospel." It was proposed to procure and distribute copies of the Bible, Doddridge's "Rise and Progress of Religion," "A Compassionate Address to the Christian World," Allein's "Alarm to the Unconverted," Dr. Watt's "Divine Signs for Children," and the Assembly's "Catechism." In 1801 the General Assembly ordered, "That there be made a purchase of as many cheap and pious books as a due regard to the other objects of the Assembly's funds will admit, with the view of distributing them, not only along the frontiers," but also "among the poorer classes of people," and the blacks, or "wherever it is thought useful." Among the books thus distributed mention may be made of Fuller's "Gospel Worthy of All Acceptation," and Vincent's "Exposition of the Shorter Catechism."

In 1805 the Trustees of the Assembly were directed to issue a warrant for the purpose of purchasing religious books, "to be distributed among the people of color." In 1806 the Assembly directed that an annual appropriation be made "for the purchasing of religious books, to be distributed in those parts of our Church which most need them."

Tracts were also used in the instruction of the people. In 1809 the Assembly recommended that each Synod take measures for establishing tract societies.

What response the Synods made to this recommendation is not clear. However, in 1833 the Synod of Philadelphia organized "The Presbyterian Tract Society," for the purpose of publishing "tracts and books for the destitute and for the young." But in 1838 the General Assembly determined to undertake "by its own proper authority" the work of furnishing the churches under its care with suitable tracts and Sabbath-school publications"; and to this end a Board was created, which was "directly amenable to said Assembly." The Board organized in accordance with this action was known as "The Board of Publication of Tracts and Sabbath-school Books," and consisted of eighty members, the Society of the Synod of Philadelphia being merged into this Board.

In 1839 the name of the Board was changed to "The Presbyterian Board of Publication," and to the Board was "committed, on behalf of the General Assembly, the publication of such works, permanent and periodical, as are adapted to promote sound learning and true religion."

After the division of the Church, in 1837, into Old School and New School, the Board remained under the control of the Old School branch, while the New School branch finally created "The Presbyterian Publication Committee," which was charged with the publication interests of that Church. After the reunion of the Old School and the New School churches the Board of the one and the Committee of the other were consolidated, in 1870, under the name of the "Presbyterian Board of Publication," consisting of forty members.

But before following the organic life of the Board further it becomes necessary to consider the beginnings of the Sabbath-school work in the Church.

It is stated in the "Sunday-school Movements in America" that "in Colonial days Presbyterian ministers were expected to meet and catechise the children of their charge every week, on Wednesday or Sunday with the help of some of the elders, or, if she were a notable woman, of the pastor's wife. The Westminster Shorter Catechism was taught in the Presbyterian day schools, especially in Pennsylvania. If a child of a Lutheran or Methodist family was in the school, he went through the whole curriculum, and his parents were glad to have it so. After mastering the headings of the spelling-book and some primer, the only other reading book was the Bible. The New Testament was read by the juniors, and the Old Testament by the seniors. With the introduction of Sunday schools at the beginning of the century, this work declined, and the Presbyterians gave large support to the extension of the Sunday-school system."

Time does not permit an enumeration of the various sporadic efforts which were made in the latter part of the eighteenth century and the opening of the nineteenth century to establish Sabbath schools. Suffice it to say that the Presbyterians were an important factor in bringing into existence the modern Sabbath-school system.

In 1814 the Rev. James Patterson took charge of the First Church at Northern Liberties, now a part of Philadelphia, which was then a very feeble church. He soon thereafter made an experiment in the way of Sabbath-school work. "The success of the enterprise led to the formation of similar institutions, until at length the churches of the land, generally, availed themselves of their advantages."

In 1820 the Assembly characterized Sabbath schools as "one of the happiest inventions of the age," and declared that they "are everywhere extending their benign effects both on the teachers and the taught." At that period Sabbath schools were making a decided impression in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other cities.

In 1824 the American Sunday-school Union was organized, which began to impart a national importance to the movement. In this same year the Assembly considered Sabbath schools "as among the most useful and blessed institutions of the present day."

Dr. E. H. Gillett calls attention to the fact that the Church more than doubled its membership from 1825 to 1835. He names, in this connection, the Sabbath school as one of the agencies employed in this period of remarkable growth. It was during this time that "plans were entertained for establishing Sunday schools extensively throughout the Mississippi Valley, for placing a Bible in each family throughout the land, for disseminating tracts and religious books in connection with the American Tract Society, then recently established at New York, and for the general cause of ministerial education and home missionary enterprise."

The Church continued to give its hearty sympathy and best energies to the development of Sabbath-school work as well as to the publication and dissemination of good literature. In 1870 the Assembly adopted the following prophetic language: "They regard the work of the Church to be prosecuted through this agency as scarcely second to that of any of our Boards. It is not only closely related to our missionary enterprises, but is itself, in many of its aspects, a missionary work. Its aim is the dissemination of vital truth, both among congregations already established and among the people who are never reached by the heralds of salvation. It is at once auxiliary to the ministry and of itself a ministry."

In 1871 the Assembly instructed the Board "so to enlarge its arrangements as to make the Sabbath-school work a prominent and organic part of its operations." In 1872 the Board reported that "the instructions of the last Assembly had been carried out." From this time on the Board has been charged with two distinct branches of work, viz.: that of publication and that of Sabbath-school work. In order to make this double function of the Board more effective, it was reorganized in 1887, taking the name of the "Presbyterian Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work," the reorganized Board consisting of twenty-four members, one half being ministers and one half ruling elders.

The Assembly in 1906 "assigned the supervision of the work of our Young People's Societies to this Board, directing that an additional department of the Board be created, and a superintendent employed."

At the present time the work of the Board is carried on under four departments, viz.: Sabbath-school and Missionary Work, Young People's Work, Editorial, and Business.

OFFICIAL RECORDS EXAMINED.

Your Committee has examined the Minutes of the Board, including the Minutes of the several Committees, and find them all neatly and accurately kept. Your Committee has also examined the report of the Board submitted to this Assembly, and has had personal conferences with officers of the Board, and reports thereon as follows:

DEPARTMENT OF SABBATH-SCHOOL AND MISSIONARY WORK.

Every State and Territory in the United States, except New England, has been included in the scope of the Board's missionary operations during the year. The Board has had 137 missionaries and 29 colporteurs laboring in the bounds of 35 Synods and 120 Presbyteries. Of these 166 laborers, 14 were Synodical. These missionaries have encouraged and otherwise aided 2,691 schools, the membership of which is 112,836. These missionaries have made 108,867 visits upon families, and have held 4,949 evangelistic services, in which there were 2,523 conversions reported.

Institutes and Conventions to the number of 1,351 were held by these workers. They sold and gave away 14,553 volumes and 1,569,775 pages of religious tracts and periodicals. By gift and sale they distributed 9,671 Bibles and Testaments.

The number of churches developed during the year was 96, of these 82 are Presbyterian and 14 are of other denominations. As the outgrowth of the work 83 Presbyterian chapels and church buildings have been erected, their value being $168,190.

The Board's report says: "During the period of twenty-one years since the Board was reorganized 1,147 Presbyterian churches have grown from our mission Sabbath schools, an average of 54 new Presbyterian churches every year. Other denominations sharing in the fruits of the work have gathered 542 churches, making a total of 1,689, an average of 80 churches each year." This means that the Board has been instrumental in establishing a new church about every five days for the past twenty-one years.

During the past year the Board has given special attention to the subject of Sabbath-school training. Efforts have been made in various ways to improve the work now being done in our schools. We commend these efforts of the Board, and trust they will be enlarged more and more. Especially would we call attention to the movement known as the "Adult Organized Bible Class," and the subject of "Teacher Training." We commend the Board's course in taking hold of these important features of Sabbath-school work, and would encourage it to go forward in the same.

The Board reports the Foreign Colporteur work as follows: "During the past year 29 colporteurs have labored among Italians, French, Spanish, Portuguese, Bohemians, Ruthenians, Slovaks, Russians and other Slavic peoples; Hungarians (Magyar), Lithuanians and other foreigners in California, Delaware, Illinois, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas.

"The number of families visited in the course of their labors is 35,937. During these visits they distributed by sale and gift 7,789 religious books and 221,931 pages of tracts, besides 5,645 Bibles, Testaments and portions of Scripture in at least twenty different languages. Their total sales amounting to $1,397.29."

Periodicals in foreign languages published by the Board: (1) Krestanske Listy ("The Christian Journal"). This is a Bohemian weekly, 2,600 copies being issued. (2) Reformatusok Lapja ("The Reformed Sentinel"), and Oromhir ("The Evangel"). These are Hungarian papers, the first being a weekly and the second a monthly publication. (3) Nash a Zyzn ("Our Life"). This is the only evangelical publication in the Ruthenian tongue in the United States. (4) In addition to these periodicals, 10,000 picture cards, with appropriate comments, are printed each week in six foreign languages.

The cost of the entire foreign work for the year was $22,225, the receipts from Rally Day collections being about $15,000.

DEPARTMENT OF YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK.

Your Committee notes with gratification the advance that has been made during the year, and the encouraging prospect for the future, under the aggressive leadership of the Rev. Willis L. Gelston, who entered upon his duties last September.

Special plans have been outlined with a view of meeting the needs of our young people, that they may be better trained for service. These plans embrace organization, inspiration and education, each of which merits the hearty coöperation of pastors, sessions, presbyterial and synodical committees.

Your Committee observes with pleasure the favor that has been extended to this department in the liberal amount of space given to articles on Young People's Work by the religious press generally and by the publications of our own Church particularly.

EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Board deserves the thanks of the Church for the high-grade literature it is publishing. Our Sabbath schools should supply themselves liberally with this literature, because it is of the best quality, and because the schools will do more efficient work when so supplied, and because two thirds of the net profit from such subscriptions go into the missionary department to be used for the establishing of new schools.

The editorial work is one of the most essential features of this department under the supervision of the Board. The secretary, the Rev. Alexander Henry, D. D., has well said: "It was, for many years, its chief, if not its entire work. The passing years, however, have made a marked change in the business of publication; and, at the same time, in the demand for different kinds of publications. The rise of the great publishing houses at home and abroad has made it possible to secure from them books, which in the earlier days, the Board would have published. On the other hand, the introduction of the international uniform Sunday-school lesson system has created a demand for graded lesson helps and Sunday-school literature of various kinds that were not dreamed of in former years. It has thus come to pass that the general literature of the Church is now supplied to a large extent by the great publishing houses of international fame and activity, while the Church more and more depends upon the Board for its Sabbath-school literature of all kinds. The Board realizes the responsibility thus laid upon it, and is endeavoring to meet it to the best of its ability. Its aim is to provide the very best Sabbath-school lesson helps and papers that can be produced. Taking its Sabbath-school literature as a whole, it believes that it has measurably succeeded in these efforts."

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT.

The Board reports that "the capital at the beginning of the year, according to the balance sheet of the last report, was $290,202.76. The net profits of the year were $20,993.91. Of this sum two thirds, or $13,995.94, have been placed to the credit of the Sabbath-school and Missionary Fund, in accordance with the direction of the General Assembly, and will be paid in quarterly instalments during the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1909. The remaining third, or $6,997.97, has been added to the capital, making the amount as now reported $297,200.73."

Owing to the financial depression, as might be expected, the net profits of the year are somewhat less than those of the preceding year.

In 1888 the Business Department, by direction of the Assembly, began the custom of setting aside for the benefit of the Department of Sunday-school Missions, two thirds of its profits every year. In the twenty-one years that have elapsed since that time $386,034 have thus been credited to the Sabbath-school missionary work.

Omitting the first four years, when the profits were comparatively small, the amounts thus contributed from the Business Department of the Board to its Sunday-school missionary work have averaged more than $20,000 a year.

In addition to this sum, the Business Department has paid for the past ten years an annual rental of $15,000 for that part of the Witherspoon Building which it occupies, all of which ultimately becomes an asset of the Missionary Department.

THE PUBLISHING HOUSE AT NASHVILLE, TENN.

This has been a leading, most useful and cherished institution of the Church, which it served so long and so well. Located, as it is, in a section of the country in which our Church is developing as never before, your Committee regards its support, maintenance and increased usefulness as of the highest strategic importance.

The financial statement of the house shows resources of $250,509.98, and liabilities of $40,873.57, making net resources of $212,658.79. The net profits of the year were $6,493.96, which is somewhat less than usual, due to the same causes which have affected business in general.

COÖPERATION ON THE FIELD.

In giving the reasons why the Sabbath-school missionary work should not be transferred to the Board of Home Missions, the Committee on Administrative Agencies says that "the men employed by the Board of Publication and Sabbath-

School Work are especially qualified for their work, which is distinct from that of founding churches; they work well together under the present management, while their transfer to the other Board might introduce, for a time at least, an element of confusion, and a temptation to combine the work of the Church missionary with that of the Sabbath-school missionary, to the possible detriment of both."

In view of the weight of this reason, it is suggested to our Synods and Presbyteries that they should keep this idea before them in planning the future work, so that the most thorough understanding and the heartiest coöperation may be had between the home missionaries and the Sabbath-school missionary workers.

The Rev. Elijah R. Craven, D. D., LL. D., Secretary Emeritus of the Board, passed from earth in January, 1908, aged nearly eighty-four years. He was secretary of the Board for eighteen years, from 1887 to 1905. He was a man of high scholarship as a Biblical exegete; of great reputation as an ecclesiastical jurist; Moderator of the General Assembly of 1885; senior trustee of Princeton University and a director of the Princeton Theological Seminary; the writer of much of the revised Book of Discipline; a courteous and consecrated Christian gentleman, with a sagacity developed by age and experience; above all, possessing a character exalted by grace, suffering and labor. Dr. Craven died honored and beloved by all for his conscientious and faithful discharge of duty.

We make the following recommendations for adoption by the Assembly:

1. The General Assembly of 1907 recommended "that the Board consider the advisability of the exclusive use of the Standard American Revised Text of the Scriptures in all its Sabbath-school periodicals." After a most careful consideration and extended investigation the Board states the case and its conclusion as follows: "We already give this Revision in connection with the Authorized Version in our Quarterlies and the Westminster Teacher. There are reasons, however, why, it seems to us, it would be unwise to use this version exclusively. Many, perhaps a large majority, of our people still use the Authorized Version and, because of its familiarity to them, prefer it. The Authorized Version, at least in our churches in the East, is read exclusively in most of the public services. It is probably also read in the majority of our Sunday schools. Indeed, the arrangement of the Revised Version in paragraphs, without verse divisions, makes it difficult of use in alternate readings, and in most Sunday schools the Scriptures are read in this way. We are satisfied that an effort to dislodge the Authorized Version from our lesson helps would meet with great objection in nearly every part of the country. We feel that the best ends will be served by continuing to use both versions in parallel columns. Thus teachers have the advantage of comparing the two and getting from the Revision the best results of textual criticism embodied therein."

It is recommended that the General Assembly concur in the conclusion reached by the Board.

2. Recognizing the fact that the organization of new Sabbath schools and the development of existing schools are but different phases of the Sabbath-school work, the Assembly expresses its approval of the plan of making use of the services of the Sabbath-school missionaries to promote the development of Sabbath schools wherever the character of their fields admit of such work.

3. That the Synóds and Presbyteries in the appointment of committees make an effort to secure efficient Sabbath-school men; and that, so far as possible, laymen known as leaders in this work be sought.

4. That the Assembly urges church sessions to see that their respective Sabbath schools observe Children's Day (second Sabbath in June), and that offerings be taken and sent to the Board to be used in the extension of its Sabbath-school work.

5. That the Assembly urges church sessions to see that their respective Sabbath schools observe Rally Day (last Sabbath in September), and that offerings be made and sent to the Board to be used in evangelizing our foreign population.

6. That the Assembly approves the Forward Movement recently inaugurated by the Young People's Department, which has for its object the stimulation of Christian activities and the securing of a more thorough religious education.

7. That the Individual Study Course and the Ten Minute Supplemental Lesson Course promoted by the Young People's Department be recommended for use, and that our young people send to the Information Bureau for plans of organization and methods of work.

8. That the Assembly commends the Young People's Department for planning the Summer Conference to be held at Winona Lake, Ind., and affectionately advises our young people to avail themselves of this opportunity for studying methods of work.

9. That the first Sabbath in February be designated as Young People's Day; that an appropriate service be held on the evening of this day; and that an opportunity then be given for making offerings to be used in the interest of this department.

10. The term of office of the following members of the Board will expire next month:

Ministers:

REV. JOHN HARVEY LEE,
REV. FRANK LUKENS,
REV. JOHN B. LAIRD, D. D.,
REV. ROBERT HUNTER, D. D.

Elders:

HON. R. N. WILLSON,
ABRAHAM R. PERKINS,
J. MILTON COLTON,
BERNARD GILPIN,
JOHN H. DEWITT,
W. T. HARDISON.

It is recommended that these ministers and elders be and hereby are reëlected to serve for three years.

11. The term of service of Rev. W. A. Provine, D. D., Mr. Hamilton Parks, and Mr. M. G. Wood, members of the Board of Publication of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, located at Nashville, Tennessee, expires at this time, and it is recommended that they be and hereby are reëlected for the term of three years.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN V. STEPHENS, Chairman.

SEVENTIETH ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE Presbyterian Board of Publication and Sabbath-School Work.

APPROVED BY THE BOARD, APRIL 28TH, 1908.

In presenting to the General Assembly the Seventieth Annual Report of the Board of Publication and Sabbath-school Work, covering the year beginning April 1st, 1907, and closing March 31st, 1908, we look back and rejoice that for seventy years this Board has been privileged to serve the Presbyterian Church and the Kingdom of our Lord; and we look forward with hopeful expectation as we realize that this last year has been, in many ways, the most fruitful year of the long record.

During this year we have been carrying forward the work previously begun, with no abatement of vigor; while we have, at the same time, enlarged our sphere of service by entering upon new fields of usefulness. Among these, the most prominent are the inviting opportunities for Sabbath-school missions opened to us by our union with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church; and the far-reaching realm of influence afforded by the new work for the young people, which the General Assembly instructed us to undertake.

THE DEATH OF DR. CRAVEN.

On the 5th of January, 1908, the Rev. Elijah R. Craven, D. D., LL. D., Secretary-Emeritus of this Board, entered upon his heavenly reward. His life was long, active and influential. For eighteen years he was the Secretary of the Board of Publication and Sabbath-School work. During that time, Dr. Craven devoted himself to the interests of the Board, and his earnestness and fidelity were most conspicuous. Marked progress was made during this period in all the departments of the Board's work. All who were associated with him during these years of service were impressed by his scholarly attainments, his intellectual ability and his devoted spirit.

THE EXCLUSIVE USE OF THE AMERICAN REVISION.

The General Assembly of 1907 recommended that the Board consider "the advisability of the exclusive use of the Standard American revised text of the Scriptures in all its Sabbath-school periodicals."

Realizing the importance of this subject, the Editorial Committee of the Board has, during the past year, given it careful consideration. It has been discussed at several meetings of the committee, and correspondence has been had with the other publishing houses that issue Sunday-school periodicals.

As a result of this extended investigation and discussion, the Editorial Committee presented to the Board, at its February meeting, the following report, which was unanimously adopted:

We have carefully considered the matter of the exclusive use of the American Revised Version of the Scriptures in our Lesson Helps. We already give this Revision in connection with the Authorized Version in our Quarterlies and The Westminster Teacher. There are reasons, however, why, it seems to us, it would be unwise to use this version exclusively. Many, perhaps a large majority, of our people still use the Authorized Version, and because of its familiarity to them, prefer it. The Authorized Version, at least in our churches in the East, is read exclusively in most of the public services. It is probably also read in the majority of Sunday schools. Indeed, the arrangement of the Revised Version in paragraphs, without verse division, makes it difficult to use in alternate readings, and in most Sunday schools the Scriptures are read in this way.

We are satisfied that an effort to dislodge the Authorized Version from our lesson helps would meet with great objection in nearly every part of the country. We feel that the best ends will be served by continuing to use both versions in parallel columns. Thus teachers have the advantage of comparing the two and getting from the Revision the best results of textual criticism embodied therein.

We have corresponded with the publishing houses of other denominations, and in almost every case we find that they are following the same course that we are following.

Further, apart from any question of the favor of the Christian public given to one version or the other, or of the comparative merits of the two versions, it seems obvious to the Board that it will not be expedient to take any action committing the Board or the Church to an exclusive dependence upon a version of the Holy Bible which is the private copyright property of another publishing house.

A NEW CATECHISM.

For a number of years the Board has endeavored to promote the study of the Westminster Shorter Catechism by presenting a Bible to scholars who, under certain conditions, commit the Catechism to memory.

In the prosecution of these efforts, letters are frequently received from pastors and Sunday-school superintendents, saying that they find it impossible to use the Shorter Catechism in any satisfactory way in their schools, and expressing the hope that a more modern and simple summary of doctrine and duty might be prepared.

To meet the need thus expressed, the Board appointed a committee to consider the entire question of the preparation of a brief and simple Catechism. It was not intended that this new Catechism should take the place of the Shorter Catechism, but that it should provide a manual that could be used by Sunday schools wishing to instruct their scholars in this way.

The Committee gave considerable thought to this subject, but when it learned that an overture had been sent to the General Assembly, asking the Assembly to appoint a committee to prepare a new Catechism, it reported to the Board advising that "awaiting the action of the Assembly, nothing further be done in the premises by this Board."

DEVELOPMENT OF OUR WORK.

The passing years have necessarily wrought changes in the character of the work of the Board. In earlier years, the chief duty of the Board was the publication of books and tracts. In later years Sabbath-school publications of all kinds became more prominent. Following this, the attention of the Board was directed to the organization of Sunday schools in spiritually destitute places. During recent years, while carrying forward and developing the work already in hand, its energies have been directed into three special lines of work, which are already yielding most satisfactory results.

I. THE IMPROVEMENT OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

The care of the Sunday schools of the Church has been committed to this Board by the General Assembly, and has, for many years, been part of its work. It was not possible, however, for the Board to give this subject the attention it deserved until the recent reorganization enabled it to appoint a Superintendent of Sabbath-school Training, and take up the subject in a more definite and detailed manner.

During the past year, a further advance in this direction has been made by utilizing the services of our Sabbath-school missionaries. Last June our Synodical Superintendents were instructed to give special attention to this feature of Sabbath-school effort. They were told that a prominent part of their duty in the future would be, "To plan for and assist in holding Sabbath-school Institutes, in conjunction with Synodical and Presbyterial Sabbath-school committees; and, in conference with the Secretary of the Board, to arrange and conduct series of Sabbath-school meetings in the interests of the development of Sabbath-school work, and a better knowledge of Presbyterian Sabbath-school missions."

In carrying out these new plans, series of Sabbath-school meetings, some of them lasting for several weeks, have been held during the past year, in Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Missouri, North and South Dakota, Montana, Oregon and California. These meetings have been warmly commended, and the hope frequently expressed that similar conferences might be held in the future.

Another step in this same direction has been the appointment of an Educational Sabbath-school missionary for Wisconsin. The first duty of such a missionary is to promote the development of the Sunday schools within his territory. This plan will be followed in other states as the opportunity presents itself. It is confidently hoped that in this way our Sabbath-school missionaries will be of service, not only in the organization of new Sunday schools, but in the development of the Sunday schools now in existence.

II. PUBLICATIONS IN FOREIGN LANGUAGES.

The awakening interest of the Church in the evangelization of our foreign citizens, has created a demand for literature in foreign languages. This new work has naturally been committed to the Board of Publication, and during the last three years considerable progress has been made in this direction.

Beginning with Krestanske Listy ("Christian Journal"), an illustrated weekly of sixteen pages, published at Pittsburg, Pa., for the Bohemians, Moravians, Slovaks and others, the Board has gone forward in its publications in foreign languages until it is now publishing two sixteen-page weeklies, a monthly magazine, a Sunday-school journal, and ten thousand Bible-picture cards, weekly, in six foreign languages. A detailed statement regarding these foreign publications will be found in the appended reports. The facts therein set forth will be full of interest to all who are seeking the welfare of these strangers within our gates.

III. WORK FOR OUR YOUNG PEOPLE.

The most recent undertaking of the Board has been its new department of work for Presbyterian young people.

Obeying the instructions of the General Assembly, a new department of Young People's Work was organized by the Board, and a Superintendent elected.

A detailed statement of the progress made during the past year in this work, together with our plans for the future, will be found in the supplemental reports. We desire at this time simply to call attention to the gratifying advance that has been already made, and the encouraging prospects for the future.

Under the wise and aggressive leadership of the Rev. Willis L. Gelston, the Superintendent of our Young People's Department, the Board has entered earnestly into this most important field of service. The response of the young people to the work that has been done for them has been very encouraging, and the Board is prepared to press onward with added zeal and effort.

It is necessary, as we look forward to this rapidly developing work and consider the claims it will make upon us in the near future, to have regard to the question of ways and means. The annual report of the Board to the General Assembly of 1907, speaking of the plans for the prosecution of work for the young people, suggested that, "The expenses of the department shall be met, so far as possible, by annual contributions from young people's organizations." In order to carry out this recommendation effectively, the Board asks the General Assembly to authorize it to present this financial plan to the young people's organizations that are being helped by our efforts; and that the Assembly recommend our young people to coöperate with the Board in securing the necessary funds for carrying on this special phase of the work.

TEMPERANCE LITERATURE.

During the year the Board has printed for the Permanent Committee on Temperance literature to the value of one thousand dollars, for free distribution among our churches and Sabbath schools. In view of the importance of this subject, the Board proposes, with the approval of the General Assembly, to publish, in conjunction with the Permanent Committee on Temperance, an equal amount of temperance literature during the coming year for the same purpose.

EXPENDITURES AND RECEIPTS.

The development of old work and the taking up of new work, have necessarily increased the missionary expenditures of the Board during the past year, the total amount being $187,704.23.

On the other hand, we are able to report a large increase in the contributions received from churches, Sabbath schools and individuals.

We began the year with a debt of $5,607.27, but closed it with a credit balance of $2,450.55.

During the year ending March 31, 1907, we received contributions amounting to $136,695.59; this year we received $160,971.96. This is an increase of $24,276.37; or, in other words, an increase of nearly eighteen per cent. over the contributions of the previous year.

We are grateful that during a year of financial depression we should have received the largest amount of contributions, and made the largest increase of any year in the history of the Board.

The details of the work that has been done, and of the income received and spent, will be found in the appended reports, to which we ask your careful consideration.

EXPIRATION OF TERM OF OFFICE.

The term of office of the following members of the Board will expire next month :

REV. JOHN HARVEY LEE,
REV. FRANK LUKENS,
REV. JOHN B. LAIRD, D. D.,
REV. ROBERT HUNTER, D. D.

Elders:

HON. R. N. WILLSON,
ABRAHAM R. PERKINS,
J. MILTON COLTON,
BERNARD GILPIN,
JOHN H. DEWITT,
W. T. HARDISON.

The Board respectfully recommends to the Assembly that these ministers and elders be re-elected to serve for three years.

REPRESENTATION AT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The Hon. Robert N. Willson, President of the Board, and Mr. John H. Converse were requested and authorized to represent the Board, in connection with the Secretary, at the meeting of the General Assembly.

DEPARTMENT OF SABBATH-SCHOOL AND MISSIONARY WORK

THE FIELD. Every State and Territory in the Union, excepting New England, has been included in the missionary operations of this Board during the past year. In response to an urgent appeal from Boston Presbytery, a Sabbath-school missionary has just been appointed for New England, beginning his work April 1, 1908. (See page 25.)

THE WORKERS. In these States and Territories, the Board has had at work 137 Sabbath-school missionaries and 29 colporteurs, laboring within the bounds of 35 Synods and 120 Presbyteries. Of these 14 were Synodical and 152 were Presbyterial workers, making a total of 166.

NEW SABBATH SCHOOLS ORGANIZED. They have organized 738 new Sabbath schools and revived 279, a total of 1,017, into which have been gathered 3,366 officers and teachers, and 32,967 scholars, making a total membership of 36,333.

DEVELOPING MISSION SCHOOLS. Our missionaries have encouraged and otherwise aided 2,691 Sabbath schools which are under their care. The membership of these schools is 112,836.

WORK OTHER THAN ORGANIZATION. These missionaries have made 108,867 visits upon families, and have held 4,949 evangelistic services, in which 2,523 conversions came under their observation. Sabbath-school institutes and conventions to the number of 1,351 have been held.

An important part of the work of these missionaries is the distribution by sale and gift of evangelical literature. In this work our missionaries have sold and given away 14,553 volumes and 1,569,775 pages of religious tracts and periodicals. They have distributed also, by gift and sale, 9,671 Bibles and

Testaments. (This includes the literature distributed by our missionary colporteurs.)

CHURCHES DEVELOPED. The number of churches developed by our Sabbath-school missionaries from their schools during the past year is 96, of which 82 are Presbyterian and 14 of other denominations. (See page 26.)

PRESBYTERIAN BUILDINGS. During the year 83 Presbyterian chapels and church buildings were erected as the outgrowth of the labors of our Sabbath-school missionaries. The value of these buildings is $168,190. It thus becomes apparent that a large percentage of the entire cost of Sabbath-school Missionary work is returned to the Presbyterian Church each year in the money value of the buildings erected.

SABBATH SCHOOLS ORGANIZED UNDER THE BOARD'S OFFER OF EQUIPMENT. Forty-five Sabbath schools organized by other than Sabbath-school missionaries, have thus been helped.

SABBATH SCHOOLS AIDED. Several hundred mission Sabbath schools have been assisted, during the year, by grants of periodicals, hymnals, libraries and other equipment.

CLOTHING DISTRIBUTED.

Again we express our gratitude to the Women's Societies, Mission Bands, and Sabbath schools from which donations of clothing have been received by our Sabbath-school missionaries, for distribution among the needy on their fields of labor. The reports show that 54 boxes and barrels of clothing were distributed, valued at $2,491.76.

REVIEW OF TWENTY-ONE YEARS' WORK.

During the period of twenty-one years since the Board was reorganized, 1,147 Presbyterian churches have grown from our mission Sabbath schools, an average of 54 new Presbyterian churches every year. Other denominations sharing in the fruits of the work have gathered 542 churches, making a total of 1,689, an average of 80 churches each year.

SYNODICAL AND PRESBYTERIAL SABBATH SCHOOL COMMITTEES.

It is gratifying to note the increasing appreciation of the importance of the work of the Sabbath-school Committee in Presbyteries and Synods throughout the Church. Almost every one of the Western Synods has taken official action, appointing the day preceding the sessions of the Synod for a Sabbath-school Institute. Presbyterian Institutes have been held with encouraging results, and there are signs of an awakening to larger efforts which will bear fruit during the coming year.

THE FORWARD MOVEMENT IN SABBATH-SCHOOL MISSIONS.

During the year twenty-one churches, Sabbath schools and individuals have agreed to become responsible for partial support, and in some cases for the entire support, of their own Sabbath-school mission field. These pledges are for different amounts, varying from $100.00 to $800.00 per year.

GRANTS.

The following grants were made:

Periodicals, books and tracts, to Sabbath schools, churches, pastors and missionary workers	$9,450.33
Bibles as rewards for memorizing Shorter Catechism	1,055.52
Grant of Westminster Teacher to Foreign Mission Stations...	431.66
Total	$10,937.51

Contributions to the amount of $1,937.64 were made through the Board to aid in the erection of chapels, and to other special objects as designated by the contributors.

CHILDREN'S DAY AND RALLY DAY.

Last year the demand for our Children's Day and Rally Day supplies was larger than ever before. A deeper interest is being manifested by Sabbath-school officers, teachers and scholars throughout the Church. While the offerings from Sabbath schools last year show an increase of $16,149.15 over the previous year, we look for an additional increase during 1908-1909. The amount received last year from Sabbath schools is $84,681.09.

OUR FOREIGN COLPORTEUR WORK.

During the past year, twenty-nine colporteurs have labored among Italians, French, Spanish, Portuguese, Bohemians, Ruthenians, Slovaks, Russians, and other Slavic peoples; Hungarians (Magyar); Lithuanians, and other foreigners, in California, Delaware, Illinois, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas. (See page 27.) Some have labored during the entire year, and others for shorter periods.

The number of families visited in the course of their labors is 35,937. During these visits, they distributed by sale and gift 7,789 religious books, and 221,931 pages of tracts, besides 5,645 Bibles, Testaments and portions of Scripture in at least twenty different languages. Their total sales amounted to $1,397.29.

Encouraging reports have been received from the various fields in which these colporteurs have been at work. In Chester, Pennsylvania, the work of Rev. Felix Santilli among Italians has been greatly blessed. The average attendance at the preaching service is above two hundred, and many have signified their desire to unite with the Presbyterian Church. In Wilmington, Delaware, we have an Italian Sabbath school with an average attendance of eighty. Thirty-five men and women have united with the Presbyterian Church upon profession of faith in Christ. These are illustrations of the work that is being done through these Gospel messengers in the various fields in which they are laboring.

OUR FOREIGN PERIODICALS.

Krestanske Listy ("The Christian Journal"), our Bohemian weekly paper, has made good progress. We are now publishing 2,600 copies each week. The cost of the paper is somewhat less than last year, while the income shows an increase of $1,103.19, nearly twice as much as was received the previous year. Part of this income represents the amount paid by the American Tract Society for copies of "The Christian Journal" sent to the subscribers to Cesko Slovansky Svet ("The Bohemian World"), the publication of which was discontinued. Our Board agreed to send "The Christian Journal" to all whose subscriptions to "The Bohemian World" had not expired, at the actual cost of the papers furnished.

Our Hungarian papers, Reformatusok Lapja ("The Reformed Sentinel"), (weekly), and Oromhir ("The Evangel"), (monthly), have been published regularly, although the cost has been somewhat heavier than was anticipated. The unsettled condition of the Hungarian work, in view of the attitude of the Reformed Church of Hungary, has placed some difficulties in the way of the work. However, an arrangement has now been entered into, by which the cost of the weekly paper for the year 1908-1909 will not exceed $1,750.00, against $3,166.23 for the year just closed. The cost of publishing "The Evangel" also will be somewhat diminished.

The Ruthenian publication, Nash a Zyzn ("Our Life"), under the charge of Mr. Joseph Kosowy, is doing much good as the only evangelical publication in the Ruthenian tongue in the United States. Recent developments which have led to the estrangement of the majority of the Ruthenians from the Catholic Church, have opened a splendid opportunity to Presbyterians for work among them. Representatives of Ruthenians in America have invited the Presbyterian Church to prosecute the work among that people in an aggressive way.

Our Bible picture cards are becoming increasingly popular. Other denominations laboring among foreign speaking peoples are purchasing quantities of them for use in their mission schools. The number published is 10,000 each week. Appropriate comments upon the picture are printed on the back of the cards, in six foreign languages.

The cost of our entire foreign work for the year is $22,225.09. The contributions on Rally Day exceeded $15,000.00, a substantial increase over last year.

SHORTER CATECHISM.

The statistical reports from Sabbath schools show an increase of 142 in the number regularly studying the Shorter Catechism. The total reported is 3,652.

During the year, 677 Oxford Bibles have been presented as rewards to Sabbath-school scholars who have committed the Shorter Catechism to memory.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

The thanks of the Board are extended to the American Bible Society for its promptness in responding to our request for copies of the Scriptures in English, for distribution by our Sabbath-school missionaries.

We record with special gratitude our acknowledgment of the coöperation that has been accorded us by the Pennsylvania Bible Society. In our work among foreigners, it has assisted in the support of colporteurs in certain localities. It has also furnished Scriptures to our colporteurs within the State of Pennsylvania without cost to our Board. Thus it has greatly assisted our labors among foreign speaking peoples.

FINANCIAL.

The contributions from churches, Sabbath schools and individuals show the largest increase ever recorded by our Board for a single year. This increase, amounting to $24,276.37, is greater than the combined increase of the five preceding years.

We closed the year with a balance to our credit of $2,450.55.

The cost of administration is reduced to 5 per cent. The two-thirds profit appropriated to the Missionary Fund by the Business Department, at the close of the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1907, met the entire cost of administration for the ensuing twelve months, and left $16,213.33 for the general fund.

The following table shows the growth in contributions during the past nine years an increase of 79.8 per cent. since 1899:

1899-1900	99,929.04
1900-1901	105,017.28
1901-1902	113,154.98
1902-1903	118,772.02
1903-1904	121,698.11
1904-1905	125,150.55
1905-1906	130,119.00
1906-1907	136,695.59
1907-1908	160,971.96

In nine years:—

Church offerings increased 71 per cent.

Sabbath-school offerings increased 62 per cent.

Individual offerings increased 267 per cent.

SABBATH-SCHOOL TRAINING.

Sabbath-school training means the improvement of the Sabbath school. It endeavors to do for the Sabbath school what teacher training is doing for the teacher. Sabbath-school work, in its broader aspects, has its two fields of activity: the organizing of schools; and the improvement or training of schools. This work of training is not limited to our mission schools, but includes all the Sabbath schools of the Presbyterian Church. What the International Sunday-school Association is doing so efficiently for the Sunday schools of all denominations this Board wishes to do for the Sunday schools of our Church.

There are three special ways in which we do this: By the preparation of helpful literature; by encouraging the organization of teacher-training classes, and by the holding of Sabbath-school institutes.

LITERATURE. The Westminster Teacher is giving special attention to Sabbath-school training, and its articles upon this subject are proving very helpful to pastors and superintendents who wish to keep themselves informed as to modern methods of Sabbath-school work.

Leaflets, treating some particular subject, are being prepared from time to time, and sent to pastors and superintendents. The leaflets on "Teacher Training Classes," "Rally Day Suggestions," "Evangel Days in the Sabbath school," "Within Reach of All," and "The Parable of the Harvest," are illustrations of what we are doing in this direction.

The Board is publishing a series of handbooks dealing with practical Sabbath-school questions, which will be found very helpful by our Sabbath-school workers. Among these handbooks we would especially mention a manual by the Rev. A. H. McKinney, Ph. D., "The Sunday School Graded. Who? What? How?" A book by Marion Lawrance, is now in the course of preparation, entitled "Housing the Sunday School." It will deal with Sunday-school architecture and equipment. Mr. W. C. Pearce is preparing a manual upon "The Adult Organized Bible Class," which we hope to publish shortly. Similar handbooks will be published from time to time.

TEACHER TRAINING. This subject is being brought to the attention of pastors and superintendents by letters, leaflets and addresses delivered at institutes and conferences. We are glad to report that interest in this matter is constantly growing; and that teacher-training classes are being organized in all parts of the Church. In 1905, the Board published, in two volumes, "The Westminster Teacher Training Course." This is being used in a large number of schools.

Some of our Sunday schools have reported that they find "The Westminster Teacher Training Course" too difficult for their teachers and scholars. In view of this demand for an alternate course, the Board has entered upon the preparation of another teacher training book. We are being assisted in the preparation of this new course by the Rev. A. L. Phillips, D. D., General Superintendent, Sabbath-school and Young People's Society Work in the Presbyterian Church, U. S. The book will be used by Presbyterian Sunday schools both North and South, and will be another tie to draw our Churches more closely together.

SABBATH-SCHOOL INSTITUTES. As a necessary supplement to organized Sabbath-school work under the auspices of the International Sunday-school Association, the Board aims to encourage the holding of distinctively Presbyterian Sabbath-school institutes, in connection with the meetings of Presbytery and Synod; or at such times and places as may seem most appropriate. In these, denominational topics can be discussed and denominational work forwarded.

The Board will gladly render assistance, so far as possible, in the holding of these Presbyterian Sabbath-school institutes. We have prepared sample programs, leaflets relating to special topics, and a series of questions to guide a conference, which we will send to any one asking for them. The missionaries of the Board have been instructed to give all possible assistance to the Sabbath-school workers of the Church, in the holding of conferences and institutes. During the past year, series of Sabbath-school conferences have been held by our missionaries in a number of states, with beneficial results to the Sabbath-school workers attending them. The Board wishes to enlarge this special field as rapidly as possible. It is proposed, in connection with the annual Sabbath-school missionary conferences to hold institutes for the benefit of the Sabbath-school superintendents and teachers of the city in which the conferences are held.

During the past year, the Rev. James A. Worden, D. D., Superintendent of Sabbath-school Training, in the prosecution of his special duties, has attended a number of Sabbath-school and missionary conferences, lectured in our theological seminaries, and made Sabbath-school tours in various parts of the country. In this work the main emphasis has been placed upon Sabbath-school evangelism, the organized Bible class, teacher training, and missions in the Sabbath school.

Doctor Worden, in conjunction with our Synodical Superintendents, is planning to hold series of conferences and institutes throughout the Church for the purpose of bringing instruction and inspiration to those who are at work in our Presbyterian Sunday schools.

DEPARTMENT OF YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK.

The Young People's Department was not fully established until last September, and has, therefore, been in operation less than nine months. The work that it has been able to accomplish in that time is twofold: First, a work of investigation and study; and, second, the organization of work for all Presbyterian young people.

The work of investigation was made necessary because the Department had to act for our Church as a pioneer in many of the things that it undertook.

The extent of this investigation may be outlined as follows:

(a) Many personal interviews were sought and secured. Leaders in the young people's work of the Methodist, Baptist, Southern Presbyterian, United Brethren and Congregational Churches were consulted, and a study of their plans and methods was made. National officers likewise of the Y. M. C. A., the United Society of Christian Endeavor, the Knights of King Arthur, the Westminster League, the Alliance of Boys' Workers, etc., were interviewed. Many prominent men in our own Church were questioned, and the suggestions coming from the practical experience of scores were thus obtained.

(b) Travel was resorted to in order to gain a knowledge of conditions and needs, which would otherwise have been impossible. Presbyterial, Synodical and national conventions were attended, beside meetings in many local churches.

(c) Correspondence was made the means of obtaining much helpful data, as soon as the Department came into existence.

(d) Books and literature from many sources were made to furnish their contribution. Publications from the United

Society of Christian Endeavor, the various Boards of our Church, the Knights of King Arthur, the Boys' Brigade, the Epworth League, the B. Y. P. U., the Y. M. C. A., the Permanent Committee on Young People's Work, the Baracca Supply Company, and other organizations were all sought and studied with more or less care.

As soon as this work of investigation had been carried on far enough so that plans could be safely and wisely formed, a movement to meet certain long-felt needs among the young people's societies of the denomination was started. Three objects of effort presented themselves for attainment: Adequate organization, new inspiration, and a work of education.

In order to attain its purpose along each of these lines, the Department determined to use every channel of influence that could be found. Some of its efforts were as follows:

(a) The coöperation of the pastors of the Church was sought. Circular letters and leaflets were sent to all of them, informing them of the Department's plans, and asking their help. With a view to securing their immediate assistance, a request was made that on the evening of February 2d, 1908, they hold a special service for their young people, in which enthusiasm could be aroused for the year's work, and all could be brought into touch with the Young People's Department. Hundreds of pastors complied with this request.

(b) Efforts to interest and arouse the Committee on Young People's Work in our various Presbyteries, were likewise made. Several letters to each chairman have been issued, and a little manual, giving suggestions and practical methods to be used in his work, was printed and placed in his hands. As a result, about fifty of these chairmen are intending to hold Presbyterial Conventions for their young people, either this spring or next fall; and others are undertaking other projects not before planned.

(c) Letters were written to the Chairmen of the Synodical Committees on Young People's Work, suggesting that they plan to secure one of the popular meetings of the fall session of their Synod for the discussion of young people's work, and a young people's rally.

(d) The Sunday-school Missionaries have been enlisted in behalf of the work for young people.

(e) The Officers of the State Christian Endeavor Unions throughout the country have been communicated with, in order to secure their coöperation, and especially as a means of promoting denominational rallies in the various conventions they may plan during the year.

(f) Much good work has been accomplished through the religious press. Practically all the papers of our denomination have received articles every two or three months from the Department's Superintendent. Articles intended especially for young people have appeared each week on the last page of Forward.

(g) A "Forward Movement for Presbyterian Young People" was started among the senior societies of our Church by direct communication with their leaders. Circular letters, leaflets and a program explaining this Movement, were sent to the presidents of all the societies, and a reply requested. In response, hundreds of societies have enthusiastically joined in the work proposed. The Movement motto is, "Better societies for us all; and a better religious education through the work of each society."

(h) An Information Bureau has been established, to which any one in the Church can write for assistance or knowledge concerning all kinds of young people's work, and the proper methods to be used in them.

(i) A Summer Conference at Winona Lake, Indiana, has been planned, to be held during the second week of next July. In this conference an opportunity will be given to our young people for studying methods of work, and for listening to addresses from some of the ablest men of the Church. It is believed that this week of hard study will be more effective than even a national convention.

(j) Institutes on young people's work in many of our local churches, and a large number of addresses, have been planned and given.

(k) The Christian Study Course, selected by the Permanent Committee on Young People's Work, was carefully examined with a view to completing it. For promoting the use of these books, several methods of study were set forth in various articles which were published in two or three of our leading papers; and a leaflet for free distribution was written and printed on the same subject. The books were advertised in publications sent to our pastors, the Chairmen of the Presbyterian Committees, the Presidents of all senior societies and many others. In addition to this Christian Study Course, a booklet entitled, "Ten Minute Supplemental Lessons in Church History," was selected for use in the young people's prayer meetings. It has been promoted with vigor and has been adopted in many places with great satisfaction.

As a result of the efforts put forth along all of these lines during the nine months since the Department was organized, it is believed that something has been accomplished, not only in experiment as to available lines of work, but also in establishing the more permanent lines of this Department's operations.

The following is a brief description of the character and purpose of the periodicals published by the Board:—

The Westminster Teacher at the beginning of this year was changed from a weekly paper to a monthly magazine. It is especially prepared for teachers and officers of Sabbath schools and for use in adult classes. It contains full and varied expositions of the International Bible lessons. Professor George L. Robinson, D. D.; the Rev. E. Morris Fergusson; the Rev. A. H. McKinney, Ph. D.; J. F. Carson, D. D., and Miss Josephine L. Baldwin, furnish departments of the lesson work. Each monthly number contains not less than sixty-four pages, with an attractive cover. Price, single copy, by mail, per annum, 75 cents; school subscriptions, to one address, 60 cents per copy.

The Rev. John A. McKamy, D. D., is associated with the editor, and has immediate supervision of the work on The Westminster Teacher.

The Westminster Primary Quarterly, Teachers' Edition, prepared by Miss Marion Thomas, is exclusively for teachers. It includes the notes for teachers of this department formerly given in The Westminster Teacher, including also the notes given in the scholars' Quarterly. It contains 70 pages. Subscription price, 40 cents a year, or 12 cents a quarter.

The Westminster Senior Quarterly is used in Senior and adult classes. The principal work on this Quarterly is done by the Rev. A. H. McKinney, Ph. D. Each number contains full lesson material for three months, with Orders of Service, Maps, and other valuable matter, and contains 48 pages. Its wide circulation attests its popularity. School subscriptions, to one address, 16 cents a year; single copies, 20 cents.

The Westminster Intermediate Quarterly is designed for scholars of the Intermediate grade. It is prepared chiefly by the Rev. E. Morris Fergusson. It contains full lesson text, both Common and Revised Versions, with notes, questions and practical teachings. In it are found also Maps, Orders of Service, etc. Each number contains 42 pages. School subscriptions, to one address, 16 cents a year; single copies, 20 cents.

The Westminster Junior Quarterly is designed for younger children in the Junior Department. It is prepared by Miss Josephine L. Baldwin. It is attractive in form and helpful in its instruction. School subscriptions, to one address, 16 cents a year; single copies, 20 cents.

The Westminster Primary Quarterly is for the little folks of the Primary grade. It is prepared by Miss Marion Thomas. It gives explanations of the lessons, with hymns and music, and is beautifully illustrated. It contains 38 pages. School subscriptions, to one address, 16 cents a year; single copies, 20 cents.

The Westminster Home Department Quarterly is prepared for the use of those who, though unable to attend the sessions of the Sabbath school, yet desire to study the lesson, week by week. It is prepared with special reference to home students. This Quarterly contains in each number 48 pages. Subscription price, 16 cents a year for school subscriptions to one address; 20 cents for single copies separately mailed.

The Westminster Normal Quarterly was issued to cover a two years' course of lessons for use in advanced and normal classes. The eight quarterly numbers of this course are furnished to those desiring them, and may be used without reference to date. The lessons were prepared by James A. Worden, D. D. The price is 40 cents a year for a single subscription; two or more subscriptions, to one address, 24 cents each. The two years' course, bound in cloth, $1.00, postpaid.

The Westminster Lesson Leaf is prepared for Intermediate and younger scholars, but may be used in any grade. It is issued monthly, but is so prepared that, if desired, the leaves can be separated and distributed to scholars weekly. Each leaf contains one lesson complete, with Scripture, Golden Text, Catechism, Notes on the Lesson, and Questions. School subscriptions, to one address, 6 cents a year; single copies, a year, 10 cents.

The Westminster Lesson Card contains a brightly colored lithographic picture, illustrating the lesson of the day, with Lesson Title, Golden Text, Lesson Hymn, Lesson Story, and Questions. It is adapted in grade to younger children and to Primary classes. School subscriptions, to one address, 10 cents a year, 2½ cents a quarter. Single sets, 20 cents a year.

The Bible Roll. Lesson pictures, the same as those on the Lesson Cards, but greatly enlarged, prepared as wall roll for the Primary Department. Price, $3.00 a year, 75 cents a quarter.

The Westminster Beginners' Lessons cover the Two Years' International Course for young children of the kindergarten age. The lessons are arranged with reference to the seasons. They can be taken up at any time. The Beginners' Lessons, with the cards for teachers and scholars, were prepared by Miss Marion Thomas, and issued in eight illustrated numbers. These numbers were first issued as a Quarterly covering two years. They are now furnished to schools at the prices indicated below.

Accompanying the Beginners' Lessons is a series of large picture cards (12 x 15 inches in size), especially prepared for this course. Both the Quarterly and these cards are solely for the teacher's use in teaching the lesson. For the scholars there are smaller Golden Text Picture Cards to be given out each week.

COST OF EQUIPMENT FOR THE BEGINNERS' COURSE

For the Teacher: Westminster Beginners' Lessons, in quarterly form, 50 cents a year, 12½ cents a quarter.

Large Picture Cards, $3.00 a year, 75 cents a quarter. Song Stories for the Sunday school, 15 cents.

For the Scholar: A Golden Text Illustrated Card for every Sunday, 24 cents a year, 6 cents a quarter.

Running parallel with the Beginners' Lessons is a series of Supplemental Beginners' Lessons, which are to take the place of the formal opening exercises used in the other departments of the school. This Supplemental Course, which covers a period of ten months only, includes a series of Lessons for the teacher, published in pamphlet form, elaborating the Supplemental Lessons, and a series of large pictures for use in teaching the Supplemental Lessons (7 x 9 inches in size). For the scholar there are small cards to be distributed the last Sunday of the month, giving the thought for the month, and a Bible verse, and the words of a song.

COST OF EQUIPMENT FOR THE SUPPLEMENTAL COURSE

For the Teacher: Supplemental Lessons for Beginners, an illustrated book elaborating the supplemental course, 25 cents.

Large Picture Cards, covering a period of ten months, 43 cards, $2.00 for the complete set.

For the Scholar: Small Cards, one for each month, for ten months, 5 cents for the complete set.

ILLUSTRATED PAPERS

Forward still continues to grow in interest, as its increasing weekly circulation, now approaching three hundred thousand, attests. It is freely conceded that no paper in the country for young people surpasses Forward in interest and popularity. It is filled every week with the choicest things for its readers. The best short story, and other, writers for young people are among its contributors. From readers of all ages the most appreciative commendations are received continually. While intended primarily for older classes in Sabbath schools, Forward is adapted also for young people in the home, the school and everywhere. It has a Christian Endeavor Department, with brief notes on the weekly topics, and contains articles from time to time on the work of the young people's societies. The low price at which Forward is furnished brings it within the reach of all. In clubs it costs less than one cent a number. Single subscriptions, a year, 75 cents; subscriptions for two or more copies in the same wrapper, addressed to one person, 50 cents a year each.

The Sabbath-School Visitor is the oldest of the periodicals of the Board, but is always bright and interesting. It is adapted to a younger class of readers than Forward. It is an illustrated four-page paper, each number containing attractive and valuable matter. It is published weekly. Single subscriptions, per year, 50 cents; school subscriptions, to one address, 30 cents.

The Morning Star is issued to meet the demand in some schools for a paper at small cost. It is of the same quality, grade and style as The Visitor, but only half its size. It is issued every week. Single subscriptions, 25 cents a year; school subscriptions, to one address, 15 cents.

The Sunbeam is a four-page weekly illustrated paper for very little people. It is attractive not only in its appearance.

but also in its contents. No subscriptions are taken for less than one month. Single subscriptions, 30 cents a year; school subscriptions, to one address, 20 cents a year for each scholar.

The aggregate of the preceding sales includes not only the ordinary sales of the main house, and of the depositories and other houses, but all sales made to the Sabbath-school and Missionary Department.*

F. M. BRASELMANN, Treasurer.

PHILADELPHIA, April 1st, 1908.

The undersigned Auditing Committee, in conjunction with Mr. Charles Lewer, Certified Public Accountant, have examined the accounts of the Treasurer of the Trustees, and find them correct. The balance of cash in the hands of the Treasurer, April 1st, was sixty thousand, two hundred and nine dollars and fifty-one cents ($60,209.51). They have also examined the securities in his hands, amounting to two hundred and eight thousand, three hundred and forty-six dollars and twenty cents ($208,346.20), and find them in the name of the corporation, with the exception of $4,000 People's Passenger Railway Company, and $4,000 People's Passenger Railway Company Consolidated Bonds, which are coupon bonds, unregistered, and were received as such from the executor of the Farr Estate.

The accounts of the various depositories are audited monthly by Messrs. Dickinson, Wilmot and Sterrett, certified public accountants, and their reports are verified by the official auditor of the Philadelphia house.

(Signed) WILLIAM W. ALLEN,
BERNARD GILPIN,
ABRAHAM R. PERKINS,

Report of the Board of Publication of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, Located at Nashville, Tenn.

The year ending March 31, 1908, covered by this report, has been marked, in all kinds of business, by more or less of the unexpected. Begun in the midst of seemingly unexampled prosperity, alarming business symptoms soon developed, until at the middle of the year all was uncertainty and uneasiness. Then ensued a period of positive panic, this in turn being followed by depression, restricted business and widespread suspension among the industries.

Publication has, perforce, shared in the results of these conditions. Large business concerns materially curtailed the amount of their printing. In their anxiety to secure business, many printing houses offered extremely low competitive prices for work. As a further complication, paper advanced in price, and in many places labor sought to force still higher prices. The difficulty in securing funds which was prevalent for a time also aggravated the situation. These difficulties figured, too, in the outcome of the book and periodical trade.

From some of these troubles the Cumberland Presbyterian Publishing House suffered but little, while by others it was materially affected. The House is not in the general competition for small work, and thereby avoided one of the troubles. It was able to so conduct its finances, even at the most strenuous period, as to not lose a single discount. Its leading contracts were held and renewed, though at necessarily lower figures. Besides, unlike most of the printing houses in the adjacent sections of the country, it has neither reduced wages nor appreciably curtailed the number of its employees.

Nevertheless, its business has been substantially affected. Two or three good printing contracts have passed to other cities, for purely geographical and wholly unavoidable reasons. For a number of years property of the character of the Publishing House was not assessed for taxes in Nashville. The taxes were afterward assessed, however, and made retroactive, necessitating the payment of a thus newly created debt in no way connected with the business of the year. Besides, the first and only labor strike in the history of the House—a strike of pressmen—occurred in the year, and though it resulted satisfactorily, cost a good deal of money and temporarily kept us out of more or less business. The inability to realize, for a time, on bills and accounts receivable compelled the temporary borrowing of money and the payment of more interest and higher rates of interest. While the principal difficulties mentioned have entirely disappeared, they have left their distinct mark upon the business of the year, and the character of the report which we herewith submit.

The total volume of business for the year was $175,599.20, a figure a little more than normal, since the business of the preceding twelve months aggregated $171,315.06.

To just what extent the peculiar circumstances of the past year have affected the business, it may be noted that the real profit of the year was $6,134.44, against an average for the preceding six years of $14,976.58. Of this sum, $693.34 was distributed among employees, in accordance with our usual practice. We feel that everything has been figured on the conservative, safe and solid basis called for by prevalent business conditions, and submit our report not only in no spirit of pessimism but with a most sanguine feeling as to the future.

THE FORM OF THE DEBT.

The form in which the indebtedness of the Board of Publication stands is as follows: $20,000.00 is in five per cent bonds, which do not mature until October 1, 1910. These bonds were originally $35,000.00 in volume, but were reduced by $15,000.00 two and a half years ago. Of the remaining indebtedness, $2,773.59 also bears interest at five per cent, and consists of our Employees' Savings Fund. This fund is composed of moneys which our employees deposit with our cashier. The remaining interest-bearing debt is at six per cent.

A REMODELED ENTRANCE.

Although no manufacturing equipment of consequence was added in the past year (as will also be the case in the current year), the Board carried out a purpose formed some time ago, and rendered practically necessary by existing conditions. While the Publishing House is a most substantial and symmetrical building, with a beautiful classic stone front, its main entrance and hallway have not heretofore been in keeping with the dignified style of the edifice. Besides, immediate repairs were necessary; and within the past year the position of the main stairway has been changed, the walls and ceiling covered with Italian marble, with other improvements completing the design, all of which makes the building one of the most attractive in the city of Nashville. The building, like its equipment, is not likely to need special attention in a period of years to come. Renting space is a drug in the market of Nashville, many of the best buildings being only partially filled with tenants; yet the Publishing House is always full, and is not always able to supply the demand for rooms. The cost of this work of remodeling was about $4,500, and was most economically done.

THE CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN.

The weekly paper has had a satisfactory year, with an increasing patronage. The growth in circulation was a little more than offset a few weeks ago, however, by a new ruling of the Post Office Department requiring the dropping of all names more than a year in arrears. Nearly two thousand names were thus cut off, many of which are coming again onto the list. The paper is doing excellent work for the Church and the cause of the Master. The circulation at the first of April, 1908, under the new conditions, was 10,779, and the profit of the year, $886.47.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PERIODICALS.

The volume of business in Sunday school periodicals has been about the same as in the preceding year, with a slight increase in some directions. The lesson helps and papers are everywhere well received, and seem to be giving special satisfaction. The profit of the year was $2,338.46.

BOOK DEPARTMENT.

It is an exceptional bookstore of any kind which is a money-maker; and it is even more unusual to find a religious bookstore yielding profit. In fact, denominational stores and depositories are classed as successful when only fully and certainly self-sustaining. Our own book department has almost uniformly shown returns on the right side of the ledger, though not a source of great profit. We are now handicapped to a marked extent by the fact that a less proportion of our book products than heretofore are of our own manufacture. The volume of business of the past year shows a slight but substantial increase.

GENERAL PRINTING DEPARTMENT.

The conditions ruling in this department have already been commented on in the opening paragraphs of this report, and it is here that the effects of the financial flurry have been most felt. We have done an increased amount of printing for our own church, The Westminster Teacher and Sabbath School Visitor being issued from Nashville, and both at very low contract figures.

The printing plant was originally installed, many years ago, wholly for the purpose of doing our own denominational work. It was soon discovered that this work came spasmodically and in seasons, and that other work must be taken on in order to keep the necessary working force and machinery busy in the intervals so constantly occurring. More or less outside work was therefore taken up, but much of this outside work is strictly in line with the purposes for which the House was established, though it is done for other Christian denominations.

We print the minutes of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, South, with a good deal of work for the Board of Missions and other agencies of that denomination. We have printed several books for the Southern Baptist Church during the year, besides printing one of their church papers, and are always doing more or less work for our well-equipped neighbors of the Publishing House of the M. E. Church, South. The princial organs of agriculture and the milling and lumber industries for the South are printed in our House, while we also issue the leading magazine of all the region south of the Ohio River. We are especially equipped for the printing of minutes for church judicatories, and in the past year have done this work for a number of presbyteries and synods. Among the newer periodicals we issue is the recently established bulletin for the Presbyterian Brotherhood. The coming year gives promise of being a much better one than the past one has been in this department, many of the difficulties of the past year having already disappeared.

RECOGNITION OF EMPLOYEES.

Notwithstanding reduced profits as compared with recent years, it was deemed best to make the usual annual distribution of cash among the employees of the House (always outside of officials and heads of departments), although considerably reducing the amount thus distributed. This recognition, in addition to the unusual courtesies always extended to our employees, has contributed much to solidifying and vitalizing our industrial organization. We are convinced that so good a working organization is seldom found, and that it will continue, as heretofore, to give a splendid account of itself in our annual reports.

At this time the official organization of the House is as follows:

THIRTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Board of the Church Erection Fund.

To the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America:

Acknowledging the blessings of the past year, the Board of the Church Erection Fund respectfully presents its Thirty-eighth* Annual Report as follows:

With a keen appreciation of its bereavement the Board reports the death, January 17, 1908, of Mr. John Sinclair, one of its oldest and best beloved members. Upon January 20 it adopted the following minute:

"The Board desires to put upon record its profound sense of loss and its deep sorrow in the death of Mr. John Sinclair, who departed this life January 17, 1908.

"Mr. Sinclair has been for twenty-five years a most faithful and efficient member of the Board, serving for the most part of this long period upon its Finance Committee. Punctual in his attendance, unremitting in his interest, wise in counsel, and prompt in action, his services were invaluable to the Board and warmly appreciated by his colleagues; while personally by his quiet dignity, his unfailing courtesy, his loving spirit and his consecrated life, he drew to himself the heartfelt affection of all with whom he was associated. Of him, if of any man, it may be said in the words of the Psalmist: 'Mark the perfect man and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace.'

"The Board, in placing this minute upon its records, also directs that an engrossed copy be sent to Mr. Sinclair's family, with the respectful expression of its deep and affectionate sympathy with those who in the departure of this servant of God have been most nearly bereaved."

The record for the year is one of constant advance, but of advance somewhat retarded by the insufficiency of certain of the Board's funds to meet in full the demands made upon them.

* The work was inaugurated by the General Assembly [O. S.] in 1844; the Board N. S.] was incorporated in 1855; the two Boards were united in 1870, from which year this present report numbers.

The reunion of the two branches of the Church increased the number of the churches upon the roll of the Assembly and consequently the possible constituency of the Board more than 36 per cent., and this increase has been reflected in the augmented demands upon the resources of the Board.

In the report last year attention was called to the fact that the reunion enlarged our Church especially in the South and Southwest, and as these are the rapidly growing sections of the country, they presented an unusual and most inviting field for advanced work in the organization of churches and the erection of houses of worship.

The result, seen in the increase of applications from this region and especially from the great States of Texas and Oklahoma, has fully borne out the implications of the above statement.

APPLICATIONS.

As was to be expected from the facts as indicated above, the total number of applications and the total amount asked exceeded any previous year in the history of the Board, and would have been probably still larger had not the financial depression of the last six months made it increasingly difficult for our young churches to secure the subscriptions needed to do their part.

The total number of churches sending applications in all departments was 295, amounting in the aggregate to $300,160, as against 286 and $287,820 in the previous year. These were distributed as follows:

General Fund	—Grants.....	157	Amount..	$107,890.60
"	—Loans (without interest)	40	" ..	32,440.00

		311

Of these applications, it may be of interest to note that twenty-four for church buildings and nine for manses were from churches formerly Cumberland.

RESOURCES.

The following table will give in detail the resources of the Board towards meeting the large demands made upon its treasury.

The total amount is less by $24,036.75 than last year, but the contributions from the churches are $2,268.35 more than last year. The number of churches contributing is 4,820, which is an advance of 656 upon the previous year.

APPROPRIATIONS.

The appropriations have been as follows:

1. General Fund. From this fund there have been 143 grants aggregating $90,481 and 33 loans without interest aggregating $19,416—a total of 176 appropriations amounting to $109,897; but as eight churches received both loan and grant, the number of churches aided from this fund was 168.

It will be remembered that the General Fund represents more particularly the purpose for which the Board was originally organized, viz., "to aid feeble churches in the erection of inexpensive edifices," and that other funds, the account of which follows, have been developed from time to time, greatly broadening the sphere of the Board.

2. The Buell Fund. This fund, derived from a legacy, is practically supplemental to the General Fund, for it is to be administered under the same rules and for a like class of churches with the exception that they must be located exclusively in our Western States.

From this fund, which owing to its character may be properly coupled with the General Fund, there were nine grants aggregating $6,200. Adding these to the appropriations from the former fund we find the grants for church edifices to be 152, and the amount $96,681. Adding the loans without interest as given above (33—$19,416), we have from these two funds a total of 185 appropriations aggregating $116,097, an advance upon the corresponding number of last year of ten appropriations and $9,128, and of separate churches 177 as against 172.

3. The Loan Fund. From this fund, established in 1891 by a legacy from the Stuart Estate, loans are made at a low rate of interest to churches which from their greater strength and more expensive buildings do not come within the sphere of the General Fund. From it there were during the year twenty-two appropriations aggregating $60,500. These loans, it will be seen, average $2,750 and are usually to be repaid in installments running through ten years. The investment of this fund with annual output and returns for sixteen years will be seen in the accompanying table.

4. The Manse Fund. From this fund, originally endowed by Mrs. Robert L. Stuart, and now amounting to $100,000, there were forty-three loans aggregating $20,640 and, owing to exceptional circumstances, two small grants amounting together to $900.

5. The Raynolds Fund. This fund, derived from a bequest of the late General William F. Raynolds, of Detroit, is by the terms of his will to be loaned at a low rate of interest for manses, in the building of which a larger degree of aid is required than can be rendered by the original Manse Fund. From it there was aid promised to twelve churches for manses and to the amount of $14,300. Several applications were on file at the close of the year which, as the entire available fund was in use, could not be acted upon until funds came in from the payment of installments due upon previous loans.

6. The Hoyt Fund. From this fund, the proceeds of a bequest from the late Dr. Ezra P. Hoyt, to be used under terms similar to those of the Raynolds Fund, one loan of $1,500 was made.

7. The Barber Fund. From this fund, to be used exclusively for the benefit of colored churches outside the sphere of the Freedmen's Board, there was one grant of $2,000 for a church building and four appropriations for manses. Three of these were grants aggregating $6,000 and one was a loan of $1,000, but as this loan was to one of the churches receiving a grant, the number of churches aided was four. The total amount voted was $9,000. The comparatively large amounts of these appropriations is explained and justified by the fact that in every case these churches are located in large cities where land is expensive and where there is a requirement for buildings of a substantial character. Fortunately the condition of this fund is such as to admit of more liberal aid to these colored brethren who seldom are men of wealth.

These appropriations have as usual gone to every part of our widely extended land and beyond our continental boundaries to Porto Rico and Cuba. The happy union with the former Cumberland Church has opened the way for applications from many new localities. Texas and Oklahoma illustrate especially the extent of these new fields and to these two States, with Minnesota and California, is to be credited the largest number of appropriations—to Texas eighteen, aggregating $18,050; to Oklahoma twenty-eight, $16,580; to Minnesota twenty, $12,850; to California eighteen, $21,866.

The appropriations have reached thirty-five different States in addition to Porto Rico and Cuba, and are scattered among 137 Presbyteries.

During the year there have been reported as completed without debt 250 church buildings and manses, of an aggregate value of $845,778.

The total receipts in all departments have been $210,027.04 and the disbursements $262,298.73. The usual alphabetical and Synodical tables, indicating in detail the distribution of the appropriations, will be found in the Appendix, while upon the following page is a tabular view of the work of the Board from its inception in 1844. This table is each year in successive reports brought up to date. The first two columns give the report for the year just closed and indicate the relative demand; the other two the total outcome from the beginning.

The amounts named indicate appropriations and somewhat exceed the actual payments, which are given in the schedule at the foot of the same page. Also, as will be noticed, in no one year are the appropriations the same in number or amount as the payments. Appropriations may not be called for for one or even two years after they are voted, and a certain small percentage are never called for at all, the church either finding it can dispense with the promised assistance or in some instances relinquishing the attempt to build.

THE PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

From the above facts and figures it will be seen that the work of the Board continues to increase in volume; and it is interesting to recall how constant has been the growth since it was first inaugurated more than sixty years ago.

When this agency was first established its organization was very simple and its functions far from complex. The Assembly

* In comparing the number of appropriations with the number of churches still upon the roll which have been aided, it should be noted, as appears in the columns of payments, that about 5 per cent. do not call for their appropriations, that about the same number have received more than one appropriation, and that others from one cause or another are either dissolved or consolidated, the actual average increase in the number of churches upon the roll of the Assembly being about 65 per cent. of the number reported as organized.

simply ordered the Board of Domestic Missions to appoint a Committee upon Church Extension, to have charge of the distribution of any moneys that might be contributed to aid in church building.

As the work grew this method was found to be so inefficient and unsatisfactory that the organized Board was substituted for the Committee. As similar provision had been made in both of the former branches of the Church, the two Boards were at the reunion in 1870 consolidated.

In 1886 the Board's charter was enlarged so as to include schools and chapels among exceptional populations, and to enable it to aid in the erection of manses. In 1891 the General Assembly authorized the Loan Fund, which may be used for the benefit of churches not properly to be included among the feeble churches to whom grants may be given. This fund, as well as the Manse Fund, was rendered possible by special bequests. Later bequests have established the Gilchrist and the Van Meter Funds for the benefit of certain defined localities; the Buell Fund for churches in the Western States; the Raynolds and Hoyt Funds, to be used under certain specified conditions for manses. Thus at the present time, entirely aside from the General Fund derived from the annual contributions of the churches and distributed in grants—in the words of the charter, to aid feeble congregations in erecting inexpensive buildings—the Board has in its charge funds amounting to more than $700,000, which are for the most part distributed all over the Church and in almost every Presbytery, to be used in time of need and then returned to the Board to be sent out again.

To meet some of the special needs resulting from these ever-growing responsibilities, rendered now more apparent by the late reunion, and to aid the Corresponding Secretary in representing the Board before the Assembly and elsewhere, the Board has requested the Rev. Dr. Duncan J. McMillan, long one of its members, to render, as Acting Associate Secretary, certain definite and limited services which will not interfere with his present pastoral duties. The Board is confident that his presence at this Assembly will be welcomed as recalling his former large and efficient work in connection with Home Missions.

THE OUTLOOK.

As we look forward we see every prospect that, as in the past, so in the future there will be a constant growth. Our missionary activity as a Church must not falter. The hand of the Master is pointing onward; His voice is ever saying "Forward." Vast areas of our land, long unoccupied, many of them supposed for years to be arid and desert, are now resounding with the tramp of invading armies coming to take peaceful possession; and new villages and embryo cities are springing up, soon to be centres of a vast population destined to make these once neglected regions blossom like the rose.

Into these regions must be carried the Gospel message side by side with the first settlers, and as the churches are organized there must be provided houses of worship, or for want of church homes the newly gathered flocks will be scattered, and the work happily begun languish and die.

But it is not in the West only that there is urgent need of effective co-operation. Under the mighty stimulus of modern business methods, new communities in our older States suddenly spring into being as sites are chosen upon which are erected immense manufacturing plants. A typical illustration presents itself in one of the latest applications to the Board. Within the last year or two the Indiana Steel Company has chosen, as a site for its great works, land upon the shore of Lake Michigan within a few miles of Chicago. Upon ground before practically unoccupied are going up hundreds of houses, and already a population of more than 12,000 is gathered. There is little doubt that within a few years this new city will number 50,000. Congregations must be gathered, churches must be built, but to do this effectively and in time to meet the moral and religious needs of this incoming multitude of workmen and their families, help must be given from outside. The growth is too rapid, the population too heterogeneous, the demands upon those who are establishing homes too imperious to make it possible for adequate religious privileges to be secured by the unaided means of this miscellaneous multitude, brought suddenly together in a seething mass of incongruous elements. Neither the Church nor its Boards can be deaf to such an appeal. It must be remembered, too, that aside from such unusual cases, and without reference to the increase of the applications in number, the demand has in these later years been enhanced by the marked advance in the cost of building. The price of material and labor has so increased that throughout the country the cost has advanced from 25 to 50 per cent. This is reflected in the larger amounts required of the Board. A few years ago the average grant of the Board was $500; last year it was $655—an advance of 31 per cent. In looking forward these facts must be squarely faced.

It is sometimes thoughtlessly alleged that in this twentieth century Christianity is losing its hold upon the American people, but no one familiar with the avidity with which the messengers of the cross are welcomed in every new settlement, or with the sacrifices that these young communities are willing to make to secure church homes, will credit for a moment the assertion of decadence in the religious conditions of our country.

May not then this Board, in presenting its Annual Report, urge upon the 11,000 churches represented in this Assembly that they take a new interest in the work committed to its Board of Church Erection—a service that all experience and especially the history of our own Church, teaches is absolutely essential to the permanence and growth of our Home Missionary work, and to the loyal accomplishment of the mission which we believe her Lord and Master has committed to the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

ELECTION OF MEMBERS OF THE BOARD.

It only remains to add that the terms of the following members of the Board expire at this time:

MINISTERS.

REV. FREDERICK CAMPBELL, Sc.D.,

[VACANCY]

REV. FORD C. OTTMAN,

REV. CHARLES J. YOUNG, D.D.

ELDERS.

WILLIAM N. CRANE,

EVERETT J. ESSELSTYN

GEORGE E. STERRY.

It will devolve upon this Assembly to fill these vacancies, and also a vacancy in the same class caused by the resignation of the Rev. John McDowell, D.D., and one in the class of 1910, occasioned by the death of Elder John Sinclair.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

ERSKINE N. WHITE,

Secretary.

Report of the Standing Committee on Church Erection.

The Board of Church Erection reports this year great advancements along every line, and a volume of business which fully taxed its resources. Your Committee has been thrilled as it read the simple recital of the year's transactions. The marvel is that so much has been accomplished and so well done with such limited means at its disposal. The purpose of the Church Erection Fund at its inception sixty-four years ago was defined to be "to help principally feeble churches erecting inexpensive buildings, mostly in the West." But the great expansive era in which we are now living has steadily compelled a corresponding expansive policy. The sudden growth of large cities, the increase of the cost of material and labor, the requirements as to character of buildings erected in the cities, and the imperative demand for larger buildings than were formerly contemplated have forced the Board to the utmost limits of the resources at its command. The measure of success which has attended its efforts to respond to these demands has been made possible only by the munificence of its friends, who have from time to time endowed special funds for loans at low rates and on easy terms, and by the good degree to which the aid-receiving churches have fulfilled their stipulated engagements in repaying loans and returning grants which have from time to time been made to them. The careful management by which these funds have been administered reflects great and lasting credit upon the faithful members of the Board who have given their valuable time and free services, and still more upon the ability and fidelity of its executive officers.

But the advance has been retarded by the insufficiency of certain of the Board's most important funds to meet in full the demands that have been made upon them.

As was anticipated, the reunion of the two branches of our Church very greatly augmented these demands, not only by the needs of some of the churches which came to us, but also by the vast area in the Southwest which was thus thrown open to the Home Mission operations of our Church. The great States of Texas and Oklahoma—Empires in extent—have alone furnished one-tenth of the applications. But the appropriations have gone to every part of the country. To thirty-five different States and to Cuba and Porto Rico this Board has extended its helpful hand. One hundred and thirty-seven different Presbyteries have this year shared its benefactions. By the help of this Board 250 churches and manses have been completed, aggregating in value $845,778. This great accomplishment has been made possible by the use in grants and loans of $223,812.83—about one-fourth of the entire amount.

By the Board's generous aid in the erection of manses many of these churches have been able to secure and retain a settled ministry, and yet towards this great work our churches and Sabbath-schools contributed but $65,891.13. Other contributions amounted to $691.17. Legacies for current use furnished but $500.45 of the Board's income. All the balance was provided from various sources, namely, from faithful churches returning money which they had previously received, from the sale of unused church property, from the sale of plans, from insurance, from gifts for special objects, and from loan funds and interest on endowment funds.

A careful reading of the Secretary's report will make plain the number and character of these funds, and a study of the Treasurer's report will reveal the management of these funds.

While there has been a decided advance in the contributions which this Board has received during the past year, this advance is not at all commensurate with the work which has been thrust upon it. While the Board, since the inception of its work in 1845, has aided 8,106 churches to the amount of $5,221,872.00, it received contributions during the last year from only 4,833 churches. Why are the 3,273 forgetful of their nursing mother?

It is high time for the Church to awake to the spirit of the age in which it now lives, and the vigorous and expansive work to which God in His providence is calling it.

The Board of Church Erection is face to face with problems which it cannot solve without extensive enlargement of its funds and greatly increased contributions from the churches. It seems to your Committee fitting that this Assembly should press upon the consciences of the 6,000 churches which gave nothing to this cause last year, the sacred obligation—nay, the joyful privilege—which they seem to have ignored.

The Board reports an application from the new town of Gary, Indiana, for an extraordinary grant of $5,000. This is the town referred to upon the twelfth page of the Board's report. In view of the very exceptional nature of the case, namely, the planting by the Steel Company of a town in which within a year will be gathered thousands of workmen, and which is expected to have within five years a population of 50,000, the Board asks permission to make the above exceptional grant and to be permitted, after receiving a bond providing for a mortgage as soon as deed is perfected, to advance installments upon the grant as the work proceeds, such installments at no time to exceed the amounts provided otherwise at the same dates for the building.

The Assembly misses the familiar form and eloquent voice of the Secretary of the Board, the Rev. Erskine N. White, D.D., and learns with regret that he is detained by illness. But there is good ground for hope that the illness is but temporary.

Your Committee begs to offer the following recommendations:

1. That the records of the Board be approved.
2. That the annual report of the Board be approved and commended to the careful consideration of the ministers and officers of the Church.
3. That the claims of this Board to a more generous support be pressed upon the churches with special emphasis.
4. That the Presbyteries be urged to instruct the Chairmen of their permanent Committees on Church Erection to require delinquent churches to meet their stipulated obligations, namely:
 - (a) To take an annual collection for this Board.
 - (b) To pay promptly the principal and interest on their loans when due.
 - (c) To keep the churches insured and keep their insurance policies paid up.
5. That the Board be authorized to aid, upon their usual terms and conditions, the larger churches in providing chapels for the foreign populations which they seek to reach.
6. That the request of the Board for authority to extend aid to the church in Gary, Indiana, be granted upon the terms and conditions set forth in the Board's request.
7. That owing to the cheapness of material for construction of modernized buildings, and owing to the demand for institutional work in the present-day life of the Church, those contemplating the erection of new churches confer with the Board for plans to build to this end.

8. We recommend a liberal offering to the Manse Fund and commend the cause to individual givers, in order that Home Mission stations may be better sustained.

9. That the following members of the Board whose term of office expires at this time be re-elected for the ensuing term of three years:

Ministers.

Rev. Frederick Campbell, Sc.D.,

Rev. Ford C. Ottman, D.D.,

Rev. Charles J. Young, D.D.

Elders.

Everett J. Esselstyn.

And that the Rev. William F. Whitaker, D.D., of the Presbytery of Elizabeth, be elected in the place of Rev. John McDowell, D.D., of this class, who has resigned, and that Elder James A. Frame be elected to fill the vacancy in the Class of 1910 occasioned by the lamented death of Mr. John Sinclair.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

As an illustration of the larger and more expensive church we give the stately and beautiful edifice of the First Church of Peru, Indiana, of which the Rev. Harry Nyce, D.D., is pastor. The entire building is 66 x 112 feet. The walls are of rock-faced stone and the window frames of dressed stone. The woodwork is oak and Southern pine. In addition to the windows of stained glass there is a glass dome over the centre of the auditorium. The floor plan upon the opposite page explains itself. The main auditorium is 50 x 50 feet, and the ample Sunday-school and classrooms all open together and into the main room. The gallery is wide and semicircular, and the corresponding gallery above the lecture room gives space for additional classrooms. The main audience room will seat between 500 and 600, and 400 can be accommodated in the Sunday-school. There is also a large basement for dining-room and entertainment hall. The architect was Mr. S. R. Badgley, of Cleveland, Ohio, and the cost of building and furnishings about $58,000.

We reprint this design as one which has been found useful and attractive where expense must be limited. It is for a church to cost $1,500 to $2,000, and will be found to adapt itself to the requirements of many congregations. It will seat about 200 persons, and has a lecture room in the rear 16 x 34, to be used for prayer meetings, etc., capable of seating fifty persons. Ground plan on opposite page.

The Board has had prepared lithographic plans of this church, which can be furnished at a very small price.

This attractive little house is the manse at Goldendale, Washington.

The pastor, the Rev. W. H. Jones, writes: "The house was originally 28 x 34 feet, but we have since added one chamber, a linen closet and a bathroom, and we now think it ample for a small family not wanting too much company—especially at night. Our special delight is in the back porch facing north—large and cool for warm summer work. The east side is perfectly plain. I think the house could now be built for $1,200."

The floor plan is seen upon the opposite page.

OF THE

Cumberland Presbyterian Board of Missions and Church Erection.

The Cumberland Presbyterian Board of Missions and Church Erection presents its Sixty-second Annual Report to the General Assembly, in session at Kansas City, Mo., May, 1908.

As reported to the last General Assembly, we have transferred to the Boards of Home and Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church U. S. A. all of our missionaries and mission work in the home and foreign fields. We have undertaken no new work, neither have we solicited or received funds for new or additional work in these departments. We have applied on the obligations of the Board all funds that have been realized on the assets reported to the last General Assembly.

Two thousand ($2,000) dollars have been turned over to the Board of Foreign Missions, covering the bequest from Jacob Gillespie, deceased; the principal of the fund is to be invested and the interest alone used in Foreign Missionary work.

The following statement of resources and liabilities is submitted:

STATEMENT.

Resources :

Denver property.....	$3,000 00
Neosho, Mo., property	1,000 00
Kiowa, Okla., lots cost.....	83 00
Office furniture and fixtures.....	100 00
Cash balance.....	740 14

Liabilities:

Bills payable, balance on Denver property	$2,000 00
Bowling Green Colored School Fund	984 68
San Francisco Building Fund	500 00
Church Erection Board.....	586 50	4,071 18
		$851 96

The Board asks permission to distribute the $984.68, which it holds as a Trust Fund for educational purposes, among the Colored Cumberland Presbyterians. This fund was realized from the sale of school property at Bowling Green, Ky., some years ago, and was turned over to our Board by the General Assembly to be held for educational work in the Colored Cumberland Presbyterian Church. There are now three colored schools under the care of Synods, which are doing very good work, and it is our judgment that the time has come for this fund to be distributed, and we suggest that the following division be made: To the school at Bowling Green, Ky., $548.68; to the school at Newbern, Tenn., $200; and to the school at Huntsville, Ala., $200.

The total balance on Church Erection loans outstanding is $8,471.60. We have secured full and satisfactory settlement of but one loan included in our last report. Some of our churches indebted to this fund have declined to settle, alleging that the authority or right of this Board to receive funds is in question, and until the courts have ruled settlement will not be made. In two instances of this kind we have foreclosed the mortgage, and the claims are now in process of settlement.

No suits have been brought against this Board by the opponents of union and we anticipate that none will be brought.

ADOPTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY AT KANSAS CITY, Mo.,
MAY 23, 1908.

The Standing Committee on Ministerial Relief respectfully reports as follows:

The 53d Annual Report of the Board of Ministerial Relief, and also its book of minutes for the year 1907-8, have been duly examined by us, and found to be entirely satisfactory. The record of the Board's work for the year, while not differing largely in its scope from that of previous years, does not fail to touch our hearts with fresh sympathy and prompt in us a desire to achieve larger results for the comfort of those who may justly look to us for the faithful discharge of our debt of honor toward them who are dependent upon us through disability. It should not be a surprise to us, in view of the meager salaries of the majority of our ministers, that there are on the dependent roll of this Board the names of 436 ministers and 550 widows of ministers. The wonder is that the number is not greater, especially when we remember that more than one third of our Presbyterian pastors are receiving less than the average cost of maintaining a family in this country, and less than the income of the average wage-earner.

The new names added to the roll during the year ending March 31st, 1908, were 121, the largest record of increase in the history of the Board, and 58 recipients of the Board's bounty passed away during the year.

The reports of the Board are gratifying, especially in view of the financial stringency of the past year, in showing as they do a substantial increase of contributions from the churches and by interest from permanent funds; making the largest receipts of the Board through its regular channels in its history, or a total of $226,214.66, as compared with that of the previous year, of $218,130.18. It is particularly pleasing to note the increase of endowment funds during the year of $50,920.67; and the receipt from Lady Martha E. Kortright the total deed of trust of $92,889.00 with interest; with the tender reminder of the honored name of the late Rev. Dr. Ichabod S. Spencer through the gift of his two daughters, of $5,000.00 for the Merriam Home, at Newton, N. J. The total amount realized by the Board from all sources being the record-breaking total of $378,638.14. But we are to remember, the increased cost of living, together with the increase of dependents who need the help of the Board, making it necessary for us to plan a constantly increasing beneficence. There are 4,781 of our churches that have not contributed during the past year. Doubtless among this number there are many which would contribute something, at least, if their duty were clearly set before them; while by the same token many of the 5,118 contributing churches could increase their gifts. That this may be accomplished we feel should be the definite endeavor of all our Presbyterian committees on Ministerial Relief, coöperating with the Board and its beloved Secretary, Dr. Agnew. One of the greatest difficulties in securing an adequate response from the churches is generally confessed to be the sensitiveness of the pastors in seeming to plead for themselves. That this modesty is a counterfeit jewel, rather than a genuine diamond of virtue, we are confident our practical laity will be ready to declare, and should be cast aside as unworthy of those who are called upon to plead for their brothers and sisters in distress. In the nature of the case, however, their best efforts can be much surpassed in efficiency, as they have been in multitudes of cases, by the beautiful devotion of consecrated elders, whose services, in accordance with previous recommendations of our Assemblies, should be called into requisition universally. The Presbyterian Church is justly proud of its ministerial Roll of Honor. Included in it are the names of the great and the good who have served it well, and who now rest from their labors. Included in it, also, in a very special and technical sense, are those who under the rule of 1889 are placed upon it after they have reached seventy years of age, and have been in active ministerial service for at least thirty years. While the honorarium to which such clergymen are entitled is $300.00 a year, the average amount paid to them this year was but $285.00; a voluntary self-limitation on their part for the benefit of the general fund. We could wish that time permitted us to call the names of these 207 ministers now on this Roll of Honor. Their average age is over 77 years, and the average length of their ministry 48 years. Twenty of such devout men have died, while thirty new names have been added to the Roll during the past year. How rapidly the demands for relief are increasing, and therefore how vigorous our efforts must be to meet them, may be strikingly discerned in the tables of the Board, showing the total number of families relieved in recent decades to be as follows :

1886, 484; 1896, 795; 1906, 952; and two years later, the present year, 1,067.

To cover the needs of the last figure, the appropriation was $206,224.00, the largest in the history of the Board. But when we realize that this only enabled the Board to pay an average amount to widows of $150.00, and to disabled ministers not on the thirty year Roll of Honor, the small sum of $225.00, we must realize that there cannot be an Honor Roll of the Churches and Sessions, unless we largely increase our contributions for this sacred cause.

Your Committee is much impressed through the Annual Report of the Board, with the necessity of enabling it to be more generous in the future toward those upon its roll. Those who inquire so anxiously as to the cause of the decline of ministerial candidates, may well take a glance at the condition of ministerial old age, and the degree to which its frailties and helplessness, and the sacred interest of its loved ones, are appreciated or neglected by our wealthy Church.

There is no side of our church life that cannot be made easily to feel a peculiar interest in this work of relief. It should appeal primarily to the active ministers themselves, not for selfish motives, but in brotherly love. It should appeal to the women of our churches, with pathetic force, when they remember that the number of widows on the Roll of the Board exceeds the number of ministers. It should appeal to the children and young people, for they should be told of the number of little ones—the little orphan ones—whose infant necessities are met through this Board of Relief. It should appeal to the strong men of our churches, who are accustomed to see corporations and business houses, with increasing frequency, honoring their faithful servants by generous pensions and humane ministrations. It should appeal to all who venerate old age, who regard dependent widowhood and orphanage—who hold as sacred the ministry of the church, and count it not charity, but privilege and justice, to provide for its faithful servants in their period of distress. In fact, one of the most beautiful things that can be said of our imperfect hearts is, that this blessed and tender cause does appeal to all these classes, whenever the story in its simple pathos is lovingly told. Probably fewer people resist the faithful appeal for this Board than for any other. None was ever heard to say: "I do not believe in that cause." It is the common testimony of those who make the appeal that no cause which they plead requires so little of studied effort and human eloquence; where there is no response, it is a pretty fair inference to draw that the story of the disabled minister, the helpless, fatherless manse, has not been told in its simplicity and sweet urgency.

That the work of the Board of Relief rests in loving and efficient hands, is very evident to all those who read its report. With almost unparalleled success it has reduced the cost of administration to 3.01 per cent. Much wise counsel and conservatism have been necessary, and will be for some time to come, in perfecting the relation of the Board with that of the late Cumberland Church, which still keeps its charter, in order to safeguard legal titles. The problem of the ministerial home, both in the case of the Merriam Home and of the Thornton Home, in making them more serviceable along the line of their purpose, will, we are sure, be worked out by resting the matter in the hands of the Board itself, without specific directions at this time.

Your Committee, in view of the existing conditions and future needs, make the following recommendations for adoption :

First: That the minutes of the Board of Relief of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., and also that the minutes of the Board of Relief of the former Cumberland Presbyterian Church, be approved.

Second: That the presbyteries and sessions be instructed to see that the apparent sensitiveness of many pastors in presenting the cause of Ministerial Relief be overcome by whatever methods may seem proper; and that former endorsements of the method of using the valuable services of our ruling elders in presenting this cause to the churches be emphasized. Also, that the Women's Societies be again impressed with the significance of this Board for the women of our churches, and its tender claim upon them; that the children and young people shall have made clear to them their part in the work of this Board for the sake of the little ones who are saved from want by its bounty.

Third: That it be the judgment of this Assembly that it should be the aim of our churches to raise the receipts of the Board to such an amount that the maximum of aid for ministers and widows be increased as soon as possible at least fifty per cent., and that the apportionment rule of raising funds for the budget having been thus far of much utility, be indorsed for continuance at least until some better method shall be adopted.

Fourth: That the rule be approved, that if the renewal of an application for aid for the sum previously granted be for a person over sixty-five years of age, it shall not be necessary to have all the facts repeated by the applicant which were required to be given in the first application ; but the presbyterial committee on ministerial relief should be satisfied that there have been no changes in the circumstances and needs of the applicant, or if there have been any such changes, it should be informed of the same before asking presbytery to renew the application for aid. If the renewal of an application for aid be for a larger sum than previously granted, the reasons for such increase should be distinctly stated by the Presbyterial Committee.

Fifth: That in order to protect our relief work from the disturbing uncertainties of financial fluctuations, the increase of the permanent fund be heartily commended to our people, as one of the most important objects for their liberal gifts, and for legacies in their wills.

Sixth: That the question of the future policy toward the Thornton Home, as indicated in the report of the Cumberland Board of Relief, be referred to the Presbyterian Board of Relief.

Seventh: That Rev. Thomas R. Beeber, D. D., Rev. Alexander H. Young, D. D., Francis Olcott Allen, Esq., Rudolph M. Schick, Esq., whose term of office as directors expires with this Assembly, be reëlected for a term of three years; that Joel L. Williamson, Joseph C. McClurkin, and August J. Schlaepfer, whose term of office as members of the Cumberland Board of Relief expire this year, be nominated for election for a term of three years at the annual meeting of the Cumberland Board of Relief, in June, 1908, as provided by the terms of its charter.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN E. BUSHNELL,
Chairman of the Committee.

ANNUAL REPORT TO THE
GENERAL ASSEMBLY
OF 1908.

THE PRESBYTERIAN BOARD OF RELIEF FOR DISABLED MINISTERS AND THE WIDOWS AND ORPHANS OF DECEASED MINISTERS, respectfully presents to THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY its Annual Report for the year from April 1st, 1907, to April 1st, 1908.

THIS IS THE FIFTY-NINTH YEAR since the organization of Relief Work by the General Assembly of 1849, and this is the first Annual Report having been made to the General Assembly in 1856 by the Trustees of the Assembly.

THE FIFTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WORK,

The Book of Minutes containing the proceedings of the Board for the year 1907-1908 is also herewith presented.

ROLL.

The Church had upon its rolls for the year ending March 31st, 1908, 1,067 names: 436 minsters, 550 widows, 40 orphan families, 14 women missionaries, 20 guests in The Merriam Home at Newton, N. J., and 7 guests at The Thornton Home, under the care of the Board at Evansville, Ind. This is the largest number the Church has ever had upon its roll.

ADDITIONS TO THE ROLL.

For the year ending March 31st, 1907, we had 102 new additions to the roll besides 58 names transferred from the roll of the Cumberland Presbyterian Board of Relief. That was the largest number ever added to the roll in any one year. That was owing to the taking over to our roll the families that were on the roll of the Cumberland Presbyterian Board of Relief, at Evansville, Ind.

During the year ending March 31st, 1908, we had 121 additions to the roll, being the largest number of new cases ever added to the roll in any year since the Board was organized. These comprised 61 ministers, 47 widows, 7 orphans, 4 missionary women, and two new guests at The Merriam Home.

DEATHS.

Fifty-eight of those upon the roll passed away during the year: 38 ministers, 17 widows, 1 woman missionary, and 2 guests at The Merriam Home.

CURRENT FUND RECEIPTS FOR THE YEARS

	1906-1907.	1907-1908.
Contributions from Churches and Sabbath schools..	$98,315 62	$106,396 94
Contributions from Individuals	8,533 25	7,024 37
Interest from Permanent Fund	80,046 12	88,130 59
Interest from Special Funds held by the Synod of Ohio and Other Trustees	350 01	533 43
Unrestricted Legacies	30,885 18	24,129 33
	<hr/> $218,130 18	<hr/> $226,214 66

OTHER RECEIPTS.

In addition to these receipts for the Current Fund, the receipts for the Endowment Fund during the year have been $50,920.67.

The Board has also received from a deed of trust made by Lady Martha E. Kortright the sum of $92.889, in first-class bonds, and in cash $3,613.81, making $96,502.81.

The Board also received $5,000 from the two daughters of Rev. Dr. Ichabod S. Spencer for the endowment of a Memorial Room in The Merriam Home, at Newton, N. J., $1,000 in cash and $4,000 in good securities.

Thus, during the year ending March 31st, 1908, the Board has received from all sources the sum of $378,638.14, which is the largest amount received in any year, except when raising the Centennial Fund in 1888 and 1889.

CONTRIBUTING CHURCHES.

During the past year 5,118 churches sent contributions to the Board of Relief, and there were 4,781 churches which sent nothing at all.

Perhaps too much may have been said about our non-contributing churches, for they are mainly non-self-sustaining churches. There are several thousand of these churches with an average membership of less than 50 communicants. They have great difficulty in maintaining their church organizations, and they find it difficult to get their people to do very much more. We must therefore look to our self-sustaining churches to largely increase their contributions to Ministerial Relief in order that the Board may be enabled to increase the annuities it is now paying its worthy pensioners.

ROLL OF HONOR.

The Rule of 1889 entitles a minister to be placed on the Roll of Honor after he has reached 70 years of age, and has been in active service in our Church as pastor, stated supply or authorized missionary of the Home, Foreign, or Freedmen's Board of Missions in the aggregate for 30 years. This Rule continues to give great satisfaction to our venerable and honored clergymen entitled to share its privileges. A clergyman who is on this roll is entitled to receive an Honorarium of $300 a year, without an annual renewal by his Presbytery.

On account of the limited funds placed in the hands of the Board to be distributed among 1,067 annuitants on the roll, it is not expected that ministers who are not in need of this Honorarium will ask for it, but generously permit what they might otherwise claim to be added to the appropriations made to others less fortunate.

There have been 207 ministers on the Roll of Honor during the past year. Their average age is over 77 years, and the average time they have been in the ministry has been 48 years.

The amount paid to men on the Roll of Honor during the year was $59,165, being an average of $285.82, as all of the Honorably Retired ministers did not ask for $300.

Since the Rule of 1889 was adopted 436 ministers have availed themselves of its privileges, 30 of these have been added during the year just closed, and 20 of these venerable men have died.

AVERAGE PAYMENTS.

The average amount paid to widows during the year was $150.

The average amount paid to disabled ministers not Honorably Retired was $225.

The average amount paid to ministers on the Roll of Honor was $285.

COST OF ADMINISTRATION.

The Board has always endeavored to administer the very important trust the General Assembly has committed to its hands with as great economy as was consistent with efficiency in its work, and the cost of administration during the past year, including office expenses, salaries, traveling expenses, and the publication and distribution of literature has been but 3.01 per cent. of the receipts of the Board.

WOMEN'S WORK.

We acknowledge with great gratitude to God the obligations we are under to the women of our churches for their loving and faithful ministrations in coöperating with the Christlike work of the Board of Relief.

In addition to the cash contributions which they sent directly to the treasury of the Board during the year, the Relief Guilds and other Ladies' Aid Societies of our churches sent boxes of clothing and other necessities, and gifts of money to quite a number of families upon our roll, amounting to the value of $6,718.24.

Ministerial Relief furnishes a wide field for women's work.

In the churches of Great Britain where an assessment of $1.00 a member for the support of their aged ministers is made each year, committees of ladies are appointed to canvass each congregation and collect the assessments made.

We have now 550 widows, 14 women missionaries, and 40 orphan families on the roll of the Board receiving relief.

Most of the widows are very aged women, well up in the seventies, and some in the eighties and nineties. Many of these have invalid members of their families dependent upon them for support, or need caretakers in their advancing years. Some of the widows are quite young women with a number of little children dependent upon them. These young widows might support themselves if it were not that the care of their young children precludes their going out to earn a living, and the amount the Board is able to pay these widows ought to be largely increased.

Then the women missionaries of the Home and Foreign Boards, who break down in their work or become too old to continue their work, are often left without income and without friends to care for them.

Your Board does the best it can for all these women, but it would be a blessed thing if the women of our churches would organize more guilds or societies to assist the Board in the great and comforting work it is doing for all these worthy women, as well as for the aged and honored ministers upon its roll.

THE EVER-INCREASING ROLL.

The first Annual Report on Ministerial Relief was made to the General Assembly in 1856, and we find a steady increase every decade in the number of families relieved in the two branches of the Church, Old and New School.

In	1856	there	were	20
"	1866	"	"	150
"	1876	"	"	379
"	1886	"	"	484
"	1896	"	"	795
"	1906	"	"	952

For the year ending March 31, 1908, 1,067

During the year ending March 31st, 1907, there were 102 new names added to the roll, and during the year ending March 31st, 1908, there were 121 new names added to the roll. A large number of annuitants have died during these two years, and others have not been renewed, leaving the net increase in the roll in the two years of another decade only 118, so that the roll during the year ending March 31st, 1908, has had 1,067 families represented upon it.

When the Board was organized in 1870 there were but 4,238 ministers in the Church and there are at present 9,031, more than twice as many as there were in 1870. There were then 246 families represented on the roll, whereas now there are 1,067, or more than four times as many as there were in 1870 when the Board was organized.

The appropriations made by the Board in 1870 were only $30,000, and the appropriations made for the year ending March 31st, 1908, were $206,224. This was $9,751 more than the amount appropriated the previous year.

THE EVER-INCREASING WORK OF THE BOARD.

1. In former years, when pastorates were more permanent, many ministers cultivated little farms and had these to live upon in their old days, but the duties of a pastor are so engrossing in this busy, bustling age that few pastors can find time for farming, and consequently more of them come to their old age without having any provision made for their old days.

2. Living is much more expensive than it was formerly and there has been no proportionate increase in pastors' salaries, and increased cost of living will probably increase the number of those who cannot provide for their old days by any plan requiring from them annual payments to make provision for the future. This will leave a considerable number who will be dependent upon the Board.

3. It has been ascertained that one fifth of our ministers in past years have been unable to buy any life insurance, or to make any provision for their old days by paying dues to any benevolent association, and many of those will be dependent upon the Board of Relief for their living.

Most of our pastors try to provide for their old days by some form of life insurance, or by paying dues to some benevolent association, and by far the larger part of them succeed.

4. It has been found from experience that many ministers who take out policies of life insurance and pay for a time are obliged to surrender their policies because of their inability to pay their premiums.

Ministers sometimes have long-continued sickness in their households, causing heavy indebtedness, or they may have other unusual expenditures, or they may be thrown out of employment, as several hundred of them are every year, or the size of their families increase, making new demands upon their small salaries, and they are not able to keep their policies in force, and many of these will be dependent upon the Board of Relief.

5. The Church is rapidly enlarging her borders and the number of her ministers is steadily increasing, and we have every reason to believe that the number to be provided for by the Board of Relief will steadily increase in corresponding ratio to the increase in the number of ministers in the Church.

Our Methodist brethren are beginning to call the superannuated minister a "Pastor Emeritus of the Church at large." These Emeritus pastors must be provided for in their time of need by the Church collectively.

AN EVER-INCREASING ANNUAL OFFERING.

If the Church is to do justice to her devoted ministers, with an ever-increasing roll of annuitants there must be an ever-increasing annual income to meet the necessities of the case.

If the Board were enabled to materially increase the annual amounts paid to the ministers upon our roll, it would be an unspeakable relief to pastors in active service, and it would encourage them to labor on patiently and contentedly, knowing that when the time of disability comes they will be comfortably provided for by the Church they have loved and served through all the years of their active lives.

AN EVER-INCREASING PERMANENT FUND.

If it were not for the income we have from our Permanent Fund we would be compelled to reduce the amounts paid to the worthy families on the roll to about one half the amounts now paid to them.

Whilst the Permanent Fund has been an unspeakable blessing by the good it has done, it should be vastly enlarged, and we are sure that many of the wealthy people of our dear old Church would consider it not merely an obligation resting upon them to make large gifts or bequests to the Board of Relief if they were individually made acquainted with the facts in the case, but they would consider it a delightful privilege to make generous additions to the Permanent Fund, the interest of which will go on relieving aged ministers and their dependent households for all time to come.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETIES.

A few young people's societies remembered the families on the roll of the Board last year, and they sent to the treasury of the Board $83.16.

No doubt many of our young people contribute to the Board through the general Church collection, but if they were made to understand that the Church offerings are usually very small in proportion to the demands upon the Board by the large number of families to be supported by it, there are many of them who would gladly make an offering to this sacred cause.

SABBATH SCHOOLS.

Very few of our Sabbath schools ever make offerings for the relief and support of our needy ministers' families. Our Sabbath schools gave last year only $1,953.88. Where collections are taken in Sabbath schools, the scholars are delighted to help the many little children, with their widowed mothers who are under the care of the Board. The cause of Ministerial Relief appeals to children when they are told how many very old ministers, and aged widows of ministers, are on the roll, and that the Board of Relief also takes care of the women missionaries who are broken down with their hard work, and they give cheerfully to this great cause when they are afforded an opportunity.

We feel that it would be a great blessing to our schools, and it would give great encouragement to the Board, if, in any way, our Sabbath schools could be induced to make contributions to Ministerial Relief.

INDIVIDUAL CONTRIBUTIONS.

It is an unspeakable encouragement to your Board, when so many church contributions are so very small, that individuals send in large personal gifts to our treasury.

If it were not for the individual contributions we receive from year to year, we would be compelled to scale down all appropriations to the families on the roll very considerably.

THE MERRIAM HOME.

There have been 20 guests at The Merriam Home during the past year. Two of the guests, Rev. Edward B. French and Mrs. A. J. Close, during the year were called to their eternal home in our Father's house.

ENDOWMENT OF ROOMS.

The Board fixed the sum of $3,000 for the endowment of a single room in the Home, and $5,000 for the endowment of a double room.

We are glad to report that the Board has received from the two daughters of Rev. Ichabod Smith Spencer, D. D., Mrs. Katherine Spencer Leavitt and Miss Mary Spencer, the sum of $5,000 for the endowment of a double room.

The Ministers' Home has been called "an Elim in the wilderness," and a "Paradise of the Church."

The Home is an ultimate hope for every minister and his wife, in case all else fails, where in their old days they may share its kindly and blessed hospitality.

The young minister may break down and he and his young wife may find there a resting and recruiting station, and our women missionaries also find it a delightful home for themselves where they are free from all care.

The Presbytery of Newton continues to appoint a Standing Committee each year to take the general oversight of the property and also to act as Managers of the Home. This Committee has shown a profound interest in everything pertaining to the Home, and it has done very much toward making the guests happy and comfortable.

The following ministers and Ruling Elders constitute the Committee on the Home for this year:

REV. CLARENCE W. ROUSE, Newton, N. J.
REV. E. A. HAMILTON, Sussex, N. J.
REV. W. S. C. WEBSTER, D. D., Andover, N. J.
REV. WM. G. WESTBROOK, Beemerville, N. J.
PROF. P. S. WILSON, Newton, N. J.
HON. HENRY C. HUNT, Sussex, N. J.
MR. J. D. FLOCK, Hackettstown, N. J.

The Executive Committee appointed by the Standing Committee consists of the following persons:

REV. CLARENCE W. ROUSE, Chairman;
PROF. PHILIP S. WILSON, Treasurer;
JUDGE HENRY C. HUNT, Secretary.

If a number of persons could be induced to contribute enough to endow more of the rooms in the Home, it would be a very material help to the Board in meeting the cost of maintaining the Home.

It is a most graceful and beautiful act of love for God's aged servants, and for others entitled to a free residence in the Home, to make an offering to God for the endowment of a room, where the aged and worn may rest in comfort.

The Board is greatly gratified that it is able to report that the Home is under the best of management and that the guests express themselves as pleased with the comforts which they there enjoy.

THE APPORTIONMENT SCHEME.

The Apportionment Scheme, adopted by the Buffalo Assembly, has been producing encouraging results, and the Board earnestly and respectfully asks that it be continued, unless some better scheme can be adopted. In brief, the Scheme is as follows:

(a) Churches paying salaries of $800 and less, to give at least Ten Cents per communicant.

(b) Churches paying salaries of $800 to $1,200, to give at least Fifteen Cents per communicant.

(c) Churches paying salaries of $1,200 and upwards, to give at least Fifteen Cents per communicant, and in addition one per cent. on the salaries of their ministers.

(d) Churches hitherto contributing to the Board of Relief sums considerably beyond the apportionment above suggested, to continue their generous support of the Board.

RESPONSIBILITY OF SESSIONS.

The Directors of your Board of Relief fully understand the difficulties the Sessions of our churches have in securing from the people sufficient money to meet the urgent demands made upon the Church, and it is not surprising to hear them say, "It is very hard work to raise the amount you expect us to raise for Ministerial Relief." May we suggest that experience has taught us that it is a great deal harder work for the venerable men and women upon the roll of the Board to live upon the small allowances they are now receiving than it would be for the churches to increase their contributions.

When the collection is taken for Ministerial Relief and the Session finds that the offering made is small, they might find a way to supplement the amount raised before the fiscal year closes. There is no way of paying the debt the Church owes to her disabled ministers except through the Sessions as the agents of the Church for the raising of the necessary funds.

When there are so many that do not make offerings for Ministerial Relief the responsibility rests largely upon the Sessions for such failures, and frequently where the offerings of churches are small the responsibility also rests upon the Sessions for not having the offerings increased; and as long as so many churches give very small contributions to Ministerial Relief and so many give nothing at all, the Board will be unable to pay the annuities the families should in all righteousness receive.

SUGGESTED CHANGES IN RULES.

Many have an admirable delicacy about applying for aid from the Church, because they dislike to disclose their needs. But when we consider their right to expect the Church they have served all their lives to furnish them a decent support as long as they live, they have no reason to hang their heads in shame because of their disability and need in their old days. Let the churches do that for not giving their ministers a better support. The soldiers who have endured the hardships of war are proud of their wounds and their disabilities incurred in the service of their respective countries, and proud, too, that they deserve to be pensioners of their governments. Then why should not the soldiers of the cross, who have done far more than serve their country, who have served their God and labored unceasingly for the salvation of the souls of their fellow-men, and who have become disabled in their exacting and exhausting service, be righteously proud that they have been honorably retired from active service? Their broken health and their disabilities are the wounds they have received in doing heroic and honorable service in the army of the Lord, and they have a right to take pleasure in the honorable position they now occupy in the kingdom of God.

The members of the Board would be glad if the necessity of asking for the facts concerning the circumstances and needs could be avoided in all cases of application for relief.

We are not troubled with a mere theory, but we are troubled with a condition. We do not receive money enough to supply the actual necessities of the families now upon the roll of the Board who are in need. Their circumstances vary greatly in many cases from year to year, and on account of these varying circumstances it has seemed to be necessary to have a statement made to the Presbyterial Committees each year of the needs of the applicants until they pass the age when in all probability their conditions will not be materially changed from year to year. Yearly renewals are necessary in order that the Presbyterial Committees and the Board of Relief may be able to determine what is the fair share of the limited funds of the Board each applicant should receive.

For all those to whom the Church is indebted for services rendered and who are in need, she only provides a very modest living when they have closed their active ministry, and when their salaries cease, and they have little or no income; and the extremely difficult and delicate work with which your Board is entrusted is to divide the limited amount of money committed to its hands, where it is most needed and to make the division as fairly and justly as possible. For these reasons yearly reports from Presbyterial Committees have been deemed necessary in order that the Board might be able to act intelligently and give each applicant for relief his or her fair and proportionate share of the money to be distributed each year.

In some cases, however, the Board is of the opinion that the general rules regulating the granting of aid might be somewhat modified in reference to persons over 65 years of age, and the Board would respectfully suggest the adoption of a rule something like the following:

If the renewal of an application for aid for the sum previously granted be for a person over 65 years of age, it shall not be necessary to have all the facts repeated by the applicant which were required to be given in the first application, but the Presbyterial Committee on Ministerial

Relief should be satisfied that there have been no changes in the circumstances and needs of the applicant, or, if there have been any such changes, it should be informed of the same before asking Presbytery to renew the application for aid.

If the renewal of an application for aid be for a larger sum than previously granted, the reasons for such increase should be distinctly stated by the Presbyterial Committee.

RULES OF THE BOARD

Adopted by the General Assembly.

APPROPRIATIONS.

1. Only members of Presbyteries in connection with the General Assembly of our Church and the families of those who were at their death in such connection, and lay missionaries and their families, are entitled to aid; and no adults shall be entitled to aid who are not members of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America in good and regular standing, or who do not acknowledge the jurisdiction of said Church nor submit to its discipline, unless such extraordinary circumstances should exist as to make it, in the judgment of the Board, wise and right to admit their claim.

2. The General Assembly of 1889 says: "This Board works under strictly defined limitations. It is not a general eleemosynary institution. It cannot care for all the poor in the Church, or even in the ministry. Its basis of work is not need, but service to the Church." The General Assembly of 1890 directed that no appropriations can be made to ministers in ordinary cases, simply because they are poor, unless they are disabled by disease or the infirmities of age, so as to be unable to sustain themselves by some suitable employment. (Minutes of General Assembly, 1870, p. 21, and 1889, p. 32.)

3. The General Assembly of 1880 directed "That, in the case of a minister who, voluntarily and in health, leaves the work of the ministry for some secular employment, and follows that for a series of years, and then, by failure of business, has come to want, such a course should ordinarily be regarded as a voluntary relinquishment of all claim upon the funds of the Board." (Minutes of General Assembly, 1880, p. 21.)

4. All appropriations are made for one year, unless otherwise ordered; and the renewals for appropriations must be made from year to year, except in case of ministers honorably retired according to the provisions of Rule 7.

5. All the appropriations are paid in advance, provided the funds of the Board will allow this to be done. If the appropriation is not more than one hundred and fifty dollars it is paid in advance in one payment. When an appropriation is more than one hundred and fifty dollars per annum it is paid in two equal instalments, semi-annually in advance.

6. While the responsibility of recommending applicants rests with the Presbyteries, and these recommendations largely govern the action of the Board, yet there is reserved to the Board the right to appropriate according to the merits of the case and the state of the treasury.

HONORABLY RETIRED MINISTERS,

Who have been in active service in the Presbyterian Church thirty years in the aggregate as Missionaries, Pastors, or Stated Supplies.

7. Every honorably retired minister over seventy years of age, who is in need, and who has served our Church as missionary of the Home or Foreign Board, or of the Board of Missions for Freedmen, or as pastor, or stated supply, for a period in the aggregate not less than thirty years, shall be entitled by such service to draw from the Board of Ministerial Relief an annual sum for his support without the necessity of being annually recommended therefor by the Presbytery. When such a minister shall certify to the Presbytery the fact and amount of his need, not exceeding $300.00 per annum, it shall be the duty of the Stated Clerk to forward the application to the Board, with his indorsement thereon as to the years of service such minister has rendered, his field, or fields of labor with the term of service in each, and his need, as determined by his income and circumstances, and also to certify that the same has been reported to the Presbytery and is recorded upon its minutes. It shall then be the duty of the Board to pay such annual amount so long as the applicant shall live, unless otherwise directed by the Presbytery or the applicant himself, in view of a change in his circumstances that may make the appropriation in whole or in part no longer necessary. (Minutes of General Assembly of 1889, p. 32; 1891, p. 33 and p. 44; 1894, p. 35.)

See form of application, No. 6, p. 24.

DISABLED MINISTERS,

Who have not been in the aggregate thirty years in active service in the Presbyterian Church as Missionaries, Pastors, or Stated Supplies, or, if so, are not seventy years of age.

8. An annuity to a minister who has not been in the aggregate thirty years in active service in the Presbyterian Church as a missionary of the Home or Foreign Board, or of the Board of Missions for Freedmen, or as pastor or stated supply, or having been thirty years in active service is not yet seventy years of age, is granted on the recommendation of that Presbytery, or of a standing committee of that Presbytery, to which the applicant belongs; and the recommendation in each case must be annually renewed. An application for aid, in case of such minister, should state his age, his circumstances, and the number of years he has been in the ministry; whether his wife is living or not, and the sex and age of the children who are dependent on him for support.

See form of application, No. 1, p. 19.

MEDICAL MISSIONARIES.

9. Regularly appointed Lay Missionaries who have gone out from this country under commission from the Foreign Board, and their families, shall after five years of active service also be placed upon the roll of the Board upon the same conditions as ministers. In their application for aid, Medical Missionaries and their families shall be governed by the rules that apply to ministers and their families. (Minutes of General Assembly of 1889, p. 32, and Report of Board in Minutes of Assembly of the same year, p. 240.)

See form of application, No. 4, p. 23.

MINISTERS COMING FROM OTHER DENOMINATIONS AND THEIR FAMILIES.

10. Ministers from other denominations coming into our Church, or their widows or orphans, shall not be placed upon the roll of this Board as beneficiaries unless said ministers shall have rendered active service in this Church for at least five years. [This rule is not retroactive, but is operative from May 21, 1904.]

WOMEN.

11. A woman who has given herself to missionary work after five years of actual service under the Home Board, or under the Board of Missions for Freedmen, or who has gone out from this country and labored under commission from the Foreign Board, may receive aid from this Board upon the same conditions as a minister. She may be recommended by the Presbytery in the bounds of which she resides, or by the Presbytery having jurisdiction of the church of which such missionary may be a member, and her application should have the endorsement of the Board under which she has held a commission. (Minutes of General Assembly of 1884, p. 48; 1885, p. 592; 1888, p. 33; 1889, p. 32; 1894, p. 35.)

See form of application, No. 4, p. 23.

12. If the application for aid be for a widow of a minister, it may be made by the Presbytery within whose bounds the family resides, or by that Presbytery in which the family is best known, or preferably by the Presbytery with which her husband was connected at the time of his death. (Minutes of General Assembly of 1884, p. 48.)

Unless the applicant is well known, the Committee of Ministerial Relief should always secure the endorsement of the session of the church of which the applicant is a member, to the effect that she needs and is deserving of the aid for which application is made.

See form of application, No. 2, p. 20.

13. When a woman contracts marriage with a retired minister who is receiving aid from the Board, she should not be entitled at his death to become a beneficiary of the Board.

14. The widow of a minister who remarries outside of the ministry, thereby relinquishes all claims upon the Board, and should she again become a widow she would not be entitled to aid.

15. Except in extraordinary cases no appropriation will be made to the widow of a minister who has children able to give her support. (Minutes of General Assembly of 1880, p. 20.)

ORPHANS.

16. Aid may be given to orphans of ministers and lay missionaries, as the General Assembly says, who are under the age at which they are able to earn their own living; and in exceptional cases to orphans who have been from early years chronic invalids, or to those who have become chronic invalids in consequence of their care of aged and infirm parents. The same rule applies in case of orphans asking for aid, as in the case of other beneficiaries of the Board in regard to recommendations and annual renewals. (Minutes of General Assembly of 1889, p. 32; 1906, p. 35.)

See form of application, No. 3, p. 22.

THE MERRIAM HOME.

17. Applications for admission to "The Merriam Home," at Newton, N. J., are to be made in accordance with the foregoing rules. Guests are admitted to the Home in lieu of an appropriation of money. Any guest who, in the judgment of the Matron may be a hindrance to its usefulness and to the comfort of the other guests, shall be reported to the Committee in charge, who shall have power, after investigation of all the circumstances, to recommend to the Board an appropriation of money for the support of such guest in lieu of a residence in the Home. Great care should be exercised in recommending only such persons as the Presbytery believes will be agreeable companions to other guests. These guests, except Honorably Retired Ministers, must be annually recommended by the Presbyteries, and are required to fill up the blank application for admission or continuance there the same as if applying for a money appropriation.

See form of application, No. 5, p. 23.

RENEWALS OF PERSONS 65 YEARS OF AGE.

18. If the renewal of an application for aid for the sum previously granted be for a person over 65 years of age, it shall not be necessary to have all the facts repeated by the applicant which were required to be given in the first application, but the Presbyterial Committee on Ministerial Relief should be satisfied that there have been no changes in the circumstances and needs of the applicant, or, if there have been any such changes, it should be informed of the same before asking Presbytery to renew the application for aid.

If the renewal of an application for aid be for a larger sum than previously granted, the reasons for such increase should be distinctly stated by the Presbyterial Committee.

The term of the following Directors expires at this meeting of the Assembly:

REV. THOMAS R. BEEBER, D. D.

REV. ALEXANDER H. YOUNG, D. D.

FRANCIS OLCOTT ALLEN, Esq.

RUDOLPH M. SCHICK, Esq.

Four Directors are to be elected at this meeting to fill the class whose term expires at this time.

By order of the Board,

FORMS OF APPLICATION FOR AID.

No. 1.

MINISTERS.

 The General Assembly requires this form to be filled not only for the first recommendation, but also for annual renewals, except in cases where the applicants are sixty-five years of age, so that the Presbyterian Committee and the Board of Relief may know of any changes in the circumstances and necessities of applicants for aid, which may enable them more justly to determine the proportionate amount each applicant should receive from the limited funds at the command of the Board.

The General Assembly of 1880, page 21, says:

"WHEREAS, This Board has been requested to aid ministers who are merely out of employment, etc., and

"WHEREAS, The fund is not sufficient for such purposes, nor was it originally designed for such uses, therefore,

"Resolved, That no appropriations can be made to ministers in ordinary cases, simply because they are poor, unless they are disabled by disease or the infirmities of age, so as to be unable to sustain themselves by some suitable employment."

The General Assembly of 1889, page 32, says:

"This Board works under strictly defined limitations. It is not a general eleemosynary institution. It cannot care for all the poor in the Church, or even in the ministry. Its basis of work is not need, but service to the Church.

PRESBYTERIAN
BOARD OF RELIEF

TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN BOARD OF RELIEF TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF 1908.

THE BOARD OF MINISTERIAL RELIEF OF THE CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH (this being its legal corporate name) respectfully presents to THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY its Annual Report for the year beginning April 1, 1907, and ending April 1, 1908.

This is the

BOARD.

During the year this Board has been acting in a subordinate capacity to and in coöperation with the Board of Relief at Philadelphia. The executive officers, in addition to management of Thornton Home and its endowment and permanent funds, have in a general way assisted in promoting the interests of the cause throughout the west and southwest, more particularly that portion of the field occupied by the former Cumberland Presbyterian Church. In doing so an extensive correspondence has been carried on with ministers, churches, Presbyterial committees and beneficiaries, this Board serving as a medium of communication between these and the Board at Philadelphia, making special effort to secure contributions and in every other way possible to aid the cause. Contributors in all cases have been advised to forward funds to the Treasurer of the Board at Philadelphia.

RECEIPTS FOR THE YEAR.

During the year contributions have been received from some of the former Cumberland Presbyterian churches who failed to comply with the request just mentioned, the same amounting to the sum of $637.60. This amount has been reported to the Board at Philadelphia and credit will be given in the report of that Board. An appropriation of $300.00 was received from the Philadelphia Board to assist in providing for the guests in the Home, especially the extra expenses incident to the fire hereinafter mentioned. A full statement of receipts and expenditures of the Board is given in the Report of the Treasurer. There have been seven guests in the Home during the year. The one notable event of the year was the total destruction of the Home by fire January 23, 1908. Happily all the guests were removed without injury, the Board immediately renting a house for use as a temporary Home, where all the guests, though somewhat crowded, are reasonably comfortable.

INSURANCE.

The building and contents which were destroyed by fire were insured in the aggregate for $6,000.00 by the Western Underwriters' Association of Chicago, Ill. This company's policies were reinsured by the Dubuque Fire and Marine Insurance Company of Dubuque, Iowa. Soon after the fire that company sent its adjuster to Evansville for the purpose of adjusting the loss. After meeting with the officers of the Board the loss was agreed upon and the last named insurance company stood ready to pay the loss, but before it could do so certain other parties, claiming to be Trustees of the Board of Ministerial Relief, notified the insurance company not to pay the loss, except upon authority of these claimants. This Board then caused an investigation to be made as to the claims of these parties. The General Assembly held by the dissenters at Dickson, Tenn., May 16 to 21, 1907, adopted a report made by a committee appointed by it on Ministerial Relief, which contains the following:

"That your Committee is informed that all of the Board of Ministerial Relief have left the Communion of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, and have united with the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, except Dr. G. W. Ralston, and as his being the only one left of the former nine members of that important Board, your Committee recommends that the Assembly proceeds at once to fill the eight vacancies caused by the apostasy of these men."

This report was concurred in. The General Assembly thereupon appointed eight of its members to take the places of those of the Board referred to as having left the Communion of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. The Board of Ministerial Relief is incorporated under a statute of Indiana. This statute contains this provision: "The relation of such corporation to the religious society having control or patronage of it, shall be governed by the rules prescribed in such statement (Articles of Incorporation), but they may be altered at any time by agreement between such corporation and such society. The Trustees, after the first year, shall be nominated by the religious body or benevolent association having the control or patronage of such Board. And it shall be the duty of the then Trustees to elect such nominees." It thus appears that even conceding the Dickson General Assembly to have been the true General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, its nominees as Trustees of the Board of Ministerial Relief would not be qualified to serve without their election by the then Trustees, as provided by the statute. There is no pretense that this was done. The old Board has come down by regular legal succession from the day of its organization to the present time. The nominees of the Dickson Assembly we regard as pretenders and usurpers, merely intermeddling with the conduct of the Board's business, endeavoring to usurp the franchises of the Board.

After the insurance company had received notice from these parties that they claim to constitute the true Board, it decided that in justice to itself it could not pay the loss to the Board until the contention had first been settled as to what faction really constituted the Board. This action of the insurance company was only such as might have been reasonably expected under the circumstances.

In order to forestall any action by this Board, our opponents, the appointees of the Dickson Assembly, acting through certain of its members, caused a suit to be instituted in the Vanderburgh Circuit Court of Indiana against the insurance company to recover the loss, and the Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer of the Board, Mr. Saunders B. Sansom, was joined as a defendant in this suit. Mr. Sansom immediately took steps to have all of the parties claiming to be the Trustees joined in this suit, and the members of this Board at once, after having been joined as parties, filed a cross-bill against the other parties seeking to have them restrained from intermeddling and interfering with the conduct of the Board's business concerning this insurance. On the same day the insurance company filed its bond and petition for a removal of this action to the Circuit Court of the United States, for the District of Indiana. It is our information that the insurance company will cause the transcript to be filed in that court at Indianapolis at an early date, and it is supposed that the various claimants will be required to settle their rights in this suit as to which faction is entitled to control the Board's business.

This Board has authorized the President to see to it that its interests are properly protected.

THE FUTURE OF THE HOME.

The terms of the Union agreement having provided for the continuance of Thornton Home at Evansville, and for the maintenance of an Executive Committee to care for the Home and to aid in the general work in this section of the Church, this Board, by mutual agreement has been acting in the capacity of this proposed Executive Committee, the Philadelphia Board recognizing it as a separate and independent corporation, responsible to the General Assembly of the United Church for the management of so much of the common relief work as would properly be regarded as its own corporate affairs. When the Home was destroyed by fire this Board submitted the question of rebuilding, as well as all other kindred matters, to the Board at Philadelphia, but that Board very kindly insisted that the Evansville Board should act upon its own judgment in all such matters, as the Board in Philadelphia was entirely without jurisdiction. After full consideration of every phase of the question and of all interests involved, this Board decided that the interests of the Church at large would be best served by a continuance of the Home, and, if continued, that this should be done under the most favorable auspices possible.

This Board has long felt that the privileges of such an institution as Thornton Home ought to be extended, either free of charge or for a nominal sum, to that large class of ministers and their wives who, by reason of sickness or overwork, need rest and recuperation and who might be duly recommended for temporary residence until such time as they might be prepared to resume their active labors, this to apply particularly to home missionaries and other ministers whose labors are exacting and whose salaries are small.

Property eminently suitable for this twofold purpose has been purchased and necessary improvements are being made. It consists of fifty acres beautifully situated on the Ohio River in the midst of Newburgh Heights, at Newburgh, Indiana, and located ten miles from Evansville. During the summer THORNTON PLACE, as we are disposed to call it, will be ready for occupancy, and this Board will take pleasure in managing it under General Assembly direction as the Board at Philadelphia may advise.

ENDOWMENT.

Referring to the fund designated in former reports as the Endowment Fund, we consider it proper to explain that this fund has not been derived altogether from restricted legacies or donations. A considerable part of the $34,955.67 reported in said fund has been derived from unrestricted legacies and cash donations which, for special reasons, have been placed by the Board, from time to time, in what has been designated as its Permanent or Endowment Fund, such positions of said fund being therefore legally available for use in the purchase or improvement of new property. The Board will therefore feel at liberty to use so much of this portion of said fund as may be necessary in putting Thornton Place in good condition for the mission and purposes which it is designed to fill.

ADMINISTRATION.

Learning that past deliverances of the General Assembly have been to the effect that members of a Board cannot be employed as salaried officers thereof and desiring to be in full accord with the spirit and letter of said deliverances, W. J. Darby, D. D., and S. B. Sansom resigned as members of the Board, T. A. Wigginton, D. D., and Rev. James H. Miller being elected to fill the vacancies. J. E. Williamson was elected President instead of W. J. Darby, resigned, and T. A. Wigginton was elected Vice President.

The terms of Joel E. Williamson, Joseph C. McClurkin and August J. Schlaepfer, as members of the Board, expire this year. The General Assembly is asked to nominate their successors, to be elected for a term of three years at the annual meeting of the Board in June, 1908, as provided by the terms of its charter.

Fraternally and respectfully submitted,

J. E. WILLIAMSON,

President.

S. B. SANSOM,

Corresponding Secretary.

FORTY - THIRD ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF MISSIONS FOR FREEDMEN

OF THE

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

TO THE

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

FROM MARCH 31, 1907 TO APRIL 1, 1908

The Board of Missions for Freedmen respectfully presents to the General Assembly its Forty-third Annual Report.

A few days after the close of the fiscal year on which this report is based, God gently closed the earthly life of one of our most useful and beloved workers, Mrs. V. P. Boggs, General Secretary of the Woman's Department of this Board. This department, of which she was the head, is vitally connected with almost every part of our extended work. Its successful management, with its peculiar duties and responsibilities, calls for peculiar gifts. That Mrs. Boggs was fully equal to the demands of the position she held, is evidenced by the fact that this, her last year of service, was the very best in all the history of the Department, as measured by the amount of funds secured.

The report of the Woman's Department for the year is written by Mrs. Susan L. Storer, who has been her efficient assistant, and is now her successor, and is printed, according to custom, as an appendix to this report, and special attention is called to it, as worthy of careful study. The reference to the memory of Mrs. Boggs as contained therein, reflects the sincere and heartfelt feelings of every member of the Board. It would have been our plan to have kept her with us longer, but we must now believe that her work on earth was done, since God has called her to a higher and better service. In this decree submissively and reverently we acquiesce.

The income of the Board was not as large as we had hoped for, and planned for, at the beginning of the year just closed. Although the receipts from church collections, together with what we received through the Woman's Board as given by Women's Societies, and gathered by them from other sources, amounted to an advance of $3,553.28 over last year, this gain was more than overbalanced by losses in other directions. The number of churches that helped us in any one way this year was 5,315, a gain of 313 as compared with last year.

The number of Churches that helped us by congregational collections was 4,370, a gain of 181 churches.

The number of Sunday Schools that contributed to the Board direct was 352, and the number contributing through the Woman's Board was 404, making a total of 756, which was a loss of 45.

The number of Young People's Societies contributing to the Board direct was 49, and the number contributing through the Woman's Board was 1,022, making a total of 1,071, a gain of 81.

The total receipts from all sources were $172,229.03, being $16,752.33 less than last year.

The following is a tabulated, comparative statement of receipts for this year and last.

It will be seen at a glance that the total loss in receipts for the year is only a little over one hundred dollars more than the total loss in Legacies, for the same length of time.

While regretting that there should be any loss at all in our income, the fact that it comes almost entirely from a shrinkage in legacies has a significance that is not without comfort. We cannot quarrel with a good Providence that has spared the lives of our friends; but we are made to feel better in knowing that a loss of this kind is far beyond our control, and in reflecting that the recent financial troubles through which this country has been, and is passing, and the subsequent depression in business circles, has not been the cause of the serious reduction in our receipts.

It might appear unwise to lay plans and assume financial obligations on so uncertain and variable an asset as the unknown amount of legacies to be received in any one year, but when we consider that for the last twelve years we had received on an average annually a little more than $18,000, it did seem at the beginning of the year that it would not be unreasonable to count on something like this amount as a dependable source of help to us in the maintenance of our work.

There was another source of possible help that did not materialize.

The joint appeal from all the Boards of the Church, as endorsed by the last General Assembly, suggesting a 20 per cent. advance all along the line in all the Presbyteries, to be equitably distributed in each Presbytery by special committees to individual churches in their several Presbyteries according to their strength and willingness to give, did not bring forth any appreciable results, as far as the Freedman Board was concerned.

While the greatest increase in our receipts from any one source was in Church collections, amounting to $3,048.36, it should be noted that $833.46 of this amount came from former Cumberland Churches which, according to previous agreement, was set aside for the benefit of schools and churches belonging to the Colored Cumberland Presbyterian Organization; and $1,513.99 was especially given for the Biddle Library Endowment Fund, which calls for permanent investment.

The Biddle Library Fund which last year amounted to $1,024.49, was increased this year by $2,921.26. Of this amount, as we have seen $1,513.99 came direct from Churches, $1,190.04 from Presbyteries without indicating the particular contributing churches, and some small amounts from various other sources, making a total at the end of this year of $3,945.75.

At the rate at which this Endowment Fund is being augmented it will take sometime before the $12,500 is secured, as necessary to obtain from Mr. Andrew Carnegie a $12,500 Library Building at Biddle University, according to his offer, made some two years ago. A few friends of this project have worked assiduously and successfully in raising the proportionate amount asked for within the bounds of their Presbyteries; but as indicated by the figures submitted, many have been entirely indifferent to the force of this appeal. As there has been no time limit set to the offer, we still hope and pray that help may come to us from some source, that will yet enable us to fulfill the conditions of the generous proposition.

The amount of money given in Church work, including Church building, repairs, contingent expenses and Ministerial support, as reported to us by our ministers on the field was $52,686.41.

The amount given by the patrons and friends of our School work, as reported this year from the field was $72,100.59.

The total amount for both Church and School work, gathered and expended on the field, and reported to the Board, but in no way going through our treasury, or in any way included in the Treasurer's statement of receipts and expenditures, was $124,787.00, the largest amount ever so reported in the history of the Board's work.

In addition to this, the churches under the care of the Board gave through their Annual Congregational Collections $1,021.45 to the Freedmen's Board, and to the other Boards of the Church $2,449.01.

Adding the amounts contributed to the various Boards to the other amounts reported as raised on the field for Church and School purposes, we have a sum total of $128,257.46, passing through the hands of our Ministers, Elders and Teachers, and expended by themselves, both directly and indirectly for their own good, in their own communities, and for the good of others, in other parts of their own land and the world.

The Colored Churches under our care increased their contributions to our own Board by $260; and increased their contributions to the other Benevolent Boards of the Church by $726.67.

It should be noted that these Colored Presbyterians are being trained to give to all the different Boards and benevolent agencies of the Church, and that in this hard year when so many of them have been compelled to practice the strictest economy, they have voluntarily and cheerfully contributed out of their scanty means nearly twenty-five hundred dollars toward the extension of our Redeemer's Kingdom in other parts of this land and in other lands.

Our Board receives from time to time some small contributions for work among the colored people in the South, from the Alaskans, the Mexicans, the Indians and even the Cubans. These gifts are received by our Board with peculiar pleasure as indicating that heart sympathy that exists between peoples of different race and tongue when each is constrained by a controlling love for their common Lord. We are glad to record here that the good Christian colored people under our care, looking past their own wants and limitations have found that they too are privileged to minister to others, even while they themselves are being ministered unto.

Ingleside Seminary, at Burkeville, Va., which burned in the Spring of 1906, and which was in process of re-erection when our last report to the Assembly was made was completed in the fall, and reopened for work, after an interruption of one school year. The new building is an improvement on the old one. The money received from insurance ($23,000), together with money saved from the unused salary and scholarship account ($2,947.24), plus what was donated as special gifts from friends ($1,852.74) left only about $2,000 to be supplied from the general funds of the Board, in order to finish and furnish the new building.

The new school building at Newnan, Ga., in connection with McClelland Academy has also been finished and furnished at a cost of $4,000, and occupied by our school at that point since last October.

Plans for the proposed new dormitory for girls, at Sumter, S.C., in connection with the Julia Kendall Academy were drawn up last fall, and the contract for the building signed, but when suddenly money became scarce, and the usual accommodation which our bank was accustomed to extend to us, was declined, we were compelled to postpone the enterprise for better times. We expect to proceed with the work this summer and hope to complete it in time for occupancy in the fall.

At Birmingham, Ala., we had contracted for a $7,000 combination Church and School building in connection with our work at that place. Here also our plans were interrupted for a time; but subsequently satisfactory arrangements were made whereby we could proceed, and we are now, within a few weeks, expecting the building to be completed, affording greatly improved church accommodations, and ample room adjoining, for our large and flourishing school.

We had also promised to aid a number of congregations in securing better houses of worship, but were compelled to postpone the fulfillment of a number of these promises, until after the beginning of the next fiscal year.

Rendall Presbytery in Oklahoma, by action of the last Assembly was added to our charge. We were not able to plan very liberal things for these six or seven small, scattered and struggling churches, but we gave them all the help our limited resources would allow, and shall continue to encourage and cultivate that field as faithfully and conscientiously as we do any other part of the work. We are told not to despise the day of small things, and we have learned both from observation and experience the wisdom of this advice.

Inasmuch as the corporate existence of the Educational Society of the Cumberland Church was likely to be continued for another year or longer, the last General Assembly authorized the Board of Missions for Freedmen to use the Board of Directors of the Educational Society, and its Secretary, Dr. W. J. Darby, as the agency through which such assistance as we might be able to give the C. P. Church, colored, might be tendered; also that our Board might concede to the former Cumberland Churches contributing to the work, the privilege of having their contributions applied to the aid of the educational and missionary work of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, colored; and that the Freedman's Board might make from its own treasury such other appropriations to the work of the Colored Cumberland Presbyterians, as its judgment might dictate, or its available funds allow; and particular attention was called to the need of special training in behalf of candidates for the ministry in this denomination. Pursuant to these recommendations of the Assembly, our Board has carefully set apart all contributions coming to us this year from former Cumberland Presbyterian Churches, and placed the same at the disposal of the Secretary of their Educational Society. The amount so coming to us during the past year as far as we have been able to trace it is $833.46, part of which has been already appropriated, and the rest is in the treasury of our Board, subject to order. Some other small amounts came from Woman's Societies of the former Cumberland Church, designated for particular purposes, and $42.38 came undesignated—and this last amount is to go toward the payment for a Dormitory at Bowling Green, Ky., purchased last year at a cost of $3,500, on which the school at that place still owes for most of the purchase money.

Following up the recommendations of the Assembly, our Board is paying out of its own treasury the salary of a trained Colored Minister of our own church, who on advice has changed his ecclesiastical relations, and united with the Cumberland Church, colored, and has entered upon the work of not only teaching the Bible daily to all the pupils in the Bowling Green Academy, but also the task of giving a special drill in the study of the Bible to such young men of that church as have the Ministry in view.

The field of operation opened up in this direction is full of possibilities for great good, and gladly would our Board enter in and reap the reward, but for the fact that it already is staggering under the load it is attempting to carry, and is even now facing the question of curtailment of its own splendid work, made almost imperative by the unlooked for decrease in its receipts this year.

The following paper was adopted on April 23d by the Directors of the former Cumberland Educational Society, at Nashville, Tenn., and is here incorporated in and made a part of our Report to the Assembly.

"In compliance with the order of the last General Assembly and after due conference with the Board of Missions for Freedmen, this Board has sought to aid the schools of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, Colored, through the personal visits of its Secretary and by gifts of money as the resources at hand would afford. By agreement, the contributions of all former C. P. Churches made to the Freedman's Board have been or will be appropriated for this purpose. We are not able at present to name the exact amount, but it is at least a good beginning in what we trust will be regular annual giving to a cause that has not heretofore received the attention it deserved. Special contributions obtained by personal canvassing amounting to about $400.00 have been applied to extinguish the debt on the Bowling Green property. A dormitory for girls, in connection with this school has been purchased at a cost of $3,500.00 and the money to pay for it is being raised. The hope is that this can be done chiefly through the Women's Missionary Societies of the former C. P. Church. Assistance has been rendered to the school at Huntsville, Alabama, which school is doing a good work, but they are much in need of a new building. Since this Board finished paying for the school property at Newbern, Tennessee, that institution has not asked for further financial aid.

Special assistance has been rendered the officers of this denomination in their efforts to procure reliable statistics regarding their membership and the work of the church.

W. J. DARBY, Sec."

In January last Rev. H. T. McClelland, D. D., tendered his resignation as Field Secretary to the Board, to take effect at the end of the fiscal year.

His annual report to the Board, made at the end of his fourth year of service, indicates the diligence, fidelity and zeal with which he sought in every way, and by every opportunity, to bring to the mind, and lay upon the conscience and the heart of the Christian public, the needs and claims of our missionary work among the Freedmen. One comprehensive statement in his report gives a good idea of the nature and extent of his work throughout the year.

“My activities during the past year have been largely along the line of my former efforts. I have embraced every opportunity within reach of my time and strength to present the cause to Synods and Presbyteries and to congregations. Whenever it was feasible in visiting congregations, I went into the Sunday Schools and Young Peoples meetings, and I covered as many week meetings, prayer meetings, brotherhood meetings, etc., as were available.”

A glimpse of the activity of the service rendered is seen in the statement—“In October I traveled by rail 6,158 miles, and addressed eight synods, Nebraska, Kansas, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, South Dakota, New Jersey and Baltimore, and in connection with the synods of S. Dakota, Kansas, Illinois and Iowa, I addressed the several Women’s Synodical Societies meeting simultaneously with the synods.” Sixty different churches are named, stretching from New York to Nebraska, in which he plead the claims of the black man. Many calls were made, many letters written, through the year to enlist more widely and effectively the active interest of Pastors and Presbyterian Committeemen in the Biddle Library Fund. Thus, much information was imparted, interest awakened, influence exerted, that must eventuate in a more intelligent and liberal support of our worthy and needy cause.

Two faithful pastors of two good and growing churches have this year sent us word that henceforth their people will endeavor to undertake their entire support. On our list of churches as published along with this report there are eleven churches that are maintaining themselves without receiving any supplementary aid from our Board. The growth of our Presbyterian Colored Churches is not rapid—not as rapid as we could wish. And yet as the years go by, one by one they are reaching up toward self-support. Many, very many of them however must still be helped for many a year.

The time will come, however, in God’s own good time when blessed of Heaven with more of this world’s goods than they now have, these people will remember faithfully the tender care with which they were nourished in their infancy, and turn back into the treasury of the Church much that now they are receiving from their stronger brethren. We may now seem to be planting but a handful of corn in the earth upon the top of the mountain; but the time will come when the fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon.

The entire work for the year has been conducted on substantially the same basis as last year. Little or nothing has transpired to hinder or disturb the quiet and peaceful work of education and evangelization as carried on by the hundreds of Christian teachers and ministers laboring under our care.

There is a growing disposition on the part of our workers on the field, to seek the counsel, influence and moral support of the good white people in the communities in which they labor. This is as it should be. There is also a gratifying willingness on the part of these same good people to take an interest in our workers and, when ever they can, to commend them to us, as they frequently do, for their orderly conduct, their quiet demeanor, their Christian character, and the good influence they, by their lives, are exerting upon the people of their own race.

In places where there has been, or is likely to arise, mistrust or misunderstanding, we have found it exceedingly helpful to secure a local advisory committee of influential and conservative men, who will inform themselves as to what we are trying to do, and who, when necessity requires, will be able to correct any false impressions that may arise, or be circulated by evil minded persons, to the detriment of our work.

We have never yet experienced any great difficulty in securing such men to act in this capacity.

There is not now, that we know of, any serious trouble between the ministers and teachers under our care, and the good white people, in any of the numerous places in which they are doing their work. It is our earnest desire that this shall always be the case.

There is no good reason why it should not be. We are simply fighting against a common enemy. We are battling against ignorance, superstition and sin. We are wrestling not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, and powers; against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places. We march not with the roll of the stirring drum, or with the blare of bannered trumpets. The Kingdom of Heaven cometh not with observation. The weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but they are mighty through God, to the pulling down of strongholds. We are but part of a host, fighting for the redemption of a race. The banner which is over us is Love. The sign by which we are to conquer is the Cross of Christ. The evidence that we are not fighting a losing battle is seen in increasing intelligence; clearer and more correct conceptions of duty to God and to man; purer lives, and higher hopes both for this life and the life to come.

When victory comes, as we are promised it surely will, the fruits of that victory will be but the fruits of the Spirit, which are love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, meekness, goodness and truth.

The term of service of the following members expires with this Assembly.

Extracts from Report of Chairman of Standing Committee on Freedmen, to the Assembly at Kansas City, Mo., May, 1908.

"Your Committee has received and given careful attention to the Forty-Third Annual Report and to the Minutes of the Freedmen's Board.

We commend the Board for the noble spirit it has displayed, and its painstaking effort in clearly presenting the work and the methods employed to carry out the policy of the Presbyterian Church to evangelize and educate the colored people."

"The colored problem in America will not be solved as long as ignorance, superstition and sin exist in the human heart. It is not a theory which confronts us but a tremendous condition. The Board is but a branch of the Kingdom of Christ on earth, and as such must do her part fully."

"Nor is this a question of the South alone; nay it is the weal or woe of America and the world. Some think only of the spiritual dynamic which must conquer this problem, while others look at the material forces, the industrial forces and the economic welfare of this people." "Christianity includes and conserves both. Faith looks upward to God and turns from that vision to crystalize the sublime and stupendous enterprise; to force a larger hope, a larger giving."

"The love of God is for the Negro race; his salvation is bound up, and joined to the church, and each member of the church, and must be until that race has been lifted up by the Cross. God is calling us to go forward."

RESOLUTIONS.

FIRST. That the Minutes of the Board of Missions for Freedmen be approved.

SECOND. That the faithfulness of the Secretaries and the members of the Board, as well as the Woman's Board, receive the commendation and gratitude of the Assembly.

THIRD. That the Board aid financially and otherwise the heroic members of the Cumberland Colored Presbyterian Church.

FOURTH. That every effort be made to secure $220,000, which the Assembly urges Presbyteries and Synods to contribute to this worthy cause.

FIFTH. That the following members of the Board, whose terms expire with this Assembly, be re-elected; viz: Rev. S. J. Fisher, D. D., Rev. H. D. Lindsay, D. D., Mr. Robert S. Davis, and Willis S. Boothe, Esq.

Respectfully submitted,

CORNELIUS M. STEFFENS, Chairman.

TWENTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
FREEDMEN'S DEPARTMENT
OF THE
WOMAN'S BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS

513 BESSEMER BUILDING, PITTSBURGH, PA.

In presenting to the Board of Missions for Freedmen—and to the Woman's Board of Home Missions—the Twenty-fourth Annual Report of our Freedmen Department, it is with a shadow resting upon us—the shadow of death—for the beloved Secretary of this department—Mrs. V. P. Boggs, whose name and face have been familiar to you all for nine years, has entered into her eternal rest. On Easter morn as it began to dawn, she slept here and waked with her Saviour. A happy home-going after the months of suffering which she so patiently endured. She kept up her interest in her work and her consciousness until almost the last moment. Her condition was such that her physicians prescribed perfect quiet, and I was only permitted to see her four times for a few moments—she always inquired about the work and how the money was coming in, and would say “you talk”—and as I would tell her of the letters of sympathy we were receiving from our workers on the field and elsewhere and how they were all anxiously praying for her, she said “yes, I know it, give my love to everybody.” The Negroes all feel that they have lost one of their very best and truest friends. She was always so sympathetic, so faithful, so true, trying to show them their faults and help correct them. Her advice and counsels were always so fair and just, she gave her whole powers unreservedly to the uplift and christianizing of the race. Her judgment was good and much of the prosperity and advancement in our School work are due to her unceasing efforts. She has laid down her armor. “She rests from her labors and her works do follow her.” Our loss is her gain. We are still in the service and must buckle on our armor anew, pressing on, confident in this, that our God is with us, and "His strength is sufficient for all our needs."

Our financial receipts for the year 1907-08 are $73,530.22, an advance over last year of $504.92. This gives us great reason for thankfulness, as it shows that the Freedmen cause was not neglected or forgotten in this year of financial depression.

The number of Woman's Societies contributing is 3,112, a gain of 146 over last year. A few Societies contributed to the Board direct the sum of $188.19.

We can report an advance in Young Peoples contributions, the amount received this year being $10,711.02, an increase of $38.58, and 1,071 societies contributing. This is slight, but a gain counts, and we believe that with more earnest effort and kindly interest in the Young Peoples Societies, both Juniors and Seniors, that a much greater interest and activity can be enlisted. They are enthusiastic and generous. Many calls come to them from outside sources. While these may be urgent, yet we must help our Young People to first be loyal to their churches needs. They should understand the purpose and work of the various Boards of our church, and that their usefulness depends upon the loyal support of all our church organizations. The Boards can only work just as the churches supply the funds.

Our Sabbath Schools again show a falling off. Fifty-one less schools contributing, and the amount being $5,027.16, $303 less than last year. Let us pause and look into this continued decrease! Some schools may have contributed and the amounts counted in with the church collections, but when we have a separate column for Sabbath Schools in our report, is it not better to give such contributions in their proper place?

The Sabbath School is the nursery of the church. Where better can training in the churches work begin. The Sabbath School scholars of today will be the active church workers of tomorrow, or should be. Why not teach them that our heavenly Father's business is the Salvation of the world, for such purpose Christ came, that "whosoever believeth on Him should not perish but have everlasting life." That His disciples are to teach and preach and make disciples of all nations, and that every child who loves Jesus can be a helper in this work, a sharer of His blessings with those who have none, children are always glad to share their good things. They enjoy their Sabbath School with its brightness and love, and will be glad to send the glad tidings to those who never had any such privileges, give them an opportunity and I am sure there will be a ready and willing response. Try it.

The General Assembly recommends that each Sabbath School shall give one contribution a year to the Board of Missions for Freedmen. So we have authority for bringing this to the attention of Ministers and Superintendents who have given it no thought. The contributions can be sent direct to the Board—or go through the Woman's Missionary Society—as each Sabbath School may desire. The point is, to have our children know about our Board of Missions to Freedmen, and the great need of the gospel being given to the Negroes, and also the work that our children can do for the Negro children, who never heard of Jesus; also that the funds they give go to the establishment and support of schools for these needy ignorant ones. Had each of the other 8,000 of our Sabbath Schools (or nearly ten thousand, if we count the Cumberland Sabbath Schools) given us even one dollar per school this year, think of the many dark places which could soon be occupied for Christ. Think how our Board's funds could have been helped and the $16,000 deficit reduced. So I urge upon you dear women of the Church to take it upon yourselves to utilize this unused opportunity to help in the Master's work. Train up a child to know his Heavenly Father's will and work, and he will be well equipped to take up the burdens and duties of the Church work when laid upon him. In the Presbyteries where there is a Sabbath School Secretary or where our Freedmen's Secretary looks after this part of the work, you will find the Sabbath Schools gladly coming into line in our work. I have in mind two Presbyteries where almost every Sabbath School contributes to our work. This has been accomplished through the efforts of wise, tactful Secretaries, and the literature we furnish free. Please do not fail to see your opportunity here, and use it. Will we not be held responsible for this? Does not the future of Church work and usefulness depend upon the faithful way in which the young are trained and fitted for it? Shall we use this opportunity or lose it?

We have had most cordial relations with our Synodical officers. Their letters show their earnest desire for co-operation and increased interest in our cause, and willingness to accept the work which has been given out, and I think all have tried to stem the tide of financial depression and unrest and make advance, that all did not succeed in this is not evidence that they are losing interest. In our largest States the money stringency was felt the most keenly. The demands in all our largest cities were very heavy to care for and supply the wants of the multitudes out of work, and we have grateful hearts that our Woman's Department was able to contribute to our Board's treasury a larger sum than ever before.

The Synods making an advance are Atlantic, California, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North and South Dakota, Utah and Washington. California makes the greatest advance, Washington following closely behind. New York reports the largest contributions from Sabbath Schools. Pennsylvania stands second, several have no report from Sabbath Schools. Pennsylvania stands first in its gifts from Young People. New York being second. I have already called your attention to your great field for advancement in these two branches of our Church work. Patient, persistent, prayerful, tactful effort will win for Christ's cause.

The apportionments of the work for last year given to Synodicals have not been met fully. The "Albion Dormitory" fund is so near it, that we are hopeful that the Board will permit the building to be erected this summer, as it is so badly needed. The Arkadelphia fund is not half provided for, what will be done about this building will have to be determined later. The Board having a deficit or shortage of $16,000, will have to consider very carefully what is best to be done under such circumstances. The "Farm Homes" fund while not completed, is sufficient to make a start, when the Board decides where it can best be located.

The Mary Holmes Memorial permanent scholarship to which the Synods of the Northwest are contributing, is not yet complete, as not sufficient designated funds came in for that purpose. It must be kept in mind that Freedmen money must all be so designated, and where special objects are undertaken, this should be carefully noted so that mistakes may not occur. Will Synodical and Presbyterial officers make a note of this and direct their treasurers to be particular in having this done, and in having their pledged work and special objects all met before they send on undesignated money. Treasurers should have the authority given them to do this, so as to have all pledges completed. This will save trouble to Miss Lincoln and to our own Board. Many societies assume pledges and then send their money to "General Fund," not heeding the injunction that all pledges be completed first.

We have had cordial letters of interest and inquiry from our former Cumberland sisters, asking for literature, and directions as to how they may become helpers in our cause, and their funds have been given for their own Colored School at Bowling Green, Kentucky, for the payment of a dormitory recently purchased. We trust that in the coming year the work will go on with even better results, after all become accustomed to the different methods of work.

The financial panic compelled our Board to hold up our buildings and improvements which were in contemplation or course of erection, so that we cannot report much done since that time. The Birmingham Building was at such a stage that to save much expense it was carried to completion, under many difficulties, and they are rejoicing in having a church and school building that is a great credit to those who contributed the means, and they will occupy it this fall. This school is in a fine location in the midst of a dense negro population, and much good work is being done. The church in connection with the school, under the care of Rev. L. B. Bascomb, is looking forward in the near future to becoming self supporting. The Kendall building had to be delayed, the plans were all ready, and it is expected that it can be completed this summer in time for the opening of the fall term.

Ingleside Seminary opened its fall term in the new building, much to their joy and ours; the school only being closed one year. This was quick work, and much credit is due to the many societies who responded so liberally when called upon for furnishings, many were the good boxes of bedding, table linen, rugs, etc., furnished so cheerfully—one Presbytery supplied all the dishes necessary, another the table cloths and cutlery. Some rooms were furnished as memorial rooms, and through all this kindness the Board was able with the insurance money and a small outlay besides to give a new Ingleside in one year, which we trust will do splendid work for the womanhood of the negro race. No race can rise higher than its women.

The McClelland Academy, Newnan, Georgia, was able to occupy its new building also last fall, and rejoices in the comfort and satisfaction of a good plant. Many schools are yet waiting, longing for better equipment, and will gladly take their turn as soon as the financial condition of the Board will permit.

In school work we can report good, faithful study and improvement, mental, spiritual and industrial as far as equipment will allow. There is great need of more and better industrial implements, machinery, the where-with-all to work with. Shoe making outfits, blacksmithing, carpenter's tools, farming implements, all these require money. If people require first class workmen, we must furnish modern up-to-date equipment. The Gillespie School at Cordele, Georgia, has an industrial building under way, but on account of the money stringency, could not be finished last winter, they are trying to wait patiently until they can have the use of this building. Boggs Academy, Keyesville, Ga., under the care of Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Phelps, has just completed their school year. Their work is very promising; they have a neat new church and manse just completed, and are needing a school building, as their work is growing rapidly, but they have the respect of the best white people of that surrounding country, and their hearty endorsement of the work being done. This school has only been established two years. Many of our schools are overcrowded, begging for more teachers, and enlarged accommodations. Prayers go up to God that He will bless this work, and these are His answers to the prayers—but where is the money to meet these answers—shall we pray less, or give more? Mrs. Boggs was on a visit to our schools in the Southwest when she was taken sick at Mary Allen Seminary, in October. She had first visited Oak Hill Academy, Valliant, Oklahoma, and after she was able to travel, stopped at Arkadelphia Academy, Arkansas, and Chattanooga and Knoxville, Tenn., parochial schools, and on her return home had a serious relapse, and was never able to resume her work. In January she tried to be at her desk, but the latter part of that month had another severe attack and never was able to leave her bed again. In the April Home Mission Monthly you will find her very last work, written in her sick room. An account of her trip. She was not able to complete it. She spoke of the good work being done by Rev. and Mrs. Feaster at Arkadelphia, and their pitifully meager equipment, and she had wanted to urge the necessity of a new building and some farming implements, and that school can be made a power for good to all that part of the country. At Chattanooga and Knoxville she found two faithful colored women carrying on excellent schools, having the good will and endorsement and aid of the best white people in those cities, she visited the white Presbyterian Ministers at each point, and they most heartily approved of the good work our schools are doing.

Mary Holmes Seminary had to change leaders in January. Dr. and Mrs. Jolly feeling compelled to resign. The Board was fortunate in being able to secure Rev. E. F. Johnston, D. D., and wife to take charge, and the transfer was made without any break in the regular school work. Dr. Jolly being in readiness to instate the new managers and hand over the control into their hands. Dr. and Mrs. Johnston were no strangers to this work, having been the first leaders in charge of this Seminary for three years, until Dr. Johnston's health failed and made a change of climate and rest necessary, and upon their return, after so many years absence, Mrs. Johnston wrote that they soon felt as much at home and enjoying the work as if they had never been away. The school year has been very satisfactory, a good corps of teachers, and all things promising.

The box work continues to be a help and blessing to many schools and families. In many places the people are glad to pay a small sum for the clothing—the money thus obtained being used to supply some necessities for school or church, which otherwise they could not have. This arrangement makes the people have more respect for themselves, they feel they are not begging—they are also glad to be able to help in the work—so the blessings are reciprocal. While the box work is a help to many a needy person, yet societies should realize that this work does not aid our Board with funds to sustain their work or to press forward into the many doors of opportunity ready, yes waiting for the gospel. Do not feel that a box or a barrel of second-hand clothing alone will discharge your obligations toward these people.

Our Board has issued a new study book, "The American Negro," prepared by Rev. S. J. Fisher, D. D., President of the Board. This will be found most helpful in giving a knowledge of the negro, his condition, his needs from his coming into this country until the present time. He is quite as American as any, for he was brought over in chains about the same time that our Pilgrim Fathers arrived seeking liberty—so that little cloud of slavery grew, hand in hand with liberty, until it broke with fury upon our land, and we owe them a debt—the gospel of Jesus—which we are slow in paying.

We have also several new leaflets. A Sabbath School Exercise, A Responsive Reading, A Young People's Program, all of which will be found helping in meetings. These can be obtained by addressing Literature Department, 513 Bessemer Building, Pittsburgh, Penna. This is the headquarters of our Board of Missions for Freedmen, not New York, not Philadelphia, but Pittsburgh, Pa. Will Societies please make a note of this, also that all Freedmen box work is given out from this office. This will save time and expense to the Woman's Board of Home Missions in New York, as all letters of inquiry with regard to Freedmen work addressed to them are forwarded to 513 Bessemer Building, Pittsburgh.

We have many favors and kindnesses from the Woman's Board of Home Missions continually, for which we are very grateful. The April number of the Home Mission Monthly is always given up almost entirely to the Freedmen news and interests. This favor alone means very much to our cause, and we are always glad to help in every way to increase its subscription list. Also that of Over Sea and Land, the Children's Magazine whose pages are open to us. We hope these magazines may be taken and read in every home—Presbyterian women and children cannot afford not to have them. Over Sea and Land makes a fine Sabbath School paper and will bring Missions before our children in its widest sense.

The Negroes are doing much toward self help, and also in giving the gospel to every creature. The churches and schools are trained to contribute to the Boards of the church, and the many instances of self-denial practised that they may have money to give, would put our white christians to shame. In this year of "hard times," they have almost doubled their contributions to the various Boards of the church, and the total given for self-support in church and school and to the various Boards amounts to over $128,000, an advance of over $10,000 this year, their total gives an average of over five dollars per church member, per year.

We have taken a review of some of the past years' work and fruitage, let us now turn and face the new year and its prospects. Our twenty-fifth year as an organized department of mission work, our "Silver year," and as we tarry a little at this mile stone, allow me to present to you such a vision as Jesus gave to the disciples as they tarried at the well in Samaria. "Lift up your eyes and look upon the fields for they are white unto harvest, and he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal." Is this not as true a vision today as it was then? Yet how many disciples there are now just like the disciples of old—blind to the harvest of souls all about them.

The twelve could see no harvest in Samaria, among that despised race, so Jesus had to teach them lessons, hard to learn as we know. So must we learn our lessons in our Samaria, and have our eyes opened to see the souls who are needing the Water of Life, ready to believe in the Messiah if we who know Him as our Saviour will only tell His story. We too must put away our prejudice, our pride, our self righteousness and do His will, giving His gospel to the perishing multitudes, and we shall receive wages, and gather fruit unto life eternal. Shall we not realize and use our opportunities as never before?

It is expected that all pledged work and building fund be kept up as usual, and it has been suggested that our Silver offering be given as a memorial to Mrs. Boggs. May it be in your hearts and minds to give as the Lord hath prospered you.

There remaineth much land to be possessed, let us go up, for we are able, for the Lord is faithful, who has promised.

“Every shadow suggests a shining

Every cloud has a silver lining.”

Shall we not make in our silver anniversary year an offering mete for the many mercies and blessings which we enjoy in Christ, and which will be a fitting memorial to her who gave her best for this cause.

“We do not well, this is a day of glad tidings, and we hold our peace. If we tarry till the morning, some mischief will come upon us—come that we may tell the king’s household.”

Respectfully submitted,

(Mrs.) SUSAN L. STORER,

General Secretary.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The College Board herewith presents to the General Assembly the Twenty-fifth Annual Report of its work. With the meeting of this Assembly twenty-five years of the Board's work are ended. A review of the causes that led to the formation of the Board will not be inappropriate.

Thirty years ago there was much anxiety in the minds of thoughtful Presbyterians. Word was brought from all the Seminaries that there was a failing supply of candidates for the ministry. In 1877 the General Assembly took the whole subject into consideration, and a Committee was appointed to examine the causes and possible methods of relief, and make full report. The details of history are not necessary, but after provisional reports, and added instructions, the final report of the Committee was made. At first it had been supposed that the desired result could be reached by widening the field and increasing the duties of the Board of Education. One report suggested that a part of the work of that Board should be the endowment of Presbyterian colleges; but the final report of the Committee, in 1883, through its Chairman, the Rev. Dr. Herrick Johnson, made it plain that an entirely new enterprise was necessary. The Committee, after the most patient and careful study, had found that the work could not be committed to any existing agency in the Church. It had come to the conclusion that a proper supply of Christian workers in the ministry, and in all other fields of the Church's service, depended upon the development of Christian education. Christian academies and colleges were to be planted and developed, especially in the great fields of the West, where the Church's temptations to worldliness and commercialism were less pressing. It was shown that the Board of Education was doing its proper work in caring for the missionary candidates, but that an entirely new work must be done. Places were to be provided where the young men and women of new communities should be brought together under the influences of a devout, Christian education that should naturally and normally result in the turning of their lives to Christian service, and in their training for all the forms of the Lord's work. The final recommendations of the Committee, whose report led to the organization of the Board of Aid for Colleges and Academies, included a number of recommendations. Academies and colleges were to be founded in which a thorough education could be given in an atmosphere of devout Christianity; where the Bible should be regularly taught to all students, and where the result should be the directing of the lives of men and women into special forms of service for Jesus Christ. Thus at the Assembly of 1883 the Board of Aid for Colleges and Academies was started upon its way, and twenty-five years of earnest work are now ended. The conditions of the work have greatly changed. After twenty-one years of service in Chicago, the Board, at the direction of the Assembly at Buffalo in 1904, was removed to New York. Its powers were largely increased, and its field was greatly widened. In 1883 there were throughout the great West but seven colleges connected with our Church. Now in the same field there are thirty-four colleges and many academies. The Board has in full co-operation with it fifty-two colleges, including eight that have come through reunion with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. All of the colleges that have been founded since 1883 have been started upon their way with the co-operation of this Board, and many of them by means of its direct influence. The receipts of the Board in the first year were $14,912.11. Last year the church offerings for the Board devoted to current expenses amounted to $171,541. The Board and the colleges, working together in close co-operation, received $583,147.04 for increased endowment and for new buildings, while the total gifts to the colleges and academies of the Presbyterian Church amounted to the sum of $1,667,072.82.

Throughout all this period, the Board has secured the conservative and economical administration of its own affairs and those of the colleges that were acting with it. It has kept itself and all dependent institutions out of debt; it has safeguarded property funds that were given, and in the case of many of the institutions now holds mortgages bearing interest only in case that they shall be foreclosed, and foreclosable only in case the property should be alienated from educational uses in connection with the Presbyterian Church.

Through all this time the Board has stood for high ideals in scholastic work. It has classified its aided institutions according to their real grade, using every effort, and with good success, to get institutions to call themselves by their true names—to write themselves as academies if they did only preparatory work; as collegiate institutes if they added to preparatory work one or two years of college studies; as colleges when they were giving a full collegiate training. It has also induced many to recede from names that were misleading, especially in the cases where the title "university" was attached to an institution whose full ideal was to accomplish only a thorough college work.

The Board's best work, however, has unquestionably been accomplished through its spiritual influence, and its traditions in this regard are being thoroughly maintained to-day. It has sought to direct the colleges in three ways toward fuller Christian influence. It has magnified Bible teaching; it has insisted upon the choice of Christian teachers; it has promoted a real evangelism. It has made one constant declaration to the Church and to the colleges. It has said that a college should not be called Christian that did not exalt the Bible and teach it systematically and sympathetically in the best pedagogic method to every regular student; that did not secure as instructors men and women of such character and consecration that their influence would lead their students to the Saviour and His service, and that did not hold as its first aim the leading of every student to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ, and to His real discipleship.

As to the prominence of Bible study, the Board's effort from the very beginning has been to make a study of the Bible as the Word of God a part of the regular required curriculum. It has been successful in so far that in no other denominational colleges is the Bible so universally taught. The first Chairs endowed in our younger colleges have been almost uniformly Chairs of Bible instruction. The effects of this influence have been very marked, as we shall see later on. It will be enough to say at this point that the College Conference, which is held by the Board in connection with the General Assembly, and in which the presidents and workers of all our Presbyterian colleges are gathered together, took this ground: it was unanimously voted that 144 hours be the minimum for required Bible study in the college course, and that only colleges that conformed to this rule could be included by the Board in the methods of its co-operation. As a matter of actual statistics, there are few institutions under our care that do not go far beyond this required minimum in the matter of Bible study.

As to the Christian character of teachers, the Board has made an unceasing effort that only Christian men and women should occupy the Chairs of its colleges. It has insisted that this was demanded by the very nature of the Christian college. As a small college, its first characteristic was likely to be the personal influence exerted over the students by each professor. It has insisted that it was demanded by the purpose of the Christian college, whose ideal was the conversion and consecration of the student's life. The results have been very gratifying. Careful statistics show a total of 943 Faculty members, with 902 of these, or almost 96 per cent., members in good standing of evangelical churches. Most of those, moreover, who are not professing Christians, are those who are loosely connected with the institutions as teachers in the non-scholastic departments. Some, moreover, who have no present Church membership, are of undoubted Christian character and influence. The Board has now taken a position which it believes the Church will universally commend. It has said to all the institutions that are in any way dependent upon its co-operation, that hereafter it will assist only such institutions as can report that all their teachers have a positive and definite Christian influence upon their students. The Board believes that this position is absolutely required by the purpose of its existence and work.

As to evangelism, the Board has used all its influence to promote efforts that should result in the true conversion of every student. It has, however, sought to have this aim and not the methods fixed. It has kept three things prominent in all its correspondence and publications. It has said that the aim must be kept clear, so as to be thoroughly understood by instructors and students. It has stood for the fact that the Bible, if taught by effective methods, will win the mind and heart of youth to Christ. It has urged the high Christian character of teachers as the surest method of winning the interest of the students in spiritual life. The results of all this effort may be read best through concrete illustrations. During the year just closed, the reports of thirty-eight colleges that had already been received show that 641 of the students in those institutions have given their lives to Jesus Christ, as the result of evangelistic effort and service carried forward by the college authorities. The Board rejoices in this as a natural result of the efforts that it has made, and also as a thing that is demanded by the conditions of student life. From four to seven years the students of our academies and colleges are removed from the home atmosphere. It is a fact well established that they will probably remain through life in the same attitude to Jesus Christ as that in which they graduate from college. If they are to be brought to Christ and trained as His servants, it must be during college days, and by the men and women who hold peculiar personal relations with them.

Another result of the Board's constant effort has been the increased number of candidates for the ministry in our colleges. It has been said that the origin of this Board was really due to the Church's alarm at the decreasing number of candidates. The Board would have failed, therefore, if it had not met this special need. It is a fact that after the Board began its work of organizing Presbyterian colleges, the supply of candidates began in a few years to hopefully increase and that almost wholly from the Western colleges. A year ago, when a canvass of the colleges was made, it was found that there were 608 candidates for the ministry enrolled. This fact has its own especial value, but it has another importance as one that can be watched and tabulated, and that can in this way give evidence of the general conditions of college life. Where there are many candidates for the ministry, it is probable that spiritual influences are at work that will send out other graduates, as truly devoted, as equipped leaders in all the other forms of the Church's service. The work of the Sabbath-schools, of Church societies for men and women, depend upon the production of fully trained Christian leadership. The life, moreover, of the Nation depends upon the training of those who in the name of Christ shall go out into its business and professional life, to save it from low, material things, and to help it to its high calling of God in Christ Jesus. The real connection between the life of the Christian colleges and the leadership of the Nation can be judged best from illustrative cases. Two only are given. One of the Church's colleges in the Middle West has educated twenty-five college presidents, fifty college professors, twenty-nine Representatives in Congress, five United States Senators, nine Governors of States, two Vice-Presidents of the United States, one Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, forty-nine Circuit Judges (State or national), six Moderators of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, and seventy-four editors. Another of the Board's institutions that came recently from the Cumberland Church has made this splendid record: Eight State Governors, five United States Senators, forty-five United States Congressmen, one Judge United States Supreme Court two Judges United States District Courts, seventy Judges State Courts, eight generals, twenty-six college presidents, and thirty-seven college professors.

These figures mean that the Christian colleges have been sending into the very highest forms of service men who are the accredited leaders of the Nation, and who are the trained servants of Jesus Christ.

As it has been said, however, the matter of candidates for the ministry has its own special importance. Almost all of these ministerial students came from the Church colleges. The demand of the Church, in all the forms of its present activity, is for the highest type of adequately trained ministers. The Mission fields demand ministerial missionaries who shall occupy the great strategic points as leaders. Korea, that is now so prominently before the Church, demands twenty thoroughly trained ministers to lead its work. That will be the character of the appeal from the entire field of the Church, at home and abroad, and the supply can only come from Christian colleges. The College Board can furnish all the students that the Church demands if the Church, on its part, will furnish the means for increasing and developing the colleges. The answer to the Church's need lies with Christian education. According to the annual reports of institutions for forty years past, out of twenty young men entering the State Universities with the intention of being ministers, only one graduate has gone into the ministry. The other nineteen were turned by the circumstances of their college life into other fields. According to the same statistics, of twenty young men going to the Christian colleges with the intention of being ministers, nineteen became ministers, only one changing his purpose of service. The difference is with the spiritual atmosphere of the institution. It is not merely the question of what is called "religious" life, that includes more or less formal observances of religion. The demand is for a deeply spiritual life that will bring truly spiritual results. The Church must think of the field of education as having a peculiar claim upon its evangelistic purpose. Half of the young men and women who go to college to-day are not Christians when they go to college. Whether or not they will be converted to Christ depends upon the atmosphere of the college life. Those who are at work in the State University have a peculiarly difficult problem, for it is not the business of the State University to convert and consecrate its students, and it cannot make the effort. The same is true to a less degree, but very really, with the great secular universities, that by their tremendously increased size have lost personal touch with their students. It is a fact, fully proved by statistics, that in the Christian colleges most of the students will be converted, and in the warm, strong, happy Christian atmosphere of the college will either choose the ministry or the missionary service, or in some real way go forth as the devoted servants of Christ into their chosen calling in life.

In view of all these facts, the Board makes its earnest suggestion to Presbyterian givers that before aiding any college, whatever the description of its worth and of its necessities, they investigate these points of college life that are herein made prominent. Let them ask the agents that come to them whether the institution truly exalts the Bible, the Christian influence of teachers, the unceasing effort to convert and consecrate the student. Such a demand on the part of givers will tend to lead our colleges from lower material aims to higher spiritual ones, and to success in striving for them. It seems to the Board that it would be peculiarly wise in givers to consult its Secretaries in regard to appeals that are made to them. The Board has full information in regard to institutions, and it will give that information freely. Its great desire is to turn the main streams of beneficence toward the institutions that are really and earnestly exalting Christ and service.

There is another matter in this general connection that the Board would emphasize at this time, a matter of vast and present importance: the official relation of the college with the Church. Within the past year, some of the institutions that have long been connected officially with the Church have felt that it was wise for them, from the point of view of material provision, to change the existing relations and to secure such modifications of their charters as would give them self-perpetuating Boards of Trustees, and thus remove from them official connection with the Church. The Board believes that this is a thoroughly mistaken policy, and that it will have results in the life of the institutions that those who have secured the changes have been furthest from intending. It believes that during all the history of Christian education, the official relation of the Church has been of a special value in securing the spiritual life of the institution. It has had occasion, during the few months just past, to study very carefully the statistics as to ministerial candidates, and from this special point of view. The past three decades were studied, and the numbers sent during these periods to all our Theological Seminaries from most of the leading denominational colleges. The statistics that have been secured are impressive and suggestive. Twenty-two colleges having official connection with the Presbyterian Church were studied, and it was found that these institutions are giving practically the same percentage of their male graduates to the ministry that they did three decades and two decades ago. On the other hand, fourteen institutions, nominally Presbyterian, but that have no official connection with the Church, in which the Church has no legal right of oversight, were also studied, and it was found that where twenty-five years ago these fourteen institutions gave 40 per cent. of their male graduates to the ministry, they give to-day only 15 per cent. These figures make one fact very clear: it may, of course, be said that the Church has often been careless in the exercise of its official duties, but it is clearly established that official Church connection tends toward that spiritual development in the colleges that results in the production of a specially consecrated graduate body. The Board, therefore, urges very strongly upon the institutions to continue in the relation with the Church in which these results have been secured.

There is another matter that has been made plain by the statistics under consideration. The colleges connected with the Church gave the greatest numbers of Christian leaders three decades ago. Then, under the stimulus of this Board, the colleges generally began to do better spiritual work. More were sent out from the colleges, and the number of candidates increased; but it was the Church colleges that showed the increase, the others did not. It is also true that now, in the day of not very well understood decline in the number of ministerial candidates—a decline in which all the denominations share—that decline is felt most in the colleges that have no Church connection; least in those that are officially tied to the Church. The reason is probably not far to seek. Everywhere there is pressure exerted upon Trustees and Faculties to minimize Bible study, to make little of the Christian character of teachers, to depreciate an evangelistic aim. It is certain that there will be concession along these lines unless the institutions are counseled and strongly affected by the mind of the Church, expressed as the Church has a right to express it, and expressed especially in financial ways. It is for reasons like these that the Board has urged upon the colleges of the Church to remain in an official relation with it. It has a very strong hope that the time will come when this official relation will not preclude the college from any material advantages; but, whether this time comes or not, it believes that the spiritual results of a Church connection are too great to be sacrificed for any material advantage.

The Board has just adopted a policy which it believes will meet the full approval of the Church. Hereafter it will only co-operate with institutions that are able to give some real guarantee of the continued Christianity of their educational work. It will suggest a system of deeds of gift, by which contributions secured from Presbyterian donors, or from churches, may be held only so long as an agreed upon guarantee of Christian influence and teaching and connection with the Church can be given. It will make grants to institutions for current support only as secured by mortgage that will provide against the alienation of the property or the turning aside of the institution from its Christian purpose. The Board has been clearly assured by its Counsel that a mortgage can be given by an institution that can only be foreclosed in case of the alienation of the property from its Christian educational purpose, which mortgage will serve as security for notes given from year to year to cover the amount of grants from the Board, and will hold as against any other incumbrance that might be placed upon the property, and which shall draw no interest while the college is in connection with the Church. The Board believes that by such a method it will secure the purpose of the Church, and the wish of Christian donors that their gifts to Christian education shall be used for all time for the furtherance of the Kingdom of Christ.

GROWTH IN THE COLLEGES.

Under this heading only a few details can be given as to the outstanding facts of development in the various institutions.

(a) New Leaders.—Ten colleges have elected new executive officers during this year, the following persons having become presidents of the colleges written after their names:

Rev. H. L. McCrorey, D.D.....	Biddle University, Charlotte, N.C.
“ A. H. Jolly, D.D.....	College of Florida, Eustis, Fla.
“ C. M. Steffens, D.D.....	German Theological Seminary, Dubuque, Ia.
Pres. W. A. Millis, A.M.....	Hanover College, Hanover, Ind.
“ A. E. Turner, Ph.D., LL.D....	Hastings College, Hastings, Neb.
“ John S. Nollen, Ph.D.....	Lake Forest College, Lake Forest, Ill.
“ S. L. Hornbeak.....	Trinity University, Waxahachie, Texas.
“ G. L. McIntosh, Ph.D.....	Wabash College, Crawfordsville, Ind.
Rev. W. M. Hudson, Ph.D.....	Waynesburg College, Waynes- burg, Pa.
“ John Grant Newman, D.D....	Western College, Oxford, O.
“ J. L. Weaver, D.D.....	Westminster University, Denver, Colo.

(b) Special Financial Efforts.—Only the institutions are named that are engaged in some special effort for endowment or new buildings. Albert Lea has increased its main building so as to accommodate forty more students; Alma is just closing an effort which will add $100,000 to its endowment; Carroll has just secured the same amount; Coe during this year ended its campaign for $250,000 to be used for endowment and new buildings; Emporia has entered upon an effort for $100,000 new endowment; Grove City has done the same; Henry Kendall College has removed to Tulsa, Oklahoma: the citizens of Tulsa are erecting buildings at a value of over $100,000, and when this has been accomplished the Trustees of Synod will turn over to the Trustees the college property at Muskogee, which will be disposed of, proceeds to be held for the endowment of the college; Huron has opened a new and thoroughly equipped college building, erected by the late Mr. Ralph Voorhees, and named in his memory; the College of Idaho is just closing an effort, with all likelihood of final success, to raise $100,000 new endowment, and to erect a new college building at a cost of $25,000; Illinois College has an offer of $75,000 from Mr. Carnegie for new endowment, on condition of the raising of a like sum in its field, and the campaign will begin at once; Lindenwood College has just finished a new dormitory for women, at a cost of $40,000; Macalester College has secured a grant of $75,000 from the General Education Board and of $30,000 from Mr. Carnegie, which, with the work that has already been accomplished, will result in the adding of $450,000, to be used for new endowment and buildings; Maryville College has an offer of $50,000 from the General Education Board, and $50,000 from Mr. Carnegie, on condition of another $100,000, the full $200,000 to be used for endowment and buildings; Montana has practically finished the effort to secure $100,000 new endowment; the University of Wooster, in the end of this college year, brought to a triumphant conclusion its effort to secure the offers of the General Education Board, Mr. Carnegie and Mr. Severance, the President of the Wooster Board of Trustees, and has added $500,000 for new endowment.

(c) Special Work in Cumberland Fields.—The institutions that came into co-operation with the Board through reunion with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church were in a somewhat difficult position. The churches of the Cumberland denomination had not been accustomed to contribute, as churches, to college work. The institutions were wholly dependent upon the gifts of individuals. The Board at once set about an effort to bring the churches into relation to the colleges that were naturally their supporters. Grants were made by the Board to the Cumberland colleges, conditioned upon the raising of certain amounts from the churches that had been in the Cumberland denomination, and that had come into the Presbyterian Church. The result has been very gratifying; the Board will have to pay all its grants, for the churches have more than met the conditions imposed upon them.

The results of all these financial efforts have been most encouraging, but there is still very much land to be possessed.

Seventeen colleges have lost a little in the number of preparatory students, but twenty-six colleges have gained more than 18 per cent. over last year in the enrollment of preparatory students. Ten colleges, for various local reasons, report a slight loss of college students, but forty institutions have gained 18 per cent. in the number of college students. Fourteen colleges, because of entirely local reasons, report classes entering last Fall as slightly below those of a year ago, but thirty-four colleges report together a body of Freshmen more than 21 per cent. larger than a year ago. The Church must consider what such an increase means. It means a very marked demand for increased support. In our Eastern colleges, where the tuition charges are $150 a year, it is estimated that the student pays more than half of what he costs the college for housing and instruction. In our small colleges, and especially in the West where State institutions are free, tuition averages $41 a year, and does not pay half the cost of the student to the college. A small increase of the students, not necessitating any increase of expense, is a financial gain to the institution; but such a large gain as we have noted, calling for more instructors and more dormitories, additional classroom and apparatus, greatly increases current expenses. The Church must bear all this in mind. It is well known that Church offerings for the various Boards are increasing but slightly. A hundred local calls for funds wrest from our Church people a full half of the gifts that used to go to the Church Boards, and such calls increase year after year. This Board faces its greatest financial problem in the question how to get funds for the current expenses of growing unendowed colleges. If all givers would add a little to their annual offerings to The College Board; if individuals of large means would make annual gifts to the Board, or add to the annual gifts that they now make, a vast relief would come to all our colleges. The Board is not making half the plea that it ought to make. It is not pleading that the salaries of college faculties should be increased, as they ought to be, or even so that they should be half what they ought to be; it is only pleading that the colleges that best merit the love of the Church by the work that they have done, and by the work that they are doing, shall be able to care for the students that come to them, and that will soon cease to come unless they can be properly cared for.

At its last Annual Meeting the Board was asked to make grants to its colleges amounting to four times the sum that it could hope for from Church offerings. It had to refuse many institutions altogether; it had to make in every case smaller grants than those that were absolutely demanded by the institutions' needs. A publicity campaign is urgently needed, and yet there are difficulties in the way of such a campaign. The Church objects, and very properly, to a Board's incurring large expenses, but it is only by larger expenditure that any Board can increase its receipts. Wherever this Board can get its work fairly before a minister or a church, the offerings of the church and the gifts of individuals at once increase. The larger Boards, that are best known in the Church's life, have considerable funds for publicity work, and do that work and get its natural results. The work of The College Board is fundamental in the Church's life, but the Church does not understand its importance, and it will cost money to make the work and its importance known. The work is undoubtedly fundamental. The Home Board and the Foreign Board must depend upon the Christian college for their workers. Most of the college-bred Foreign Missionaries and Home Missionaries are the graduates of the Christian college. The Church is wise in building up the great missionary agencies, but it is culpably unwise in neglecting at the same time the source of their supply of workers. The Board of Education is making splendid efforts to help students for the ministry. How wise it is for the Church to build up that agency, but how wretchedly unwise it is to neglect the source from which ministerial candidates must come.

METHODS OF ACCOUNTING.

A change will be found in Schedule C on page 33. Last year there was a twofold division of receipts: those that came through the Board's Treasury, and those that went directly to co-operating institutions. In this report the amounts passing through the Treasury are followed by the amounts that have been secured by the colleges with the actual co-operation of The College Board, for which the Board and the colleges have acted in the most real way together. It is against this total that the administrative and other expenses of the Board should be charged.

NEW PRESS WORK.

During the past year Miss Mary R. Tooker has entered upon her work as Press Secretary of The College Board. She is freely giving her services as her contribution to educational work. Through the gladly offered co-operation of the Church papers, her articles upon the various phases of Christian Education are now appearing widely. The Church will read these articles, and will receive full information as to the general and special efforts of the Board, and as to the whole great question of the Presbyterian Church's relation to Christian Education.

THE LARGER GIVING AGENCIES.

There are now at work two great agencies for the distribution of funds to education. Through Mr. Rockefeller's generosity The General Education Board is finishing its second year of great usefulness in developing college work. Mr. Carnegie is giving more than ever before for the same purpose. The work of these two great agencies has been of vast help to the Presbyterian colleges. Few of the Church's larger institutions have failed to receive grants or offered grants from one or both of these great Funds. The Church will welcome these gifts, but it must be careful not to depend too entirely upon them. They really demand a greater benevolence on the part of the Church than it has ever exercised. They only suggest a required need for far larger gifts to meet the conditions upon which the grants are made. Their greatest usefulness is in pointing the Church to its own vast opportunity.

EDUCATION DAY.

Education Day, any Sabbath near the Day of Prayer for Colleges, is strongly commended to the attention of all pastors and churches. On that day pastors are urged to preach upon the subject of Christian education, and to set forth its fundamental importance to all the developments of the Church's life. Church officers are urged to circulate the Board's printed matter, which will be sent freely and gladly upon application. All Christians are urged to pray together for the young men and women who are gathered in our colleges, and to pray that the spirit of God may wisely direct all of the Church's activities on their behalf.

The Board has gained during the past twenty-five years in knowledge and experience. It has constantly made wide study of all college questions; it has made every effort to accumulate exact information and to make wide and wise inductions. Long experience has given that wisdom which even men of modest abilities can thus secure. Givers are urged to seek the Board's aid; to avail themselves of its knowledge and experience, and so far as may seem good to them to accept the guidance of its educational purpose and study.

NEW YORK CITY, May 5, 1908.

THE POLICY OF THE BOARD.

The Policy of the Board, in accordance with the Constitution framed for it by the Church through the General Assembly of 1904, is summed up in one word—Co-operation. The Board will co-operate (1) with givers, (2) with Presbyterian Colleges, and (3) with both givers and colleges to secure co-operation between them.

1. Co-operation with Givers.

The Board will endeavor to awaken, inform and stimulate the Church in behalf of Presbyterian Colleges. (Constitution, 5 (a).)

It will offer the fullest and most reliable information, both about the college cause and the individual college, and regarding the relation of the Church to education and its colleges. (Constitution, 5 (a), (b).)

It will in no way try to dominate givers and their gifts, but will seek only to ascertain and carry out the desires of givers.

It will seek to safeguard funds committed to it or secured with its co-operation, as givers may desire, or, when no desire is expressed, as the interests of the colleges and the Church require. (Constitution, 8 (a), (b).)

It will, when desired to do so, act as Trustee of funds committed to it, investing them with paramount consideration of safety; holding them permanently if the giver so directs, or, if the giver prefer, temporarily, until conditions prescribed by the giver are fully met (Constitution, 8 (c)), disbursing the income derived from them in accordance with the wish of the giver.

It will "endeavor to have all gifts for Christian Education within our Church either passed through its Treasury or reported to it, that its reports may show from year to year what sums and from what sources are given to this cause." (Constitution, 8 (d).)

2. Co-operation with Colleges. (Constitution, 5 (b), (c), (d), and 6.)

A Presbyterian College is one which either (1) Is organically connected with the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, owned or controlled by an ecclesiastical corporation of the Church ; or (2) By perpetual charter provision has two-thirds of its Board of Control members of this Church ; or (3) Is affiliated with this Church by the predominance of adherents of this Church in its foundations, Board of Control, Faculty and student body. The term "College" is commonly used herein as including universities.

The Board will seek neither to dominate colleges nor to carry them. It will co-operate with them.

Colleges or academies not yet recognized in the Board's report, desiring approval and co-operation, are requested to send to the Board's office for blanks on which report of their ecclesiastical, educational and financial status may be submitted to the Board.

The Annual College Conference (Constitution, 6) will be asked to act in an advisory capacity toward the Board in all matters in which an ecclesiastical corporation, administering trust funds, may properly accept information, opinions and advice from a body of experts in educational matters and college detail. The Board will endeavor to be, so far as possible, the voice of the colleges to the Church and the hand of the Church to the colleges.

The Board will seek primarily to stimulate colleges to self-help, and their home fields to the utmost limit of support and endowment ; since a college, to have a hopeful future, must ordinarily be strongly based in the affection, prayer and giving of its vicinage. This is true in spirit, though not necessarily in the proportion of gifts from the home field, of colleges distinctively missionary in character and work.

To co-operate in securing endowment for the colleges is the chief function of the Board (Minutes of General Assembly, 1904, page 108, 2. and 6.) and to that it will give chief attention. Co-operation with colleges which have little or no endowment, in securing support until their endowments are reasonably adequate, is a necessary but subordinate function.

The Board will consider applications for annual aid toward current expenses of colleges.

Application is to be made by the Trustees, in formal meeting, filling out a blank which the Secretary will furnish on request and will send to aided institutions April 1. Applications made for the first time should be accompanied by the fullest information regarding the history and prospects of the institution.

The Annual Board Meeting for voting on applications is held on the first Tuesday in June. Applications must be in the Secretary's hands by May 1. If the Trustees cannot meet in time for this, the Executive Committee should send an application as nearly as possible like that which the Trustees will probably adopt ; and the formal application, adopted by the Trustees, should reach the Secretary as soon as possible. Institutions withholding applications beyond the date of the meeting, and giving no satisfactory explanation of the delay, will be regarded as expecting no aid from the Board for the ensuing year.

Applications of colleges must have the formal approval of their synods endorsed upon the applications ; applications of academies, the approval of their presbyteries. Yet as there is often no meeting of the ecclesiastical body held between the making of the application by the Trustees and the June Board meeting, unendorsed applications will be voted on at the June meeting ; exact duplicate applications, approved and endorsed, to be sent to the Board before any payment of aid will be made.

With the advice of the Annual College Conference it will adopt a schedule of amounts which the colleges should receive for this purpose ; and it will make payments of these amounts, or of such pro rata parts of them as it shall be enabled to make by offerings from churches and church organizations and by funds otherwise secured by the Board for the purpose : always on condition that, before payment is made, a college shall satisfy the Board

(1) That it requires all regular students to take systematic Bible study as a part of the curriculum required for graduation; in accordance with the agreement between The College Board and the Annual College Conference held on May 16, 1906, 144 hours to be the minimum for required Bible study in the college course, 36 hours to be given each year.

(2) That it has in its Faculty only such teachers as can be regarded as exerting a definitely Christian influence over the students.

(3) That its financial administration is conservative and safe;

(4) That it has used every reasonable effort to secure funds from its vicinage, within agreed presbyterial or synodical lines ;

(5) That it carries adequate insurance on its buildings and their valuable contents ; and

(6) That no mortgage is placed upon the property without previous consent in writing by the Board.

The Board will co-operate most heartily with Colleges

1. That are evidently needed, conditions of population and location of other educational institutions being considered. (Constitution, 9.)

2. That have local interest, opportunity for growth and promise of permanence;

3. That do educational work of high grade;

4. That seek to form Christian character, influencing students toward Bible study, saving faith, right living and consecration to service; and

5. That are prudently and conservatively financed, in estimating probable income, in preparing budgets of expenses, and in the investment of permanent funds. Colleges may never properly, under any conditions, use endowment or special funds, even temporarily, for current expenses or deficit. Such a course is regarded as a misuse of trust funds. The Board will not recommend to givers any college thus misappropriating trust funds. Colleges will be expected to carry adequate insurance on their buildings and other destructible property.

3. Co-operation with Colleges and Givers to Secure Co-operation Between Them.

The Board will endeavor, in co-operation with colleges, to make known to givers the nature and needs of Presbyterian educational institutions.

It will endeavor, in co-operation with colleges, to secure gifts:

(1) The Board will expect every church to make an offering for the cause. (Constitution, 5 (e) and 7 (b).)

Colleges approved by the Annual College Conference and the Board, and recommended for aid on current expenses, may solicit and receive the College Board offerings of their home regions as these may be agreed upon.

As the Board must depend mainly on church offerings for funds to pay appropriations voted for unendowed colleges and academies, it is expected that stronger colleges—while seeking individual gifts and, on occasion, additional special offerings from the churches—will not attempt to secure the regular College Board offerings for themselves.

(2) The Board will expect much from individual givers.

Colleges will be asked to restrict their solicitation of funds in outside fields only as the Annual College Conference may advise and the Board approve.

The Board requests that colleges, planning to solicit funds outside of their home fields, will first consult with the Board, that the interests of all co-operating parties may be conserved; otherwise it will be understood that such colleges will not ask or expect any special co-operation from the Board.

(3) The Board will seek for its own Treasury:

(a) Very large gifts and legacies for use in accordance with the expressed wishes of donors, or, if such wishes are not expressed, for use in the discretion of the Board.

(b) Smaller gifts and legacies for emergency aid to colleges.

(4) The Board will seek for colleges approved by the Annual College Conference and the Board:

(a) Large gifts and legacies for permanent endowment.

(b) Smaller gifts and legacies for colleges recommended for aid on current expenses. These should ordinarily take the form of Scholarships, paying the tuition of a student, from $50 to $100 a year; Professor's Chairs, from $200, when home and its necessities are provided by the college, to $2,000 a year; and Sustentation, carrying the actual annual deficit of a college, from $2,500 a year upwards. Any of these may be given for a single year; but it is in every way better that they should be pledged, by an individual, by a church, by the churches of a city, by a presbytery or by a synod, for from two to five or ten years while the college is securing endowment. Thus the interest of the giver may be localized in an individual college or several colleges and, if the college continue to commend itself to him, lead to increasing and permanent co-operation between them.

¶ The Board will always seek first, in co-operation with a college, to develop the interest and gifts of its home field, both for endowment, for temporary aid in Scholarship, Chairs and Sustentation, and in emergencies, and afterward in other fields, as may seem wise and practicable.

The Board will report, in the Annual Report, all gifts passing through its Treasury, in a list of contributing churches and an alphabetical list of givers, indicating the destination of any gift designated by the giver for an individual institution. Such designated gifts will all be reported, in classified totals, in an alphabetical list of colleges, with a statement that they are itemized elsewhere in the Annual Report.

The Treasurer of the Board will send, on the first of March of each year, to all Presbyterian universities, colleges, academies and schools of which the Board may have knowledge, blanks for reports of gifts received by the institution during the year ending April first; and all gifts reported by such institutions to the Board will be reported by the Board.

(a) Gifts reported by approved colleges and academies, on the special blanks prepared for their use by the Board, will be treated as receipts of the Board. Treasurers of such institutions are Deputy Treasurers of the Board, authorized to handle and account for College Board gifts secured in co-operation with the Board and sent by the giver directly to the college. Church offerings so reported will appear on the books of the Board, and in its Annual Report, in the list of contributing churches, in the alphabetical list of individual givers, and in the alphabetical list of colleges, in the latter in classified totals, with a statement that they are itemized elsewhere in the Annual Report.

(b) Gifts, other than those specified in (a) reported by institutions, will be reported in the Annual Report, in the alphabetical list of institutions, in classified totals; except that an individual gift of $1,000, or upward, will be itemized with the name of the donor, if it is so desired.

Academies.

1. The Board does not see its way clear to approve the establishing of any new academy in the northern section of the country, where the High School development is already marked.

2. The Board will consider applications regarding academies in the southern section as on a different basis, emphasizing, however, its feeling that such institutions will in most cases be temporary in their character.

3. The Board does not see its way clear to encourage a general appeal for endowment for academies, but will co-operate in any local movement so far as may be in its power.

4. Regarding existing academies, the Board will enter into each case separately to determine which of the three following courses may be wise :

(a) To proceed in a movement for permanence in view of the peculiar need of the locality and the history of the institution, with reference to the previous understanding of the community.

(b) To co-operate in securing funds for current expenses for a fixed term of years, until local plans can be made for endowment or other methods of permanence.

(c) To plan for the discontinuance of the institution upon honorable terms.

5. This statement has reference solely to academies independent of colleges, the Board continuing its hearty approval and its offers of assistance for academic departments of colleges.

THE ANNUAL COLLEGE CONFERENCE

HELD AT KANSAS CITY, MO., MAY 20, 1908.

BY MARY R. TOOKER,
Press Secretary of The College Board.

"Three times and a habit."

If this be true The College Board Conference has become a permanent feature of the General Assembly.

Held on Wednesday, May 20, in the First Presbyterian Church of Kansas City, the fourth of these Conferences was attended by from thirty-five to forty members of Faculties, Boards of Trustees and College Presidents of the Presbyterian Colleges. The Secretary of the Board, Dr. J. Stuart Dickson, presided. The morning session, held from ten to twelve-thirty, was devoted to the discussion of the spiritual side of the work of the Christian College.

A paper prepared and read by President H. C. Culbertson, President of Emporia College, Emporia, Kansas, discussed ably "The Best Methods of College Bible Teaching."

Dividing his student body into three classes—the Ill-taught, the Untaught and the Doubtters—he showed by illustration the lack of nearly all college students of a real knowledge of the Bible. Having proved this fundamental need, the second point followed very simply: to supply that need—to teach the Bible, not text-books or helps, but The Book, keeping the one aim in view, an intelligent working knowledge of the Bible.

The most important point made by Dr. L. M. McAfee in his address on "College Evangelism from the Students' Standpoint," was the suggestion that a college chaplain meets the need of the religious side of college life best. It puts this very real side of the student life on an equality with the mental and physical; it gives dignity and importance to the chapel exercises by having it in the hands of one who has given time and thought to its preparation. At Park the Professor of Bible History gives one-half of his time to his duties as chaplain. In closing the morning session, Dr. Dickson emphasized the truth that Bible Study is the Differential between secular institutions and the Christian College.

The afternoon session discussed the question of enlarging the scope of the Church College, Dr. Reed, of Lenox, urging the claims of an agricultural course for some sections of the country; Dr. Evans, of Henry Kendall College, laying emphasis on the opportunities and value of manual training.

A short discussion followed as to the wisdom and possibility of The College Board to successfully conduct a Teachers' Agency.

Dr. Cochran, speaking in behalf of the work of the Board of Education, stated that sixteen State colleges and universities had been visited during the year; that these visits had revealed a desire on the part of the Faculties and students of these institutions to get in touch with the religious life of the Church.

The afternoon session adjourned to continue its conference at Park College in the evening. The questions discussed here were most interesting and vital to the life of the colleges. Dr. Parsons, President of Parsons College, made an earnest plea for mor spiritual use of the Day of Prayer. His points were practical, suggestive and helpful. First: To find a day common to all the colleges, that they might feel the power of united, simultaneous prayer behind their efforts to reach their students. Second: To revive the early purpose of the Day of Prayer; to prepare for it by giving careful attention to the choice of a speaker for the day; to make it the high tide of effort in converting the student body. Third: To make use of the great possibilities of the day (a) for the Faculty, preparing them by special seasons of prayer for (b) individual work among the students. Each boy and girl in the college has the inborn consciousness that he or she should be a Christian. There is a distinct disappointment if a personal appeal does not give form and purpose to this hidden desire.

Announcement was made that the Day of Prayer for Colleges for the year 1909 had been set for the Thursday following the first Sunday in February.

The last subject brought up for discussion was the financial side of college work. In the absence of Dr. Holden, President of Wooster College, a paper written by him was read giving the practical steps employed in raising the $500,000 endowment for Wooster—"How Best to Approach the Subject of Endowment." First: Secure the co-operation of the Trustees and of the Synod. Second: Set the amount within reasonable bounds. Third: Organize the Presbyteries, and prepare literature. Let a campaign of education precede and prepare the way for solicitation. Secure a good start at home before going to the big educational funds for help. Third: Use the Secretary of the Board as a critic and go-between.

The address of Dr. Hodgman, President of Macalester College, was most suggestive. Educational work in the United States up to this time has suffered from lack of unity. There has been no system of standardizing, no unifying, compelling force working behind their efforts. To-day this lack is being supplied by the two great educational funds, the General Education Fund and the Carnegie Foundation. A National Educational Trust has been formed which has compelled certain results, i.e., uniform entrance requirements and the standardizing of work in institutions. The question blanks sent in reply to requests of aid to these funds result in much questioning of heart, much clarifying of ideas, until there emerges a plain, clear, business statement of the aim of the college, its purpose and its possibilities.

Dr. Dickson closed with a few words of advice to those seeking endowment from Mr. Bertram, Secretary of the Carnegie Fund. First: Get the combined wisdom of the whole Board of Trustees in making an application for help. Let no statement be made without thorough investigation. Second: Let no application be made except by the President of the college. Third: Be sure that the information blanks and those sent to The College Board correspond exactly.

The afternoon was spent in a delightful trip to Park College, fourteen miles above Kansas City, on the Missouri River.

Wagons drawn by mules furnished conveyance for the party. Three thousand acres, spread over valley and hillside, are under cultivation, providing fruits of all kinds as well as vegetables for the use of the college students and for export.

New stone buildings built from stone quarried on the college property are replacing former wooden structures; and the beginnings of "A Larger Park College" are to be seen in the Woman's Park, the Men's Park and the Collegiate Group of buildings.

Supper was served in the fine new Alumni Building, and was followed by a quiet hour on the campus, watching the beautiful view, the sun setting beyond the river, and the students practicing for their field day. The evening Conference closed a delightful and profitable day.

SCHEDULE B.

GIFTS TO CHRISTIAN EDUCATION WITHIN OUR CHURCH

1. The College Board is appointed to co-operate with Presbyterian Colleges in all the work of their upbuilding, and to report to the Church all that is done for their development. The following is the sum total of gifts for our Colleges and Academies in the year 1907-8, and is given without reference to the particular agencies by which the component gifts were secured:

Gifts for Christian Education $1,591,549.21

2. The following is the sum of gifts in which the Board's more direct agency is concerned. It includes the offerings of churches and individuals for the current expenses of more needy colleges and for the administrative work of the Board. These offerings, upon which the continued life of many institutions depends, should be largely increased. It includes, also, offerings of churches taken in the name of The College Board and, by permission of the Board, sent directly to institutions. It includes, further, larger gifts, from individuals and educational Boards, in which the Board was directly concerned, in which it co-operated as an agent with the incessant and faithful work of the College Presidents. This co-operating work is the main activity for which the Board is organized. The General Assembly of 1904 said in reorganizing this Board: "2. Said Board to be enlarged in sphere of operation and executive force so as the more widely to represent the Church, and so as the more directly and efficiently to promote college interests and objects, especially in the matter of endowment . . . 6. The Board shall give immediate and special attention to the endowment of our Presbyterian Colleges which come into relations with the Board."

Gifts in Securing which the Board was a Direct Agent . . . $762,829.04

REPORT OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY'S STANDING COMMITTEE

AT KANSAS CITY, MO., MAY, 1908.

The following Report by the Rev. Edgar W. Work, D.D., of New York, Chairman of the Assembly's Standing Committee on this Board, was unanimously adopted:

The Standing Committee on the College Board submits its Report.

We count it a high privilege to have been charged with the consideration of this important subject, and have endeavored to give it careful and prayerful attention.

The Twenty-fifth Annual Report of the Board has been placed in our hands, and has been examined and reported upon by sub-committees and by the Committee as a whole. We have also had opportunity to inspect the Minutes of the Board for the past year.

The review of the Board's Report may be taken up in a series of topics.

I. TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.

With the submission of this Report the Board completes its twenty-fifth year of service in the cause of Christian Education under the General Assembly. The Report contains an interesting summary of the history of these years, as well as an explanation of the events that led up to the formation of the Board in 1883. In view of the far-reaching character of the influence of this work, we are persuaded that few more interesting or important chapters have been written in the history of American Presbyterianism than the unwritten story of the effort of our denomination to conserve the interests of the Kingdom of Christ by means of the Christian College. While no anniversary exercises have been proposed, we suggest that the occasion is notable enough to call for some special emphasis upon the part of the Assembly.

II. OUTSTANDING RESULTS.

One of the principal sources of apologetic for Christianity is found in its genius for building institutions and stamping them both with the power and grace of the Gospel. No agency of our Church is more distinctly engaged in the actual constructive work of the Gospel than this College Board. All over our land it is helping to create and continuing to foster institutions of learning that bear upon their very life and character the marks of Jesus Christ. These institutions are monuments to Christianity, they are testimonies to faith. But, more, they are embodiments of the energies of the Gospel, channels of communication with the young life of the Church and Nation, and conservators at the same time of the best forces of our Christian civilization. No words can overestimate the value of the Christian College. It has to do with the inestimable qualities that produce character in Church and State, the ineffable forces that project themselves into the spiritual life of the world at large. If this Board should do nothing more than to aid in keeping this thought alive and active among us, its service would be fundamental. We must not waver in our devotion to this ideal, or waver in the strength of our purpose. When Christianity shall cease to build her own institutions and keep them true to Christ, the day of her weakness will come.

We must build not for one generation, but for many, so that our children and our children's children, asking the old question, "What mean ye by these stones?" may be told the story of the faith of their fathers.

We ask the Assembly to recognize gratefully the magnitude of the work accomplished in this quarter century, albeit no pen could write the complete story. We beg the Assembly, and through it the churches, to realize something of what it means, that while in 1883 there were but seven Colleges throughout the farther West connected with our Church, there are to-day in the same field thirty-four Colleges and many Academies, that the Board has in full co-operation with it fifty-two Colleges, including eight that came through the reunion with the Cumberland Church, and that the entire number of institutions to-day co-operating with the Board and reporting to it is seventy-two. We confess that we know of no more awakening or inspiring statistic that could be presented to an Assembly of Presbyterians than this, and this figure alone should make the close of the first quarter century of the Board's history notable.

III. FORMER AND PRESENT WORKMEN IN THIS FIELD.

We count it worth while to dwell thus emphatically upon the work of these years, lest we forget the way by which our Lord has led us in doing the thing that our denominational ideals and history from the beginning have prompted us to do. The Presbyterian Church ought to be a College-building Church. Otherwise it will prove recreant to its own best beliefs.

The Church is therefore deeply indebted to the men who have led us in this work, and given the fruit of their best endeavor to this sacred cause. We mention with special gratitude, on the occasion of this anniversary, the name of Dr. Herrick Johnson, the first President of the Board, with the conviction that his long and useful life in the Church can wear no finer crown than that of his splendid service, through his connection with this Board for a period of twenty-one years, as Acting President, and his continued connection with it as President-Emeritus.

With devout gratitude also we write down the name of Dr. H. D. Ganse, the first Secretary of the Board, to whom it was given to do the pioneer work of this Board and who gave earnest and faithful years to the establishment of principles and methods, and the name of Dr. E. C. Ray, the second Secretary of the Board, and now the Office Secretary and Assistant Treasurer, whose years of aggressive propagandism for Christian Education and whose earnest summons to his brethren are an integral part of the history of this movement.

The reorganization of the Board in 1904 placed its important duties in other hands, which are proving both willing and competent. The Committee is convinced that the present Board is exercising great breadth of vision in its plans, and wise and patient endeavor in meeting the varied problems of its work. Its chief problems, as we understand it, are the problems of reconstruction, and comprehension, and stimulation. The realization of these ideals requires time, yet the progress of this reorganized Board in the short period of its work is magnificent, and constitutes a clear prophecy of that which is to be. In the person of its President, Dr. Robert Mackenzie, the Board has a wise and strong leader, and in the person of its Secretary, Dr. James Stuart Dickson, it has secured to itself abounding energy, statesmanlike grasp of need and opportunity, and positive devotion to the broadened conceptions of the work of Christian education.

IV. POLICY AND WORK OF THE BOARD.

The Committee now calls the attention of the Assembly to certain definite aims which this Board holds in view, and which have been recently redefined by the Board and proposed for its Constitution, as follows:

The College Board is constituted by the General Assembly as its agency for maintaining effective relations with Presbyterian Colleges and Universities. It shall—

(a) Co-operate with such institutions in promoting and maintaining high educational standards, spiritual culture and thorough Bible teaching, with the purpose that their students may be under positive Christian influences.

(b) Awaken interest, diffuse information, and stimulate prayer in behalf of the cause with which it is charged.

(c) Co-operate with Colleges which come into relations with the Board in securing endowments for them.

(d) Co-operate with local agencies in determining sites for new Colleges.

(e) Decide which Colleges shall be given annual help for current expenses; and for this purpose—

(f) Secure an annual offering from the churches.

While the Buffalo Assembly, in reorganizing the Board and enlarging its scope, gave the Board power to amend its Constitution according to experience, the Board nevertheless desires the Assembly's full approval before making these additions to the Constitution, which are only calculated to state its work distinctly, and not to change the work already assumed at the hands of the Assembly.

It is manifest to your Committee that the Board is hard at work in the effort to attain these aims. It is doing its utmost to realize the Christian College, and therefore both to define its meaning and create its fair proportions. It holds that there are certainly three things that are always and everywhere to be insisted upon. First: To exalt the Bible and to teach it systematically and sympathetically in the best pedagogic method to every regular student. It is believed that in no other denominational College is the Bible so universally taught as in ours. The College Conference held by the Board in connection with the Assembly has strongly emphasized this feature of our College work and has fixed a minimum of 144 hours of Bible study. Most of our institutions go far beyond this minimum. Second: To secure as teachers men and women of pronounced Christian character and influence. It is believed that this is the atmospheric influence that is the sine qua non of a Christian College. Careful statistics show a total of 943 Faculty members, with 902 of these, or almost 96 per cent., members in good standing of Evangelical Churches. Moreover, such is the strength of the Board's faith in the influence of Christian teachers that it has taken an advanced position, saying to institutions that are in anyway dependent upon its co-operation, that hereafter it will assist only such institutions as can report that all teachers have a positive and definite Christian influence upon their students. Third: To encourage in College life the realization of the aim of the Church and Kingdom of Christ in the actual conversion of students. To omit this aim from a Christian College would be to weaken the charter of its existence. It is not being omitted. In the year just closed the reports of thirty-eight Colleges showed that 641 students had given their lives to Jesus Christ. Will the fathers and brethren dwell devoutly in their minds upon the far-reaching possibilities of this one result of the work of our Christian Colleges?

In short, the aim of this work is to produce in the Christian College an atmosphere that is sincerely, sanely, and frankly favorable, in every way, to religious decision, to religious character, and to religious activity.

Some have thought that this so-called "spiritual atmosphere" is too indefinite a thing to prove useful. On the contrary, it is exceedingly definite, and that it may become more so the Board is determined to keep these three aims ever in view—Bible study, Christian character in teachers, and evangelistic efforts among students.

The single matter of ministerial candidates shows how very definite is the atmosphere of a Christian College in its bearing upon the fixity of religious decision. Eighty-five per cent. of the candidates for the ministry come from these Colleges. But, more striking still, carefully compiled figures indicate that of twenty young men going to Christian Colleges with the intention of becoming ministers, nineteen persevered in their purpose, while in the case of State Universities, one only of the twenty remained steadfast in his purpose. We must conclude that spiritual atmosphere is a very definite reality. The fact is, that the Church should realize more definitely every day that there is no field so ripe for its work, in the strategic matters of religious decision, choice of occupation, fixing of life-habits and ideals of service, as the College, whether denominational or State. Half of the young people who go to College are not definitely Christian. What an evangelistic field is this, and how fraught with importance are the decisions made in College life!

V. THE PAST YEAR.

The Assembly is advised that the work of this Board, as indicated by its Report, has made satisfactory progress during the past year. Most of the Colleges have grown in numbers, and ten of them chosen new executive officers. A number of our institutions have put forth special and successful financial efforts, resulting in large increase of endowments, and several have shared in the bounty of the General Education Fund and the generous giving of Mr. Andrew Carnegie. Special work has been undertaken in the former Cumberland field, and the results have been more than gratifying. Grateful mention is made of the efficient help of Miss Mary R. Tooker, Press Secretary of the Board, who is freely giving her services in the dissemination of intelligence and inspiration through the Press.

VI. FINANCES.

The Committee has read with gratitude the Board's report of financial results. The items are as follows: Amount contributed by the churches for the Board and passing through the hands of the Treasurer or sent direct to institutions, $171,541; amount of individual gifts passing through the hands of the Board or secured by institutions in co-operation with the Board, $624,679.72; amount of legacies, $77.26; amount of individual gifts secured by the Colleges, $803,720.17; amount of legacies secured by the Colleges, $25,000.

The Board now employs a double column in making its report, in one column showing the receipts of the Board and of institutions in co-operation with the Board, and in the other column showing the independent gifts to Colleges.

The total in both these columns for the year is $1,667,072.82, which represents a very notable enrichment of our institutions in practical efficiency in the period of one year. It is to be remembered that the sum coming directly from the churches was $171,541. The Committee believes that this amount should be increased the coming year to $200,000.

In this connection we call the attention of the Assembly to the fact that the Board is now operating a plan of guaranty both for grants and for gifts, by which the Church and individual donors may be assured against the alienation of property or the turning aside of the institution from its Christian purpose.

VII. CONCLUSIONS.

Our study of the Report of the Board and our impression of the general situation bring us, as a Committee, to certain conclusions:

First: That the wisdom of the Assembly in reorganizing and broadening the scope of this Board is amply justified by its successful progress.

Second: That the events of recent years indicate that a new spirit has come into the Church on the subject of education, a spirit both of aggression and comprehension, and that the Assembly may well give both wisdom and aid to the furtherance of this work.

Third: That since experience indicates that the Church is the true friend of the Christian College, the relations of our institutions to the Church should remain in its present form, and should be kept close and prominent, and the urgent attitude of the Board on this subject should be strongly supported.

Fourth: That intending donors to Colleges should be advised to examine their standing and purpose, especially as to the three points of emphasis already named.

Fifth: That the hour is at hand, in view of the needs of our day, in which the Church should declare, more frankly and positively than ever before her faith in the reality and necessity of the Christian College, and should determine to support it with prayers and gifts.

VIII. RECOMMENDATIONS.

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON

SYSTEMATIC BENEFICENCE

IN THE

1908

The Special Committee on Systematic Beneficence consisting of Ministers David G. Wylie, William H. Hubbard, George P. Williams, Chalmers Martin, William R. Richards, William P. Finney, John F. Carson, Charles E. Bronson; with Ruling Elders John Stewart, W. W. Smith, E. E. Beard, H. B. Silliman, H. C. Olin, in this, its Twenty-ninth Annual Report to the General Assembly, has made an effort to make a fair presentation of the standard of financial liberality of the church to its various Boards. The statistical tables herewith submitted are based upon the reports of the missionary and benevolent boards of the Church to the General Assembly for the year 1907. We have considered the statistical reports of 31 Synods and 227 Presbyteries.

The offerings from our Church to the cause of Home Missions are reported under eight different heads, four acknowledging receipts to the Board of Home Missions for evangelization and four through Women's Boards for Mission School and evangelistic work, and it was necessary to add an additional column in order to give the offerings of the church for the sustaining of the Presbyterial and Synodical work.

The offerings from our church for the cause of Foreign Missions are reported under six classified heads, the Sunday School Work under two, the offerings for the cause of the Freedmen under six different heads, so it became necessary for us before being able to know how much was contributed by the churches to the eight Boards of the Church to group together the offerings classified by our eight boards under twenty-seven heads. Nor does this showing include the contributions from church members sent direct to the various Boards of the Church. There was no way in which this contribution of about $500,000 could be classified either by Synods or by Presbyteries or by churches, and we have dealt simply with the offerings that were either credited directly to the church or to some one of the organized agencies of the local church. We have based our averages upon the membership of the church as reported by the General Assembly Minutes for the year 1907. The comparison is also made between the total offerings of our churches for the various boards and the congregational expenses as reported for the year 1907 in the General Assembly Minutes.

The Financial Standard of the Liberality of the Church by Synods.

By carefully compiling these statistics we find the standard of liberality in the church for all the boards of the church combined, including all its contributions through the Women's Boards, Young People's Societies, Sunday Schools, and Synodical and Presbyterial support aggregates an average for the Synod of New Jersey, of $2.76 per member for all the boards combined, with an average of $15.20 per member for congregational expenses. The average for the Synod of New York for the missionary and benevolent work of the church is $2.31 with congregational expenses of $14.86. There are seven Synods that have an average offering per member for all the boards of the church combined above $2.00. Seven more Synods with an average of more than $1.50 and less than $2.00. And ten have an average offering about $1.00 and less than $1.50. There are seven Synods with an average offering of less than $1.00. There is only one Synod of the church whose liberality to the Boards of the church exceeds five cents per member per week.

The Financial Standard of Liberality of the Church as Indicated by Presbyteries.

In the statistical tables we have classified the Presbyteries according to their per capita offerings for all the Boards of the Church. Only one Presbytery contributed above 10 cents per week per member to all the boards of the church combined. The Presbytery of Morris and Orange with a total membership of 11,123 gave $5.29 per member. New York with a membership of 30,345 gave $4.78 per member to all the boards of the church combined. There were only eight Presbyteries with a total membership of 107,191 that gave above $3.00 per member for the Boards of the Church. The second group of nine Presbyteries with 136,313 membership, giving between $2.50 and $3.00 per member gave an average of $2.57 per member; and the third group of twenty-two Presbyteries with membership of 211,540 giving between $2.00 and $2.50 per member, gave an average $2.19 per member for the group. There were only twenty-nine Presbyteries whose standard of financial liberality to the boards of the church reached above $2.00 per member. A fourth group of 53 Presbyteries with a membership of 279,310 ranged from $1.50 per member to $2.00 with a total average for the 53 Presbyteries of $1.71 per member. The fifth and by far the largest group of 77 Presbyteries with a total membership of 314,284, ranged from $1.00 per member to $1.50, with an average of $1.28 per member. The sixth group of 37 Presbyteries with a membership of 95,192 giving less than $1.00 and over 50 cents per member gave an average of 85 cents per member; and the seventh group of 21 Presbyteries with a membership of 27,881 gave an average of 18 cents per member. This is the standard of financial liberality of our Church as indicated by the reports of the offerings by Presbyteries.

The column headed "Total offerings for all the Boards of the Church" includes offerings from Churches, Sunday-schools, Young People's Societies, Women's Boards and also, as far as reported, offerings for Presbyterial Synodical Support.

The Standard of Financial Liberality of the Church as Indicated by the Offerings of the Churches.

We have carefully examined in detail the contributions to all the boards of more than eight thousand of our churches. We have grouped them according to the total contributions of the churches to all the boards combined. During the year under review there were only 123 churches of the eight thousand churches that contributed an average per member of $5.00 or over to all the boards. We have further given the detailed amounts contributed by these 123 churches to the several boards. The total amounts contributed by these 123 churches to all the boards combined were $606,000. It may be of interest to know how these 123 churches divided their offerings to the several boards:

- 33. per cent. to Home Missions
- 47. per cent. to Foreign Missions
- 1.8 per cent. to Education
- 3. per cent. to Sunday School Work
- 2.5 per cent. to Church Erection
- 5.3 per cent. to Ministerial Relief
- 5. per cent. to Freedmen
- 3.6 per cent. to College Board

The Contributing Churches Classified.

Twelve churches out of this list gave each in the aggregate over $10,000 to the Boards combined. There were 35 giving between $5,000 and $10,000, 135 between $2,000 and $5,000; 266 between $1,000 and $2,000; 471 churches contributing more than $500 and less than $1,000; 1,047 between $200 and $500; 1,079 between $100 and $200; 1,201 from $50 to $100; 102 from $25 to $50; and 2,592 less than $25; and 464 nothing.

The tables above referred to indicate the financial standard of liberality to the various Boards of our church as determined by what the churches do for the Boards combined.

Self-Supporting and Non-Self-Supporting Synods.

In another statistical table we have divided the Synods into two portions. One group of eight Synods is considered as self-supporting Synods, and the other group of 23 Synods is considered as non-self-supporting. To explain, the self-supporting Synods are those that contribute to what may be known as the seven home boards through their various agencies a larger sum than the seven boards spend within their bounds. The twenty-three non-self-supporting Synods are those that do not contribute to the seven boards an amount equivalent to that which these seven boards disburse within their bounds. In our statistical tables we have been able only to report the sums spent in aggregate by five of the home boards within the bounds of the several Synods, having no report of the disbursements in the Synods of the Board of Freedmen and the College Board.

Standard of Liberality of the Church as Indicated by the Income of the Boards.

The standard of liberality of the church has remained practically the same for years. In the second part of this report will be found the statistical tables of the entire income of the Boards for seventeen years. During this time the membership of the church has grown from 806,796 to about 1,400,000, a gain in membership of 600,000, and a gain in income to the eight boards combined of about a million dollars. The per capita income from all sources in 1891, from contributions through churches, organized societies, legacies, interest on invested funds, etc., was $2.68 per member. In 1891, it was $2.68 per member. In 1907, it was $2.32 per member with slight fluctuations one way and the other from year to year, but so steady has been the income of the several boards from the various sources of income that the total fluctuation has practically never exceeded 10 per cent. For the year 1908 the Boards report an aggregate income, the largest in their history, of $3,319,332. The income of the Board of Home Missions, of Foreign Missions, of Education, of Sunday School Work, Ministerial Relief show an increase above previous years. The aggregate increase of the total income of the eight boards over the previous year is between 6 and 7 per cent.

From a careful review of the statistical tables as thus furnished through a series of years, there is no indication of any great increase in the liberality of the church to the various boards of our Church under present conditions and present policy. Nor do the voted recommendations of the General Assembly for different sums of money greatly in excess of what is the usual income of any board warrant any board in going forward and increasing their expenditures on the basis of such recommendations of General Assembly. Under the present conditions, the standard of liberality of the church for all the boards combined remains for the church as a whole about four cents per member per week. To increase this four cent average requires an increased sense of obligation to God on the part of the average church member for the spread of His kingdom, and an improved and simpler method of gathering the offerings that are to be disbursed by our several agencies.

Weakness of the Multiplied Appeals.

There seems to be a feeling in certain quarters of the church that the only way to increase the offerings to the various boards of the church is either to multiply the number of appeals or increase the number of avenues of approach to the church member. During the past few years there has been a steady increase in the number of avenues of approach which are opened by the Boards to the membership of the church, as is indicated by the number of columns necessary to make report of the offerings of the churches to the Boards of the Church. Nor has this tendency to open new avenues of approach reached its limit, according to present appearances. One of the Boards at the last General Assembly called attention to the fact that the women of the church were organized to gather offerings for three of the boards of the church, and they expressed a desire for the organization of another women's society in their own interests. As rapidly as new organizations are formed in the local church immediately these organizations become new avenues of appeal for our missionary and benevolent work. In addition to the church column, the young people's columns, and the women's columns in our Board reports, there must soon be added a men's column. The ultimate result of this movement is to minify the dignity of the church.

We are convinced that multiplied appeals from the pulpit to the membership of the church is having an injurious effect upon the membership. The rank and file of the membership of the church have recognized that these money appeals are to be made and they have adjusted themselves to this condition of things and they have divided up what they propose to give accordingly. So that with the exception of a very few in each congregation the difference of appeal and difference of causes makes very little difference. Some have formed the penny habit and whether it is for current expenses or for special objects the penny goes regularly upon the plate. Some have the five cent habit and nothing will change the five cent offering. Still others have the ten cent habit and the twenty-five cent habit. And hence the feeling on the part of some that the only way to increase the offerings is to multiply the appeals. The more appeals the more pennies. So that at the present time if the recommendations for contributions that bear the endorsement of the General Assembly are regarded by our church sessions it would require some direct appeal or the statement of some cause to occupy the attention of the people at every Lord's Day service. The question does not seem to have been carefully considered by those who are in favor of multiplied appeals how this system can be carried on consistently with the educating of the people in the matter of systematic and proportionate giving to the work of the spread of God's kingdom. It must be borne in mind further that the General Assembly in its judgment has given franchises to eight boards of the church as necessary in carrying on the various phases of missionary and benevolent work given into the care of the church. It has further indicated the relative importance of each one of these causes and each cause is of equal importance as deserving in its place of its proper support and the giving to these causes is of necessity from the same motive. In this view therefore any distinction of causes that magnify one at the expense of another is unwise and unscriptural.

There should be such a unity of the causes in the interests of the one work and such a right proportion between their causes that every dollar contributed by whatever portion of the church shall represent in itself every cause that in the judgment of our church demands our support. It is true that one cause may need a larger amount of money than another and one cause may need a larger amount of money at one time than it would need at another time. This should be easy of adjustment on the part of the church as a whole. A simple change of percentages will from time to time obviate this difficulty. The success of any of the causes established by the General Assembly should not depend upon the number of agents that cause has in the field or upon the particular eloquence with which the cause may be presented by some of its representatives. But the church should determine the inter-relationship of each cause with every other, determining upon its due place and the amount which it should receive, based upon the amount that the other causes should receive, so that the unity shall represent in due proportion every cause which in the judgment of the church demands the support of the people. Experience can but determine what the true ratio should be between the causes and these ratios can be changed from time to time as it may seem wise. In this matter it might be well for us to consider the relationship of the various boards of the church in the light of Paul's reaching in I Cor. 12.

"For the body is not one member but many. If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

But now hath God set the members every one of them in the body, as it hath pleased Him.

And if they were all one member, where were the body?

But now are they many members, yet but one body.

And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee; nor again the head to the feet, I have no need of you.

Nay, much more those members of the body, which seem to be more feeble, are necessary.

And those members of the body which we think to be less honorable, upon these we bestow more abundant honour; and our uncomely parts have more abundant comeliness.

For our comely parts have no need; but God hath tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to that part which lacked:

That there should be no schism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for another.

And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or one member be honoured, all the members rejoice with it.

Now ye are the body of Christ, and members in particular."

There can be no great advance in the sense of obligation of giving as an act of worship in the spread of God's kingdom until there is recognized the unity of the causes to which the church is expected to contribute and the inter-dependence of one upon the other.

The detailed statistical tables that are given in this report are not given for the purpose of comparison of the various portions of the church with each other, but simply to show as clearly as possible that the present system of gathering the funds that are necessary for carrying on the needed work for which the Presbyterian Church is held responsible is inadequate and the continuance of the system along the present lines is injurious to the work itself and to the membership of the church to which the appeals are made. No one can carefully go over these tables which represent the present giving of our church and for one moment think that the standard of giving is worthy of the name. There is little manifestation of a sense of obligation to the work of God's church on the part of the membership of the church. It is just such kind of giving as might be expected for any humanitarian cause that might be well presented by eloquent speech or taking illustration. The command to give for God's cause rests upon the same authority as the command to go and teach all nations, but the human mind is so constituted that it is only by iteration and reiteration of a command that it begins to have an effect upon the conduct. The time has come when the Christian command of giving must be emphasized more than it has been in the past, not merely as an obligation that one owes to the world in which he lives but as one of the divinely established conditions for the growth of the spiritual life of the individual. Without giving there can be no great spiritual growth. There must be a new standard of liberality established in our church before we can overtake in any way whatever the work that God has committed unto us to do.

If all of our agencies should recognize the absolute need of the hour to be united in the presentation of one great need to a united church and all energies of the church concentrated to lifting the standard of the benevolences we believe it would be the ushering in of a new era in the history of giving in our beloved church.

It is no time to debate over the division of the halt, the lame and the blind that the membership of the Presbyterian Church is offering today on God's altar when there is the crying need of the waking up of the church to some adequate sense of its responsibility for the rapid spread of the kingdom of Jesus Christ. If for a whole year every representative of every cause which the church should support should not mention a word concerning the cause of which he is a representative and spend the entire time in getting the church into a right position as regards the use of property it would be time well spent in the interests of every cause that Jesus Christ would have us help. The offerings of the Lord are made a Sabbath duty independent entirely of how the money laid by in store on the Sabbath is to be disbursed. The requirement of the Scriptures disassociates giving as an act of worship from giving from impulse or being stirred by some earnest appeal. It is as truly a part of man's unchanging duty to take care of the Lord's work as it is for him to take care of his own home.

When we consider that the combined efforts of all the agencies of the eight boards of the church, the number of appeals, the number of missionary societies, the number of sermons preached and efforts put forth, that all of these have only succeeded in securing an amount less than four cents a week per member from our entire church, and when it is further considered that this four cents a week includes the gifts of many of our devoted, wealthy people who have contributed their thousands, there is a most clear indication that there is very little obedience to Paul's command to the Christian disciples, "Upon the first day of the week, let everyone of you lay by him in store as God hath prospered him." Is not this failure on the part of the church an indication of providence that a change of front and of method is the necessity of the hour?

How Can the Present Condition of Things be Improved?

That the present standard of benevolences should be greatly increased goes without saying. There are indications of a general desire on the part of the church that it should be improved. We would call special attention to the action of nearly every Synod of our church on this subject this past fall as showing a desire for a better condition of things in the church.

If every Presbytery would recognize its own responsibility to the great work of the church as a whole it would not be difficult to greatly increase the total income of the church during the current year. We would suggest that the Committees on Sytematic Beneficence in each Presbytery with the Presbyterial Committees on the Boards of the Church get together and outline a campaign of education and of the gathering of funds for the work of the boards as a whole. If a systematic effort should be made by every Presbytery among all the churches within their bounds, we are convinced that next year there would not be over two thousand churches reporting their total offerings for the eight boards of the church at less than $25.00 a church. We believe that such an effort would not only give new enthusiasm for the spread of Christ's cause throughout the world but would bring new life and enthusiasm for the proper support of the local church and for the increase of the salaries of the underpaid ministers in many of our parishes. Such a united effort in every Presbytery is not simply for the purpose of increasing the amount of money that shall be poured into the treasuries of the Boards of the Church but the development of the proper sense of responsibility on the part of the membership of the church for the proper use of the money that God has placed within their hands as a condition of spiritual growth. It is more necessary that some such system as this should be immediately undertaken in our smaller and weaker churches because from the ranks of our smaller and weaker churches are to go forth the young people who are destined to be the strong and influential people in our city churches and the habit of benevolence formed in their younger days will be powerful factors in the liberality of the church of the future.

The statistical tables furnished with this report will give to every Presbytery the information necessary upon which to begin work. The present and the past success of the Presbyterial Women's societies in its work for three of the boards of the church only reveals what the Presbytery might do for all the boards of the church. While it may seem a little disheartening to make such a report of the financial condition of the liberality of the Presbyterian Church as we have here presented, let it be to us only an incentive for more faithful work

The Committee on Systematic Beneficence have a series of leaflets upon the general question of Systematic Beneficence for free distribution among the membership of the churches. Subscription blanks and envelopes are also furnished free for general distribution in churches. We have to report a larger call for envelopes and leaflets during the past year than in any former year in the history of our Committee. We have appended to our report an account of a supposed Congregational Meeting called to consider the subject of Systematic and Proportionate Giving, prepared by our Chairman, Dr. David G. Wylie.

It is a source of sorrow to our Committee to make mention of the loss through death of our Treasurer, Mr. John Sinclair, who was faithful and conscientious in the discharge of his duties, a patient and judicious advisor and one who was greatly interested in promoting the cause of Systematic Beneficence.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

In the behalf of the Committee,

DAVID G. WYLIE, Chairman.

W. H. HUBBARD, Secretary.

A CHURCH AND ITS BENEFICENCE.

SOME PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS FOR A CONGREGATIONAL MEETING CALLED TO ADOPT SOME METHOD OF SYSTEMATIC BENEFICENCE.

BY REV. DAVID G. WYLIE, PH. D., D. D.

The Committee on Systematic Beneficence of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, has received many inquiries as to the best method of securing benevolent offerings and many requests have come for practical plans. It is evident that no particular plan can be constructed which will suit every congregation, for there are many types of Christian people, and circumstances of congregations differ so widely, that what will be meat for one will be poison for another!

So persistent has been the demand for some plan that may be helpful, at a meeting called to adopt a system of offerings, that the Chairman of the Committee ventures to make the following suggestions, which he hopes may be helpful to at least some of our congregations where there is a desire for better methods than at present exist.

Plan for Congregational Meeting.

The session having considered, with due care, the matter of systematic beneficence, especially with reference to the relation of missionary gifts to congregational expenditures, and having held a meeting, or meetings, with the trustees or other persons responsible for the congregational expenses, and having agreed upon a plan, calls a meeting of the congregation with the pastor in the chair, and the Clerk of the Session acting as clerk or secretary of the congregational meeting.

The pastor states the object of the meeting and announces an appropriate hymn, such as the following:

"I love thy kingdom, Lord!
The house of thine abode,
The church, our blessed Redeemer saved
With His own precious blood."

For her my tears shall fall,
 For her my prayers ascend;
 To her my cares and toils be given,
 Till toils and cares shall end.

Beyond my highest joy,
 I prize her heavenly ways,
 Her sweet communion, solemn vows,
 Her hymns of love and praise."

The pastor then states that the Holy Scriptures have much to say on the subject of giving to others, for the support of the church, and to God and adds that he desires to read some of the important passages of the Bible bearing on this subject.

"And Jacob vowed a vow, saying, If God will be with me, and will keep me in this way that I go, and will give me bread to eat, and raiment to put on, so that I come again to my Father's house in peace; then shall the Lord be my God, and this stone, which I have set for a pillar, shall be God's house, and of all that Thou shalt give me I will surely give the tenth unto Thee." Genesis, 28:20-22.

"And all the thithes of the land, whether of the seed of the land, or of the fruit of the tree, is the Lord's; it is wholly unto the Lord." Leviticus, 27:30.

But unto the place which the Lord, your God, shall choose out of all your tribes to put His name there, even unto his habitation shall ye seek, and thither thou shalt come ;and thither ye shall bring your burnt offerings, and your sacrifices, and your tithes, and heave offerings of your hand, and your vows, and your free-will offerings, and the firstlings of your herds and of your flocks." Deut., 12:5-6.

"Blessed is he that considereth the poor." Ps., 41:1.

"Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it." Prov., 3:27.

"There is that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing ;there is that maketh himself poor, yet hath great riches." Prov., 13:7.

"He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack, but he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse." Prov., 28:27.

"He that hath a bountiful eye shall be blest, for he giveth of his bread to the poor." Prov., 22:9.

"Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days." Eccl., 11:1.

"The liberal deviseth liberal things; and by liberal things shall he stand." Is., 32:8.

"Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings. Ye are cursed with a curse; for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation. Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in my house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of Hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

"If thou wilt be perfect go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven." Matt., 19:21.

"Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send relief unto the brethren who dwelt in Judea; which also they did, and sent it to the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul." Acts, 11:29-30.

"I have showed you all things, how that so laboring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said, It is more blessed to give than to receive." Acts, 20:35.

"Now, concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye. Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store as God hath prospered him." I. Cor., 16:1-2.

"But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity; for God loveth a cheerful giver." II. Cor., 9:6-7.

After the reading of the Scriptures, the pastor leads in prayer, in which he seeks the guidance of God and the blessing of the Holy Spirit upon the efforts of the congregation to advance the kingdom of Christ on earth. Others follow in prayer. This part of the service should be arranged with great care and there should be here no failure.

The Clerk of the Session is next called upon to present the plan agreed upon by the Session, after conference with the Trustees, or those responsible for the finances of the congregation. After the report has been read the pastor follows with a carefully prepared address, of which the following may be taken as an outline:

"Brethren of the Congregation and Friends:—The relation of the local expenditures of a congregation to its benevolences, or gifts to causes outside of the congregation, is very close. Doubtless, the first duty of a Christian congregation is to secure funds sufficient to pay the monthly bills that are presented to the trustees.

"In this congregation, these expenses are met by pew rents paid quarterly, semi-annually, and annually; by the weekly envelope system, and by plate collections. If, therefore, the plan proposed this evening be adopted, it will be necessary to make provision for returning to the trustees, at the end of each month, an amount equal to what is now received by them in the plate collections.

"Our present method of securing money for the support of the great causes of the church and kingdom outside of our own congregation is to receive an offering on the first Sabbath morning of each month, literature having been previously distributed, and attention having been directed to the offering by a printed letter sent out by the Session, supplemented by the pastor in a few words from the pulpit, in which he shows the worthiness of the cause for which the money is requested.

"Now, this is a good method if the day be fine and most of the members of the congregation be present. Any one can see, however, that if the day be cold, wet, hot or otherwise disagreeable; or if the offering be made in July or August, in a city church, and many of the people away from home on a vacation, the benevolent offering will suffer greatly.

"We feel strongly that what is needed in this church, and in most of our churches, is method, some definite system by which to secure our benevolent offerings. If we are to do, as a congregation, what it is possible to do, we cannot longer depend upon the hap-hazard method of giving what we happen to have in our pockets, when we happen to be at church! We wish to adopt some method which will bring in the money even if the weather be bad and many people absent from the church. We believe that such a method has been worked out by the Session, in the report of the committee which has just been made, and which is now presented to you for your favorable consideration and adoption.

"Briefly stated, this plan aims to secure a pledge from every member of the church and congregation, of a definite amount to be given each week, in an envelope furnished for that purpose. It is clearly understood that the amount pledged may be increased or decreased, or discontinued, at any time, by notifying the person in charge of the benevolent offering. It is also taken for granted that the amount pledged is to be known only to the person pledging and to the one in charge of the benevolent funds."

A statement will be rendered to each contributor at the close of every quarter, showing the amount pledged, paid in and due. Of course, if members have been present every Sabbath and have placed their benevolent envelopes on the collection plate; or, if they have been absent and afterwards placed their envelopes on the plate or in the basket, the amount pledged and paid will balance. Allow me to say two or three things further in reference to this whole matter:

"The amount pledged by any one should be in some fair proportion to his income. God demands a definite proportion of our time and money, and, as Christians, we fail in our duty, responsibility and privilege if we withhold from God what He has a right to demand..

"Admittedly, it is difficult to determine what proportion of our income we should give to God. Many Christians believe that the Scriptures teach the duty of giving a tenth. Without entering into a discussion as to whether the tenth, or tithe system is binding, in the Christian dispensation, all of us ought to give some definite proportion of our time and income to God; and the more we love God and His cause, the more we will be willing to give. There are Christians who feel ashamed to give only the tenth! I feel sure that many of the members of this congregation are able to give to benevolent objects an amount equal to what they give to congregational expenses. In some cases, this would be meagre giving; but it is an ideal toward which every church should work to give at least as much to the work of God outside the parish as is given to congregational support.

"The earnest Christian does not need to seek long to find the spirit in which to give. God wants us to give willingly, gladly, joyfully. He has told us plainly that he is not pleased when His people give grudgingly, unwillingly, sadly, sorrowfully and simply from a sense of duty. There should be joy in our giving! We should look forward to the offering as one of the pleasantest parts of the service on the Lord's day. We should give in the spirit of gratitude, remembering all that God has done for us through his Divine Son, Jesus Christ. As our Heavenly Father has given us life, health, home, liberty, the Bible, the Church, the ministry, the sacraments, the service of praise, the privilege of prayer, the preaching of the Word, and the blessed Holy Spirit to guide us, we should give of our substance in order that these blessings may be passed on to others—to all our fellow men!

"I sincerely trust, brethren, that this matter has been made plain to all. Before going further, however, let us sing a hymn which seems appropriate to the occasion:

"Take my life, and let it be Consecrated, Lord, to Thee,
Take my hands, and let them move
At the impulse of thy love,
Take my feet, and let them be
Swift and beautiful for Thee,
Take my voice, and let me sing
Always, only, for my King.

Take my lips, and let them be Filled with messages from Thee,
Take my silver and my gold,
Not a mite would I withhold;
Take my moments and my days,
Let them flow in ceaseless praise,
Take my intellect, and use
Every power as Thou shalt choose.'

"It seems proper that we should now hold a conference on this subject, or, as they say in a legislative body, go into the 'committee of the whole.' We desire to explain every detail of the plan that has been proposed. Does any one wish to ask a question? The more animated this meeting now becomes the better."

Mr. Wilson: "You have said, Mr. Chairman, that the Board of Trustees now receive the plate collections and apply these to the congregational expenses. How much do these offerings amount to and how will this sum be provided for in the plan that has been proposed?"

"In reply to this question, permit the chairman to call upon the treasurer of the trustees. Mr. Lord, what amount did you receive from the plate collections last year?"

Mr. Lord: "Last year the plate collections amounted to $1,900.

This year we shall need a little more, and I understand the plan is to give to the trustees $2,000 in lieu of all plate collections. This is to be paid by those in charge of the benevolent offerings to the treasurer of the Trustees at the close of every month. When we remember that the plate collections last year amounted to $1,900, it is evident that if $2,000 be passed over to the trustees, to be applied to congregational expenses, there will be little advance in our giving."

Mr. Williams: "Mr. Chairman, I can see an objection to this plan though, possibly, it is not serious. For example, one might offer to contribute $500 to benevolences and find that a part of this amount had been applied to congregational expenses. I think the plan would be stronger if modified a little; and I would suggest that the trustees receive all the plate collections, as they now do, except on the first Sabbath of each month, and that a serious effort be made to secure a weekly offering to the benevolent scheme without in any way interfering with the work of the trustees. I am speaking for myself, and not for the trustees, and do not press this, but simply suggest it for consideration."

Mrs. Havemeyer: "I confess that I do not take to the envelope system. It gives one a good deal of trouble to keep track of envelopes for a whole family. Of course, it is easy enough for those families where there are no children, and unfortunately there are a good many such in this church; but it is different with us, for we have nine children and five of these are members of the church. This means that we would need seven bundles of envelopes. Now, what I want to know is, how can I pay my contribution to the benevolences without using the weekly envelope? Of course, we propose to subscribe and to pay for the support of the great causes of the church, that is our privilege and duty; but really I should prefer not to take envelopes."

To this the clerk responds: "We are sorry Mrs. Havemeyer does not like the envelope system, but we are pleased to know that she is willing and ready to support the benevolences. All that Mrs. Havemeyer will have to do will be to send her check to the treasurer of the benevolent funds from time to time and a proper receipt will be sent."

Mr. Donaldson: "I now pay my pew rent by the weekly envelope plan. Will it be necessary, in the proposed plan, to use two envelopes?"

The reply to this question is that the Systematic Beneficence Committee supply envelopes adapted for taking a combined offering for current expenses and for benevolences. It is appropriately printed on the outside so that one may designate on the "Current Expenses" line how much of the enclosed contribution is intended for church support, and on other lines how much is designed to be given to any one of the Boards of the church, or to the work of the Boards as a whole. In this, as in other matters, "Where there is a will, there's a way."

Mr. Smithfield: "I confess, Pastor, that I do not know just how the money is to be divided by the Session. Will you be good enough to explain?"

"This is a pertinent inquiry and every member has the right to know how his money is to be divided. Let me say, that it is proposed to follow the recommendation of the General Assembly in this matter, that a certain fixed per cent. be given to each of the Boards of the Church. Let us take a concrete case. Suppose a member pledges $100 to benevolences. Following the recommendation of the General Assembly, the Session will divide it as follows:

33 per cent. to Foreign Missions, or.....	$33.00
31 per cent. to Home Missions, or.....	31.00
6 per cent. to Church Erection, or.....	6.00
6 per cent. to Sabbath School Work, or.....	6.00
6 per cent. to the Freedmen, or.....	6.00
6 per cent. to Education, or.....	6.00
6 per cent. to Ministerial Relief, or.....	6.00
6 per cent. to Aid for Colleges, or.....	6.00

In all, for all purposes.....$100.00

Miss Talmadge: "I am especially interested in Ministerial Relief, as I feel strongly that our ministers are, as a rule, poorly paid, and our old ministers not properly provided for. I wish to contribute more than the proportion mentioned, six per cent., to this cause. How can I do this under the proposed system?"

"It is a principle that every Christian has the right to designate the use to which his money shall be put; though all of us should distribute our gifts fairly and justly. All that will be necessary for you to do, Miss Talmadge, will be to enclose a note to the treasurer expressing your wish in this matter. The percentage scheme of the General Assembly is simply a suggestion; is not binding on any church or church member."

Mr. Bogardus: "Does not the proposed system make it impossible for the minister to appeal for special causes?"

The chairman replies that "there is no reason why literature may not be distributed from week to week or that the pastor may not call attention to the needs of the church. If it seems desirable, two months might be given to Home Missions and two to Foreign; as a larger proportion of benevolent offerings is needed for these causes."

Mr. Alexander: "I am quite sure that many of our members do not understand the objects to which they are asked to contribute from time to time. Will you please tell us, Mr. Chairman, about the different boards?"

"It is not easy to do this in a few minutes, but briefly stated, the work of the benevolent agencies of the church is as follows: The Foreign Board seeks to send the gospel to the distant parts of the world. The Home Board deals with the home land, though Porto Rico, the Canal Zone and Cuba are included. The Board of Church Erection assists in building churches and manses in the newer parts of the country. The Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work plants Sabbath Schools in needy sections with the hope that these will develop into churches, and also supplies literature. The Freedman's Board sends missionaries, teachers and preachers to the colored people of the South. The Board of Education assists young men to enter the ministry. The College Board aims to strengthen Christian colleges throughout the country, and especially in the newer section. The Board of Ministerial Relief gives aid to the veteran ministers, widows and orphans."

Mr. Terry: "I should like very much to inquire what are the special advantages of the proposed plan of securing our benevolent offerings over the one now in use; that is, receiving benevolent offerings on the first Sabbath of each month?"

The Pastor: "I am glad this question has been asked and I will do my best to answer it in a few words.

First. Now, when the day is hot, cold, wet or when it is vacation time and many of our people are absent from the city, the benevolent offerings amount to very little! This is not right and is, in fact, placing a premium upon absence. We pay pew rent whether we are present or absent. The bill is sent to us. The weather has nothing to do with it. Those who use the weekly envelopes and are absent place the envelopes on the plate on a subsequent Sabbath. Our present method of securing benevolences is too hazardous, uncertain, unbusinesslike, hap-hazard.

Second. Now it is necessary to send out printed letters and make frequent appeals to the congregation for special contributions. This takes time; and stamps, printing, envelopes cost money. Often this work falls on the pastor when he ought to be visiting the members and getting acquainted with strangers in the community. Unless one has done this work he is not in a position to realize how much time and care it requires to address several hundred envelopes, stamp them, and mail them to members of the congregation.

Third. By the method proposed, a steady stream of contributions ought to pour in no matter what the time of the year or the condition of the weather. I am persuaded that our churches need definite system, businesslike methods, more than anything else at the present time.

"Fourth. By this plan we can train the young people of the congregation to give to benevolent and missionary causes. At present, as a rule, the father, or the head of the family, gives for all and there is no sense of individual responsibility. If we go on in this fashion we will have no givers, or poor givers, in the next generation. If the children and young people begin to give, when they have incomes of their own, they will give from habit as well as from interest in the cause. The method proposed will familiarize the young people, and even the children, with the work the church is doing throughout the world and will thus make intelligent Christians."

Mr. Duncan: "I move that we adopt the plan suggested by the Session, since we have already spent a good deal of time in considering it and it is now about nine o'clock." The motion having been seconded and the clerk having read the amounts proposed by the budgets, the vote was unanimous.

Mr. McKinley: "I move, Mr. Chairman, that this meeting request the Session to put this plan into operation on the 1st of April, the beginning of the church year, and that envelopes be sent out by the clerk as soon as possible." This motion was carried.

At this point in the meeting the clerk announced that the subscription cards would be distributed next Sabbath in the pews and also at the devotional meeting the following Wednesday evening and sent to all persons by mail from whom no response is received within the next ten days.

The Chairman: "Brethren and Friends:—"We have spent a pleasant, and, I believe, a profitable evening in discussing this most important matter. Before we close let us all unite heartily in the Lord's Prayer and then sing a hymn of praise.

"O'er the gloomy hills of darkness,
Cheered by no celestial ray,
Sun of Righteousness arising,
Bring the bright, the glorious day;
Send the gospel
To the earth's remotest bound.

Fly abroad, thou mighty gospel.
Win and conquer, never cease;
May thy lasting, wide dominions,
Multiply and still increase;
Sway the scepter,
Saviour! All the world around!"

"Praise God, from whom all blessings flow,
Praise Him, all creatures here below;
Praise Him above, ye heavenly hosts;
Praise Father, Son and Holy Ghost."

"And now, brethren, May the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ and the love of God, and the fellowship and communion of the Holy Spirit, the Comforter, abide with us all forever. Amen."

Systematic Beneficence as Viewed by the Synods

Minutes of the Synod of Arkansas.

"The hope of Presbyterianism is to evangelize the world in this generation. How shall this hope be realized? Is it possible? We believe it is. And can we endow our colleges at the same time and raise the $1,100,000 for Home Mission work? Yes. Well how? The Bible plan is the ideal system, not so much beneficence, but being faithful to Jesus. If each and every Christian in the Presbyterian Church, U.S. A., shall put into the Lord's treasury one tenth of all, then shall the question not be, "how shall we get the money?" but "where will this money best serve the Lord's purpose?" For there will be enough to carry out God's purposes and the day of the Lord will come."

Minutes of the Synod of California.

"That we increase our offerings to the several boards 20 per cent. over the offerings of last year.

2. That a systematic effort be made in all our churches to increase the number of those who will set apart a definite portion of their income to the Lord's work.

3. That the portion set aside be not less than one tenth. For while under the Gospel dispensation we recognize that no definite rule can be laid down as to the amount that should be set aside from our income as the Lord's portion, yet the whole trend of the teaching of the Word indicates it should not be less than the tenth.

4. That each pastor be urged to preach one or more sermons each year on the "Duty and Privilege of Giving to the Lord."

Minutes from the Synod of Illinois.

"That all our ministers be required to preach on the duty and the privilege of proportionate and systematic giving.

That an effort be made in all our churches to get our people to make two distinct pledges every year, viz.: a pledge for the support of the local church, and a pledge for the support of all the boards.

We approve the General Assembly's ruling that it is the duty of every member of the church, present or absent, to contribute according to his means to support the church where he holds his membership."

Minutes of the Synod of Indiana.

"It is of great importance that Christians accept the Lordship of Jesus Christ over their possessions as well as their lives.

Christ clearly taught our stewardship and God's proprietorship over the material things of the world. The duty of the Christian is not exhausted by the law of the tithe. He should not give less than one-tenth. In fact, we have not given anything until we have paid our debt of one-tenth.

The responsibility of Christian Stewardship includes every man. It is a personal duty and obligation. We read in Deut. 16:17 these words: Every man shall give as he is able, according to the blessings of the Lord thy God which He hath given thee. Again in I Cor. 16:2: Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store as God hath prospered him.

Christians should not only give largely to the support of Christ's cause, but they should give systematically and proportionately."

Minutes of the Synod of Iowa.

"We recommend: That the united energy of the Church should be devoted to the education of our people along the line of systematic proportionate giving, which we believe will in the near future mean much for the better support of the local Church and the rapid extension and increase of God's kingdom throughout the world."

Minutes of the Synod of Kentucky.

Pastors and Sessions seem to have been faithful in the matter of giving congregations opportunities to contribute to all the Boards. These matters, however, do not seem to have received the responses in many instances they should have received. This is a problem, how to bring the people up to a proper appreciation of their obligations in these matters. The local calls are oftentimes burdensome, and then when calls are made for other objects, there is indifference shown or irritation results, indifference where there is conscience, and at the same time unwillingness.

From Minutes of Synod of Michigan.

"We believe that to raise the place of Beneficence to a higher dignity repeatedly urged to give more systematically and proportionately, and also be properly enlightened in regard to the relations, purposes and workings of our boards. Our synod must take a larger interest in the benevolence of our church than it does now. This will require the prayerful, hearty and sincere co-operation of every minister and session. We cannot urge too strongly upon all those who are interested in this subject to carefully study the report of the assembly's committee on systematic beneficence—it is full of good suggestions.

Minutes of Synod of Minnesota.

"We believe that to raise the place of Beneficence to a higher dignity in the Church, that the apportionment plan suggested by the last General Assembly be enthusiastically supported by this synod; which plan is as follows: That the General Assembly be empowered through its proper committees to make an assessment to each synod for each board of the Church. That each synod through its proper committees, make an apportionment to each Presbytery within its jurisdiction, and each Presbytery through its proper channels, allot to each church its apportionment, for the causes of beneficence, these sums to be directed to a central treasury to be divided according to the judgment of the proper officials, and according to the needs of each particular board."

Minutes of Synod of Missouri.

The conviction is gaining ground, that there must be some change in our financial system to enable us to meet the increasing obligation of both home and foreign missions.

Your Committee would call attention to the budget plan, and through Synod, would urge the Presbyteries to do their best to make the plan a success, and at the same time your Committee would call attention to this fact, that until some other plan is devised for taking our offerings for the different objects recommended by the General Assembly our churches will fail to do their best, for as loyal Presbyterians you of course all know that there were twenty objects recommended to the churches for their offerings. Of course as loyal Presbyterians you all took an offering for each object, and that meant, taking out your vacation, and the stormy Sundays when it would not be wise to take an offering, a collection for every alternate Sabbath. Is it any wonder that the congregation gets discouraged over this everlasting call for money, for remember that in addition to these twenty objects recommended by the General Assembly, the home church has its home financial obligations to meet, and we repeat that unless some better plan is devised than most of us have at present, our churches, discouraged, will fail to do their best, and a great number will continue to do nothing.

Minutes of the Synod of Montana.

The principle underlying the application of system to offerings and donations is obvious. The enormous agencies of the Church cannot be trusted to any haphazard method of support. There is a growing faith in the blessedness of pledge systems among individuals for the raising of money for the boards. Just as we would never dream of depending upon loose plate offerings for the maintenance of our congregations, so some have ceased to dream of maintaining our boards by loose offerings. The splendid results reported in this connection justify our all trying it. It is logical and natural. Systematic beneficence contemplates that every individual shall lay aside something, however small, for every board, by some established arrangement, in the course of every year."

Minutes of the Synod of Nebraska.

"In no part of our church work is the lack of definite system so marked as in the method of gathering the benevolent offerings of our congregations, as may readily be seen by referring to the annual reports of the different boards of our church. Some of the larger churches show the evidence of a definite system by the size of their congregational gifts, to the different objects appealing to our sympathy and benevolence, but the large majority of our churches exhibit the lack of systematic effort along the line of Christian giving. In far too many of our congregations the benevolent offerings are neither measured by the amount of worldly possessions nor breadth of personal responsibility, but more frequently by the state of feeling or the condition of the purse at the time the appeal is presented."

Minutes of the Synod of New Jersey.

1. That the spiritual and financial value of the tithe principle be recognized, and its practice recommended to all affiliated with our churches, and that pastors be urged to read to their congregations recommendations of the Minutes of General Assembly, 1907:

"That pastors be urged to preach at least once a year on the duty and privilege of proportionate and systematic giving.

That an effort be made in all our churches to increase the number of those who set apart a definite portion of their income for the Lord's work.

"That the portion thus set aside be at least a tenth, for, while under the Gospel dispensation no definite rule can be laid down as to the amount that should be set aside from one's income as the Lord's portion, yet the whole trend of the teaching of the Word would indicate that it should not be less than the tenth."

That in order to preserve the purity of the motive for and the character of our contributions to the extension of the Kingdom of Christ, and to observe in spirit and letter Chapter 6, of the Directory for Worship, the Worship of God by Offerings, Sessions be urged to discontinue fairs, bazaars, suppers and other commercial methods of procuring money."

Minutes of the Synod of New Mexico.

"Let every one of you (individually) lay by him in store on the first day of the week (systematically) as God has prospered him, (proportionately)."

The exigencies that press increasingly as the years pass, for consecrated liberality, calls for a high order of leadership in every church. Each pastor must face the work from his own standpoint. Faithfulness now means a great deal to the church in the near future. The Bread of Life for the spiritually hungry at home and abroad depends largely on what the pastor does personally, and what he is able to do through those he influences to become systematic and proportionate givers. He is a part of the great Captain's commissariat.

Minutes of Synod of New York.

The Master's Stewards need to exercise system and forethought in giving, for there are many calls on their bounty. They ought to remember, they are enlisted soldiers in the Presbyterian regiment of the Christian host, and when the great Commander gives the signal to advance, as he is surely doing today, then every soldier who is not hors de Combat is bound to obey. Surely we all ought just now to scrutinize every item of our expenditure, including our so-called charities and inquire, "Is this a right use of my Lord's money?" Is the call for it in this direction so imperative as to justify withholding it from the Missionary and benevolent work of my own church? That work must not be suffered to decline. It must be enlarged to meet the enlarging demands of Divine providence, and to this end it must be sustained by every Presbyterian."

Minutes of the Synod of Ohio.

"The only safe, sane and successful way of collecting the Lord's money for the extension of His kingdom is the Scriptural way. If God's word teaches anything clearly, it is the duty of systematic and proportionate giving. It is not so much a question of the needs of this field or that, it is a question of what we owe our Lord, and the method of setting it aside and bringing it into His Treasury. It is true that all we are and have is His, but it is equally true that He teaches us to dedicate a certain proportion of our income to the extension of Christ's kingdom, and to bring it on the first day of the week to Him. In the olden times He demanded a tenth. This was to be the first fruits, not the remnants. In the New Testament it is as the Lord has prospered, but we do not find that the tithe has been abrogated. We find no change in Jehovah's plans for His people in this matter of giving. No less than a tenth of the prosperity He gives us belongs to Him, and should be set aside for His work. Until we realize, believe, and practice this truth as ministers and preach it to our people in an energetic way, we will continue to do but a fraction of the Lord's work, which He expects us, as men saved by the precious blood of Christ, to do. When we accepted Jesus Christ as our Savior, when we took our holy ordination vows, there was an implication that we would obey God's commands. All that we are, possess, and hope to be we owe to Him. This means obligation, and he has made it clear that our financial obligations are not met by a haphazard, irrational way in making our offerings. Such a method is an insult to God, and is destructive to our own spiritual growth.

The great majority of the churches of our Synod make an offering to each Board. Some contribute to only a few of the Boards and the offerings to these are small. A limited number contribute to none. The churches that are alive, prosperous, and are receiving God's greatest blessing, are such as are bringing the tithes into the storehouse of our Lord. System in collecting the Lord's money is essential to success."

Minutes of the Synod of Oklahoma.

"If the Hebrew people gave one-tenth of their yearly income to the Lord's work, surely, the Christian churches who share the light of a better dispensation, should not give less. 'Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store as God has prospered him,' is the New Testament exhortation and should be considered obligatory by every Christian follower. The heroic spirit that puts all upon the altar—money as well as strength and time—to be used to make Christ King, is the only solution of this so important problem of Church life."

Minutes of the Synod of Pennsylvania.

Ten Presbyteries report concerted action to stimulate Systematic Beneficence and three report a definite plan in operation.

As gathered from the Minutes of the General Assembly, the whole benevolence of the 248,399 members of our churches amounts to $820,769 or nearly $3.70 per member, a sum far too small for the work given us to do as a Church, and calling loudly upon all pastors and sessions to make renewed efforts to have their people appreciate the great privilege of being co-workers with God in the great work of giving the gospel to the perishing. In these days of commercial prosperity it is well to remember that it is not the lack of money that is a root of every evil, but the love of it, and social prominence not founded on righteousness and benevolence may tomorrow become social shame.

The Synod urgently exhorts all the Presbyteries to make renewed and prayerful efforts, not only to secure contributions to all the Boards of the Church from all the churches, but also to secure such contributions from all the members.

Minutes of Synod of South Dakota.

"The grace of giving is most surely on the increase within the bounds of the synod, but no pastor should be satisfied, no session of a church, even though that church be vacant, should be satisfied until every column is filled—filled not with a nominal sum to present a bare hideousness and to avoid censure, but with that which indicates loyalty to Christ and to all those causes which His church, in the wisdom of its chosen representatives, deem necessary for the honor of His name and the proper prosecution of His work. "Let the redeemed of the Lord say so, "by their consecrated gifts to His treasury."

Minutes of the Synod of Tennessee.

"The first important work is the maintenance of the gospel ministry. It is not expected that we can secure hearty support of the boards until we have secured more adequate support of the pastors of the average churches. Where the people are indifferent to the matter of having the gospel preached in their own communion they will be still more indifferent to the matter of the Church's general benevolences."

Minutes of the Synod of Washington.

"Every member of every congregation ought to have a personal share in this privilege of giving to the maintaining and spread of the cause of the Redeemer. No one need plead inability. Small gifts, if they come into the treasury of the Lord, as did the two mites of the poor widow, will be gratefully owned by God, and wonderfully blessed by Him both to God's own cause and the giver's own soul."

From Minutes of Synod of West Virginia.

"To strengthen our church wherein we are weak, and in the hope of putting our church finances on a good, firm, systematic, business basis, your committee recommends:

1. That each pastor be requested to preach to his congregation at the earliest convenient date a sermon on systematic beneficence, pointing out the necessity of supporting all our boards in a business like way.
2. That a financial committee be appointed in each church who shall have special supervision of the benevolent work as related to our boards.
3. That this committee use the General Assembly's literature on systematic benevolence.
4. That envelopes for offerings to the boards be placed in the hands of communicants and constituents alike, that all may have an opportunity to give to all the boards."

Systematic Beneficence Practically Applied.

From the Report of a Presbyterian Church in New Jersey.

The sixth year of the operation of the systematic beneficence plan will close March 31, 1908.

Our contributions to the work of our church at large have been very much augmented since the adoption of a systematic method. A careful consideration of this should convince every one of its efficiency as a means of making collections for beneficent objects and also as a regulator of our individual offerings; and, if such good results have been obtained from only one-third of our members as subscribers, it is fair to assume that if the majority of our congregation were contributing through the systematic beneficence fund, our church would take front rank in the great work which it is called upon to do.

The growth of this plan is indicated by the following table:

First Year, 80 subscribers	pledged	$2,987.50
Second Year, 80	"	$3,497.80
Third Year, 234	"	$6,189.00
Fourth Year, 205	"	$6,000.00
Fifth Year, 207	"	$6,000.00
Sixth Year, 238	"	$6,055.00

From the above figures it will be observed that the contributions have doubled during the past six years.

The contributions to the various Boards from this fund are as follows:

First Year, $1,285.71	Fourth Year, $3,256.36
Second Year, $1,574.53	Fifth Year, $3,461.53
Third Year, $3,200.84.

This year, which is the sixth, there will be divided approximately $3,500.

Comparatively few of the children and young people are pledged subscribers. Why should not our children be taught the habit of systematic giving? Let each member of each family have a part in this work.

Action of the General Assembly at Kansas City, Mo., May, 1908

The twenty-ninth annual report of the Special Committee on Systematic Beneficence was, by the General Assembly, referred to the following Standing Committee:

Ministers—Thomas D. Logan, chairman; John B. Kelley, W. B. Gates, G. M. Cummings, Charles Dalzell, H. C. Cunningham, E. H. Montgomery, M. R. Laird, L. C. Hills, George Logie, J. W. McDaniel, William Sproat; Elders—Manuel Guzman, Ebenezer Mackey, George W. Doanes, David Smith, Joseph Watterson, Thomas Donnell, B. A. Enochson, George A. Sheldon, E. O. Sayles, J. A. Thompson, I. B. Thompson.

This committee presented, by its chairman, Rev. Thomas D. Logan, D. D., the following report, which was unanimously adopted:

The Standing Committee on Benevolence submits the following report:

The Annual Report of the Special Committee on Systematic Beneficence, which has been referred to us, is the most complete presentation of the subject which has ever been made to the church. It gives evidence of the most painstaking labor, and sets forth the contributions of the churches, and the various organizations connected with them, in a way calculated to show the sources from which the money came. The offerings to Home Missions are reported under eight, the offerings to Foreign Missions under six, the offerings for Freedmen under six different heads, and of the Sabbath schools under two. Each of the other Boards has a column in the report, then the total of benevolent offerings is given in comparison with the congregational expenses, and the average contribution per member is given for beneficence and for church support. These calculations are based upon the reports of the Boards and the Minutes of the General Assembly for 1907, and do not embrace the contributions from the former Cumberland Presbyterian churches, whose offerings were not included in the reports of the Boards for that year.

The Committee on Systematic Beneficence has also presented in its report a series of statistical tables, showing the standing of the Presbyteries when measured by the offerings to the Boards in comparison with the number of their communicants. There are also tables setting forth the state of the cause in the different Synods, showing that only eight of the Synods contribute to the various benevolent agencies of the church a larger amount than they draw from the same, the work of the Foreign Board not being considered.

With reference to the standard of liberality of the church as indicated by the income of the Boards, the report of the Committee says:

"The standard of liberality of the church has remained practically the same for years. In the second part of this report will be found the statistical tables of the entire income of the Boards for seventeen years. During this time the membership of the church has grown from 806,796 to about 1,400,000, a gain in membership of 600,000, and a gain in income to the eight boards combined of about a million dollars. The per capita income from all sources in 1891, from contributions through churches, organized societies, legacies, interest on invested funds, etc., was $2.68 per member. In 1907 it was $2.32 per member with slight fluctuations one way and the other from year to year, but so steady has been the income of the several boards from the various sources of income that the total fluctuation has practically never exceeded 10 per cent. For the year 1908 the Boards report an aggregate income, the largest in their history, of $3,319,332. The income of the Board of Home Missions, of Foreign Missions, of Education, of Sunday School Work, Ministerial Relief show an increase above previous years. The aggregate increase of the total income of the eight boards over the previous year is between 6 and 7 per cent.

"From a careful review of the statistical tables as thus furnished through a series of years, there is no indication of any great increase in the liberality of the church to the various boards of our Church under present conditions and present policy. Nor do the voted recommendations of the General Assembly for different sums of money greatly in excess of what is the usual income of any board warrant any board in going forward and increasing their expenditures on the basis of such recommendations of General Assembly. Under the present conditions, the standard of liberality of the Church for all the boards combined remains for the Church as a whole about four cents per member per week. To increase this four cent average requires an increased sense of obligation to God on the part of the average church member for the spread of his kingdom, and an improved and simpler method of gathering the offerings that are to be disbursed by our several agencies."

To this statement of the Committee on Systematic Beneficence, your Committee on Benevolence would add the further thought that there has been a marked increase in the per capita wealth of the church, making the failure to increase the per capita contributions to beneficence even more deplorable.

But while this view backward has in it some suggestions of discouragement, your Committee is of the opinion that substantial progress has been made in the quarter of a century during which the subject has been presented to the church so faithfully and persistently. Averages are often misleading. The failure to increase the average offerings to Benevolence is due to a failure to reach the entire membership of the church, rather than to a lessening of the spirit of consecration on the part of the givers. How to increase the number of givers is the problem which remains to be solved. It must be remembered that in recent years there have been large accessions to the church through evangelistic effort, and that there has not been time to assimilate this new membership and to give training in their duty to consecrate their means to God. Perhaps there has been too much hesitation in presenting this subject to new converts. The early Christians considered their property as belonging to God, and were willing to surrender all to him. The true convert has the same feeling, but after he finds how little is given by those who have been longer in the church, his ardor is chilled, and he settles down to the prevailing average of the church in giving.

Your Committee would also call attention to a danger attending the use of the average contribution to set forth the benevolence of a church. Members often feel that their duty is done when they have given the average, and they are prone to credit themselves with a share of the honor which comes from their association with large givers. On the other hand, some churches are made indifferent to the duty of evangelistic effort lest a large accession to the church reduce their standing among the giving churches. Many churches fail to report their full membership because of the unfavorable comparisons with other churches in the matter of giving which will be made if the full membership is given. We are of the opinion that the membership of the Presbyterian church as reported is far below its actual membership, and that this is due not only to heavy assessments made by the General Assembly, Synods and Presbyteries; but also to the placing of too great emphasis on average in benevolent contributions. While the consecration of our substance to the Lord in proportionate and systematic giving should be presented frequently from the pulpit, and should be emphasized in our church courts, it should never be done in such a way as to create the impression that the

It is also important that, in raising money for the Lord's work, we should appeal not only to the sense of duty, which finds its fullest expression in systematic giving, but also to the spirit of enthusiasm, awakened by an earnest presentation of the great benevolent causes which are sustained by our churches. If we appeal only to the principles of benevolence in which we are training our church members, while outside objects appeal to their emotions, it will be found that these outside agencies will continue to absorb too great a portion of the contributions of the Presbyterian Church. Our people should be taught that the church has the first claim upon the liberality of its members, and this claim should be impressed by constant appeals to the performance of duty as a matter of principle, and as an expression of love to him who first loved us.

Your Committee is impressed with the fact that even the most perfect system of beneficence will fail unless it is put into operation by the energy of ministers and church officers. So many objects are pressed upon us for support that the church will fail to secure its proper share unless its benevolent work is presented by personal solicitation as well as by public appeals. The way to get money is to ask for it, and it is hoped that one of the results of the recent organization of the manhood of the church will be the presenting of our benevolences, in a business like way, so as to secure the return to the Lord of a more adequate proportion of the wealth with which he has endowed the Presbyterian Church.

The following resolutions are submitted for the action of the General Assembly:

First. That we commend most heartily the painstaking effort put forth by the Special Committee on Systematic Beneficence, and especially by its secretary, The Rev. W. H. Hubbard, D. D., who without compensation, and at but slight expense, has prepared and presented to the Church such a comprehensive statement of its benevolent work.

Second. That systematic and proportionate giving is the ideal which the entire membership of the Church should endeavor to attain; and that the subject should be presented frequently from the pulpit. Church officers are urged to make such plans for the presentation of the work of our Boards as will secure adequate contributions from all the members of their churches.

Third. That attention should be called to the provision of the Directory of Worship with reference to offerings, and that when an offering is announced it should be made clear that it is an act of Divine Worship and prayer should be offered.

Fourth. That efforts to secure adequate funds for our benevolent work should not be confined to the presentation of the same from the pulpit, but that it should be impressed upon the members of the church that, in this business age, all are stockholders in the greatest of all enterprises, that our gifts are our investments in the work of the Lord; that dividends are guaranteed, but the stock is not non-assessable, and therefore we must continue to give as long as our ability continues.

Fifth. That the Presbyteries urge upon the churches the making of an earnest effort to unify and increase their gifts to benevolences, special attention being given to carrying out the budget plan.

Sixth. That in order that our benevolent schemes may commend themselves to the confidence of the church, all Boards and Administrative agencies be instructed to reduce their expenses to the lowest point consistent with the efficient prosecution of their work.

Seventh. That the Special Committee on Systematic Beneficence be continued for the next year, and that the committee consist of the following persons:

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS D. LOGAN,

Chairman.

No. 72 Conestoga Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

THE REFORMER.

Before the monstrous wrong he sits him down —
One man against the stone-walled citadel of sin.
For centuries those walls have been a-building;
Smooth porphyry, they slope and coldly glass
The flying storm and wheeling sun. No chink,
No crevice, lets the thinnest arrow in.
He fights alone, and from the cloudy ramparts
A thousand evil faces gibe and jeer him.
Let him lie down and die; what is the right,
And where is justice in a world like this?
But by and by earth shakes herself, impatient;
And down, in one great roar of ruin, crash
Watch-tower and citadel and battlements.
When the red dust has cleared, the lonely soldier
Stands with strange thoughts beneath the friendly stars.

OUTLINE OF THE YEAR'S WORK.

1. Nearly one thousand meetings have been held by our representatives. Besides assisting in many no-licence campaigns, addresses were delivered before Synods, Presbyteries, Ministerial Associations, Theological Seminaries, Universities, Colleges, High Schools, Temperance Institutes, Sunday-school Conventions, Y. M. C. A.'s, Chautauquas, Presbyterian Churches and Sunday-schools.

2. The equivalent of more than sixteen millions (16,000,000) pages of literature in six languages, was supplied to the institutions mentioned in paragraph one. This literature went into every state and territory in the Union, to South Africa, Central and South America, Canada, Corea, India, Ireland, Scotland, England, Alaska, the Philippines, Cuba, Porto Rico, Ceylon, Mexico, East and West Indies, Russia and Bulgaria. Large quantities were supplied in the temperance campaigns in Del., Ga., Ala., Miss., Okla., Tenn., Ill., Ia., Nebr., Pa., Md., W. Va., N. J. and Ohio.

3. Besides supplying literature free to about 4,500 Presbyterian organizations we have furnished it at actual cost to applicants in almost every sister Church in the United States, Canada, and some European countries.

4. A column has been supplied each week in some of our Presbyterian papers, a supplemental lesson has been prepared for each quarterly temperance lesson in the Westminster Teacher and Senior Quarterly. Some phase of the question has been presented in each issue of The Assembly Herald. Several new tracts have been issued and nearly all of the standard ones reprinted. 45,000 copies of special editions of The Presbyterian Banner and of The Cumberland Presbyterian, prepared by the Committee, were distributed throughout the Church.

5. More than thirty-five thousand (35,000) personal communications have been sent out, including a letter to every Sunday-school superintendent in the entire denomination, so far as we had their names and addresses. Many thousands of requests for information have come from pastors, elders, Sunday-school Teachers, Christian Endeavor officers, Missionary Societies and other interested individuals.

6. A temperance programme, including responsive readings and music, with recitations accompanying, prepared by the Committee, was used by thousands of our Sabbath-schools. More than one hundred thousand (100,000) pledge-cards were ordered by Sunday-school superintendents and teachers.

7. The Temperance deliverances of the Assembly have been supplied to thousands of our churches. Communication has been had with nearly every denomination in the United States, resulting in the appointment of Permanent Temperance Committees by the General Convention of the Baptists of North America and by the National Convention of the Disciples of Christ.

8. Three Associate Secretaries and one lecturer on Scientific Temperance have been employed during the entire year and one colored evangelist for a part of the year. These, with the stenographer, are the only persons drawing salary, the Corresponding Secretary accepting a small honorarium and the Treasurer nothing, though the former devotes all of his time and the latter a large portion of his time to the work.

9. The receipts for the year have been $19,365.29, enabling us to close our books without debt, as we have done for more than twenty years.

10. Thus at small expense and with a limited number of workers the Assembly's Committee has served a denomination numbering more than one million three hundred thousand communicants, with fully twice as many adherents and reaching into almost every part of the world.

WITH gratitude to God for his continued favor, the Permanent Committee on Temperance respectfully presents to the General Assembly its 27th Annual Report.

The outline given on page 3 will indicate the scope and character of the work and give many details which are not further mentioned, but which, to an experienced person, represent much time, labor and thought.

Never in the history of the Committee has the correspondence been so uniformly cordial or have so many expressions of approval and appreciation come to us, which indicates that the help thus furnished is appreciated and that the better acquainted our people become with the work, the more loyal they become to it.

Field Work.

The details of the field work are given in the outline. During the year we have had Mr. Scanlon, Drs. Fulton and Worrell, and Miss Brehm as our representatives in the field but have not been nearly able to repond to all of the calls for speakers and could keep several others busy if finances warranted their employment.

The work among the colored people of the South was suspended early in the year to be taken up again when another representative shall have been secured.

Office Work.

The work of the office has been done by the Corresponding Secretary with the help of one of the Associate Secretaries and a stenographer.

The Committee has memorialized the President of the United States, petitioned Congress and through its representatives addressed the Judiciary Committees of the House of Representatives and the United States Senate in behalf of interstate temperance legislation and other related matters.

In accordance with the Basis of Agreement and in harmony with the action of the last Assembly, The Inter-Church Temperance Council will be called to meet in New York City in December of this year, in connection with the general Church Federation.

Mention should be made of the continued liberality of our Treasurer, Mr. William C. Lilley, who during the past year, as for many years, has generously donated his service and furnished his own office, besides contributing freely in money to the support of the work. Owing to the weight of many other duties, Mr. Lilley felt compelled to relinquish the Chairmanship of the Committee last November and Rev. E. Trumbull Lee, D. D., LL. D., was elected to the position. Dr. Lee has given considerable time to the details of the work, which added to his interest has confirmed the wisdom of his selection.

Distribution of Literature.

The demand for literature has been larger than ever before, every State in the Union having received a portion while many hundreds of towns and cities have been helped in their no-licence campaigns.

A notable feature has been the number of requests for literature from foreign countries and as we have leaflets in six languages, we were able to respond to many of these calls.

A special temperance number of The Presbyterian Banner and also of The Cumberland Presbyterian was prepared by the Committee, and a large number of extra copies sent throughout the Church. Grateful acknowledgment is made of the cordial cooperation of these papers and for their editorial assistance.

Finances.

Notwithstanding the large and rapidly increasing demand made upon this Committee during the past year, we again close our books with all financial obligations met.

Many hundreds more of churches and Sunday-schools than in any previous year have contributed to our work, placing some thousands of dollars in our treasury over the receipts of last year. This has been due in part to the agitation concerning the Committee and also to the placing of a temperance column in the statistical tables of the Assembly's Minutes. This latter has magnified and dignified the work and helped the churches more generally to realize that it is on a parity with other enterprises of the denomination and deserves the same recognition and support.

The Presbyterian Temperance Union.

To enable our own denomination to work systematically, intelligently and effectively the Assembly has its Permanent Committee to plan and direct the work for the Church at large, and to give such help and suggestions in States, communities and to individuals, as it may be able. All of our Synods, except those in foreign fields, have Temperance Committees, as do also our Presbyteries.

Many individual churches and Sunday-schools have temperance organizations of some kind, among them some of our largest and most influential congregations. To give unity of plan and purpose to such organizations, without urging churches to form them unless they recognize the need, it is suggested that all such societies adopt the name of "The Presbyterian Temperance Union", as men's societies are grouped under the name of "The Presbyterian Brotherhood". With this in mind the Assembly's Committee has framed a brief constitution which, while placing the work under the control of the local church and articulating it with that of the whole denomination, yet possesses such flexibility as to adapt it to local conditions and united effort with other denominations. Topic cards with leaflets of information on the various subjects together with copies of the Constitution are supplied free to our own people upon request. Thus the Church, from the individual member to the General Assembly is preparing to present a united front to a common enemy. The work of "The Presbyterian Temperance Union" is to instruct, inspire and unite our people so that they may render their best service to God and to their fellow-men in this conflict.

Other Church Committees.

It is gratifying to report that two more large denominations have appointed Temperance Committees during the year. The General Baptist Convention of N. America in session at Jamestown, Va., last May appointed such a Committee, and in October the National Convention of the Church of Christ or Disciples of Christ established a similar department, declaring its purpose thus:

1. "To do educational temperance work in and through the Church by use of literature, the pulpit, the platform and the printing press, and to give the Temperance cause its proper place and emphasis in the Church.

2. To co-operate with the Inter-Church Temperance Council, and other temperance organizations and agencies for the prevention of the liquor habit and the destruction of the liquor traffic."

All of the large and most of the smaller denominations now have similar agencies, our own, established in 1881, being the first.

The Sphere of the Church Committee.

The sphere of the Church Temperance Committee is as broad in its own field, as that of the Church itself and its functions are becoming not only important but necessary. Other temperance agencies rise and flourish for awhile and command more or less attention, but their existence, with a few distinguished exceptions, has usually been ephemeral and most of them would never have come into existence if the Church had been fully alive to her privilege and duty in this matter.

The purely political aspects of the temperance reform are properly attended to by civic organizations and the Church ought not to become involved in entangling alliances with them, but must not fail to recognize that the scientific, social, economic and religious aspects of this subject are questions with which she must concern herself.

Some perplexity has been experienced by us during the past year in trying to interpret the deliverances of the General Assembly relative to the functions of the Permanent Committee. The Assembly has frequently instructed the Committee to petition civil bodies in favor of temperance measures (See Presbyterian Digest) and the last Assembly declared that this right was in no way abridged (See Minutes of General Assembly 1907, page 138). The right of petition, as interpreted by the Assembly itself, includes the right to ask for specific bills. Logically this may, and in some instances does, require, and therefore gives the privilege, of advising as to the form of the bill for which to petition.

Temperance laws must be framed by somebody and usually by temperance organizations. If we cannot permit others to represent us, we ought to represent ourselves, in work and in ways, which the Church has always recognized as proper.

As the matter now stands, the work of the Committee is defined negatively, with only meager positive instructions. Could there be reported to this Assembly, by the Standing Committee, a carefully matured statement defining the sphere and functions of the Permanent Committee, the vagueness and incongruity consequent upon hasty action would be avoided and the efficiency of this agency of our Church promoted.

Action of the Churches.

The Churches have not gone as fast or as far as they might have gone but their influence has been potent and constant. They have taught the invincibility of righteousness and have put emphasis upon ethical values. Beneath all political issues lies morality, the very existence of government itself depending upon it, and here the Church has fulfilled a function which no other institution does or can perform. Custom, sympathy and the advantages of stable government have of themselves never been able to restrain the violence of the masses or the self-indulgent impulses of the individual. Civilized society has always depended upon religion. Though imperfect the Church is the best existing organized exponent of the life and teaching of Christ.

As early as 1811 the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church appointed a committee, to cooperate with similar committees from other Churches, to combat the evil of intemperance. From John Calvin, who insisted that the Church should be a power for righteousness, to the present time, religion in the Presbyterian Church has meant good living as well as right thinking.

How much the resolutions passed by the various denomination have helped no one can estimate. They have set before the world an ethical standard which has been both a goal and an inspiration.

The following are a few of the resolutions passed by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church:

"1812. Ministers are urged to preach pointedly and solemnly, warning all, especially members of their churches, not only against actual intemperance, but against all those habits and indulgences which may have a tendency to produce it."

"1871. The manufacture, sale and use of alcoholic stimulants as a beverage, in the belief of the General Assembly, is contrary to the spirit of God's word, and wholly inconsistent with the claims of Christian duty. Those who knowingly rent their premises for the traffic, or endorse licenses which legalize it, are reprehensible as accomplices in the guilt of the same."

"1883. This Assembly would hail with acclamations of joy and thanksgiving the utter extermination of the traffic in intoxicating liquors as a beverage, by the power of Christian conscience, public opinion, and the strong arm of the civil law."

"1892. The Assembly stands firmly by the previous deliverances, especially that of 1883. Gratification is expressed that a majority of the churches, in consideration of the infirmity of the weak, use the unfermented "fruit of the vine" in the Lord's Supper.

"While it is not the province of the Church to dictate to any man how he shall vote, no political party has the right to expect the support of Christian men, so long as that party stands committed to the licence policy, or refuses to put itself on record against the saloon."

"1906. That the General Assembly is unalterably opposed to the license system as wrong in principle, contrary to the Gospel of Christ and futile in practice as a temperance measure. Presbyterians are hereby most solemnly warned against renting property for saloon purposes, signing petitions which legalize the liquor traffic, or presenting them in court or in any other way aiding or abetting this terrible evil."

Almost every other denomination has passed equally strong resolutions, all of which have had a wholesome influence.

Scientific Temperance Instruction.

A persistent effort is being made either to repeal or to neutralize the laws of the several States requiring scientific temperance instruction in the public schools. In some instances it is sought to be accomplished by codifying the laws and omitting the portion referred to; in others, by the introduction of defective books, and still in others by confining such instruction to the upper grades or even to the High School. The importance of having this subject taught in the lower grades is manifest from the following table taken from The School Physiology Journal:

"Total number of pupils in public schools of the United States:

In first school year	5,149,296	32
In second school year	2,912,462	19
In third school year	2,426,263	15
In fourth school year	2,168,956	13
In fifth school year	1,288,114	8
In sixth school year	700,885	4.9
In seventh school year	405,693	2.6
In eight school year	323,607	2
High School—First year	243,433	1.5
Second year	147,192	.9
Third year	101,903	.6
Fourth year	73,696	.46

Every parent and other person interested in temperance should see that the law regarding this subject is honestly and faithfully observed. By competent teachers, this subject will be taught with such delicacy and discrimination that there can be no question as to the propriety or importance of the study. Only a relatively small number of public school children ever reach the High School. Have not the others an equal right to know the evils and dangers of alcohol?

"Thorough scientific temperance education in the first six school years means future no-saloon majorities."

The March of Progress.

Compared with twelve months ago, the temperance reform has made progress. Eight million six hundred thousand people abolished the saloon last year, including four entire States. The seven prohibition states have a population of over ten millions, while twenty seven millions more live in other prohibition territory, making about forty-five per cent of the total population of the United States free from the blighting influence of the saloon. Of the thirty four state legislatures in session last year, twenty passed laws unfavorable to the liquor traffic, while not a legislature has been in session the present year that has not had one or more temperance bills before it. In recent years no legislation favorable to the liquor traffic has been enacted.

It is noticeable that the victories of the past year have not been confined to rural districts, but have included such cities as Kansas City, Kans., Atlanta, Ga., Birmingham, Ala., Worcester, Mass., each with a population of over 100,000. Ten other cities of over 50,000; twenty-two over 20,000; seventy-six having between 5,000 and 20,000 have banished the saloon.

How We Stand.

What is the real situation? What has actually been accomplished by a century of effort in the temperance reform? These are questions in which every earnest inquirer is interested.

1. Public sentiment has been aroused and while there was a time when more states than at present, had prohibitory laws, more than twice as many people to-day live under prohibition as at any previous time in the history of the United States.

2. The nature and effect of alcohol have been more fully determined. Science has shown that alcohol is not a food or a true stimulant; that it interferes with digestion, assimilation and oxidation; injures the nervous system and impairs muscular precision; reduces bodily temperature; predisposes to tuberculosis, both acute and pulmonary; clouds the intellect, deadens the conscience, diminishes the will power and lays an embargo of death upon infancy before its launching day.

3. Methods have been tested. Moral suasion is good but of itself does not reach far enough. Moderation has generally led to excess. License, high or low, is wrong in principle and has proved futile as a temperance measure. State control has failed and must fail, for the only reason the State has for denying the private right to sell liquor, is that it is harmful to the State and detrimental to society. If it has this effect when sold by the individual it does not have a different effect when sold by the State.

4. The legal status of the traffic has been determined, the United States Supreme Court holding that "no man has an inherent right to sell intoxicating liquor at retail", and some lower courts declaring it unconstitutional altogether.

5. The position of the Church has been established and Church members generally are warned not only to refrain from the traffic but from every thing which helps or encourages it.

What Remains to be Done.

While the temperance reform has made unprecedented progress within the past twelve months, we must avoid the error of thinking the victory has been won. In fact the battle has just begun, and only the skirmish lines of the enemy have been put to route. Forty-eight millions of people in the United States live in territory dominated by the saloon. The prohibition victories have been largely, but not wholly, confined to the smaller cities and towns. The enemy has but fallen back into our larger cities with their mixed population and vicious classes, where through political corruption, fraud, lawlessness and intimidation it has become more securely entrenched. Despite the increase in prohibition territory in our country, the voting out of thousands of saloons, the tremendous effort and enthusiasm of whole States we are compelled to note an increase in the consumption of alcoholic liquors. The Statistical abstract of the United States government shows that during the last fiscal year, the per capita consumption of liquors of all kinds reached the startling amount of 23.53 gallons, at a total estimated cost of $2,275,000,000, or $26.50 for every man, woman and child in the nation.

Before the battle is entirely won, the National Government must cease its complicity with this robber traffic by prohibiting its shipment into no-licence territory and refusing to share its gains either in revenue or tax receipts; newspapers must be divorced from it; its corrupting influence in legislation, politics, and municipal affairs must be counteracted; its lawlessness punished and public sentiment crystalized into constitutional prohibition.

Conclusion.

The aim of all temperance work is two-fold. First, to keep people away from strong drink and second, to keep strong drink away from people. The latter may be accomplished by law, so far as men can be made to respect and obey law. The former must be done mainly by education, moral suasion and religious influence. That is, the traffic in intoxicants is a matter of law and must be dealt with by the State, while the personal habits of the individual, with reference to strong drink, lie largely within the sphere of the Church. These fields of course overlap and it is not easy always to determine where one ends and the other begins, but it is certain that both law enactment and law enforcement do and must depend upon the sentiment which religion alone is able to create. Of all cures for intemperance or alcoholism, religious conversion is the most efficacious and permanent.

Already we have some hundreds of applications on file for this Report and the general favor with which the facts thus supplied last year met, leads us to include similar information again, which we do in a supplement.

The temperance work among foreign-speaking people to which reference is made in our Treasurer's report will be noted. The funds for this important and promising mission have been collected and the work supervised by Mrs. Virginia C. Euwer, the efficient Temperance Secretary of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Presbytery of Pittsburgh.

The term of the following members expires with this Assembly:

Rev. J. P. Calhoun, D. D., Rev. A. R. Van Fossen, Rev. Thomas Watters, D. D., Mr. R. V. Johnson, Mr. Robert A. McKinney, Mr. A. A. Hersperger.

The vacancy caused the resignation of Rev. C. S. McClelland, D. D., was filled by the election of Rev. William L. McEwan, D. D.

Herewith is presented the Annual Report of our Treasurer, all of which is submitted on behalf of the Permanent Committee.

JOHN F. HILL,

The Worth of a Man.*

The cost of a man to society at twenty-one years of age if fairly educated, has been placed at $2,000. The value of the investment is fixed by his earning capacity. If that is $300 per year, or $1.00 per day, he is worth $5,000, the interest on this amounting at six per cent to his yearly earnings. A man with an earning capacity of $600 on the same basis is worth $10,000; one who earns $1,200 is worth $20,000. With such figures at hand it would be an instructive experiment to estimate the loss to a definite community in earning capacity and time, and the burden of support thrown upon it through the saloons of that community. The social fact is that the impairment of a man is the destruction of wealth and that no man or trade has the right to destroy the economic worth of a community or state.

The Drink Bill.

KIND:	GALLONS:	PRICE:	AMOUNT:
Domestic spirits.....	136,312,381	$6.25	$ 851,889,881
Imported spirits.....	3,782,055	8.00	30,256,440
Domestic wine.....	50,079,383	2.00	100,158,766
Imported wine.....	7,659,565	4.00	30,638,260
Domestic beer.....	1814,695,785	.64½	1170,478,781
Imported beer.....	7,171,842	1.00	7,171,842
Rectification	13,617,302	6.25	84,476,887
Grand total.....			$2,275,070,857

There must be added to the direct cost fully $1,200,000,000 indirect cost, such as loss of life, wasted grain, misdirected labor, crime, pauperism, insanity, idiocy, ect.

There were 8,712 murders in the United States last year.

There were 10,782 suicides in the United States last year.

The recorded gifts for charity, education, religion and ather philanthropic purposes last year amounted to $149,902,130 or about one-fifteenth of the direct cost of the liquor traffic.

A Bushel of Corn.

From a bushel of corn the distiller gets four gallons of whisky which retails at $16.80. It is divided up as follows, the actual producers of wealth, the farmer and the laborer, getting very meager shares indeed:

The farmer gets for one bushel of corn.....	$ 45
The United States Government gets	4.40
The railroad company gets.....	80
The distiller gets	3.83
The laborer's share is.....	17
The drayman gets	15
The reaillet and his employees gets	7.00

Total.....$16.80

Liquor and Labor.

As compared with the share which goes to the wage-earner in other producing industries liquor makes the following poor showing:

$5.00 worth of boots and shoes pays labor.....	$1.12
$5.00 worth of bread pays labor	89
$5.00 worth of clothing pays labor	1.10

$5.00 worth of furniture pays labor.....	1.18
$5.00 worth of average pays labor	88
$5.00 worth of malt liquors pays labor	25

Twenty-five dollars spent for necessary articles stimulates business and contributes $4.40 to labor, creates a demand for more labor and brings valuable supplies to the family. Twenty-five dollars spent for liquors gives labor 75 cents worth of employment, reduces the demand for other articles and interferes with the earning capacity of the laborer. Liquor is certainly labor's worst enemy.

Alcohol and Insanity.

There are at least 150,000 feeble-minded people in the United States.—John Koren, Expert Special Agent of U. S. Census Bureau.

There were 150,151 insane people in the United States December 31st, 1903.—Census Report (page 7.)

50,000 people go insane in the United States each year.

The cost of maintaining the insane and feeble-minded in the United States is $21,329,228.41.

My own experience leads me to believe that alcohol is a direct or indirect factor in the causation of at least 50% of the cases of insanity.—Theodore B. Hyslop, M. D., Sup't of Royal Hospitals, ect.

Taken altogether, it will be no exaggeration to assert that the state would save half it expends on criminals and mentally diseased, if it were possible to discontinue the use of alcohol.—A. Forel, M. D., Prof. in the University of Zurich.

If, as shown by the quotations herewith given from eminent authorities, only 50 per cent of insanity is due to alcohol, think what an enormous burden of taxation, sorrow disappointment, shame, sin and suffering is due to this cause.

The Curse of Childhood.

Dr. MacNicholl of New York examined 55,000 school children as to their mental efficiency, judged by their ability to pass the grades regularly in school. He found that 58 per cent were below the required standard of intelligence, 17 per cent being actual dullards, 25 percent "very deficient", and the other 16 percent merely deficient.

The habits of the parents with regard to alcohol is reported in 20,147 cases:

Children of abstaining parents 13,523.

Children of abstaining parents reported dullards 10 per cent.

The family histories of 3,711 children were traced through three generations. This was done in great detail with regard to the taking of alcohol. Of the children of abstaining parents and abstaining grandparents only 4 per cent were 'dullards.'

Dividing the 3,711 children into two classes, viz. those free from hereditary alcoholic taint, we note very striking contrasts:

- 1) Of those free from hereditary alcoholic taint—
96 per cent were proficient.

- 4 per cent were dullards.
 18 per cent suffered from some neurosis or organic disease.
- 2) Of those with hereditary alcoholic taint—
 23 per cent were proficient.
 77 per cent were dullards.
 Of those dull children more than one-third were very deficient.
 Of these same children with hereditary alcoholic taint, 76 per cent suffered from some neurosis or organic disease.

"At a discussion on this subject at the Vienna Congress against alcoholism, a medical man stated that the teachers in wine-growing districts of Lower Austria know that a supply of very bad scholars in any one year denotes a good vintage six years previously."—Alcohol and the Human Body, Horsley & Sturge.

The Voice of Science.

The contribution of Science to the progress of the temperance reform has been large and substantial. Certain well established facts have won the sympathy and support of many people whom no amount of abstract arguments or moral suasion would have convinced. Here are some of the facts with the authorities for them:

"Hereditary alcoholism is an indisputable fact."—Dr. Lunier, Paris.

"Alcohol is a poison."—Sir Andrew Clark, M. D.

"Alcohol is a drug and not a food."—Sir Spencer Wells, M. D.

"Alcohol propagates tuberculosis and cancer."—'Alcohol and the Human Body', by Horsley.

"There is very strong evidence to show that parental alcoholism is one of the most frequent causes of epilepsy in children, and epilepsy and imbecility often go hand in hand."—Horsley & Sturge.

"The latest and most authentic statistics show that over ten per cent of all mortality is due to the abuse of alcohol, and fully twenty per cent of all disease is traceable to this cause; also, that over fifty per cent of insanity, idiocy, and pauperism springs from this source. All authorities agree that from seventy-five to ninety per cent of all criminality is caused by the abuse of alcohol. These and other well-authenticated facts indicate the necessity of a more exact medical study of alcohol and its effects and influence on society and the individual."—T. D. Crothers, M. D.

"The brain and its membranes suffer severely, and after irritation and inflammation comes dullness and stupidity. There is no question in my mind that many brain diseases and cases of insanity are caused by excessive beer drinking."—Dr. S. S. Lungren.

The significant words of Dr. Lorenz, the eminent Austrian surgeon, when declining wine at a banquet tendered to him in New York, would indicate the position of many physicians:

"I cannot say that I am a temperance agitator, but I am a surgeon. My success depends upon my brain being clear, my muscles firm, and my nerves steady. No one can take alcoholic liquors without blunting these physical powers, which I must always keep on edge. As a surgeon I must not drink."

"I have no doubt the rapid spread of Bright's disease is largely due to beer drinking. I have always believed that Bayard Taylor fell a victim to the German beer that he praised so highly. He died of Bright's disease at 50, when he should have lived, with his constitution, to ripe old age. He went just as beer drinkers are going all the time and everywhere."—Dr. W. T. Ridenour.

"I believe that forty-nine out of fifty cases of chronic Bright's disease are directly produced by it. I have never met with a case in which the patient has not been intemperate to a greater or less degree. The proportion may be to high, but that is certainly my experience. Mr. Christian a celebrated author, states that three-fourths to four-fifths of the cases met with in Edinburg were habitual drunkards."--Dr. C. A. Kirkley.

"It is your stout old hero, who goes to bed every night with liquor enough under his belt to fuddle the brains of a half dozen ordinary men, and yet lives to his three-score and ten, that will be found at the head of the stock that pour into the world, generation after generation, such a crop of lunatics, epileptics, eccentrics, and inebriates as we often see. The impunity with which one so constituted will violate all physical law gets its set-off in a succeeding generation, when the great harvest begins."--Dr. A. McFarland.

The Effect of Prohibition.

The liquor interests continue to assert with vehement persistency that moral and material conditions are worse under prohibition than under license, just as if any one could believe that the breweries and distilleries, which own or control fully three-fourths of all saloons in the United States, would spend vast sums of money to lessen the amount of their sales.

But why heed the declarations of wholly irresponsible and, many of them disreputable, men when we have the testimony of such as Gov. Hoch of Kansas, who in a personal letter to the Presbyterian Temperance Committee writes:

"I have been a resident of this state for 35 years, helped to put Prohibition into our constitution in 1880 and have been in the thick of the fight ever since. It has been a hard fight and an unfair one. Every state surrounding us has been opposed to our policy and contributed in every way possible to its defeat. The powerful influence of the brewers and distillers with unlimited money, have been arrayed against us. Every conceivable technicality has been invoked in the courts against the law, but to-day in one hundred out of one-hundred and five counties of the State the law is as well enforced as any other penal statute, and in the remaining counties the atmosphere is getting quite sultry for its violators. Prohibition has been a great benefit to this State morally, educationally and financially. Prohibition is the only logical attitude of government toward a recognized evil, and that the liquoe traffic is a recognized evil is attested by every licence law, high or low, and has been affirmed by every court from the lowest to the highest."

Rev. Dr. Charles M. Sheldon, the famous author says:

"Kansas has benefitted by Prohibition in material respects. The state has less than 1,507 paupers all told. Giving the inmates of the poor-house the best of care, the expense is less than $150,000 a year. People transfer their saloon money to better homes, to education, travel and general culture. 'Kansas saves $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 every year in material welth on account of its prohibitory law.' The per capita wealth of the state is over $90, and this wealth is so distributed that there are no more than perhaps a half dozen millionaires out of the 1,600,000 people.

"Thousand of boys have grown up in Kansas who have never seen a saloon and have a perfect hatred and horror of it. 'I would place at the head of the list, as a result of our prohibitory law after twenty-six years of trial, the permanent saving of young men to good citizenship'."

Ass't Att'y Gen. C. W. Trickett writes:

"Kansas City, Kansas, is the second largest live stock and meat-packing center west of Chicago. It has an extensive grain and flour trade, eighteen elevators, large smelting and refining works, the Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific and Rock Island Railroad shops, ect. The population, 100,000, is composed very largely of foreigners accustomed to drinking wine and beer, and the slum element is said to have been larger [before the saloons were closed] than in any other place in the nation in proportion to population. Moreover the liquor element controled the elections and the officials.

"On June 8, 1906, there were 256 saloons in Wyandotte County, Kansas of which Kansas City is the seat; there were 200 gambling houses and more than sixty houses of evil repute. On July 3 all were closed. There have been none since. — When the fight started, delegations of business men said that to close the saloons would stop our growth, destroy business, deplete bank deposits, stop the erection of buildings, render houses vacant, increase taxation, reduce the price of real estate, cause people to go over to Kansas City, Mo., to do their shopping and spent their money, and would ruin the town generally.

"For eighteen months the city has been without a saloon, etc. The belligerent Mayor was turned out of office and fined $1,000. We ousted the Chief of Police and the County Attorney, 500 buildings are under permanent injunction not to be used for the sale of liquor; 1,500 citizens are under permanent injunction never again to sell in that county; more than 100 former saloon keepers are under bonds to the same effect; more than 100 others are out on bail, with sentences of imprisonment suspended during good behavior, and a hundred more are banished from Kansas as undesirable citizens. Under the law the owner of a saloon building is as guilty as the liquor-selling tenant, and many such are exiles accordingly.

"The business men who had so many fears will now tell you they were mistaken. The abolition of liquor selling has been of decided benefit instead of injury to the business interests of the city. Bank deposits have been increased more than two million of dollars since the saloons were closed. More clerks have been hired to attend the mercantile business. A letter from the president of the largest bank in the city says that within one year after saloons closing his deposits increased $1,700,000. He testifies that a majority of business men are pleased with the results, with which a large majority of professional men and other intelligent citizens agree.

"The president of the Home City Bank writes that Mr. Atkinson, vice-president of a suburban bank in Armoudale, says that business has increased 36 per cent. A savings bank president writes that its business has increased 50 per cent, and also that 75 percent of the new costumers are of the class that formerly spent all their money for liquor. A real estate man of 17 years standing writes: 'There are more houses, and good houses being built; more people are buying homes, and good homes, and seeking investments than in any year since I have lived here'.

"From July 1, 1906, to July 1, 1907, there was an increase of 200.7 per cent in building operations, the largest of any city in the Union. Three times as many laboring men bought homes in our town last year as ever before.

"To-day the jail doors hang idly on their hinges; we may have no use for the jail we have.

"The Police Judge writes me that day after day goes by without a single arrest in this city of over 100,000 people; 50,000 people, gathered at the carnival here, and there were only four arrests.

"There has been a wonderful reduction in the number sent to the poor farm. For the first time in 25 years the associated charities have not a burden greater than they can bear.

"Saloon rule brought 56 children to the orphans' home. To-day there are only 20.

"Three monts after the saloons closed the schools re-opened. Instead of the usual six or eight additional teachers, we had to employ 18. There was a list of 600 boys and girls of 12 to 18 years, who attended the public schools last year for the first time. They gave as a reason why they had not attended in former years that they had to assist a drinking father in earning a living for the family.

"These same conditions have been practically duplicated in every city where the prohibition law has been enforced, in Topeka, Wichita, Junction City, Fort Scott, Coffeyville, Independence and other places, and pupulation in all of them is rapidly increasing."

Similar testimony comes from other states from people who know and are reliable. Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, National President of the Women's Christian Temperance Union says:

"Ninety-five per cent of the clergymen of Maine, and all of Maine's present United States Senators and representatives, are opposed to the license system, and are upholders of Maine's prohibitory laws."

Congressman Llewellyn Powers (1907) says:

"The selling and the public drinking of intoxicating liquors are decidedly under the ban of public opinion, and this has prevented absolutely any selling in more than four-fifths of the towns of Maine, and it has taken away very much of the temptation for young men to indulge in alcoholic drinks. I do not believe that the people of the state of Maine will ever permit the licensing of the saloons in their midst again."

History.

The first Temperance society in this country was the Farmer's Association of Litchfield, Conn., formed in 1789; the farmers simply agreeing neither to drink distilled liquor themselves for refreshment nor to furnish it to those whom they employed. The next society, and by many regarded as the first formal Temperance organization in the U. S., was established at Moreau in Saratoga Co., N. Y., in honor of which a World's Temperance Congress will be held at Saratoga Springs, June 14th to 30th inclusive. In 1809 at Greenfield, N. Y., the first society was organized which adopted the principle of total abstinence but this only from distilled spirits, fermented liquors not coming under the ban until later.

A society composed exclusively of members of Congress was formed in 1833 and the pledge strengthened in 1842. Some of the most distinguished statesmen of the times were among its members and officers.

The Washingtonian movement started in 1840; the Sons of Temperance in 1842, The Independent Order of Good Templars in 1851, The National Temperance Society in 1865, The Prohibition Party in 1869, The Catholic Total Abstinence Union in 1874, The Presbyterian Temperance Committee in 1881, The Anti-Saloon League 1893, The Inter National Reform Bureau in 1895. These have all wrought in their own way, but whatever the agency or method, the vast majority of the workers have been sincere and self sacrificing in their efforts.

The Printing Press.

The first temperance paper, "The National Philanthropist", was started March 4th, 1828, by Rev. William Collier, a Baptist minister. To-day we have about one hundred publications devoted entirely to this subjects, many millions of tracts are annually distributed and great libraries have been written upon it. Few agencies have been so helpful in quickening and maintaining public interest as the printing press, and the thermometer of the temperance reform has usually risen and fallen according to the fidelity and power with which it has been supported by this agency.

Pioneers and Martyrs.

In contrast to most such movements, the temperance reform was begotten of a scholar. Many of the pioneers of this movement were as distinguished for their intellectual attainments as for their moral worth and spiritual power. The father of the modern temperance reform was Benjamin Rush, M. D., a graduate of Princeton and Edinburgh, a professor in the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, and an elder in the Second Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia.

Other eminent leaders in this honorable galaxy were Billie J. Clark, M. D., Judge L. M. Sargent, Hon. Samuel Dexter, Reverends Justin Edwards, Anthony Benezet, Joshua Leavitt, Leonard Woods, Nathaniel Hewitt, Eliphalet Nott, Lebbeaus Armstrong, Mason L. Weens and Lyman Beecher. A little later came Neil Dow, the apostle of purity and perseverance; William E. Dodge with his high character and philanthropic heart; John B. Gough, a brand snatched from the burning; Father Theobald Mathew, the Irish apostle, whose mellow accents melted so many hearts; Francis Murphy, in whom love was a passion; John B. Finch with his clarion voice and seraphic fire; Frances E. Willard, "the uncrowned queen"; Mary H. Hunt, the intellectual heroine of Scientific Temperance Instruction in public schools, who say that "we must save the children to-day if we would save the nation to-morrow; then come the martyrs, Watson B. Smith, George C. Haddock, S. E. Logan, Roderick D. Gambrell, Joseph B. Rucker, John R. Moffatt, William K. Glover, Charles H. Edwards, Dr. W. Shumaker and a company of other godly men and women whom none can name or number.

Individual Effort.

Many causes and agencies have helped to bring the temperance reform to its present advanced position, but in point of time, the first great factor was the few heroic pioneers who listening to the Divine voice and obeying their own divine instincts, scorned the scorn of the skeptic, braved the ridicule of opinionated opponents and set themselves squarely and indomitably against the wicked and wasteful practices and prejudices of their day. They asked no groveling questions about the expediency of their attitude or the probabilities of "afighting chance", or how long it would take to win or whether public sentiment was educated up to their standard. Neither did they estimate the value of righteousness by the number of people who agreed with them nor count their efforts thrown away because they might not live to see them crowned with complete success. They knew they were on God's side in the battle; they fought with weapons handed down from the skies, and through the smoke of speeding conflicts saw sin-sick humanity redeemed, regenerated and disenthralled.

A PERMANENT FACTOR IN THE TEMPERANCE REFORM.

By CORA FRANCES STODDARD,

Cor. Sec'y of Scientific Temperance Federation, Boston, Mass.

Jacob Riis has said, "If you want to succeed in any reform, give the people the facts". It makes little difference how deeply entrenched the wrong, it is certain eventually to fall before the irresistible power of truth.

The earnest scientific study of the nature and effects of alcoholic drinks began at a crisis in the temperance reformation. Public sentiment in part had failed to support prohibitory legislation. Reformation of the drunkard had been proved a slow and frequently unsatisfactory solution of the problem.

At this juncture came both the proof from the scientist's laboratory of the physical harm done by alcohol, and the inspiration that seized upon this truth, seeing in it the superiority of prevention to reformation.

The end of two and a half decades sees the fulfilling of the prophetic motto, "If we save the children to-day, we shall have saved the nation to-morrow." In a recent study of prohibition in the "Southern Workman" Mr. John E. White said:

"Educational forces are behind prohibition. The introduction of physiology into the schools was the inauguration of the prohibition propaganda. To the thousands of school teachers consecrated to truth and consistency prohibition is moral and mental freedom."

From far-away Queensland comes the observation: "We are amazed at what has been accomplished in the way of temperance education in the United States. It seems fully to account for the prohibition victories of which we hear."

The Truth Is Out.

The attitude of the world toward alcohol can never be again what it was before the discoveries of modern science. The truth is out. The command, „Let there be light“, has shined upon the darkness of ignorance as to the true nature of these drinks, penetrating its dark corners and revealing the imps of mischief and misery that have been there bred by alcohol.

The railroad manager now knows that an amount of alcohol as small as the alcoholic content of half a pint or a pint of 4 per cent beer will slow for four or five hours a man's ability to take up signals; that alcohol impairs judgment and reason, ability to decide and act quickly in a crisis.

The manufacturer and farmer want sober and steady employees. They know now how alcohol impairs muscular control and accuracy in fine work, causes loss of time and material.

The banker and manager of responsible positions want abstainers. Science has shown that even in the simple process of addition of numbers alcohol impairs the net rapidity and accuracy. Bonding companies have learned why it is not safe to become responsible for men who drink.

The social student finds this question inextricably interwoven with every problem he undertakes. Because alcohol impairs working ability and creates the uncontrollable physical craving for drink, society is burdened with the poverty and child labor due to drink. Because alcohol impairs the physique of the individual, it causes racial degeneracy in the form of idiocy, epilepsy, dull-mindedness, lack of physical stamina, susceptibility to disease. Because alcohol impairs judgment, reason, and self-control, it entails on home and society the moral and economic loss of crime caused by drink.

The moderate drinker himself today sets bounds to its use of which he would not have dreamed a quarter of a century or even a decade ago, while the experiments of Reid Hunt of Washington and Laitinen of Helsingfors have demonstrated within the past eighteen months that, in the case of animals, at least, quantities of alcohol too small to cause the slightest sign of intoxication made the body more susceptible to certain specific poisons, to disease germ like diphtheria, and, in Laitinen's experiments, impaired the vitality of progeny. The point of safety in its use by actual demonstration is rapidly nearing the "vanishing point".

From the days of Noah man has had knowledge of the evil results of drunkenness. Now, we can trace link by link the chain of convincing causal facts — the effect of alcohol on cell and tissue, of efficiency, on inheritance. Here we touch bottom in the whole alcohol question. These are the facts which in the final analysis are the reasons for legislative and preventive measures.

More Light.

How, then, shall we "shoulder the responsibilities which the facts show to be obvious?" Clearly the fundamental work to be done is to spread the knowledge of these facts until they shall have become the weapon of the strong and the defence of the weak.

This way lies hope of permanent success in the temperance reformation. To realize it we must use all the resources of the printed page, the public press, the pulpit, the platform, the physician's office, and the school-room.

Of them all the public school is unquestionably the most important and far-reaching agency. Back of the child is the home of to-day. Before him is the home of to-morrow. Three generations and the nation's physical and moral destiny lie open to the teacher's influence. Prohibition is the citadel within which the young man is safe as long as he remains within. Education is a weapon with which he can defend himself against the insidious attacks of alcohol without. To safeguard the temperance education of the children of America is therefore, the paramount duty of the parent who loves his child, of the man who loves his fellow, of the woman in whose heart God has implanted the spirit of universal motherhood, of the patriot to whom his nation is his pride and its people his glory.

In the wider field of universal education in the facts about alcohol, no temperance worker in these days can afford to be unacquainted with these scientific truths. The shrewd liquor advocate in dinning into the ears of the people his specious claims for the beneficial properties of the alcoholic drinks which he makes or sells. His assertion, assertion though it be, can not be overthrown by mere generalization. The temperance worker must have his facts, they must be accurate, up-to-date and representative of the best scientific researches.

Scientific Information.

To supply this need, to link agencies of public education, the press, the school, the physician, the pulpit, and the platform — in the work of educating the whole people as to the nature and effects of alcoholic drinks, the Scientific Temperance Federation was organized in 1906. An outgrowth of the well-known scientific studies and temperance educational work of the late Mrs. Mary H. Hunt, the Scientific Temperance Federation collects for the use of all temperance workers scientific and other facts about alcoholic drinks from the literature of all the leading countries; disseminates these facts through leaflets, editors' press circulars, the "School Physiology Journal", and a wide correspondence with physicians, ministers, Sabbath-school and public-school teachers, editors, legislators, temperance and other lecturers in this and other countries. Inquiries for special information are answered by material afforded by the Federation library and publications, or are referred to the best existing sources of information.

Influential men and women in this country and abroad including some of the most famous scientific students of the questions are associated in various ways with the Federation.

In this fundamental educational work the Federation invites co-operation from all who desire fuller information for themselves or to unite in increasing public intelligence on this subject, and thus to build up that stable foundation of intelligent conviction on which all permanent temperance work must rest.

"To cure is the voice of the past; to prevent, the divine whisper of to-day."

Summary of Action on Temperance of the GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF 1908.

The following resolutions presented by the Standing Committee of which Rev. Wm. McKibbin, D.D. was Chairman, were adopted.

RESOLVED:

1. That this Assembly most heartily commends the fidelity, wisdom, zeal, and efficiency of the Secretary, official staff, and members of the Temperance Committee during the past year, and rejoices in the magnitude and varied character of the work which they have done for the temperance cause.

2. That we cordially endorse the plan for "The Presbyterian Temperance Union" as outlined in the constitution presented, and commend the study course prepared by the Permanent Committee.

3. That the last Sabbath in October (or some other convenient date) be observed as Temperance Day in all of our churches, that the ministers be urged to preach upon the subject, and that our Sabbath Schools use the special program and other literature furnished by the Committee.

4. That as permanent progress in the temperance reform depends upon enlightened conviction as to the dangers and evils of alcoholic drinks, we protest against the repeal or non-enforcement of laws requiring scientific temperance instruction in the lower as well as in the higher grades of our public schools.

5. That we call attention to the importance of giving to the students of our colleges and theological seminaries special instruction as to approved principles, methods, and agencies of the temperance reform.

6. That we rejoice in the efforts of China to prohibit the opium traffic, and authorize our Permanent Committee to memorialize our own Government to extend to all territory under our control the prohibition now existing in the Philippines.

7. That the Assembly approves of the grant by the Board of Publication of $1000 worth of literature to the Permanent Committee for the current year.

8. That Synods and Presbyteries should exercise special care in selecting their Standing Committees on temperance, that such committees and the Assembly's Committee should actively cooperate in organizing and conducting an aggressive campaign, and that hereafter the "Advisory Board" of the Permanent Committee shall consist of the Chairmen of the Standing Committees on Temperance in the Synods.

9. That in view of the growing importance of the cause and the demands of the work, the General Assembly recommends that at least $35,000 should be placed at the disposal of its Permanent Committee for the current year, and requests every church to make a contribution.

10. That this Assembly records its appreciation of the valuable work of sister denominations, and of other temperance organizations, and expresses its desire and purpose, to cooperate with them as far as possible in the furtherance of this reform.

11. Answering the request of our Permanent Committee on Temperance for a clearer and more positive statement of its duties and prerogatives, this Assembly instructs said Committee to continue all lines of work assigned to it in the past, while safe-guarding the Church from unwarranted interference in matters of the State, and from entangling political alliances. (See Confession of Faith. Ch. XXXI.)

This Committee should express the mind of the Church on the subject of temperance legislation, and may, in conference and cooperation with other Churches and organizations, seek to correct vicious legislation in regard to alcoholic liquors, and to secure the enactment of such laws as will promote the welfare of the nation and the health, peace, and happiness of its people, so that men everywhere shall know, in all places at home and abroad, that the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. believes that the saloon must go, and by God's help proposes to have it go, and go soon.

12. That this Assembly declares its conviction that governments, local, state, or national, should not derive revenues from any source which tends to degrade its citizenship, and it instructs its Permanent Committee to memorialize Congress in behalf of such legislation as will protect such States as have legally abolished the liquor traffic.

13. That in response to the overture from the Presbytery of San Jose, this Assembly reaffirms the deliverance of the Assembly of 1906, viz: "Presbyterians are hereby most solemnly warned against renting property for saloon purposes, signing petitions for license, which legalize the liquor traffic or presenting them in court, or in any other way, aiding or abetting this terrible evil." And this Assembly further warns the members of our churches against manufacturing or cultivating anything, specifically and knowingly designed, for the furtherance and promotion of the liquor traffic.

14. That the report of the Standing Committee on Temperance be made the regular order for the second Thursday of the Assembly sessions at 10 A. M.

15. That the matter of readjusting the time for the communion service and the popular reception, so that the popular meeting of the Temperance Committee may be held on the second Thursday night of the Assembly, be referred to the Moderator and Clerks and Chairman of the Denver Committee of Arrangements, to report at the next Assembly.

16. That the nomination of Rev. Wm. McEwan, D. D., as a member of the Permanent Committee be confirmed. That the Rev. Thomas Waters, D.D., Rev. A.R. VanFossen with Ruling Elders, R.V. Johnson and A. A. Hersperger be reelected. That Rev. D. R. Breed, D. D. be elected to take the place of Rev. J. P. Calhoun, D. D., resigned, and that Elder W. R. Crabbe be elected in place of R. A.
